I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1861-West End of the Central Sacred Continent.

Large Trade Zone 47.

A middle-aged man was hovering above Treasure Trove.

He was not hiding how strong he was.

Terrifying energy was emitting from his entire body.

A True Saint!

That middle-aged man was a True Saint!

The people gathering around Treasure Trove were very excited to see this shocking scene.

They were looking at a living and breathing True Saint.

That was the highest combat power second only to Sacred Saint in Star Kingdom.

Countless people were looking at the sky in admiration.

Even though the energy coming from the True Saint was making them scared to look directly at him, this still did not stop everyone from wanting to worship him.

That man was too dazzling.

The Lightfoot family members below were in an uproar.

Their True Saint grandmaster was here, so how could they not feel frantic and excited?

They almost screamed out loud, but they did not because they did not want to distract the grandmaster.

Cosmo stood in the air right above Treasure Trove.

He was here to solve the problem his family had not taken care of after so long.

The first and second-in-line heirs were dead, but his family members were still quibbling over here.

He had no idea what was going on in their heads.

If Koen did not pass the message back saying that David, the murderer who killed the first-in-line heir of the Lightfoot family Archimedes, was hiding in Treasure Trove whilst being protected by the Fellowes family without being handed over, Cosmo would still have been kept in the dark.

The Fellowes family was already at the end of their rope, so how dare they go against the Lightfoot family?

Even though they were not being controlled by the Palmore family, the Lightfoot family would still not be scared of the Fellowes family.

Although the Fellowes family had three True Saints while the Lightfoot family only had two, two of the Fellowes family's three True Saints were still recovering and it was hard to determine how much power they could use.

Meanwhile, the Lightfoot family's True Saints were healthy, and they could use their full strength.

The two families had to fight to find out who would win without external help.

Now, the Palmore family wanted Treasure Trove, the Fellowes family's cash cow.

In the end, the two families would surely have a fallout.

Meanwhile, the Lightfoot family would be getting closer and closer to the Ginger family.

Considering one rising and the other was declining, what qualifications would the Fellowes family have to fight with the Lightfoot family?

Were they dragging someone down with them since they knew they were going to die anyway?

However, the Fellowes family must have the same level of strength if they wanted to drag the Lightfoot family down with them.

With Cosmo's fiery temper, he would not bother about all this.

He would attack whenever he should.

At this moment, someone came from the ground. This was Koen, the PreSaint from the Lightfoot family.

"Grandmaster!" Koen came to Cosmo and greeted him respectfully.

One was middle-aged while one was old.

It seemed that Koen was older but in reality, Cosmo was much older than Koen.

This was because Cosmo had consumed a very rare treasure of heaven and earth which caused his body to change.

In reality, most Saints would let nature take its course when it came to their bodies, and they would not actively modify them.

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1862-They would pay more attention to strength.

The body was but a skin.

According to ancient records, letting nature run its course would make it easier for people to reach their goals and better perceive the world.

Their cultivation would also be faster, i

Only a very small number of Saints would care about their appearance and would try their best to find all kinds of treasures of heaven and earth to change themselves.

Cosmo was obviously one of them.

“Koen, is this how you do your job? Now that you’ve confirmed that the murderer is here, what are you waiting for? The family entrusted you with the matter, and this is what you’re doing? You’re embarrassing the entire family in front of so many people,” Cosmo questioned.

“Grandmaster, you misunderstood! I have already approached Roald and asked him for David, but he refused! The guy from the Saints Association was also there at the time. Plus, Roald admitted that David is in Treasure Trove, but he refuses to hand David over, so what can I do?” Koen said aggrievedly.

“You can’t do anything if they won’t give you David? Can’t you catch him yourself?”

“Grandmaster, you have no idea. This is West End after all, and it is the Fellowes family’s territory. We haven’t dispatched enough force. If we forcefully act, it will only cause mutual damage, and our losses will be even greater. That’s why I sent the news back to the family to ask for support, but I didn’t expect you to come. Now, we can show the Fellowes family our strength and show them the consequences of offending us,” Koen explained.

