Chapter 1051 She Ruined Everyone Around Me

Madalyn's mood turned better. She sneered at Kisa, "Gilbert's not at home these few days, but I am. So, don't you think of doing any bad things here!"

Kisa remained silent. The only interest she had in this mansion was Jensen's room. Once she got into Jensen's room, it did not matter if she could not stay in the mansion anymore. She would only feel sad about not being able to see the kids as often.

At night, Kisa played with the kids and read them stories all night. It was not until ten at night that the three kids unwillingly went back to sleep in their room when Madalyn came to remind them. The kids followed the servants out, but Madalyn sat in her room with no sign of leaving. Kisa did not question her and poured her a glass of water. She then sat beside the window to read her magazines. Madalyn stared at her and coldly said, "Stop falling over backward to please the kids. They are Gilbert's kids and have nothing to do with you."

Chapter 1052 Begging with Such Cockiness

Gilbert glanced at the phone screen and saw Kisa's name. He hesitated for a moment and turned off his phone. Kohen grabbed his coffee and gave him a half-smile. "You can answer your call. We don't have to be so formal when we're discussing business. The day is still long, and I am free the whole day."

"There's no need for it. It's not important," Gilbert said in a faint voice and continued his explanation about the contract. However, Kohen had already seen the name on the phone's notification. He sat back and pondered with his lips curved, "What's wrong? Did you two get in a fight?"

Gilbert knotted his brows and reminded him, "We are talking about business right now."

"Ha. With our friendship, there's no need to be so formal. Occasionally, it's interesting to talk about private matters."

Gilbert put down the pen in his hand and leaned on his chair. He looked at him calmly. "You should start by talking about your matters. What about your flash marriage with that plain woman you never met?"

Gilbert's face still looked emotionless.

He reviewed the contract before he stood up and said, "I look forward to working with you. I'll see you soon."

Then, he walked away without waiting for a response.

Kohen had a cigarette in his mouth as he looked at Gilbert's back confusedly.

He had a feeling that Gilbert was mad, but he had no idea why.

Eylul walked in his direction.

"I saw Mr. Kooper just now. He looked like he was in a bad mood. I said hi to him, but he didn't hear me."

Kohen scoffed, "You're pretty observant."

Eylul did not know what he was really trying to say as she sighed. "I can understand why he's so unhappy. After all, he was set up by the person he shared his bed with. I heard that the contract was signed by his wife, Kisa Becker."

"Pfft!"

Kohen was drinking coffee, and he spat everything out of his mouth after he heard what Eylul said.

Eylul frowned in disgust, but she handed him some tissues anyway. Then, she wiped the table with more tissues.

Chapter 1054 David's Room

It was just like before. The mansion was so silent that it felt terrifying.

Kisa crept softly to the third floor.

She paused when she passed by Damon's room, but she did not go inside. She looked inside from the door for a moment before going to another room.

She took out the keys and unlocked the door deftly.

The room was different from Damon's room. The things in there were not covered with pieces of white cloth.

The room was probably cleaned regularly, as it was spotless.

The blanket was folded nicely on the bed, and there were even a few books placed on the coffee table. And, there was a transparent glass on the table as if someone had been staying there.

Kisa stood in the room as she swept her glance across all the decorations in the room.

Damon's room was decorated in warm colors, but this room was the complete opposite. The decorations in the room were elegant.

Kisa paused as she furrowed her brows confusedly.

She knew that she had heard it right. Indeed, there was a clicking sound in the room.

However, her phone was still ringing.

Kisa hastily crawled over and switched off her phone without even looking at the caller's phone number.

On Gilbert's side.

He listened to his phone silently. "I'm sorry, but the number you have dialed is currently busy."

He lifted the edge of his mouth and threw his phone to the side before shutting his eyes.

He deserved it anyway. He should have never called her when he already knew that she betrayed him, and he still hated her for it!

He should have seen it coming!

Kisa crawled down to the end of the bed and lifted the blanket before looking at the bedpost.

Then, she saw something like a button between that bedpost and the floor.

It looked like it was pressed down. Perhaps she accidentally did that just now.

Chapter 1056 Envelopes

Nearly all of the pictures were photos of David and Kisa's mother together.

Some of them were even taken in the village, and her mother was holding a baby in her arms.

The pictures matched the things that her mother wrote in her diary.

Emilia once secretly gave birth to a baby boy in the village when she was together with David. And, they spent a great time with each other there.

However, she just could not figure out why David did not marry Emilia despite the fact that he loved her, and they even had a child together. Instead, Carolyn got the chance to set Emilia up and make her marry Christopher.

She found a strange photo as she was still feeling confused.

It was not a photo of Emilia and David. Instead, it was a photo of David and another woman, and there was a little boy standing between them.

The little boy looked as though he was two to three years old, and his features resembled Jensen very much.

The woman looked like she came right out of a painting with her delicate features. She was the perfect example of what people referred to as gorgeous.

In the photo, David's expression did not look well. His brows were brought together, looking indifferent and distant.

'The Webb family?'

Kisa got even more confused. She had no clue what David had to do with the Webb family at all.

The more she read about the letters, the more mysterious David became to her.

'What really happened at that time that I was unaware of?'

'How could Jensen tell that Gilbert liked me while I couldn't feel that?'

'If he liked me, why was Sara still there in his life?'

'And if he had liked me since he was a teenager, why did he treat me so cruelly after I married him?'

She was very confused.

She could not help but clutch her head. 'There are too many things going on. I can't figure out what's true or false anymore.'

She took a deep breath as she suppressed all her complicated emotions.

She then picked up the three letters from David to examine them for a while. She noticed that the length of time between the second letter and the last letter was quite long.

His eyes were suddenly gloomy when he saw the incoming call on the screen.

He stared at Kisa's name for a few seconds before he threw his phone aside. He did not plan to answer her call.

But, when the ringtone almost ended, he suddenly picked up his phone. He then used his thumb to press the accept button.

However, he did not speak after the call was connected.

It was Kisa who initiated the conversation.

"Why... did you call me?"

Gilbert felt inexplicably angry.

He lightly said, "Nothing. I pressed it by accident."

"I see... H-How are you? How's your trip?"

"I'm fine."

Kisa grabbed her phone tightly. During this conversation, she felt extremely estranged from him. She felt so estranged that she was a little upset.

"You're so punctual."

"Why did I come so early?" Gilbert coldly said with a poker face.

Kohen grinned dully. He forgave Gilbert for how he reacted. He then pulled him to walk toward the center of the party.

Gilbert frowned as he withdrew his hand. He then stared seriously at Kohen.

"I remember that you have a good relationship with Jensen. And, he became how he is now because of me. So, why were you still willing to help me?"

He wanted to ask this question when he first arrived in Raworth.

Initially, he did not expect Kohen to help him because of Jensen. The first person he discussed with was not Kohen either.
