Chapter 1411

“Could they be from the Vampire clan?”

James furrowed his eyebrows.

The Vampire clan was mysterious. As for the specifics, James had no idea.

Since the Gu Sect left the Vampire clan alone, there were only two possibilities.

The first one was that Lucjan was fearful of them. James found this hard to believe.

In that case, only a single possibility remained: Lucjan had allied with the Vampire clan.

Upon thinking about this, James' expression turned grim.

Fwoosh!

In the blink of an eye, James appeared in mid-air and looked at Lucjan who was holding an epee in his hand.

Wearing an expressionless look, he uttered word by word, “Sect Leader Lucjan Owen, you went to great lengths to come to Mount Olympus. What are you up to?”

Now that James was high up in the air, he could see that almost every martial artist on Mount Olympus had been abducted.

Even Archbishop Polaris and the rest of the Polaris Sect were taken away.

Looking at James, a mischievous grin crept up on Lucjan's face.

“Three... Two... One...” He counted down from three.

“What the hell?” James frowned.

“James, try catalyzing True Energy and feel your abdomen.”

James unconsciously touched his abdomen. Immediately, a searing pain came from inside his body.

Unable to withstand the pain, he descended from the sky and crashed to the ground. Before he landed, a figure flew toward him and caught him in time.

James had a glimpse of the hideous-looking mask. However, he smelled the fragrance of a woman.

He could also feel the soft and smooth skin of the person carrying him. Before he could react, Thea had landed on the ground with him.

"The Gu Sect has released a shapeless and colorless poison into the air. After they fuse with the air, you will be poisoned once you breathe.

Once you're poisoned, you won't be able to catalyze True Energy. If you do regardless, your organs will decay," spoke a hoarse voice.

Thea placed James on a rock.

Wearing a pained expression on his face, James looked at Thea and asked, "How did you know that the air was poisoned? How are you fine?"

"I only just realized this myself. I'm also poisoned, but it's ineffective against me."

"Why did you save me?"

"No particular reason. Leave Lucjan to me. You should leave at once."

Then, she turned and glanced at Lucjan in the air.

Lucjan was puzzled. This was a deadly poison he specifically researched for the occasion.

Shapeless and colorless, no one should be able to sense it. Even eighth-rank grandmasters, would not be able to use True Energy for a short period of time.

So why did the Sect Leader of Celestial Sect seem alright?

Holding the Malevolent Sword in her hand, Thea walked toward Lucjan in mid-air. At that moment, she exuded a terrifying aura.

Seeing this, Lucjan took a few steps back.

Though he had never fought against the Sect Leader of the Celestial Sect, he heard that even Simon Cabral, the Grand Sect Leader of the Mount Thunder Sect, was defeated.

There were rumors that Simon had obtained a Spirit Turtle core and refined it, thereby ascending the Skyward Stairway.

Despite that, he was defeated by the Sect Leader of the Celestial Sect.

Such was the power of the Sect Leader of the Celestial Sect.

"Who are you?" Lucjan unconsciously took a few steps back and asked coldly.

"The one who will end you," Thea said coldly.

"There is no grudge between us. So why resort to violence when we can sit down and discuss matters in a civilized manner?

By working together, we get to rule over the world."

Lucjan was shrewd.

Currently, he had no idea why the Sect Leader of the Celestial Sect was not affected by the poison. He never did things he was unsure of.

Besides, he had no intention of fighting to the bitter end against the Sect Leader of the Celestial Sect.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1412

Chapter 1412

Lucjan was a bit fearful of the Sect Leader of the Celestial Sect. He did not wish to engage in a battle to the death with her at this moment.

However, Thea ignored him. She only wanted to kill Lucjan. He was the Sect Leader of the Gu Sect and James' greatest enemy.

If she allowed him to return to Sol alive, he would cause endless trouble for James.

Clenching the sheathed Malevolent Sword, she exuded a powerful aura.

Back then, during the Mount Thunder Conference where she was covered in the Spirit Turtle's blood, her blood had blended with the creature's.

Now, her blood contained terrifying power.

All this while, she had been cultivating hard, converting the power inside her blood into True Energy.

