

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1883

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1883-The sudden burst of energy was like a sharp sword. Not only did it break up the other three True Saints' energies, it even split the clouds tens of thousands of miles in the air. It was as if it had carved a hole in the sky.

The people below were staring at the sky with wide eyes.

If the three True Saints, Tai, Cosmo, and Cedar, made everyone feel as if they were imposing and majestic, this new True Saint energy made them feel like the owner had failed to show restraint and was displaying his power to the fullest extent.

'Who is this?

'His energy is no weaker than the trio, so he's definitely another True Saint.'

Tai and Cosmo stopped not far away, their eyes staring straight at the newly emerged energy.

They had no idea that another True Saint was hiding in Treasure Trove.

They were wondering if it was another True Saint from the Fellowes family, but now, it did not seem like it.

There were three True Saints in the Fellowes family. Aside from Cedar, the other two were injured and had not recovered. Therefore, their combat power would be reduced.

However, judging from the energy the person showed just now, he was not inferior to the three.

Therefore, they could confirm that it was not a Fellowes family member.

However, who would intervene in the affair between the three families?

Tai and Cosmo were confused, especially Tai.

As the master of the Fellowes family, the Palmore family had been keeping an eye on the Fellowes family ever since they realized the Fellowes family was getting more and more out of control. After all, they were trying to take over Treasure Trove, the cash cow. i

They did this to prevent the Fellowes family from pulling any tricks and affecting the Palmore family's plan. However, they never noticed the Fellowes family getting close to any other forces.

'Were they suffering patiently, but firmly resolved on revenge this entire time?

'Did they act like they were accepting the Palmore family's surveillance but were trying to find a way out the entire time?'

Tai narrowed his eyes and a cold light shone.

He felt that this was possible.

No force would be willing to surrender when they encountered this.

It was understandable for the Fellowes family to want to rebel.

However, what confused Tai was that the Palmore family was one of the six top forces with a Sacred Saint in Star Kingdom, i

Who would dare to help the Fellowes family when this was the family they were going against?

Who was so bold?

Did they want to die?

Cedar was also confused at this moment.

This sudden True Saint energy was very strong, but it was also foreign.

He was sure he had never met this True Saint before, and this was not one of the other two True Saints of his family.

However, this person was hiding in Treasure Trove and was taking action at this critical moment.

'Is this...'

Cedar considered a possibility.

Not only him, but Roald and Valerio also thought of this possibility.

'Wasn't David contacting his master?'

'So, this True Saint who appeared all of a sudden might be David's mysterious master.'

'This would explain why a strange True Saint would want to help the Fellowes family while risking offending the Lightfoot and Palmore family.'

When the Fellowes family members thought of this, they were not happy at all.

Instead, they felt like they had been lied to.

The current crisis was over, but a bigger crisis was about to come.

They always thought that David's master was a Sacred Saint, so they desperately helped David to hang onto this glimmer of hope.

Now, they saw the truth.

David's master was not the Sacred Saint they imagined, but a True Saint. Although he was also very strong, he would not be of much help against the difficulties faced by the Fellowes family.

They needed a Sacred Saint to deal with the Palmore family.

It was all over now.

Next, the Palmore family would surely make a thunderous move to suppress the Fellowes family and seize control of Treasure Trove.

Without the help of a Sacred Saint, the Fellowes family could not fight back at all.

Sure enough, they had ended up losing this gamble.

Of course, they could not blame David because David never said that his master was a Sacred Saint once this entire time.

Valerio was the one who imagined it.

Not only Valerio, but the rest of the fellow grandmasters of the Fellowes family felt the same way.

It was only possible for a Sacred Saint to cultivate Saint as young as David. However, reality hit them hard in the face.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1884

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1884-Now, it proved that True Saints were capable too.

Cedar, Roald, and Valerio looked at each other.

They could all see the disappointment in each other's eyes.

Aside from disappointment, Valerio had more remorse in his eyes.

If he did not insist that David's master was a Sacred Saint and reported it to the family, the Fellowes family might have been able to hold on for a little longer.

Who knew that the person who gave David a first-rate Soulbound Weapon and taught such a genius was only a True Saint? 1

Alba could feel how tense the atmosphere was. i

When she saw the bitter smiles on the grandmasters' faces and the selfblame on Grandpa Vai's face, she quickly knew what the problem was with her thinking.

After she thought about it, Alba was also confused.

'Is the person who saved us Master David's master?

'Is he not a Sacred Saint but a True Saint?

'Does it mean all of our efforts were in vain? 1 'Can no one help us fight the Palmore family's Sacred Saint?

'And does it mean I can't escape from Anders too?

'I even removed my veil to piss Anders off just now. I can imagine what kind of life will be waiting for me once I marry him.

'No, no, no!'

Alba shook her head.

She would not accept this, and she also believed that this was not real.

Master David's master was definitely a Sacred Saint.

This True Saint hiding by Master David was only to protect him.

Alba forced herself to believe this, but she knew she was just lying to herself.

This was because David told her that he had been living with his master the entire time.

There was no one else in the sect but the two of them.

This meant the True Saint Rank energy from Treasure Trove was David's master.

Alba's face turned pale, making her look sickly but still beautiful. One would want to protect her when they saw her in this state.

The Fellowes family made the wrong bet.

The consequences were very severe. Not only would they have to endure the Lightfoot family's anger, but they also had to endure the Palmore family's pressure.

It was possible that soon the Fellowes family would disappear.

They might only be able to find a secluded corner in Star Kingdom and struggle on whilst at death's door.

At the end of the day, Alba was the one who caused this.

'No...'

Alba could not accept this. She also could not shoulder the responsibility of sending her entire family to hell.

She did not want to be the sinner of her family and get scolded by everyone in her family.

She tried her best to think of every possibility and suddenly, something clicked in her brain.

Alba's eyes lit up.

'Is it possible that this True Saint is Master David?'

'This would explain why this True Saint was hiding in Treasure Trove.'

'The True Saint is Master David.'

Alba was horrified by her crazy assumption.

It was unprecedented for a young man in his thousands to become a PreSaint.

As for becoming a True Saint, did someone like this exist in the entire universe?

She started to think back to the moment she met David until this moment.

This young man was always surprising her.

Alba put her hands together and closed her eyes to pray. 2 'I hope this time will be the same.'

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

