Chapter 1331 The Baby Is Not Yours Alone

Gilbert frowned and did not answer for a long time, but Kisa was persistent. The more he refused to answer, the more she was determined to find out his answer.

She fixed her eyes on him. "Answer me. What? Is that a difficult question?"

Gilbert took the towel and wiped her hair, asking, "Why do you always have to bring her up?"

"I'm just asking. Maybe there is really a possibility?" Kisa snickered while he frowned. "What? Are you angry?" she asked.

Gilbert did not make a sound, his face sullen, and he continued to rub her hair with the towel. Kisa was not too happy. She grabbed the towel from his hand, not wanting him to dry her hair.

Chapter 1332 Smiling Like an Idiot

She thought it was not a bad idea. But, realizing that he would not be able to sleep, she shook her head. "Never mind. I'll just look at my phone. I'm not sleepy, anyway."

Gilbert said nothing as he handed her phone to her, leaned back against the headboard, and looked at his phone too. The room was warm and quiet, with only a dim wall lamp on. Not long after, Kisa fell asleep, the phone in her hand still playing a video. He carefully took her phone out of her hand with a forced smile.

'She really fell asleep quickly.' He looked at the side of Kisa's face for a long time and felt that she still looked somewhat the same as she did when she was young.

Grinning to himself, he took out his phone and snapped several photos of the side of her face. And then he lay down, hugging her as he took a few more shots.

Chapter 1333 His Tenderness and Protection Are Hers

His phone was on the bedside table, but half of it was hanging off the edge, so it fell as soon as Kisa's hand brushed past it. The phone fell on the carpet with a sudden thud. Her heart skipped a beat, and she tensed up, afraid of waking Gilbert up. He had always been alert, but this time, there was no reaction from him. He was still sleeping soundly. It seemed to her that he really was tired.

She bent down to pick up the phone. As she was doing so, her fingers instinctively touched the power button on the side of the phone and the phone screen lit up. She was not really looking at first, but a photo caught her eyes. It startled her for a second before she pressed the side button again.

As the phone screen lit up again, the photo came into view. It was a picture of her and Gilbert with her nestling in Gilbert's arms, sleeping soundly, while he was resting his chin on the top of her head, smiling. It was a beautiful picture. Even if it was just a photo, she could see the smile and sparkle in his eyes.

'When this picture was taken, he must have been very happy. It looked like he took the picture last night while I was sleeping,' she thought to herself.

Kisa could not help but look at the man on the bed and feel touched. 'So what if Sara occupies the first spot in his heart? What matters is that I'm the one by his side now. His tenderness and protection are now mine.' With these thoughts in mind, she felt much happier and was not as cynical as before.

It was a pleasant moment to sit in the courtyard in the cool morning breeze under the warm sun. Felicity had gone to the shops with Davian to take care of some business and Gilbert was sleeping, so Kisa and the maids were the only ones downstairs.

Kelvin immediately shed his frivolous manner, his expression turning grave. "What to do then? Any possible suspects? Since we're all staying in the Mullen residence, how come Gilbert's okay?"

Kisa shook her head. "I'm just guessing. Let's observe for a few days and see how things go."

Kelvin nodded. "So do you want to visit Miss Mullen at the Mullen residence today?"

"I'm not going." Kisa took a mouthful of spaghetti and mumbled, "I'll stay at Felicity's place for a few days. If there are no more nightmares in the next few days, then someone at the Mullen residence must have tampered with my food or the things around me. First I'll determine whether that's the case, and if it is, then I'll go to the Mullen residence to find out who that person is. In the meantime, please keep an eye on the Mullen family and Adrien these few days."

Gilbert murmured, his voice a little wispy.

Kisa shook her head bemusedly. 'What's wrong with him today? He's so melancholy, it's not like him at all.'

"Well, well, well, look how lovey-dovey this couple is."

Gilbert hugged Kisa in silence for a long moment until Felicity's teasing giggle came. He immediately let go of Kisa, his face changing with such speed that his melancholy look switched to sullenness in an instant once Felicity and Davian walked in.

He looked at the two of them and asked expressionlessly, "What the hell are you two doing here?"

Felicity shook her head and snickered at the gloomy-faced man. "You are about to be the father

Chapter 1336 I'll Bring You Back

Kisa's heart sank for no reason. "Okay, tell me where to meet up."

Lea asked to meet her in an ordinary cafe on a boulevard. Gilbert drove her there and parked the car near the cafe.

