

Read Novel Married At First Sight Chapter 2125

Married at First Sight Chapter 2125-Hugh had the nerve to dislike Kathryn.

Kathryn didn't like him at all.

But what Kathryn said was right. Hugh had too many confidante, and his confidante had people from all walks of life, even if he said he was just friends with them, who would believe it?

If he really had a girlfriend, could the girlfriend bear it?

Kathryn said: "Mr. Queen, you said that the second young master is very dedicated if he touches the truth. I believe this, but it is very difficult to make this kind of man feel the truth. They are used to a forest and don't like to be alone. "

Kathryn had no feelings for Hugh, and it's not good for Hayden to continue talking about his younger brother.

Who told her younger brother to always act like a playboy?

Since then, Hayden had cut off her desire to match his younger brother and Kathryn.

The two walked around the yard for a few laps, and when Donald and the others came back, Kevin cooked the kitchen himself and prepared a sumptuous meal for everyone, including barbecue of course.

Kathryn, who didn't like barbecue very much, enjoyed it all.

She repeatedly praised Kevin's good cooking skills, saying that if anyone marries Kevin in the future, she would be really lucky.

Kevin looked at Hayden and said with a smile: "Hayden is a bit thin, I just want to make her rounder."

Hayden said to him with a cold face: "Mr. York, I don't need you to support me."

Kevin: "I know Hayden, you are so capable and you don't need others to support you. I just want to take care of your three meals a day."

"Mr. York, I think I've lost a lot of weight recently, so please raise me up to be round." Hugh said jokingly.

Kevin squinted at him and said, "If you eat any more, you will become a fat pig. It's not as sweet as mellow."

Hugh: "Mr. York, you're always biased. Obviously, my brother and I were born of the same mother, and our looks are similar. You are very kind to my brother. You are afraid of holding my brother in your hand. Falling, holding it in my mouth for fear of melting, my parents are not half as good to my brother as you are. To me, you always look impatient. How can I not be as good as my brother?"

Kathryn said with a smile: "Mr. Hugh, you have never heard that beauty is in the eye of the beholder. In the eyes of Mr. York, Mr. Queen is unique and incomparable."

Hayden: "..."

She shouldn't have spoken, as long as she spoke, she would be teased.

Looking at her parents again, She saw them laughing and laughing happily, with no intention of stopping them.

Knowing that her parents treated Kevin as their son-in-law, Hayden had no choice.

After dinner, Kathryn didn't want to stay at Queen's house anymore, so she left.

Hayden asked her younger brother to send Kathryn out of the house, Hugh reluctantly stood up to see her off, but Kathryn did not refuse.

Soon, Hugh came back.

"Miss Farrell is gone?" Hayden asked.

"It's not too early for her to have dinner, can't she wait for supper?" Hugh responded.

Hayden: "..."

After her younger brother sat down beside her, she said in a low voice: "You don't have to be like a hedgehog, Kathryn also looks down on you, and thinks you're a fool."

Hugh stared, he's playing tricks? When did he bother?

It's just that he had a little more confidence, but he and them were pure friendships, not a relationship between boyfriend and girlfriend, so why were they bothering?

Kathryn didn't know how to appreciate.

Recommended Novels