

Read Novel Married At First Sight Chapter 1943

Married at First Sight Chapter 1943-After entering the room, the butler asked Kevin to sit down in front of the sofa.

“What would Master York want to drink?” The butler asked politely.

His young master Queen said that Kevin was a guest, so he should treat him as a distinguished guest.

Kevin: “Give me a glass of warm water, thank you.”

“Alright, wait a moment, Young Master York.” The butler turned and walked away to pour water for Kevin.

When Hugh came in, there were fruits and snacks on the coffee table.

Hugh didn’t need the butler to wait on him. He went to the refrigerator and took out a bottle of drink. He opened the lid and took a sip, feeling completely refreshed.

Hugh: “It’s hot, it’s cool to have a sip of the frozen one.”

The butler said to him: “Second Young Master Queen, the Eldest Young Master has to say you again when he sees it.”

Hugh: “He wants to talk about me, why still put a few bottles of my favorite drink in the refrigerator, isn’t it just for me to drink, I don’t drink too much, I only drink one bottle.”

The butler smiled, unable to refute the second young master Queen.

“Okay, go get busy. I’ll just entertain Mr. York. My brother and I are going to a banquet later. Let’s eat early. Mr. York is here, so let the kitchen cook two more dishes.”

“good.” The butler walked away.

Hugh walked over to Kevin and sat down beside Kevin while drinking a drink. After sitting down, he looked at Kevin and said: “Mr. York, you’re really a dragon and phoenix among people. You’re so excellent in every aspect.

Kevin looked at him and said with a smile: “Hugh, you don’t have to praise me all the time, I’m really not interested in you.”

“I don’t understand, why are you not interested in me? Am I uglier than my brother? Or do you like cool men? I can actually be cool, as long as I don’t smile, keep a straight face, and there is no difference between me and my brother.” Hugh suddenly leaned into Kevin’s ear again, and asked Kevin in a low voice: “Mr. York, we are getting acquainted now, and I want to be your brother-in-law. Let me ask some privacy questions. When it comes to my brother, are you attacking or receiving? With my brother's temper, he's definitely not willing to take it, but judging by yours temper, he probably wants to attack."

When Kevin heard Hugh calling himself his brother-in-law, he murmured in his heart: Act, act, your siblings can act, and treat me as a fool.

Then, he also responded in a low voice: "I haven't taken your brother yet, and I don't know who will attack and who will suffer. In fact, this is not important. The important thing is that I can take your brother down. Hugh, tell me what your brother likes, and when I catch up with your brother, I'll tell you, whoever we attack will suffer."

Hugh almost choked on the drink.

This b*stard Kevin, was he really interested in his brother or was he fake?

True or false, false or true, Hugh couldn't figure out Kevin's mind.

If Kevin knew his sister's identity as a woman, he felt it was impossible.

The siblings analyzed it several times, and Hugh felt that it was impossible for Kevin to know that his brother was actually his sister.

On the contrary, his sister always suspected that Kevin knew that she was a woman.

Unless Kevin had clairvoyant eyes and could see clearly that his brother was a fake man, it was impossible for him to know.

Hugh really wanted to ask Kevin if he had clairvoyance, but felt that if he asked, it would be tantamount to tell Kevin that his brother was actually a fake man.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-