Novel Chapter 3074 -Hazel: "My brother is also in a bad mood. He is only a little happier every day when he sees the child."

Joanna: "Hazel, I feel that I am not brave enough. My heart suffers every day. I broke up with your brother. On the one hand, I felt that what I did was right, and on the other hand, I regretted it. But I dare not tell anyone that I am regret."

Hazel: "Sister Joanna, I understand your feelings. But my brother is really good, don't give up on him. If he thinks you're not good enough for him, he won't choose to marry you."

Joanna took a deep breath: "I know. I'll have a good chat with him when I get back."

"When two people are together, we need to communicate more!" Hazel ate her meal, "My parents often quarreled when they were young. Although I have never been in a relationship, I feel that everyone may be tolerant when they are young. It's not that strong, if you quarrel a few times and you still don't break up, you will become more and more tolerant. You see, my parents don't quarrel anymore. I've only seen them quarrel once in the past few years when I've been home."

Joanna was very curious: "Why are they arguing?"

Hazel smiled: "It was after you sent someone to send Liam to our house, they quarreled. The person who delivered the child didn't say that the child belonged to my elder brother, so my mother thought that Liam was my father's illegitimate child, the two of them quarreled so badly that time that they almost divorced."

Joanna blushed in embarrassment: "Maybe I didn't make it clear to that person at the time."

"It's only been a few days of quarrelling. After the truth was revealed, the relationship between the two of them became better. Hahaha!" Hazel replied, "Two people who really love each other will not be separated by such small difficulties and misunderstandings. "

Three days later, Hazel and Joanna returned to Aryadelle.

After Joanna returned to Foster's house, she first hugged the two children.

Avery: "Joanna, you've lost a lot of weight! Eat more later."

"Auntie, I'm sorry." Joanna hugged her daughter and apologized to Avery.

“There’s no reason to apologize. We know what you’re going through. You are not the same as Hayden, and it is easy to think crazy things. You should be more important to us. You have to slowly change the way you think. You can’t act like you did before. Hide away the pain, and don’t tell us the reason.” Avery said softly.

Joanna: “Um.”

dinner.

After Hayden came back, everyone sat in the dining room and began to eat.

Avery spoke first: “Didn’t you say you want to study further? Which direction are you going to choose?”

Joanna: “I haven’t made up my mind yet.”

Elliot said, “Go get an MBA! If you learn management, you can start your own company or go to Hayden’s company.”

Avery looked at him: “What about the dessert shop?”

Elliot: “Learning an MBA will not affect her opening a dessert shop in the future.”

Hayden, who had been silent all this time, expressed his opinion at this moment: “I think Dad is right.”

Joanna: “Okay, I will listen to Uncle.”

Avery laughed out loud: “Joanna, you can go to the class first. Your uncle has someone he knows in the business school, and we will take you to see it then.”

Joanna did not refuse: “Thank you uncle and aunt.”

Avery: “Joanna, call your parents later, and ask them to come over again. Let’s get together and meet again. Then we can discuss your wedding date.”

Joanna: “Auntie, I will talk to Hayden tonight. I haven’t apologized to him for what happened last time.”

Hayden: “I forgive you.”
