Chapter 59 You're More Ruthless Than You Seem

"Hohoho..."

Anthony emerged from the crowd. His eyes glinted with excitement as he stared at Kisa, "Just as I thought, Gilbert had you hidden away. It seems like you're receiving out-of-the-ordinary treatment from him."

Kisa instantly put on a sad face, "Mr. Mullen, you must be mistaken; I have nothing to do with Gilbert."

"If there's nothing between you two, why did he have you hidden away? Take them away!"

Within moments, Kisa and Davian were tied up and shoved into a van.

Davian teared up. He turned to Kisa with guilt, "I'm sorry, ma'am. You're being kidnapped because of my foolishness. When Mr. Kooper left, he specifically told me to take good care of you. I should've thought about what my men told more thoroughly."

Kisa sighed, "It's not your fault; you were just worried for Gilbert. Besides, who would've thought that was a mole among your men?"

"That darn traitor! I'll skin him alive once I return," Davian said through gritted teeth.

Then, Kisa looked out the car window with worry. She had no idea how Anthony was going to torture her.

The drive was bumpy and took over an hour.

As the doors opened, Kisa and Davian were violently shoved out of the vehicle.

In anger, Davian shouted, "Stop being so rough! If you dare hurt the madam, Mr. Kooper will not spare you!"

Kisa was speechless.

'Is Davian trying to get me killed?' she wondered.

Davian held Kisa's chin up amusedly before turning to Davian, "Madam? So she really is Gilbert's ex-wife?"

Davian's face paled as he quickly shook his head.

Unfortunately, it was too late.

Anthony roared with laughter, "This time, it's Gilbert's turn to kneel and beg for my forgiveness!"

"Your plan is destined to fail," Kisa said calmly.

She continued, "Gilbert doesn't care if I die. Do you really think kidnapping me would be of much use?"

"Hah! If he doesn't care if you die or not, why did he have you hidden away?"

Seeing that he didn't believe her, Kisa quickly thought of a plan.

All of a sudden, her sickly thin face showed an expression that was a mixture of bitterness and grievance. She looked horrendous.

Anthony quickly retracted his hand and tutted in disgust.

Kisa cried out, "Take a look at my horrendous face. Do you really think that Gilbert would care for me? He hid me away because he wanted to take revenge by humiliating me. And this is all because I had set him up before."

"Oh!" This piqued Anthony's interest.

"So you set him before?"

Kisa nodded.

"Mhm. Gilbert hates my guts and wishes for my death. That's why you kidnapping me would not threaten him at all."

up

Anthony's eyes glinted with doubt.

Kisa quickly added, "What's worse, I hurt his beloved grandma, so he would want to kill me himself. I suggest you let me go because kidnapping would provide no advantage to you at all."

Anthony chuckled, "You're more ruthless than you seem."

Then, he stood up and pointed to a rickety old warehouse.

“Tie her against that pillar inside,” he said to his men.

Kisa was stunned, “You’re not letting me go?”

“After all the trouble I went through to kidnap you, it would be a waste not to try and use you against Gilbert.”

Anthony had a savage look on his face.

“Later, I’ll gouge your eyeballs out first. Then, I’ll cut off your arms. I don’t think Gilbert wouldn’t budge by then. Besides, even if I do kill you, I have nothing to lose, right?”

Upon hearing his words, Kisa’s heart sank.

She knew very clearly that Gilbert would not care if she was dead or alive.

‘If

Anthony tries to probe Gilbert by using torture methods on me, I might actually die.’ At that thought, Kisa quickly turned to Anthony.

Chapter 60 Work With Me

“Rather than using me to probe Gilbert, why not work with me to take him down?”

For a moment, Anthony was stunned. Then, he peered at her amusingly, "What do you mean?" "Gilbert's your enemy, but he's also an enemy of mine," Kisa replied with a vengeful and ruthless expression.

The hatred in her eyes grew stronger when she thought of her child who died in her womb. It seemed so genuine that it was hard for people to think that she was putting on an act.

Anthony sat down and continued to stare at her with great interest, "You're truly willing to join hands with me and take him down?"

"Of course. I hate him for sending me to jail and killing my child."

Anthony shook his head and laughed sardonically, "I've never seen such a peculiar pair of husband and wife before."

"We are no longer husband and wife.

"Ah. Tell me, then, how will you help me take Gilbert Kooper down? Just a heads plan doesn't work, I'll still gouge out your eyeballs and cut your limbs off."

Anthony glanced at her suspiciously before fishing out his phone to make a call.

It took a while until the person on the other end picked up.

"I can assure you my plan is better than your original plan of probing him," Kisa said. Then, she added confidently, "If you don't believe me, try calling and threatening him. You'll see how he reacts."

Anthony purposefully put the call on loudspeaker. Then, he smiled viciously at his phone, "I have your ex-wife. You better get over here, kneel before me, and beg for mercy. Otherwise, I'll gouge out her eyeballs and send them to you as a gift."

"She's an ungrateful wench, so torture her however you like."

Kisa's lips twitched when she heard his words.

Even though she knew Gilbert did not care about her well-being, hearing him say such cold hearted statements still hurt her deeply.

Anthony glanced at her as he bellowed into the phone, "You think I'm joking? I'm telling you, I'm not only going to gouge her eyes out, but I'm also going to cut off all her limbs and turn her into... BEEP BEEP-"

Gilbert hung up the phone before Anthony had the chance to finish his sentence.

Kisa lowered her gaze as her heart sank even further.

When she looked up once more, not a trace of sadness could be seen on her face, only hatred remained.

"Do you believe me now? He truly does not care about my well-being; he didn't even bother coming here."

There was a ruthless glint in Anthony's eyes. He laughed icily, "Even so, I still can't bear to let you go. What should I do?"

"I understand. You've wasted so many resources just to kidnap me, but in the end, I was of no use to you. That's why I made the proposition of working together to bring him down."

"Alright, tell me about this plan of yours."

"Untie me first."

"Are you haggling? Hah! I don't think you have the right to do that."

"You must be kidding me! I've already proposed that we work together, and you still don't trust me? Besides, every person here is your subordinate, yet you're still scared that I'll pull a fast one on you?"

Kisa chuckled sarcastically at Anthony's hesitance.

"Is the great Mr. Mullen afraid of me?"

Anthony laughed as if he had just heard the funniest joke ever.

"HAHAHA! Me? Afraid of you? You think too highly of yourself."

Then, he got his subordinates to untie Kisa.

Kisa flexed her wrist and said to him, "Hand me the phone. You can't figure out how to get him here, but I do."

Now that she had caught Anthony's interest, he flung his phone at her without hesitation.

However, Davian started yelling at her distressedly, "Ma'am, you mustn't do anything that will harm Mr. Kooper! He's still very protective of you."

Anthony stood beside them with a mirthless smile and his arms crossed.

Kisa quickly retorted loudly, "Protective of me? Do you mean he protected me by sending me to jail? Or did he protect me by sending people to that very jail to beat me up? Or did he protect me by committing arson to kill my unborn child and me? When did Gilbert ever protect me?"

"Ma'am..."

"That's enough. Another word from you, and I'll have Mr. Mullen cut your tongue."

Davian instantly shut up and could only glare at her sorrowfully.

Meanwhile, Kisa side-eyed him icily and dialed Gilbert's number.
