Chapter 1061 You Might Regret Your Words One Day!

'Kohen is radical and scary.

'But come to think about it, I'm his wife, I won't want to hurt him.

'As long as I don't mess with him, he wouldn't hurt me.'

As she thought that, she felt that Kohen was not actually that terrifying.

"Nothing is absolute. Be careful, you might regret your words one day!"

Gilbert laughed softly at Kohen when he saw Eylul walking in his direction.

Kohen smiled gently as he shook his head, "I've never regretted anything in my life. To be honest, I don't know what it feels like to regret something. I want to experience it someday."

"Don't get carried away. I'm sure your wife will make you feel what it's like to regret one day."

"You think too highly of her." Kohen scornfully said, "She just doesn't have what it takes and isn't good enough to make me regret."

"Really?" Gilbert smiled faintly. He stared over Kohen at Eylul who was standing behind him.

He smiled at her as he greeted, "Hi Mrs. McCray!"

Chapter 1062 I Wanted to Make Her Jealous

Kisa did not sleep the whole night. She was sitting by the window staring outside in a daze when her phone rang.

Her phone was on the coffee table.

She glanced at it and saw that Kohen had sent her a message.

She confusedly frowned.

She had not been in contact with him for a long time. 'Why did he suddenly send me a message? Is it an emergency?'

With doubts, she hurriedly opened the message.

Suddenly, she saw a picture.

She was stunned for a moment.

She could see that Gilbert was surrounded by a few young, gorgeous ladies in the photo. The ladies were toasting at him. At first glance, it felt like Gilbert had many concubines with him.

Kisa stared at the picture for a long time. She then calmly leaned back in her chair. She barely showed any expression.

Chapter 1063 Ruin The Party

Kohen frowned, and he turned his head to look at the center of the party.
Gilbert drank his alcohol as he gently smiled. "Looks like someone is trying to ruin your party. Aren't you going to have a look at it?"
Kohen stopped staring in that direction. He casually smiled as he said, "It's not a big deal. It's just some ladies quarreling. Everything will be fine after they're done fighting."
Right after he finished saying that, his butler ran toward him hurriedly.

“It’s bad, Mr. McCray. Mrs. McCray is fighting with Rose Williams from the Finlay Group!”

Kohen suddenly furrowed his eyebrows. “Who’s fighting with who?”

“Mrs. McCray and Rose Williams.”

Kohen got up before his butler finished speaking. He then strode toward the noise.

Gilbert could not help but smile.

Then, she turned to Kohen with tears in her eyes.

“Ever since you married this woman, I knew my place, and I stopped bothering you. But, you invited me to this banquet. Did you ask me to come here just to get humiliated by that scheming woman?

Besides, everyone here saw how your woman picked on me. They all saw it. If you don’t believe me, you can ask them.”

Suddenly, the women around them chimed in and agreed.

“That’s right, Mr. Kohen. That woman was clearly at fault just now. She started getting aggressive at Rose first.”

“Besides, this woman’s not fit to be your wife at all.”

“She’s merely a country bumpkin. She has no right to be here.”

Kohen immediately looked around him.

The voices of the women around him promptly grew softer. They all avoided his gaze and lowered their heads.

It was a photo he secretly took.

There was a candid and pure smile on her face. Gilbert did not know what she had encountered to beam that brightly.

He stared fondly at the photo.

He continued staring and was suddenly reminded of the contract.

Then, his gentle gaze abruptly turned terrifyingly dark.

He locked his phone and leaned against the chair in annoyance.

Gilbert wanted to go home and see the woman. He wanted to see her right this instant.

Kohen suddenly growled lowly.

Eylul stopped in due time and turned to him. "Is there anything else?"

'Her distant tone didn't sound like how a woman would speak to her husband. Unless she has never treated me as her husband,' thought Kohen.

At this sudden thought, Kohen quickly shook his head.

'How ridiculous. Why am I having such thoughts? Once there's a child, this marriage will naturally end. Isn't it a little excessive to fuss over such things?' he thought again.

He slowly lowered his dark gaze onto her flat stomach.

"Go get a checkup at the hospital tomorrow."

"Okay." She asked again as if she were a servant, "Is there anything else?"

"Get lost!"

"Okay," Eylul nodded. Her attitude was considered well-behaved.

However, this irritated Kohen. The more he looked at her, the angrier he felt.

Just as the woman was about to walk out, he suddenly grunted, "I'll go to the hospital with you tomorrow!"

Eylul was startled. A moment later, she nodded, "Okay."

"What is wrong with you? Don't you watch where you're going?"

It was a sharp, arrogant shriek from Sharon.

'But, why do I also seem to hear Lea apologizing?' Kisa wondered.

Kisa frowned and turned over. She saw Lea getting up from the floor as Sharon berated her. Meanwhile, Sharon seemed to be getting more and more worked up.

Kisa got up and walked over.

"What's wrong?"

Kisa helped Lea up and turned to Sharon icily.

Sharon sneered and bluntly said, "Your lackey didn't watch where she was going and bumped into me, so I slapped her."

Ever since Carolyn and Adrien's relationship got publicized, Sharon had been acting cocky on set.

It was not an exaggeration to say that she had been running amok.

"Don't worry, the baby is safe. The baby would've been gone if she had arrived any later."

Kisa breathed a sigh of relief upon hearing the doctor's words.

The doctor reminded Kisa, "She's only one month pregnant. The baby still isn't stable yet, so she's at a high risk of miscarriage. She needs to take care and not overstrain herself. Bed rest is recommended."

"Alright. I'll let her know."

Lea changed to a general ward. Kisa watched her and felt a mix of emotions.

'If it was before, she'd tell me everything, be it big or small. But these days, there's a barrier between us. Pregnancy is a big deal, yet she didn't tell me a single thing. She still persisted in hiding things from me when she was bleeding and the baby was in danger. I don't understand. Why doesn't Lea want me to know about the baby? Are the father and I enemies?' Kisa wondered.

However, the mere thought of it made Kisa's heart clench.

'That must it be it. The baby's father and I might be enemies. Otherwise, I really can't explain Lea's strange actions,' thought Kisa.

Lea only regained consciousness in the afternoon.

Kisa coincidentally returned with the light meal she had bought her.

Chapter 1069 I Really Didn't Get Pregnant

Lea nodded with tears in her eyes, "Kisa, you've always been my best friend. No one can replace that."

Kisa smiled at her, "You too."

Coming out of the hospital, Kisa's mood was complicated. Even now, Lea would not tell her who the child's father was. This verified her hypothesis even more.

The father of the child was one of her adversaries. But with a bit of pondering, there were only a few possible candidates. It could only be Sharon, Anthony... Reminded about Anthony, her heart suddenly skipped a beat. It couldn't be Anthony, could it?

Although this hypothesis was slightly terrifying, she could not guess any other candidate. Unless there was an adversary who wanted to harm her that was hidden covertly that she did not know of. But the possibility of that was relatively tiny.

Just as she was lost in thought, beams of light suddenly shined onto her. It was so blinding that she could not open her eyes. She immediately covered her eyes with her hand.

"Mrs. Kooper, Mr. Kooper already has a son and a daughter. May I ask that after you have given birth to the child, will you treat the other two children fairly?"

The reporters' questions were going further and further. Kisa was totally speechless. She could not be bothered to say anything else, since the reporters would not listen to what she had just said anyway.

The reporters did not stop taking pictures of her and even furiously snapped pictures of her abdomen. Kisa immediately bent down to slip into the car. She then carefully moved her car. After being stuck in a stalemate for a long time, the reporters slowly dispersed.
