

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1887

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1887-'Wasn't everyone looking for me? Now that I am here, don't you recognize me anymore?'

When everyone at the scene slowly understood what this meant, they all widened their eyes and looked at the two figures in the sky in disbelief.

'Everyone's looking for him?'

'Then who is he?'

The answer was clear. It was David.

'However, didn't the Lightfoot family say on their warrant that David is just a young man in his thousands?'

'What's going on?'

This was beyond everyone's imagination.

'How did a young man in his thousands become a True Saint all of a sudden?'

'He's even a top among True Saints.'

Both Tai and Cosmo were strong True Saints.

Regardless of which of those two figures in the sky was David, he was definitely considered a top among True Saints if he was able to suppress Tai and Cosmo in battle.

Among the known True Saints in Star Kingdom, which one of them had not lived for tens of thousands of years or even hundreds of thousands of years?'

How could a young man like David be associated with a True Saint?'

There must be something wrong with this.

No one believed that there would be a thousand-year-old True Saint in Star Kingdom.

This was too exaggerated and too unrealistic.

There were no True Saints that were ten thousand years old, let alone a thousand years old. 1

Naturally, Tai and Cosmo did not believe this either.

The battle just now was completed in a very short time before they were attacked again.

They also did not notice what the person who attacked them looked like.

Everyone was waiting for the smoke to clear to see who these two True Saints who suddenly appeared were.

Over time, the smoke slowly dissipated.

When David's young and familiar face appeared in everyone's eyes, the whole scene erupted.

"Damn it! Is that really David? He looks exactly like the portrait on the Lightfoot family's arrest warrant. Am I dreaming? Is there really such a young True Saint in the world? Could it be..."

Slap!

The young man was slapped on the back of the head before he finished speaking.

"What are you doing?"

He said a little annoyed.

"You brat! Do you think you can call him by his name? If you want to die, leave and don't implicate everyone here! You should call him Master David or Senior." "Yes, Master David! It's Master David! I was wrong. I was wrong."

After he came back to his senses, the young man immediately realized his mistake. He would be asking for death if he called a True Saint by name. Hence, he quickly started to slap himself.

They were not the only ones talking.

Everyone else on the ground was also talking among themselves.

People who came here had all seen the wanted poster from the Lightfoot family.

Therefore, they already knew what David looked like.

Then, everyone discovered something new.

'Why are there two Master Davids who look exactly the same?

'Does Master David have a twin?

'Are they both True Saints?

'This can't be real, right?'

Since Cloning had never existed in Star Kingdom before, no one would think about the possibility of this happening assume that both of the figures were David.

"Who can tell me why there are two Master Davids in the sky?" "I want to know too! Could it be that the other one is Master David's brother?" "Both of them are such young True Saints! This can't be real, right? How are we expected to live like this?"

"What's the matter? Since Master David can achieve this, then his brother will naturally not be far behind."

Tai and Cosmo were dumbfounded when they heard the continuous discussions.

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1888

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1888-The Davids that looked the same were both True Saints.

This was unbelievable.

Even as True Saints who were second only to Sacred Saints in Star Kingdom, they had never experienced this before. They never even heard about such a thing.

The person who gave birth to this pair of True Saint twins could be the emperor.

The main factor was that they were so young.

If the two of them became Sacred Saints, their family would have two Sacred Saints at the same time.

This would be legendary in Star Kingdom.

As Alba looked at two Davids, her brain went blank.

David was unique and omnipotent in her heart.

Now, there were two of them, and Alba could not accept this for a while.

She would not the image of David she held in her heart to be overshadowed, even if this person was David's twin brother.

“You’re David?” Tai asked, suppressing the anger in his heart.

“What? Do I not look like him? Didn’t you guys issue that arrest warrant? I’ve seen it, and the portrait looks pretty similar to mine. How come you can’t recognize me after seeing me in person?” David asked back.

“Then who is that person next to you?” Tai then asked.

His question was also what everyone present wanted to know.

Everyone stared at David intently, waiting for his answer.

However, David smiled and did not answer right away.

Instead, he asked his clone, “Hey! He’s asking who you are!” “Of course, I’m David!” The clone answered naturally.

“You are David? Then who am I?” David pretended to be dumb and asked.

“How am I supposed to know who you are? Anyway, I’m David!” The clone said with certainty.

“If you claim you’re David, what evidence do you have?” “What evidence do you need? I have been called David since I was born, and I haven’t changed my name until now. If I’m not David, who could he be?” “That’s the same with me! My mother rose early and went to bed late just so she could give me the name David. She had worried a lot for this name, so I can’t give it to you. You should stop calling yourself David in the future.” “Then what’s my name?” The clone asked.

“You should call yourself David Two! That’s a good way to distinguish between us,” David thought for a while and said.

“Okay!” The clone agreed without hesitation.

“That’s right! From now on, I’ll call you David Two, and you will be my younger brother. If I am not happy with someone, you can go and f*ck him up for me,” David laughed.

“Alright!”

David started talking to his clone, shocking everyone at the scene including Tai, Cedar, and Cosmo the True Saints.

They had never encountered this before.

‘Why is there a David Two?’

'This is insane!'

However, soon, everyone could tell that David was taking them for fools.

How would two people who looked the same not know each other?

Tai also realized this.

His eyes were burning with rage as he stared at the figures in front of him.

As True Saint from the Palmore family, one of the six top forces of Star Kingdom, this was the first time he was provoked like this.

David said all these things on purpose.

His clone had no autonomy, so he did not have thoughts of his own.

He could only move after David injected mind power into him.

If David took away his mind power from the clone, the clone would be a stationary corpse and he would disappear once the time was up.

So, David was actually talking to himself.

His goal was very simple, and it was to trigger Tai. i

It would be even better if Tai could be triggered into having another battle with David.

David did not want to scare him away. He was not done yet!

Since he had already been exposed, he wanted to fight to his heart's content.
