

Chapter 698 Business Trip To Noorsy

The next day, Trevor returned to the university as if nothing had happened.

The campus celebration had ended, and the student union held a meeting to review and summarize the activities and organize the backup of relevant files.

Averi and Morse both kept their heads down during the meeting because of the bruises on their faces. Perhaps they were beaten up by those rich young men who vented their anger on the two of them.

They didn't dare to look at Trevor the entire time and hid in the corner timidly.

Trevor chuckled lightly, not taking them seriously.

But during the meeting, Tasha frequently looked over as if she had something to say.

Trevor pondered for a while. He realized that

Trevor chuckled lightly, not taking them seriously.

But during the meeting, Tasha frequently looked over as if she had something to say.

Trevor pondered for a while. He realized that he had been busy with the student union, organizing the campus activities these days. He hadn't been working for the Byrd Group for some time.

And he guessed it right.

After the meeting, Tasha approached Trevor with two bottles of Coke in her hands.

"There's work again," Tasha said with a smile, handing one bottle to Trevor. "Do you have time to go on a business trip with me? I will go to another city to negotiate about cooperation on behalf of my grandfather."

Trevor took the bottle of Coke and smiled. He deliberately put on a helpless look and said jokingly, "You are really busy. You are the vice president of the student union and the representative of the Byrd Group at the same time."

He unscrewed the cap of the bottle and drank a mouthful of Coke. Then he continued, "And I'm also busy because of you."

Tasha was a little embarrassed. She held Trevor's arm and said coquettishly, "Help me. Do you have the heart to let a weak woman like me go on a business trip alone?"

As she spoke, she winked at him naughtily.

Trevor didn't know whether to laugh or to cry. He raised his hand and put the bottle of Coke on her forehead. Then he replied with a smile, "Okay, no problem."

Tasha touched her forehead. And when she heard his answer, she immediately smiled.

Then she explained in a low voice, "We are going to Noorsy this time. The potential partner I'm going to meet is the Ruiz family. Of course, the Ruiz family is not as powerful as your family. But they are as influential as the Byrd family. Also, they are the largest and wealthiest family in the city. My grandfather and the head of the Ruiz family have been good friends for many years. He actually wanted to go to Noorsy in person. But he had something urgent to deal with, so he asked me to go instead."

Tasha paused for a moment, then said in a serious tone, "Trevor, this cooperation is very important to me, so I must succeed in the negotiation. Perhaps after we reach an agreement, I will be qualified to represent the Byrd family on my own and gain some power over my family. So, I'm not allowed to fail."

Trevor nodded and said seriously, "I understand. I will try my best to help you."

It was only then that Tasha smiled. She unscrewed the cap of the Coke and gulped it down.

This time, Trevor really had to go on a business trip.

Since Noorsy was far from Dreles, he asked for a leave from his teacher. He also asked Bradly to go with him to protect him.

Tasha also attached great importance to this business trip. She even booked first-class tickets for the three of them.

At this moment, Trevor boarded the plane with Bradly and Tasha.

But not long after they entered the first class cabin, Trevor smelled something disgusting. He frowned and looked behind him.

Then, soon found the source of the strange smell.

There were not many seats in the first class, so he saw a pair of feet high on the seat at a glance.

A pair of Martin boots were scattered under the seat. And the black sock-clad feet were obviously the source of the strange smell.

It was a young man with a diamond stud on his ear.

He held a phone in one hand, and he was half lying in the seat with headphones in his ears.

He looked very relaxed. And he didn't care about other people's feelings at all.
