I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2072-“What do you want?” Azul resisted the urge to explode.

“I should be asking you this! You are not from Star Kingdom but you used Star Kingdom’s resources to heal your injuries and refuse to leave. What are you doing here? Are you waiting for me to buy you a drink?” David asked rhetorically.

“I think highly of Star Kingdom, so that’s why I am sleeping here to recuperate from my wounds. You should be grateful to me.” Azul looked arrogant.

In his opinion, as a direct descendant of the Feather family, the people here should worship him the moment he came to Star Kingdom.

“No, thanks. We are a small place, so we don’t deserve this treatment, nor do we need it, so hurry up and leave!”

“It’s not up to you to decide if you need it. I can stay wherever I want. Should I leave just because you tell me to? Do you think my family can be humiliated just like that?”

“Do you still want the Ice Soul Excalibur? Trust me when I say you will never see it again in your life! I might just one day throw it into the cesspit just because I’m in a bad moon,” David asked with a half-smile.

‘You!’

Azul glared at David. As he looked at how smug David was, he wished he could take action immediately, cripple this kid, and make him kneel in front of him in a manner that would be worse than death.

However, when he remembered that the Ice Soul Excalibur was still in David’s hand, he took a deep breath and asked,“ Tell me, what should I do for you to return the sword?”

“I can give it back to you, but you must promise not to act against Star Kingdom nor will you disclose the location and information about Star Kingdom to anyone. After that, you must leave here immediately,” David said seriously.

“Fine!” Azul replied, feeling extremely aggrieved.

He would endure this for his Ice Soul Excalibur.

When he got the sword, then he would slowly deal with the kid in front of him.

“I don’t believe you!” David shook his head.

“You... What should I do to make you believe me?”

“Didn’t you just say that you belong to the Feather family? Then, you should swear in the name of your Feather family that if you break your promise in the future, all members of your family will die horribly and become slaves forever without a way to make a comeback. As long as you make this oath and let me record it, I will...”

Before David could finish, he was interrupted loudly by Azul.

“How presumptuous! Do you know what level of power my family is? We can wipe out the entire Star Kingdom by dispatching any random team of people. What is your intention behind making me swear like this now? Boy, listen, don’t force me to take action and completely destroy Star Kingdom.” Azul was furious.

Asking him to swear in the name of his family and recording it was just wishful thinking.

If his family heard about this, he would be expelled even if he was a direct descendant who had awakened his innate skills.

Azul could not afford such a consequence.

Without the shelter of the Feather family, his strength was nothing.

“It seems that you are not sincere! Don’t you want the Ice Soul Excalibur?”

“Do you think a weapon is more important than the honor of my entire Feather family? As a direct descendant of the Feather family, I will never be able to swear in the name of my family. Not even in death!”

David frowned.

He already knew this was unlikely when he said it.

The stronger the family, the more concerned they were about reputation and dignity.

This was true on Earth, and so was the case in Milky Way and Star Kingdom.

Based on this trend, the consequences of doing this would only be more severe in higher civilizations.

Most people even regarded family honor as more important than their own lives.

Things had turned out exactly as he had expected.

It was impossible for the other party to accept such conditions.

'Then what do you say? I will definitely not believe you if you just say it verbally. Naturally, I won't return the sword to you unless something changes," David asked helplessly.

"Boy, I don't want to talk nonsense with you anymore. Give me the sword, and then I will leave Star Kingdom with my people and promise to never set foot here again. To be honest, I was a victim of someone's conspiracy back then, so I was forced to escape to Star Kingdom to sleep and recuperate. Now that I am awake, I have to go back and find a way to get revenge. I don't have time to play with you here," Azul said seriously.
