

I Love Destroying Worlds' Plot #Chapter 12: 1.11 First Small Star – The End - Read I Love Destroying Worlds' Plot Chapter 12: 1.11 First Small Star – The End

Chapter 12: 1.11 First Small Star – The End

Xia Ying was eaten raw until dawn.

When he opened his silvery orbs, the sun had long risen and he couldn't feel any bones within his body. His body is marked with countless strawberries and his lips were plumped from being swollen after kissing nonstop the whole night.

Feeling lethargic, he can only continue to lay on the bed. He felt the warmth engulfing him, caging him inside, the arm tightly holding his waist while the other was holding his neck.

He was captured with no way of escape. He habitually hugged the warm body beside him. The gentleman's dark brown hair is messy, his features were almost sculpted to perfection.

Proportional body lines, 8 pack abs connecting perfectly to his mermaid line. This man is obviously this world's beloved son even more so than the Protagonist Gong who only has six packs of abs with no mermaid line. This person looked like a God in the human realm.

Xia Ying no... more like Hei Anjing felt that his soul quivers and his heartbeat becomes wild when he first sees this man. He felt an overpowering attraction towards him not because of the latter's perfected features but something else.

Which struck fear in his heart for the first time, his heart which gradually remained normal suddenly beat loudly outside his control at why he decided to push this man away in fear he would lose himself.

But this person never gave up.

He gave him everything, he pampered him, loved him, and cared for him as if he were his everything. Gradually Hei Anjing couldn't stop himself from falling but as he accepted this person's heart.

Horror shook his heart making it ache, his soul quivers in unconditionally pain.

Afraid of losing him but in the end, he let himself fall. He accepted the hell he will suffer after losing this man when he left this world.

Staring at Wang Tian's sleeping face which hinted satisfaction, Xia Ying couldn't help but smile but at the same time felt sadness as a teardrop fell from his eyes as he once again closed his eyes.

"I wish... I could bring you with me... but that's not possible at all."

Whispered in silent misery, Xia Ying could only close his eyes to once again sleep enjoying this short happiness while he still can.

Only when Xia Ying was completely asleep that Wang Tian opened his eyes, his formerly grey eyes turned completely black.

Upon looking directly into it you can notice galaxies and stars within it as well as cruelty and mercilessness, only when he looked at Xia Ying that his eyes become full of passionate love giving out a smile, he only pulled the sleeping figure in his embrace as if he was afraid that this person will escape once again.

After that night, the news of the Film Emperor's death saddened the nation and condemned Xia Yang for murdering their male god. They threw insults and stones at him, but Xia Yang had no reaction at all.

As if he had lost his soul, his gold eyes had turned empty in dazedness while he spent his lifetime within the walls of prison and misery.

Meanwhile Xia Ying and Wang Tian continue their hobby of making movies and acting, partnering up in most of the movies. Xia Ying is already famous after finishing a few jobs before they worked together as a couple. Their other works were more like icing the finished cake.

Few years later, Xia Ying ended up getting the title as the new Film Emperor while Wang Tian was rewarded with Best Movie Director in the world. This couple came out of the closet after their reign as the Imperial couple. Though only those within the circle call this couple the most Shameless Couple in history. A couple that couldn't end their day without spreading dog food within the world of entertainment.

They continued their work until they were in their 30 and retired at 40 flying all over the world to enjoy themselves.

At the end of their life, as if afraid of seeing his beloved leave before him, the first one to leave is Xia Ying. The couple's feature was withered by time, but they still remained their visage as male gods. Wang Tian is holding his wife in his embrace as their hands are intertwined together with black rings on their left ring fingers.

This ring was the only proof of their love and marriage in this world, but Xia Ying didn't accept his system's recommendation of bringing the ring over to space. Because Hei

Anjing felt he might go crazy if he kept seeing that black ring which is the proof of his love that will be lost when he returns to that lonely space.

"Hubby... are you ...going to ...capture me ...again, in our... next life?" asked Xia Ying.

Xia Ying only felt the arms around him tighten but he wasn't able to hear an answer. Xia Ying knows why he didn't say anything. After all, his husband is the type of person who will show his promise through his actions. Just the fact that he was held tightly in this person's embrace signifies that he won't be able to escape if he was found once again.

A satisfied smile appeared on Xia Ying's face as he slowly closed his eyes, "Then... you better... hmm... once again..." when he completely closed his eyes, Hei Anjing's soul was heaved out of the star by his system back to their system space. To that black space filled with stars.

The moment Hei Anjing's soul completely left, Wang Tian showed a smile of madness.

"You can never escape from me anymore, my beloved Jing'er."

Looking closely his normally silver colored irises are nowhere to be found. Only the color of darkness dyed his eyes with black. Staring at it, one could see countless stars and galaxies hovering within it.