

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2029 - 2033

Chapter 2029

'No time!

'No energy!

'Doesn't want to be bound!'

Sid grasped these three main points and immediately came up with a plan.

"Sir, if you are only needed to contain Zenon as the head in name, you won't need to appear at any time, and you also don't need to constantly stay in the Saints Association.

What do you think? You will only need to show up when necessary."

David fell into thought when he heard this.

If it was just a title, it might still be possible.

Of course, he also did not want to see Star Kingdom become a mess. He did not want to see wars everywhere, ordinary people displaced, and people dying.

"Is that even possible?" David's clone did not immediately refuse this time, but asked instead.

Sid was overjoyed.

'I still have a chance!

'It'll be fine as long as he doesn't refuse outright like just now.'

"Of course! Your job is to restrict Zenon and restrict him so he can't do whatever he wants. You can just leave the rest to me," Sid added.

"Lord Sid, I can't be the head just because I want to, right? I have never been in the Saints Association, and I'm not qualified. You can even say that I don't know anyone in the Saints Association. Can I really hold this position? I'm afraid no one will accept me," David's clone expressed his doubts.

"You can rest assured! As long as you nod your head, you don't need to worry about everything else. Just leave it to me. I will be the deputy head and take care of everything for you. You just need to show up and display your strength when the time comes,” Sid said confidently.

With his prestige in the Saints Association, he could indeed do this.

As long as he said something, ninety-nine percent of people would obey him.

Take the Saints Association’s law enforcement team as an example.

Zenon only got the team to temporarily obey his orders after suppressing them using his peak Sacred Saint strength.

However, as soon as Sid showed up, the team immediately defected.

This was the difference between the two.

Even if Zenon was strong, he could not make others obey him.

‘That’s fine too! But I have to say in advance that I am just the head in name, and I won’t interfere in any affairs of the Saints Association. I will leave everything to you, and I won’t stay in the Saints Association forever. I have my own matters to take care of and you can only contact me when Zenon comes out to commit crimes again. My task is to deal with him, and I won’t care about the rest,” David said seriously.

He did not mind being a head in name.

He was just worried that they would look him to resolve trivial matters when the time came.

That would be very troublesome, and the one thing David feared most was trouble.

“Alright! It’s fine as long as you agree. You don’t have to care about anything else and will only be responsible for restraining Zenon. You can go about your business normally,” Sid said happily.

Zenon was bound to control himself with the deterrance of this man in front of him.

His plan to create chaos, unify the Star Kingdom, and collect the power of faith would be impossible to execute.

“I’ll leave this to you then. Whenever you need me to come forward, just let me know, and don’t look for me if nothing is going on,” David agreed.

He also had no reason to refuse since Sid had already said that.

It was nice to be able to make a little contribution to the peace of Star Kingdom.

‘Thank you!’

“It’s just a small matter!”

“Although this is nothing to you, it is a life-changing moment for the entire human race of Star Kingdom. On behalf of everyone, I would like to sincerely thank you, so please accept my gratitude.”

After Sid said that, he stood up and bowed to David’s clone.

How would David accept this? He quickly stopped Sid.

“Lord Sid, what are you doing? Are you mocking me? Compared to you, I am still far behind. Frankly speaking, I can’t be as selfless as you. We should all learn from your noble spirit.”

The two greeted each other politely and left behind their contact information.

After this, Sid left with the Saints Association’s law enforcement team.

David had agreed, but there were still many things to do to push him to the position of the head of the Saints Association.

Firstly, he would need the support of all department heads of the Saints Association.

Then, he should also recruit at least two other deputy heads.

Sid would do all of this as he could not leave the tasks to anyone else.

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2030

Not even Quintus, captain of the Saints

Association's law enforcement team, could handle it.

After Sid left, David immediately dismissed the clone since he wanted to save as much as he could.

Blood essence was not the same as ordinary blood. It was the essence of blood and only treasures of heaven and earth that were otherwise invaluable could replenish one's blood essence.

After this, David was naturally warmly supported by the entire Fellowes family.

However, after knowing that David's master had left for something, Cedar and the others still had some regrets.

He was a peak Sacred Saint, and it was such a pity that they could not deepen their relationship with him.

Fortunately, David did not leave.

It would be the same to have a good relationship with David.

From the dialogue between the master and the disciple, it could be seen that the relationship between the two was very good. Moreover, it was not an exaggeration to say that they were like father and son.

David's master cared about what David said a lot.

Sometimes, outsiders would get nervous at what David said to his master.

They figured that David would definitely be punished for disrespecting his master.

However, his master did not care at all.

He happily followed David's words, so this showed that the relationship between the two was very good.

David's position in the heart of his master was also very important.

He was not bothered about trifles, so it was possible that this was how they talked normally.

They were used to it, so it was unlikely that this would change in the short term.

David could only silently accept the enthusiasm of the Fellowes family.

He would have already left if he did not know that leaving immediately would look bad on him.

No matter what, he was friends with the Fellowes family, so to leave without even saying goodbye would be too mean.

First, the three True Saints from the Fellowes family received David, followed by Roald and Valerio.

