

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1990

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1990-After the clone finished speaking, he followed closely behind David.

Celeste first glanced at the angry four reputable elders, and then at Nova and other cores of the Iridescent Sect in the distance.

Without saying a word, she entered the space crack.

Since the incident, she no longer belonged here, the place where she had lived for nearly two thousand years.

She would be lying if she said that she did not feel anything at all.

The whole process was pretty slow.

Eira and her sisters could only watch but they did not dare to stop it even though there was a fire burning in their hearts.

They were afraid that the other party would kill them if he was annoyed.

The anger of a Sacred Saint was not something they could bear now.

No matter how important the Ice Soul Excalibur was, it was not as important as their lives.

As long as they were still alive to complete the task, they would still have a chance to make a comeback.

However, if they died, it would be all over, i

The space crack closed.

The four sisters looked at each other, turned into four rays of light, and returned to the forbidden area.

Several people felt a strong sense of crisis after the arrival of a Sacred Saint who took away the Ice Soul Excalibur.

Chaos was approaching in Star Kingdom.

Some powerhouses hiding in the dark came out one after another.

With the strength of the four of them alone, it might be difficult for them to protect themselves.

They had to speed up the progress of the task.

After the four reputable elders left, Nova and the cores of the Iridescent Sect breathed a sigh of relief.

They were still a little afraid that the reputable elders would take their anger out on them.

All eyes landed on the area where Celeste had disappeared from.

Their eyes were full of envy.

Anyone could see that Elder Red had an unusual relationship with that young True Saint powerhouse.

Otherwise, why would he take such a big risk to save her?

Moreover, he also got his master to come here.

Would a Sacred Saint come out so easily?

Even if that person was a disciple, it would not be easy.

The cores could vaguely guess David's identity.

He must be the True Saint who suddenly appeared on the Central Sacred Continent during this time.

He was probably the one behind Nek's death and the purpose was naturally to avenge Elder Red.

Everyone knew that Nek lived in the Iridescent Sect for a while, and his target was the Elder Red.

Then, Nek took action in the VIP area.

In the end, it was Reputable Elder Eira who came forward to take care of it.

After that, there was a True Saint and a Sacred Saint master.

Elder Red finally broke clear of all the troubles and hardships to achieve success.

As a woman, who did not want to find a backer that was strong enough?

"Everyone, go back now!" Nova said.

“Yes, Lady Dream.”

After all the seniors answered, they left separately.

Nova also rushed quickly in one direction.

Her destination was the courtyard where Celia and others lived.

She knew David would definitely not leave after saving Elder Red.

He would definitely go to Celia and the others first.

Recommended Novels