“Hmph!” Cosmo huffed and did not speak anymore.

He was agreeing with what Koen said.

They were in other people's territory, so they would surely suffer if they were not powerful enough.

It would be truly embarrassing if they took action and lost.

Cosmo loved to use violence, but he would not attack someone stronger than him. He knew his own strength.

Koen also let out a sigh of relief and wiped away the cold sweat on his forehead.

His life would be a living hell if he could not make this grandmaster happy today.

Cosmo was a famous fighter, and he had a hot temper.

He would attack regardless of if he was at the right or not.

In his opinion, anyone with the biggest fist would be the boss.

He would fight whenever there was a disagreement.

If he could convince his opponent with force, then his word was law.

If he could not convince the opponent, then he would simply kill them.

Koen did not understand why the family allowed Cosmo to come out.

Of course, no one could stop Cosmo if he wanted to come, not even the other True Saint grandmaster of the family.

The two's conversation was blocked and did not get transmitted down below.

The people below could only watch the two chatting in the air.

However, no one knew what they were talking about.

Moby from the Saints Association was also there.

As he looked at Cosmo hovering in the air, he frowned unconsciously.

'Why is that guy here?

'This might get a little tricky.

'If Cosmo hurts David and alerts David's master who's hiding in the dark, then things will get out of control.'

Moby imagined what would happen next.

Cosmo caught David and under everyone's watchful gaze, he would seriously injure or even kill David to reaffirm the Lightfoot family's prestige.

At the same time, he would tell everyone this was the consequence of offending the Lightfoot family.

After that, David's master would find out about this and then head to the Lightfoot family with endless fury to fight with the two True Saints and countless Pre-Saints of the Lightfoot family.

Based on Moby's prediction, the chances of David's master being a Sacred Saint were very huge.

If a personal disciple of a Sacred Saint was killed, the Ginger family might only show up to appease this Sacred Saint blinded with fury. They might not even help.

In the end, the Lightfoot family would face a high possibility of being annihilated.

This would have a great impact on Central Region.

'No, I have to tell TSA this as soon as I can.'

This was no longer in his jurisdiction. A Pre-Saint like him did not even have the qualifications to intervene in this matter.

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1863-Cosmo and Koen hovered about Treasure Trove, waiting for the Fellowes family's answer.

Soon, under everyone's gazes, three figures appeared from Treasure Trove's buildings.

However, those three did not stand together. Instead, they were split into two teams.

On one side was Roald by himself, while Tai and Anders were on the other side.

The Lightfoot, Fellowes, and Palmore family members were hovering in the air staring at each other like a balance of forces.

After Tai showed up, Cosmo started staring at him.

As a true Saint, he would only attach value to Tai, another True Saint.

However, Cosmo did not expect another True Saint to be hiding in Treasure Trove.

“Cosmo!”

‘Tai!’

The True Saints called out each other’s names.

“I didn’t expect you to be here,” Cosmo said with a dark face.

The Palmore family was the Fellowes family’s backer.

Even though the Palmore family was ambitious and the two families would have a fallout soon, they were not yet at that stage.

Meanwhile, the Palmore and Ginger families were also at odds with each other among the six top forces.

Therefore, Tai seemed to be coming for Cosmo no matter how one looked at it.

However, Cosmo did not understand how Tai knew he was there.

Or had he been waiting?

At this moment, Cosmo had a question in his heart.

‘Who is David?’

‘He’s just a brat who’s less than a thousand years old.

‘However, I’m a True Saint but I met so much resistance after arriving here.

‘With Tai around, I don’t think I can easily catch David today.’

“If you can come here, why can’t I?” Tai replied coldly.

The two families were initially at odds, so he did not need to be kind to Cosmo.

‘Tai, are you planning to intervene in our business?’ Cosmo asked in a deep voice.

Since the facts were right in front of his eyes, he could not stop himself from asking.

However, Tai's answer was out of Cosmo's expectations.

"No, you misunderstood. We're not going to intervene in your business. I'm just here to join in the fun," Tai suddenly answered with a laugh.

