

Read Novel Married At First Sight Chapter 2189

Married at First Sight Chapter 2189-Liberty took Jasmine's words and said: "Seren vomited after breakfast, and Zachary felt very stressed, so he took her to the hospital for an examination, and by the way, ask the doctor if there is any way to stop vomiting."

She smiled and said, "I think he's so nervous that he wants to vomit instead of Seren."

Her brother-in-law felt sorry for her sister, and she was very relieved.

Her sister, Serenity, was much luckier than her.

She and Hank were old classmates, and they got married after dating for many years. After marriage, she became pregnant, and Hank spent little time with her.

Not to mention feeling sorry for her, even Hank never accompanied her to her prenatal check-up, and always asked her younger sister to accompany her.

Shaking her head, Liberty was too lazy to think about her failed marriage with Hank.

Jasmine smiled and said: "It's normal, otherwise, he wouldn't be Zachary. He loves Serenity so much and treats her like a daughter."

"Jasmine, you're looking so pretty."

Grandma May looked at Jasmine's expression.

Jasmine: "Josh raised me like a pig, can I look bad?"

Grandma May smiled and said, "Your appearance shows that he cares about you and hopes you are well."

Jasmine: "I try to control this mouth as much as possible, not daring to eat too much. Otherwise, I'd really be fat like a pig."

Jasmine still remembered that Sister Liberty's weight soared after she became pregnant.

Although Josh treated her very well, she was not too worried that Josh would change his mind, but she did not allow herself to become fat, and after giving birth, she had to work hard to lose weight.

Fortunately, Seren was pregnant. Let's get fat with her; she was more willing to grow her flesh on her best friend, haha.

Jasmine: "Grandma, when you return this time, you won't be running around, right? Every time I go to Wildridge Manor and don't see you, I feel very weak. I miss you so much."

Grandma May said: "I will stay in Wiltspoon for the next year. I won't run away, and I can't run anymore. I'm getting old."

Jasmine: "Grandma, you're not old at all. You're looking about the same age as my mother-in-law."

Although Grandma May had graying hair, she had a strong body and could fly around.

Grandma May: "Occasionally, I might go to Jensburg to relax and care about my third grandson Kevin."

In fact, Kevin didn't have to worry about it.

He was shameless when chasing his wife.

Hayden was often pissed off by him, and there was nothing he could do about it.

It's not that there's no way, it's because Hayden gave him face and didn't kill him.

Donald and his wife had identified Kevin and treated him as son-in-law, indicating that Kevin was well-liked by his future father-in-law.

It's just that Hayden still couldn't take it down completely.

Kevin complained to Grandma May, complaining that grandma picked a stone for him, and it didn't warm up after covering it for so long.

He also complained that Hayden had been disguised as a man since she was a child; she was more masculine than a man; she lacked the softness and charm of a woman; and she refused to wear women's clothes, which made him want to see his fiancée in women's clothes no matter how alluring the city or country was; it would not work.

Grandma May asked him back, Was it boring to chase his wife?

Kevin stopped talking.

"I envy you, Grandma."

Jasmine hadn't traveled far for a long time, and she was extremely envious.

She also wanted to play around.

It's a shame she had a baby in her belly, and her in-laws didn't agree with her going out; even her mother's family told her not to run around.