What they did were pretty similar.

Thanks to the help of David and his master, the Fellowes family was able to survive this genocide. If David needed the Fellowes family in the future, he should just ask, and the Fellowes family would definitely help him with everything they had.

In the end, Alba was allowed to meet David by herself.

The purpose was self-evident.

Naturally, the family wanted to push Alba closer David, and it would be best if something could happen between them.

David was an extremely strong backer, so of course, they would want to hold on to him.

Marriage was the most effective means of doing this.

Everyone else understood so naturally, the two parties involved also understood.

Not only did Alba not have any intention of rejecting for this arrangement, but on the contrary, she was overjoyed.

A woman would have to marry sooner or later.

That being the case, why not marry a man who she liked and could help her family?

However, as a woman, Alba was quite shy.

She could not leave everything behind to follow David.

Hence, she could only give David some hints, either explicitly or implicitly, hoping that David could take the initiative.

However, David could only pretend to be ignorant of this.

He had not dealt with his group of women properly, so how would he dare to take in another one?

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2031

After saying goodbye to the Fellowes family, David stepped into the space crack and left the Fellowes family under Alba's bitter gaze.

"I wonder when we'll meet a top figure like Master David who has a peak Sacred Saint as his master again. Maybe the next time we meet, he will have become a Sacred Saint to stand at the top of the Star Kingdom," Roald sighed.

"With David's talent, stepping into Sacred Saint Rank is inevitable. There will be two Sacred Saints in one sect if that happens. Even if there are only the two of them, there is no force in Star Kingdom that can rival them," Cedar also said.

"By the way, Alba, how are you and Master David doing? You were talking for so long, so have you made any progress?" Valerio turned to look at Alba and asked.

Others also looked over, obviously very concerned about this issue.

If something happened between Alba and David, the Fellowes family's status would also rise accordingly.

Which force in Star Kingdom would dare to provoke them in the future?

"Grandpa Vai, stop it. He's just a piece of wood that doesn't understand anything!" Alba replied with a resentful expression.

How would she not want to become closer to David?

However, David kept pretending that he did not understand anything, so what could she do?

She could not force herself on him, right?

Only men would do that, so how could a woman like her do the same?

"Alba, if Master David doesn't understand, you should take the initiative!"

"I-I'm just a woman. I've hinted clearly enough. How else can I take the initiative?

Do

you think I should force him?" Alba's face was full of grievances.

“How could hints work? David and his master have been practicing in seclusion and rarely contact outsiders.

Therefore, it’s normal for him to not know about the relationship between men and women. How can he understand if you just hint at him? Oh, Alba! To be happy, you have to take the initiative. Now is not the time to be shy. All women who interacted with David would dream of a man like him. In the future, there will be many women who will throw themselves at him. By then, it will be too late to regret it,” Cedar persuaded earnestly.

‘Then... What should I do then? Grandmaster, David has already left.’ Alba was also a little panicked.

The grandmaster was right.

Not only was David strong, but his background was also unmatched.

Plus, he had a good temperament and he did not share the bad habits that all the direct descendants from big families often showed.

He was perfect.

So, which woman would not like him?

Alba still remembered the first time she met David.

The charming woman next to him seemed to be called Marlee, and she was looking at David like she was longing to be dominated by David.

That should be the first woman David met after he came out.

If Marlee did not have a daughter, she might already be pursuing David without hesitations.

“It doesn’t matter! Don’t you still have his contact information? You should contact him more when you’re free. Don’t forget, you are the head of Treasure Trove now, and David and his master also own shares in Treasure Trove. You can talk about the future of the company or something. I will leave the entire Treasure Trove to you now,” Cedar said.

“I understand! Thank you, Grandmaster!”

“You don’t have to thank me! I’m also doing it for the family. If you can be with David, even if it’s just to be his maid who takes care of his daily life, the family will benefit.”

For the rest of the time, David was in no rush to return to Earth.

There were three more things he needed to do.

The first was to collect resources.

After returning to Earth, there would be no resources to support Celia and the others in their cultivation.

Hence, he had to get enough resources from Star Kingdom before he went back. Otherwise, their lifespan would be very short if they could not reach Eternal Realm.

David did not want to see the woman die in front of him one after another.

Furthermore, he also needed to collect some treasures of heaven and earth that could increase blood essence.

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2032

Of course, Treasure Trove would be the best means of collecting resources.

As the major shareholder of Treasure Trove, he held as high as 45% of the shares, so logically speaking, he did not need to spend money.

However, David disagreed and gave Alba an ultimatum.

If they did not allow him to spend money, he would buy from another company.

In the end, Alba had no choice but to quietly charge at a price lower than the cost.

For David, although he could not continue to use lavish points to improve his strength, he could still improve other skills.

For example, Cloning.

This skill was very useful for David.

He was now a partial Pre-Deity.

So, one more clone was equal to one more partial PreDeity's combat power.

This was horrifying.

The system showed that one million lavish points were needed to increase the level of Cloning.

After upgrading, David would be able to have one more clone.

If so, the next upgrade would surely cost ten million.