In the Frosty Swamp of Medical Valley, she came across the Book of Malice by a pleasant coincidence.

Through the Book of Malice, she cultivated Demonic Breath and Murderous Energy.

Demonic Breath absorbed the True Frost Energy of Spiritual Palm, and her True Energy reached even greater heights.

With her full strength-which combined with the power of Spirit Turtle blood-her aura stunned even Lucjan.

"What a terrifying aura..."

Lucjan, however, was unafraid of the Sect Leader of the Celestial Sect. That was because he was confident in his own strength. He was merely shocked by her strength.

"Blood Emperor!"

He cried out.

Below, a man in a red robe wearing a hat slowly walked over to him.

Though he walked very slowly, it was only an illusion. In the blink of an eye, he appeared in the sky.

Though he had already appeared in mid-air, his shadow was still on the ground moving slowly.

The remnants of the shadow gradually dissipated and merged with his body.

“Blood Emperor, I’ll leave the Sect Leader of the Celestial Sect to you. Stall for time while I kill James,” Lucjan said.

“Leave everything to me.”

The First Blood Emperor spoke in a hoarse and low voice.

Thea caught a glimpse of his face. The man’s face was old and shriveled and devoid of all color.

“The Vampire clan... the First Blood Emperor who’s ranked at the top of the Elysian Ranking?” Thea’s face darkened.

Before she came, she researched the Elysian Ranking and learned of the names of some powerful martial artists.

To be frank, she was unconcerned about most people. The First Blood Emperor, however, was a renowned figure.

A hundred years ago, he brought about the demise and destruction of the ancient martial artists of Sol.

Many perished in his hands. He was a terrifying being even a century ago. Thea shuddered at the thought of his current strength.

However, upon hearing that Lucjan was going to kill James, she instantly panicked.

She got around the Blood Emperor and appeared before Lucjan, saying coldly. “Over my dead body.”

Lucjan smiled slightly and hurriedly left.

Thea gave chase.

However, the Blood Emperor blocked her path. He said in a hoarse voice, “Sect Leader of the Celestial Sect, I hope you will entertain me.”

“Scram!”

Thea roared and slashed with the still-sheathed Malevolent Sword.

Though the sword was sheathed, Thea was in peak form, and her power was immense.

She could easily destroy anything in her path if she so wished.

A single slash of the Malevolent Sword sent a shiver down the Blood Emperor's spine.

He had heard from Lucjan that the Celestial Sect's Sect Leader was a terrifying entity.

However, he did not expect her to create such a violent energy fluctuation with a single strike.

He took no chances and dodged her attack.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1413

Chapter 1413

Meanwhile, Thea seized the opportunity and chased after Lucjan. James was no match for Lucjan after being poisoned.

However, the Blood Emperor stopped Thea in her tracks once more.

"Damn it!"

She cursed.

Then, she performed another attack. This time, the Blood Emperor did not dodge. Instead, he deflected Thea's attack. His martial art was rather intriguing. Although Thea had concentrated True Energy, she could not deal any damage to him.

The battle raged on in the sky.

Below...

James sat in a lotus position on a rock and inspected his condition. He realized that there was a Gu inside his blood. Upon catalyzing True Energy, the Gu would begin tearing away at his flesh, which caused him excruciating pain.

At that moment, Lucjan appeared before James.

He looked at James, whose face was pale, and a grin crept up on his face. "James, I didn't want to finish you off that early. However, you appeared at Mount Olympus and made an enemy of me. I have no choice

His face darkened. "But to kill you."

Then, he lifted the epee in his hand and slashed at James.

James' face darkened, and he swiftly catalyzed True Energy. Withstanding the excruciating pain inside his body, he managed to dodge in time.

The rock he was on a moment ago shattered into a million pieces.

James appeared a hundred meters away. However, unable to withstand the searing pain, he collapsed to the ground and groaned in pain.

Though he practiced the art of medicine, he fell for Lucjan's tricks regardless. He could do nothing about the Gu.

"Not bad... You have great durability. To think that you could endure the pain," Lucjan said.