If he did not have a fight with Roald that caused the two families to almost have a fallout, he would not have allowed Cosmo to wreak havoc over here.

However, things were different now.

Since Roald was so stubborn and insisted on passing what Anders said back to the family, Tai would let him deal with Cosmo himself.

Coincidentally, he could join in on the fun.

If the Lightfoot and Fellowes families fought, Tai hoped both sides would lose.

Then, the Palmore family could use this chance to take down the Fellowes family in one fell swoop.

That way, he could minimize his losses.

Why not?

"Oh? You're not going to intervene?" Cosmo was clearly doubting him.

"Yeah! Don't you see that we're not standing together? This is enough to tell you what's going on, right? He can take care of his family business himself. I just happened to pass by and am here to join in the fun," Tai said meaningfully.

Cosmo looked at Tai and then at Roald.

He noticed that there was indeed a problem between these two families.

'Are they finally having a fallout?

'Why haven't I heard about it?

'It's impossible that no news got out concerning something so big, right?

'I don't think there is a fallout yet.

'Perhaps the Fellowes family were thinking of ways to protect themselves and the Palmore family found out about this.

'This means they are starting to have a fallout and they will start tearing into each other soon.'

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1864-'Tai, you said you won't interfere. I hope you can be a man of your word in front of so many people in Star Kingdom.'

"Sure!"

After getting a positive answer from Tai, Cosmo shifted his gaze to Roald and said, "Roald, hand over David, and then apologize to the Lightfoot family in front of everyone. After that, we'll let this matter go and we won't pursue your family anymore. What do you say?"

"No way!" Roald replied calmly.

"Are you rejecting me?" Cosmo was stunned for a moment. Then, he came back to his senses and asked in a sinister tone.

"David is an honored guest of Treasure Trove. No one can take him away unless he walks out by himself," Roald answered irrelevantly.

"In other words, you think I can't take him away?"

"If you want to take him away, you will have to step over my dead body."

"I'm curious! Roald, do you think I dare not do this? Or do you think I am weak?" Cosmo asked with interest.

'Roald is a mere Pre-Saint.

'So how dare he say such a thing in front of me, a True Saint?'

If Tai was siding with the Fellowes family, then Cosmo would be uncertain whether he could take David away.

However, now that Tai had made it clear that he would not participate in this, so where did Roald get the courage to say that?

"I think you'll regret this!" Roald replied inexplicably.

This confused many people.

Only Moby could understand what he was saying.

Because among these people, only he knew David's strength and the background behind him.

If Cosmo really touched David today, he would regret it when David's master went after him.

Not just him, but the whole Lightfoot family would suffer as well.

"Roald, you are too confident. Even if I raze this place to the ground and take David away today, your family may not even dare to go to war with my family. Do you believe this?" Cosmo sneered.

Tai's performance today spoke for itself.

The Palmore and Fellowes families had reached the brink of an acrimonious falling out.

Cosmo did not believe that the Fellowes family would dare to fight the Lightfoot family with all their strength at this time.

Therefore, he could take action regardless of the consequences today.

"I believe you, but I can guarantee that you will regret everything you do today as well, and it won't be too long until that day comes. I hope you can bear it by then." Roald's expression was still so calm.

He knew he was not Cosmo's match.

The gap between the two was too great.

However, he also knew that Cosmo would not kill him, so he would just do his best to stop this and leave the rest to fate.

Even if something happened to David, his master would not blame the Fellowes family either.

Instead, the Lightfoot family would be doomed.

However, in this way, the Fellowes family's hopes of getting rid of the Palmore family would be dashed.

Roald did not want anything to happen to David.

"Very good! Since you are so confident, I want to see how you want to make me regret it."

After Cosmo said that, a cold light flashed in his eyes and his energy surged again. Then, he asked sharply, "Roald, I'll give you one last chance. Are you going to hand David over or not?"

There was an eerie silence in the sky.

All the members of the Lightfoot family below looked enthusiastically at the extremely domineering Cosmo.

This was the power and influence of a True Saint, and only other True Saints could compare.

Pre-Saints would not even be qualified to face him.

