

When His Eyes Opened Read Novel Chapter 3045

Novel Chapter 3045 -After touching it, Hayden picked out a rainbow-colored shawl and put it on Joanna's shoulders.

Joanna was startled.

"You look great in this shawl." Hayden draped it for her and boasted, "Look in the mirror, and if you like it, buy it."

"Although this color is pretty, it may not be suitable for auntie..." Joanna really liked this shawl, but if she bought it as a gift for Avery, the dark shawl she liked before would be the best choice.

"This one is for you, and the one you like is for my mother." After Hayden finished speaking, he asked the shop owner to bring another shawl.

Both shawls were made of the same fabric, but they differed in color and pattern, as well as in price.

Hayden went to swipe his card.

The shop owner came over and wrapped the two shawls, and handed them to Joanna respectfully.

If going shopping was entirely at Hayden's expense, then she would be ashamed to continue shopping.

"How about we go back to the hotel?" Joanna asked.

"Go get something to drink!" Hayden didn't want to go back to the hotel.

Although he had never dated a woman before, he would still spend money.

He took Joanna to the open-air cafe for a cup of coffee, and then the two walked along the lake for a while, and saw that they could take a boat, so they went to take a boat.

time flies.

The vice president called Hayden and said that the game was over and he was going to camp.

On the way back to the hotel, Hayden saw a woman happily eating ice cream on the road, so he asked Joanna if he wanted ice cream.

Joanna usually didn't like to eat iced food, but because it was Hayden who asked her, she nodded in a strange way.

When she met everyone at the hotel, Joanna hadn't finished eating the ice cream in her hand.

Everyone looked at the two of them and smiled.

After getting in the car, Joanna gradually calmed down: "I'll help you pitch the tent later! I've done it before."

"Okay." Hayden agreed, "Do you not like ice cream? If you don't like it, you don't have to force yourself. I'm not that scary."

Hayden watched her eat ice cream very slowly.

"I didn't force it. I wanted to eat it myself. My mother used to not let me eat ice cream, saying that it was bad for girls to eat ice cream, so I rarely ate it. But I really like it. Joanna explained.

Hayden: "Your mother was right."

"But it's okay to eat once in a while." Joanna showed a relaxed smile, "Sometimes don't live too tight. Just like I was not used to spending your money before, I always felt guilty in my heart. But look at me today, it's not that uncomfortable anymore. As long as it's not too outrageous, you don't need to care too much."

Hayden was amused by her words.

An hour later, they arrived at the campsite.

Joanna reminded Hayden that his fingers were injured, and asked him to stand by and do nothing.

So Hayden watched Joanna tie up the tent.

After setting up the tent, she also helped Hayden pack the bedding inside.

"If you're tired, you can go in and sit for a while. I'm going to pitch my tent." After Joanna finished speaking, Harry came over.

"Miss Picard, I'll help you set up the tent." Harry showed Joanna the tent he had just set up.

Joanna: "You pierced this for me? I thought it was yours."

Because this tent was next to Hayden's.

"Haha, stay with my boss well." Harry said in a low voice, "I'll go get the barbecue, and I'll bring it to you when it's done."

Recommended Novels