Holding the epee in his hand, he walked toward James. Lucjan looked at James who was writhing in agony on the ground and sighed. "I really didn't want to kill you, James. You are a talent who has immense potential. However, since you're determined to go against me, I can only get rid of you. What a shame that you won't be able to witness my future glory.

"Farewell..."

At that moment, a figure charged toward him.

It was Thea, who had broken free of the Blood Emperor.

Before she even arrived, a terrifying Murderous Energy whirled toward Lucjan like a storm. Sensing the impending threat, he swiftly dodged the attack. As he dodged, the area he was in exploded. The ground shook, and the earth rumbled.

Thea charged toward James at great speed and grabbed him. Then, she swiftly left the area. Though she wanted to use this opportunity and kill Lucjan, the Blood Emperor had arrived. So, she could only give up on her objective. Or else, James could be plunged into danger.

Thea's speed was extraordinary. Soon, she disappeared into the mountain ranges of Mount Olympus.

After she left, the Blood Emperor appeared before Lucjan.

"What the hell?" Lucjan's face darkened, and he questioned him, "Can't you even stop a single person?"

The Blood Emperor shrugged and said, "The Sect Leader of the Celestial Sect is really powerful. She possesses concentrated True Energy. Besides, her speed is not beneath mine. There's no way I could stop her."

Lucjan's expression turned grim, and he said, "If we let him escape, he'll be a menace in the future."

"There's much to do at the moment. We have to refine those we abducted today into puppets. That way, our strength will reach even greater heights. By then, there's no need to be afraid of the Celestial Sect," said the Blood Emperor.

"I guess I have no choice, then."

Since James was saved by the Sect Leader of the Celestial Sect, there was nothing much Lucjan could do.

After saving James, Thea brought him to a safe spot and placed him gently on the ground, saying, "You won't suffer pain if you don't use True Energy. You should leave first. I will return and exterminate Lucjan and the Blood Emperor."

Thea left James behind and turned to leave.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1414

Chapter 1414

"Hey!" James shouted.

However, Thea had already left. In the blink of an eye, she disappeared from his view.

Furrowing his eyebrows, James muttered, "Who is the Sect Leader of the Celestial Sect? Why did he save me multiple times? Could it be Grandpa?"

James immediately thought of his grandfather, Thomas Caden. The thought flashed through his mind, but he shook his head.

He could smell a fragrance on that person. Besides, her skin was soft and smooth. Although she was wearing a mask, she had long black hair. Theoretically, she should be a young woman.

"Who could it be?"

James could not figure out the identity of the Celestial Sect's Sect Leader. He did not even think of Thea. After all, this was simply too unbelievable. However, he can be sure of one thing-she was impudent. So impudent, in fact, that she returned to exterminate Lucjan Owen and the First Blood Emperor who was ranked first on the Elysian Ranking.

Since he was concerned about the Sect Leader of the Celestial Sect's safety, he did not leave. Instead, he sat in a lotus position on the ground and swiftly catalyzed True Energy. However, upon catalyzing True Energy, the Gu within his body began chewing and gnawing away at his flesh.

"Curse you!" James roared.

He catalyzed True Yang Energy to forcibly exterminate the Gu. Even though the Gu would be exterminated, he would have to suffer excruciating pain and some internal injuries. He could endure the pain. As for the internal injuries, he could heal them easily once the Gu were exterminated.

Thea returned with the Malevolent Sword in hand. When she returned, Lucjan and the Blood Emperor were still there. They seemed to be in the middle of a discussion.

At that moment, the two turned their heads and saw Thea and her unsheathed sword. It was a black sword that exuded a suffocating pressure.

“How persistent...” Lucjan’s face darkened. Looking at the Blood Emperor, he said, “Let’s get rid of the Sect Leader of the Celestial Sect for now.”

The Blood Emperor nodded.

The two flew to the sky at the same time and surrounded Thea.

With the Malevolent Sword now in hand, Thea’s strength was greatly boosted. She slashed her sword, and powerful Sword Energy headed straight toward Lucjan.

Lucjan raised his epee to deflect the attack. The epee glimmered, and Sword Energy burst forth. However, they were immediately shattered by the Demonic Sword.

Clank!

Terrifying black Sword Energy struck the epee.

