Novel Married at First Sight Chapter 1896 -Kevin wanted to use hot springs to expose her identity as a woman.

She might really get out of the way if she entered the water, but it must be said that Kevin was full of tricks.

Men went into the hot springs in their underwear, but she had fake abs and wore them out when she took them off.

Simply, she won't go into the water. No matter what Kevin thought.

"Mr. Queen, why don't you go into the water?"

Kevin and Hugh both got into the water, seeing Hayden sitting beside him and not going to change clothes, he yelled at Hayden.

Hayden sat there, the expression on her face remained unchanged, and she looked at Kevin without any shyness in her eyes. She admired his strong body, and it could be seen that Kevin's body was better than her brother's. Her brother just indulged too much.

Hugh: ...he is still a chicken!

Hearing Kevin's cry, Hayden said apologetically, "I've had itchy skin recently, and I've seen a doctor. I have a little dermatitis, so I won't go into the water."

Hugh also echoed her sister's words: "My Brother has a little skin Inflammation, dermatitis got better all of a sudden. During the meal just now, Mr. York, you didn't notice that my brother doesn't eat seafood and other products, but I'm afraid that after eating, my skin will be more itchy."

Kevin said: "My mistake, really. I had no idea that Mr. Queen's skin had a problem. Mr. Queen could only observe; otherwise, I wouldn't have suggested taking a hot spring."

"It's okay, you and Hugh take your time. I'll walk around." With that said, Hayden turned and left.

Hearing that Kevin and Hugh would soon have a new topic, Hayden was relieved.

All day long, the siblings of the Queen family stayed with Kevin until the evening when the three returned to the mansion of the Queens.

Entering the room, Hugh collapsed on the sofa and shouted: "Mom, we're back."

The maid replied: “Young master Queen, let you stay with Mr. York to have dinner at home and treat Mr. York well.”

“No, I’ll go back to the hotel.” Kevin spent a whole day but couldn’t find a chance to verify whether Hayden was a man or a woman, and he was also tired. He didn’t stay at Queen’s house for long, and soon drove back to Fortress Hotel.

After returning to his usual presidential suite, Kevin took out his mobile phone and called Callum.

Callum quickly answered his call, asked: “Why do you think of calling me all of a sudden?”

Kevin: “Can’t I call you? It’s agreed that we’ll be brothers. It’s better for you to leave me behind. I’m so anxious now, but there’s nothing I can do about it.”

Once Kevin said this, Callum knew what the purpose of his call was, Callum smiled and said: “It’s useless for you to call me, I can’t help you. Why did you delay for so long? I thought you were so confident that you could win Ms. Queen’s family within a month.”

Kevin: “I was very confident, but when I met that male woman, my self-confidence plummeted to a negative number. She pretended to be a man. It’s too perfect, I have no place to talk. My sister-in-law left my elder brother to go out to play, I dare not go to my elder brother, I am afraid that my elder brother will scold me in a bad mood, so I can only complain to you, grandma must be with you. I can’t make it through, why did she arrange such a man for me?

What’s wrong with me being eloquent? Our family is a businessman, who can’t speak? The elder brother usually just carries it, but in front of the elder sister-in-law, he can also be eloquent, sweet words come out as soon as he opens his mouth.”

Callum said: “I don’t even despise Camryn who can’t see it. She is excellent and perfect in all aspects. If you want me to say, you don’t care whether she is a man or a woman, just pursue her directly.”