Meanwhile, the Fellowes family was feeling nervous for Roald.

They were worried that Cosmo would kill him without batting an eyelid.

It was very easy for a True Saint to kill a Pre-Saint. 1

The rest of them watching were enjoying this.

It was very rare to encounter a collision between two big families.

They were not worried that they would be implicated.

There were too many people gathering here. People from various forces were here, including Anders from the Six and most of the geniuses from Star Kingdom.

With the forces behind these people combined, Star Kingdom might be turned upside down.

Cosmos was not stupid, so even if he were to attack, he would avoid harming the crowd below.

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1865

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1865-Of course, David naturally heard the voices of Cosmo and others talking in the air.

A Saint's perception was very strong.

Even if David did not release his mind power, he could still hear their conversation.

When Cosmo came over to Treasure Trove and called out for Roald to hand over David, David knew that this person was definitely a True Saint.

In addition, he was not just a beginner True Saint.

This was because the power exuded by the other party was too strong.

The arrival of the Lightfoot family's True Saint caused David to immediately become like an ant on a hot griddle. He was pacing back and forth in his room, praying in his heart that Alba would hurry up.

'I hope the transaction will be completed before the other party takes action. I also hope I will have time to improve after the transaction is completed.'

Either way, David would curse out loud no matter which situation it was.

Currently, David could not resist a True Saint.

Moreover, Cosmo was definitely more than a beginner True Saint.

Alba also heard Cosmo's voice.

Just at this time, she finally completed the liquidation task after her unremitting efforts day and night.

She could not wait to tell David.

When David received the news from Alba, his eyes sparkled, and he almost jumped up in excitement.

He would still have some time if Roald delayed things a little longer.

After hanging up her call with David, Alba immediately contacted Valerio.

The two rushed to David's room together.

Grandmaster Roald was no match for the Lightfoot family's True Saint.

So, it was not safe here.

Valerio also panicked in his heart.

While David was waiting anxiously...

Knock knock knock!

There was a knock on the door.

He came to the door in an instant and opened the door.

Alba was standing outside with Valerio holding a stack of documents in his hand.

“Miss Fellowes, Mr. Valerio, please come in quickly,” David said quickly.

After the two entered the room, Valerio said, “Master David, the Lightfoot family’s True Saint Cosmo has arrived suddenly. I believe you have heard of this too.”

“Yeah, I heard that, but Mr. Valerio, let’s not talk about that now. Let’s finish the transaction first! I will then report to my master, and then I can raise the conditions.”
David had no mood to talk about these now.

This was very urgent.

The important things right now was to complete the transaction, get lavish points, and improve his strength.

He could talk about everything else after the crisis was resolved.

Valerio originally wanted to talk about the situation he was facing now, but since he saw how nervous David was, he only replied with one word.

“Alright.”

Then, he asked Alba to prepare the materials.

301 branches of Treasure Trove, together with the various resources stored in it, were all sold to David.

Each of them had its own sales agreement, which clearly stated the location, floor area, and stored resources.

These details filled the entire piece of paper which needed to be signed by David and Valerio.

Alba originally wanted to talk David through this, but David did not care.

Even if he was not in a hurry, he would not listen.

Furthermore, the enemies were at the gate now.

Valerio and David began to sign the papers one by one and stamped their fingerprints.

301 agreements were signed soon.

In the end, Alba summed it up and it came to a total of 205 trillion Star Dollars.

This amount did not reach the 230 trillion that David expected, and he could not be upgraded to peak True Saint, only to late True Saint.

2 million and 50 thousand lavish points, in addition to David's original 660 thousand, would add upto 2.71 million.

Two million was used to upgrade his Body and Mind to True Saint.

With the remaining 710 thousand, he could continue to improve his Body to True Saint level 8.

The corresponding strength would be late True Saint.

Although this was less than expected, it was more than enough for David to get out of the current crisis.

Alba then provided David with Treasure Trove's public account number.

David used the system to transfer all the money.

The money was transferred, the agreements were signed, and the fingerprints were stamped.

That was it!