"I don't know how long I'm going to talk to Lea. If you get bored, you can go on back without me," Kisa said, as she had planned to come by herself at first.

But Gilbert was worried about her. He felt that since Lea was Anthony's woman, she posed a risk against Kisa. He had wanted to meet Lea with her, but Lea had said on the phone earlier that she wanted to see Kisa alone. At first, he had been reluctant to allow Kisa to come, but relented after Kisa persuaded him to agree.

With the window down, Gilbert looked toward the cafe on the side of the boulevard and could see where Lea was. He leaned back in his seat, took out a cigarette, and said to Kisa, "It's okay. I'll wait here.” Kisa looked at him and said nothing, then got out of the car. As she walked around the front of the car, Gilbert suddenly said to her, “Call me if anything happens. If anything happens to my child, I’ll hold you responsible.”

Kisa’s heart skipped a beat when she saw Lea’s pale face, which was worse than it had been in the hospital that day. Chapter 1337 Like Saying Her Last Words

“Actually, it doesn’t matter anymore. You don’t have to tell me. Or maybe you can tell me later.” It was not that she did not want to know what Lea had done behind her back, rather it felt like Lea was saying her last words. The idea of that terrified Kisa, so she would have preferred Lea to tell her later

“It is important. Those things are still important.” Lea smiled faintly and lowered her head to take a sip of coffee.

Kisa pursed her lips and looked away “It’s better not to talk about it.”

“I’ll be left with regrets if I don’t tell you now,” Lea said “The first thing I did to harm you started from the birthday celebration of Mr Case Sr. I called you and told you there were short of temporary maids and asked you to go with me. And then Anthony and Sharon set you up by luring Howard and you in the garret of the Case residence. Do you remember that incident?”

Kisa stared at her. “I can’t believe you were involved in their plans at the time”

Lea chuckled. “Yes, he used me that time too, but the nature of things has not changed; it was me who put you in harm’s way

Chapter 1338 What a Perfect Plan

She never expected them to hide their evil plan so well.

"At that time, when you went to the washroom to clean off the coffee spilled on your dress, you gave me your handbag, remember?"

"A-And then?"

"Then, I secretly took out your cell phone and took screenshots of you and Gilbert's intimate photos, as well as your intimate chats with Gilbert. If I remember correctly, you and Gilbert had reconciled at that time, but because of Mrs. Kooper Sr., you kept it a secret. Because of the evidence I photographed, Mrs. Kooper Sr. found out you two were together again. I heard Anthony say that Mrs. Kooper Sr. was so angry that she attempted suicide."

a most memorable birthday and a surprise. But what she ended up waiting for was bone-chilling heartache and despair. That day, Jensen and Adrien brought the warden to see her, telling her that Gilbert was responsible for the prison fire. She hurried to find Gilbert, wanting to clarify the matter with him. Faced with her questioning, Gilbert admitted he was responsible for the fire and said cruel things to her. But at that time, she did not know that Madalyn had tried to kill herself. So, she wondered now if Gilbert said those cruel things to her because he was afraid that Madalyn would try to

Chapter 1339 This Lifetime Is Enough

Kisa stared at Lea in confusion, and Lea nodded her head.

"So, out of guilt for me at the time, you wanted Gilbert to find the warden so that he and I could make up, right?"

Lea nodded again but looked a little sad. "After I told Gilbert about the warden, he went straight. after Jensen, and then the accident fell upon Jensen. So, in fact, I was the one who was responsible for Jensen's accident, not Gilbert."

She was too naive in the past, doing everything for her so-called love. In the end, after doing all those ridiculous things in the name of love, not only did she fail to get even a half-hearted response but also ended up hurting herself with a ton of guilt. Now that she had confessed it all to Kisa, she felt much better. She felt that even if she were to die now, she would feel more at ease.

Chapter 1340 It All Becomes Clear

Kisa sat on the chair, confounded. 'So, Gilbert didn't lie to me; Andrew and Ada really are my children. But whose baby did I see back then which was all purple and breathless? No. That baby was also mine. I could clearly feel the baby being taken out of my belly at that time. So, was I carrying triplets? Who was it that saved me from the fire-Adrien or Jensen? If Jensen was really working for Adrien all along, then perhaps I'd fallen into a trap from the moment I was rescued from the fire. They might have been setting me up from that moment on."

The more she thought about it, the more chilled and shocked she felt. All her past speculations, assumptions, and everything that she had thought of as the truth until now had all been. overturned.
