I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2107-From Sid's words, David understood that the old man in front of him really cared about Star Kingdom wholeheartedly, s

Frankly, he could not save them, but that did not stop David from respecting such a person.

"Lord Sid, the distance between Star Kingdom and Leila is great. It will take about three hundred years for the Feather family to receive the news and bring their people here.

There may be a little deviation from this estimate, but it will not be too big. In other words, we have three hundred years to prepare!" David replied politely.

Everyone breathed a sigh of relief when they heard that it would take the Feather family three hundred years to come to the Star Kingdom.

This answer was much better than they imagined.

They thought it would only take them ten or eight years to arrive judging from the speed of a level 9 civilization.

It seemed that this level 9 civilization was just so-so.

In reality, the significant time was not due to the inability of this level 9 civilization, but rather that Leila was too far from Star Kingdom.

How big was the universe?novel.xo

Almost boundless.

A place that could be reached in hundreds of years was not far away at all.

Besides, the information had just been sent out, and it would take some time for it to be delivered to the Feather family in Leila.

"That's fine! Although three hundred years is not a long time, it is not short. We can use these three hundred years to be well-prepared for the upcoming crisis that Star Kingdom will face," Sid said.

"Indeed! A lot of things can be done in three hundred years, and Azul has been sleeping here for more than a million years. Who knows if there have been any changes in Leila? What if the Feather family are also powerless to protect themselves or have been wiped out? The vast universe is changing rapidly every day, so who can say for sure?" Nova comforted everyone.

“Nova was right! We can’t be too pessimistic. The message Azul sent might not get delivered to his family. Some accidents might happen, or it might be stopped halfway,” Lorraine added.

Nova and Lorraine’s words temporarily relieved the tension in the air.

The probability of these situations was very low, but it was not entirely impossible.

“That being said, there are still some preparations that need to be made, so I am going to hand over the position of the head of TSA to Sid. You’ll be in charge of Star Kingdom and you can come up with a plan according to your rules. If anyone dares to object, you can directly inform me, and I will talk to them.” David said seriously.

“No way! No way! Master David, we’ll need you to be the head of TSA and I’ll just assist you by the side,” Sid hastily refused.

Back then, he was the number one in Star Kingdom, and he felt at ease as the head.

Now, not only had Zenon’s strength surpassed his, but David was also miles ahead of him.

In this world where power was paramount, the strongest person should be the head of the Saints Association so he could be both persuasive and deterrent.

Hence, after being defeated by Zenon, Sid acquiesced to Zenon as the new head.

It was not until another person with comparable strength to Zenon appeared that he exerted all his strength to drive Zenon out of power.

“Lord Sid, you are my senior, so you don’t need to be so polite with me. I am your junior and I am not used to this. Only after you become the leader can you advance your plan. Just go ahead and carry it out with no scruples, I’ll be supporting you.”

“But...”

Sid still wanted to refuse.

As soon as he uttered the word, he was interrupted by David.

“There’s nothing to worry about, Lord Sid. You should just prepare according to your ideas, and of course, I won’t remain idle either. I have to go into seclusion for three hundred years and try to improve my strength so that I will be more confident in facing the Feather family in the future crisis. That way, there will be more hope for Star Kingdom. Now, we have to split up for the future of Star Kingdom.”

Since David had said this, Sid had no reason to refuse.

Just like the other party said, they had to split up for the future of Star Kingdom.