Lucjan could feel a terrifying power enveloping him. He staggered backward, and the Blood Energy inside his body churned. Then, he vomited a mouthful of blood.

His expression turned grim.

“What power...”

After refining the Spirit Turtle core, he ascended the second stair of the Skyward Stairway. However, he suffered great damage by blocking Thea’s attack. Lucjan was utterly stunned by her power.

After being stunned, he quickly recomposed himself.

“Die!”

The stronger the Sect Leader of the Celestial Sect, the stronger his killing intent.

Such a powerful opponent had to die. Otherwise, she would be a menace in the future.

At that moment, the Blood Emperor bizarrely got behind Thea. From his sleeves, he extended his shriveled arm and raised it as powerful True Energy gathered in his palm. The True Energy affected Thea, who felt her blood being sucked away.

“Damn it!” Thea cursed and swung her sword.

She used the Demonic Sword Art that was imbued with Murderous Energy. A single slash contained immense power.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1415

Chapter 1415

The Blood Emperor did not dare receive her blow and hurriedly dodged.

Holding the epee in hand, Lucjan charged over to him and cried out, "Use all of your strength. Or else, we won't be able to defeat the Celestial Sect's Sect Leader."

"Got it."

The Blood Emperor shouted.

A red glow emerged from his palm and formed a long red sword. Holding the sword in his hand, he attacked Thea from behind.

The fierce battle raged on.

With the Spirit Turtle's power, the Demonic Sword Art, the Demonic Breath, and her Murderous Energy, Thea managed to stand her ground against two of the most powerful figures in the world.

On a rock in the distance, an elderly man wearing a white robe sat.

He watched the battle from afar.

Seeing the masked Thea and the Malevolent Sword she wielded, his expression was solemn, "The Malevolent Sword... Who is the Sect Leader of the Celestial Sect? Is it Thea?"

The man was none other than Thomas Caden.

He was currently at the peak of late-stage eighth rank and a step away from ascending the Skyward Stairway. Though he did not obtain the Spirit Turtle core, he obtained its bile. The bile was no less effective than the core.

For the past few months, he had been in closed-door meditation. After learning of the international martial arts conference, he hurriedly made his way here to watch the show. However, he did not show himself. Instead, he concealed himself in the shadows.

Upon seeing the Malevolent Sword wielded by the Celestial Sect's Sect Leader, Thomas suspected her identity. He remembered that Thea could negate the adverse effects generated by the Malevolent Sword. He also knew that she had the Malevolent Sword in her possession.

However, he knew that Thea was only a third-rank grandmaster. Meanwhile, the Celestial Sect's Sect Leader before him was at least eighth-rank and above. She must have ascended the second stair of the Skyward Stairway.

"Demonic Sword Art?"

Thomas could recognize the invincible sword technique created by the Malevolent King while he was in a state of insanity. He had seen the sword technique before but had no way of cultivating it.

So, upon seeing the Sect Leader of the Celestial Sect performing such a technique, he could not help but stand and exclaim, "Who is that?"

His expression was grim. "What dreary True Energy... Performing the Demonic Sword Art with her True Yin Energy allowed the power of the Demonic Sword Art to reach greater heights."

Thomas offered his evaluations as he watched the battle from afar. Upon seeing Thea standing her ground by herself, his heart skipped a beat.

The battle raged on.

Meanwhile...

The Gu Sect swiftly left after abducting the martial artists. However, before they could leave, a man wearing a mask blocked their path.

He stood in the middle of the path with his hands to the back.

A Gu Sect martial artist brandished his sword and yelled, "Who's there?"

Callan slowly removed his mask.

"Wh-What...?"

Upon seeing this, the martial artists of the Gu Sect froze and staggered backward.

Wearing an expressionless look on his face, Callan said, "You're all part of the Gu Sect. As the former Sect Leader, I couldn't bring myself to harm you. However, you all have strayed away from the right path." Callan shook his head. They were once his subordinates. Now, they colluded with Lucjan and committed wicked deeds. He promised James that he would annihilate the Gu Sect if he could not win over the sect's disciples.

"C-Callan Maverick... I thought you were dead!"

"Hmph!"

Callan smiled slightly.