In other words, with only eleven million lavish points, David could have two more clones.

In addition to the main form and the original clone, there would be four partial PreDeities in total.

In the Star Kingdom where the highest combat power was only peak Sacred Saint Rank, what would it be like to have four partial Pre-Deities' combat power?

It was simply unimaginable!

It would be very easy for David to do whatever he wanted.

He could even reduce the entire Star Kingdom to ruin at any time.

Collecting resources and improving the level of his clone was the first thing on David's list.

The second thing was to wait for Sid's notice and show up at the Saints Association to assume the name of the head of the Saints Association. Then, he would contain Zenon, which could be regarded as him making a small contribution to the peace of Star Kingdom.

The last thing was David's promise to Nova.

He would send a clone into the Iridescent Sect to discover its secrets.

He would certainly not break his promise if it was within his power.

Besides, David wanted to know something too.

Since the establishment of the Iridescent Sect, so many Saints disappeared after entering the forbidden area. Why did this happen?

He had nothing to worry about even if he investigated this, since if he encountered a big crisis, he would only lose a few drops of blood essence.

After he completed the three things, it would be time for David to return to Earth to live in seclusion with everyone.

At that time, what would greet him would be the days of leisure and peace.

This was what David yearned for, instead of being aloof and controlling the life and death of all beings.

David never had such ambitions.

Not long after, David got another message from Alba.

East League Trading Company had been unsealed.

Of course, David did not have time to dive further into this matter, and he still let Marlee take care of this.

When he was threatened by the Palmore family, he sent Marlee and her daughter to a safe place to hide.

Since then, the two had always been in touch.

Marlee often sent some concerned messages, and if David did not reply, she would connect to David's communication device after a while.

She was afraid that something might happen to David.

Since David was helpless toward her concern, he could only accept it silently.

He was destined not to be indifferent.

He had no heroic potential at all.

No matter how strong he was, he could only become a hero who saved all living beings, not a hero who stepped on countless corpses.

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2033

Time passed slowly while David waited.

While collecting resources, his lavish points were also increasing.

He could summon two clones now and he could soon summon a third one.

In Star Kingdom, summoning three clones was already the limit.

It was the same as his strength.

If David wanted to keep improving, he had to go to a higher civilization.

However, David had no plans of doing so for the time being.

The strength of a partial Pre-Deity, plus three clones, was enough to deal with various emergencies.

Even if another partial Pre-Deity appeared in Star Kingdom, David would not be afraid.

He could summon three clones of equal strength.

Four against one, along with three Soulbound Weapons would be definitely enough to crush the opponent no matter how one looked at it.

A partial Pre-Deity might not be enough for David.

This time, Star Kingdom was going through turbulent times.

Zenon's breakthrough to peak Sacred Saint, defeating Sid, and replacing him was already big news that shocked countless people.

However, not long after, another strong man who was evenly matched with Zenon appeared.

Were sweeping changes washing over Star Kingdom?

Sid, who was once recognized as number one in Star Kingdom, suddenly became the third.

Furthermore, no one knew how long he would hold this spot.

The name Sid Griswold had long been ingrained in everyone's mind.

Many people who regard Sid as an idol could not accept this reality.

After the Palmore family mobilized their forces to invade the Fellowes family and failed, the Fellowes family had also become the darling of Star Kingdom.

Not everyone could withstand Zenon's attack in combination with the Saints Association's law enforcement team and most of the Palmore family's strength. At this moment, who did not know that the Fellowes family had a peak Sacred Saint backer?

It was believed that Zenon, the head of the Saints Association, could not even do anything to the Fellowes family.

Naturally, other forces would not attempt the impossible and trouble the Fellowes family.

At this moment, the Fellowes family also announced something shocking.

Half of Treasure Trove belonged to David's master and disciple.

As soon as the news came out, the major trading companies were collectively shocked.

From now on, Treasure Trove undoubtedly had the best background.

They directly got a peak Sacred Saint on their side, which no one had attempted to do this before.

It was clear from then on that Treasure Trove would dominate the business world in the future.

Unless the Palmore family decided to support one company and fought Treasure Trove.

Or else, no one would have the guts to act against them.

Of course, there were also some malicious voices whispering in the dark.

They claimed that the Fellowes family was leaving themselves open to attack.

It would not be long before the Fellowes family reap what they had sown.

They said this under hushed voices.

However, if a peak Sacred Saint was expressing their willingness to invest in them, all the other trading companies would likely get on their knees and beg for cooperation with them as well.

They would be able to do whatever they wanted with this kind of backer in Star Kingdom.

Would they still be worried about not being able to grow their company?

This was the power of the peak Sacred Saint, the greatest deterrent force in Star Kingdom.

As for East League Trading Company, it was all but useless to David.

Therefore, he decided not to expose his relationship with the company.
With Marlee's vision and experience, she would be slightly powerless to manage the current East League Trading Company.
So, if others found out that David owned East League Trading Company and things escalated, Marlee would not be able to do anything even if she worked herself to death.
Since David did not want East League Trading Company anymore, he decided he would just leave it as a gift to Marlee!
Today, David received a message from Sid.