I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2015-Cedar was echoing other forces' support for Sid to be the Saints Association's head once again!

The rest of the Fellowes family would naturally follow suit.

With that, the audience rang out in support of Sid.

After this happened, the faces of the Palmore family turned even more unpleasant.

They knew if they let this continue, the Palmore family was bound to be the public enemy of Star Kingdom.

The Palmore family was not afraid of any force if it was a one-on-one fight.

However, if all the forces of Star Kingdom were united, how could the Palmore family defeat them?

They would be outnumbered.

If the grandmaster was tied up again like he was today, the Palmore family would be in danger.

Draken finally could not hold himself back anymore. So, he said, "Everyone, don't listen to the rumors. My family has absolutely no ambition of unifying the Star Kingdom. After my grandmaster defeated this old man Sid and got him kicked out of the Saints Association head, he felt resentful, which is why he said these things. We just want to take back what's ours."

His words were immediately contradicted by Cedar.

'Take back what's yours? What a joke! Does the Palmore family own Treasure Trove? It was developed through the hard work of my family across many generations, even if some of it was thanks to your family, we have paid enough penance every year, so how did it become yours? Lord Sid is right, you genuinely harbor such grand ambitions!"

"Cedar, don't confuse the public. From the very beginning, your family was a subsidiary family of my family. Everything you have now is given by my family. Now that your wings have hardened, you want to break away from the Palmore family? How is this fair?"

"Nonsense! I admit that my family benefitted from your support, but without you, the Palmore family, we would not be much worse off too. If we had known that your family had such grand ambitions, we would never have started any relationship with you."

The two scolded each other.

They were both justifying their family names.

Frankly speaking, it was really hard to judge who was right and who was wrong in this matter.

The reason Treasure Trove could grow to today's scale, become one of the five largest firms in the Central Sacred Continent, and rank in the top three with inexhaustible wealth resources was due to the results of the Fellowes family's good management and hard work. At the same time, it was also due to the results of the deterrence of Grandmaster Zenon from the Palmore family.

Both were indispensable.

In reality, this was a win-win situation.

However, the distribution of benefits was uneven now and the two sides had a fallout.

Hence, naturally, whoever had the bigger fist would gain more benefits.

The other forces in Star Kingdom were not concerned about which one of the two families would have the last laugh.

What they cared about was whether what Sid said was true.

'Does Zenon have the ambition to unify the Star Kingdom?

'If so, we must unite and kill the Palmore family's ambitions in its infancy.

'We can't give the Palmore family a chance to destroy us one by one.'

If this was not happening, they would not care if the Fellowes family lived or died.

When Draken was arguing with Cedar, he inadvertently took out the family keepsake and crushed it.

This was the keepsake left by Zenon and could only be used when the Palmore family encountered a huge crisis.

Once used, Zenon would be able to sense it as long as he was in Star Kingdom.

With Sid's appearance, the Palmore family was now in a dangerous situation.

With him around, the Saints Association's law enforcement team would certainly not help the Palmore family anymore.

They might even stand against the Palmore family.

If they had to only rely on the strength sent by the Palmore family, it was completely impossible for them to face the combined efforts of the Fellowes family and the Saints Association's law enforcement team.

In addition, a Sacred Saint was watching over them.

Their plan had failed, and things were out of Draken's control too.

Hence, he could only ask the grandmaster to come back quickly to deal with it.

He could not let Sid continue spewing nonsense.

Otherwise, the Palmore family would really become the target of scorn.

In the eight-dimensional space.

Pow! Pow! Boom! Boom!

David held the Ice Soul Excalibur while Zenon held a pair of heavy daggers.

The two fought to the fullest and yet neither could gain the upper hand.

David's exposed strength was only slightly greater than Zenon's.

However, his combat experience was insufficient, so he could only fight the opponent to a draw.

Zenon was also shocked by the strength of David's clone.