In the blink of an eye, he disappeared only to reappear behind the Gu Sect. Then, they collapsed to the ground and lay there motionless.

The abducted martial artists were all dumbfounded.

What kind of place was Sol? Why was it full of powerful martial artists?

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1416

Chapter 1416

Callan knew that Lucjan must have been up to no good. So, he ambushed the Gu Sect and saved the martial artists who were abducted. Though he had the antidote, he chose to remain silent about it. He planned to leave it to James to allow him to win them over.

After exterminating the Gu Sect, he left, leaving behind the dumbfounded martial artists.

“I-Is that Callan Maverick?”

Archbishop Polaris was among them. Upon overhearing the conversation between Callan and the Gu Sect, he froze. He thought that Callan was dead. However, it turned out that he was still alive and as powerful as ever

He turned his head. Terrifying energy waves were still radiating from Mount Olympus. He knew that a fierce battle was still raging on.

“Everyone, retreat!”

As a martial artist ranked second on the Elysian Ranking, he stepped forward and stabilized the situation.

On Mount Olympus...

Thea was fighting one against two. With her invincible sword technique, she managed to gradually come out on top.

The battle raged on.

The blood inside her boiled, and the Malevolent Sword in her hand grew increasingly stronger.

At that moment, she only had a single thought on her mind-to eradicate the two before her and solve James' problem.

The killing intent she exuded exploded, and her aura became all the more terrifying. Now, Lucjan and the Blood Emperor were intimidated.

“Who the hell is the Sect Leader of the Celestial Sect? How is she so terrifying?” Fearful, Lucjan wanted to retreat. He did not wish to fight against Thea any longer.

At that moment, James was using his True Yang Energy to exterminate the Gu within his body. Slowly and gradually, the Gu were eradicated. Not only did James suffer excruciating pain, but he also suffered internal injuries.

Sensing the fierce battle that had been raging on, he was slightly concerned. So, he swiftly used Crucifier to heal his injuries.

Soon, his injuries recuperated. Although he had yet to completely recover, it no longer had any effect on his battle prowess.

Holding the Blade of Justice, he headed in the direction of the battle. Before he even approached the battlefield, he could sense a terrifying energy wave radiating from the area. Then, he saw the Sect Leader of the Celestial Sect and the sword she wielded. The sword was bizarrely shaped, but it looked rather familiar...

“Th-The Malevolent Sword?”

He recognized the sword.

Was that not the Malevolent Sword in Thea’s possession? Why would the sword be in the hands of the Celestial Sect’s Sect Leader? Could it be...?

James began to suspect that Thea was the Sect Leader of the Celestial Sect. The more he looked at her, the more likely it seemed.

The thought flashed through his mind. Then, immediately, he shook his head. ‘No way, she can’t be Thea.’

He knew about Thea’s strength. This could not be her.

“I’ll help you out!” James cried out.

No matter who the Sect Leader of the Celestial Sect was, he should work together with her and eradicate the enemy first before asking questions.

Thea was in the midst of a fierce battle. The killing intent in her heart grew stronger.

Then, James’ cry made her regain her consciousness. The killing intent in her heart dissipated, and her power weakened.

Upon seeing James making his way here with the Blade of Justice, she panicked and muttered silently under her breath, “What did he have to come at such a crucial moment?”

She did not wish to continue the battle anymore. After all, how would she explain things to James if her identity was exposed?

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1417

Chapter 1417

“What are you doing here? You’re poisoned. Leave now!” Thea chastised James.

At that moment. Lucjan and the Blood Emperor who had been losing ground were finally given a breath of respite. The two hurriedly stepped back.

In the blink of an eye. James appeared beside Thea. He glanced at her before looking at Lucjan and the Blood Emperor, saying. “The poison is no more. Let me help you.”

“Deal with it yourself.”

After saying that, Thea left.

“What the... James was confused.

Why did she leave all of a sudden?”

Hey! James cried out. However, Thea was nowhere to be seen.

Below, Thomas witnessed the entire process.

The Sect Leader of the Celestial Sect is growing stronger by the day. However, the moment James appeared, she seemed to have exited some sort of state, which caused her strength to diminish a little.”

He stroked his chin and contemplated.

