

Read Novel Married At First Sight Chapter 2228

Married at First Sight Chapter 2228-Camryn had been blind for so many years, and followed her aunt everywhere to seek medical advice, and her aunt even took her to pray to gods and worship Buddha.

Every time she came back disappointed, there were so many disappointments that she didn't dare to hold out hope.

But she knew that Dr. Carden was everyone's last hope.

If the outcome was not favorable, it didn't matter if she was disappointed alone; she was accustomed to it. However, this time, she wanted everyone to share her disappointment.

"Don't be afraid." Callum opened his arms, hugged her vigorously, let go of her, and pressed a gentle kiss on her forehead. "Don't be afraid, I'm here."

Camryn raised her head and faced him, struggling to see his appearance, but her eyes were still blurred, and she couldn't see his appearance clearly.

His words, his hugs and kisses flowed into her heart like a warm current, warming her heart and making her suddenly relieved of tension.

She nodded slightly.

Callum led her to his villa.

"Ring ring ring..."

Callum's cell phone rang.

Thinking it was his family members urging him, he said, "Maybe my mother called again to ask where we went back."

He took out his mobile phone and found that it was not his mother's call, but Trenton.

His brother-in-law.

Callum was quite surprised.

When Trenton went to college, he had a quarrel with his eldest sister. Although he did not stand on the side of the two elder sisters later, the relationship between the siblings never returned to the beginning.

After all, the three people Camryn sent in were Trenton's biological parents and the sister of a compatriot.

Although Trenton has a good attitude towards his prospective elder brother-in-law, Trenton did not ask him for his contact information. He knew Trenton's mobile phone number. It stands to reason that Trenton didn't know his, so how could he call? To his phone?

Callum didn't bother to guess, as long as Trenton wanted to get in touch, he could ask Dalton for the contact information.

He hadn't contacted his family since he went to college for so long.

Camryn didn't say anything on the surface, but she was thinking about her younger brother in her heart.

Callum answered Trenton's call.

"Trenton."

Hearing Callum calling Trenton's name, Camryn asked repeatedly: "Is it Trenton? Is it Trenton?"

Trenton heard his sister's question on the phone, and said to Callum: "Brother-in-law, give this phone to my oldest sister, and I'll talk to her."

Callum put the phone into his fiancée's hand.

"It's Trenton."

Camryn called out his younger brother's name in surprise, "Trenton."

"Sister, when I was in contact with Brother Dal some time ago, I heard from Brother Dal that my oldest brother-in-law is going to ask a genius doctor to treat your eyes. How is the result? Is there hope to restore the light?"

Trenton was awkward and tangled up for a while, but in the end it was because her caring sister gained the upper hand that she made this call to her sister.