Why is that?

Oh, right! The state of insanity!”

Thomas immediately thought of it. He saw records of the Demonic Sword Art on the stone wall in the Snow Cavern. The Demonic Sword Art can only be performed to its fullest extent in a state of insanity.

Thomas looked in the direction where Thea left and murmured, “Could it be Thea? Did the Spirit Turtle blood within her cause her strength to drastically increase?”

Meanwhile, Lucjan and the Blood Emperor looked at one another. Then, they nodded.

They stood no chance against the Celestial Sect’s Sect Leader. Now, however, she was gone, and James had returned. There was no way they could not defeat James together.

“James, you could have escaped. However, you returned to die.”

Lucjan’s face darkened, and he walked toward James in mid-air.

Holding a blood-red sword in his hand, the Blood Emperor slowly approached James.

James looked at the two most powerful figures in the world. Holding the Blade of Justice in his hand, his aura burst forth.

“Interesting...”

A laugh came. Then, Thomas appeared. He knew that James would be in trouble if he did not appear soon.

Although James was strong, he could not fight against two by himself.

“Grandpa.”

Upon seeing Thomas, a smile crept up on James' face.

Thomas gave a small wave. "Let's deal with the enemy first."

At that moment, Callan had made his way over after eradicating the disciples of the Gu Sect. Upon seeing Thomas' appearance, he smiled slightly and said, "Now that Thomas is here, there's nothing much I can do."

Upon seeing Thomas, Lucjan's expression turned grim.

The Blood Emperor approached Lucjan and whispered, "Who is he?"

Lucjan whispered back, "He is James' grandfather. He's a troublesome guy, to say the least. If they join forces, we stand no chance against them. We should retreat for now."

"Mhm." The Blood Emperor nodded.

"Thomas, James, until next time."

Then, Lucjan disappeared without a trace.

"Where do you think you are going?"

James intended to give chase.

Thomas stopped him in time and said, "Alright now, stop chasing already. If he intends to run, not even I can stop him."

James stopped. Wearing a dejected look on his face, he said, "Grandpa, that was a perfect opportunity to kill him."

Thomas said, "The time has not come yet. I forcibly left my closed-door meditation. As my realm is unstable yet, I couldn't use my full strength."

James asked, "By the way, who is the Sect Leader of the Celestial Sect? Why did she save multiple times?"

Upon hearing this, Thomas glanced at James.

After thinking for a moment, he said, "How would I know? I have something else to attend to. I'll be taking my leave. Be careful not to fall for Lucjan's tricks in the future."

Thomas did not linger for long. Leaving this remark, he hurriedly left.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1418

Chapter 1418

"Did he leave just like that?"

The Sect Leader of the Celestial Sect left, and so did Thomas.

Only James remained.

Standing on the top of Mount Olympus, which had been reduced to rubble, James scanned his surroundings. He stroked his chin, deep in thought.

He was suspicious of the Sect Leader's identity.

"Fragrance... Soft and smooth skin... Woman... Malevolent Sword... Thea?"

All clues pointed to one person-Thea Callahan.

Thea possessed the Malevolent Sword. He saw her wielding the sword multiple times.

However, he dismissed those thoughts immediately. He found the very idea itself preposterous.

How did Thea become so strong? It was impossible. He planned to question Thea upon his return to Sol.

Thea had secretly returned after leaving. She was concerned about James' safety but she did not show herself. Instead, she concealed herself in the shadows.

Seeing that Lucjan and the Blood Emperor had escaped and Thomas had shown himself, she breathed a sigh of relief. Wearing a dejected look on her face, she sighed in frustration. "Why did he have to come at such a critical moment? If he hadn't, I could have killed Lucjan and the Blood Emperor."

Thea was bitter about the fact that she allowed the two evil masterminds to escape. However, there was nothing much she could do. She could only find other opportunities in the future.

Since there was nothing else to do on Mount Olympus, she had to hurry back and discuss things with Maxine. After all, James had already begun suspecting her.

Thea could not allow that to happen. She did not linger for long and hurriedly left.

Meanwhile, James wandered about what remained of the battlefield. Soon, he found Koehler, whose life was hanging by a thread, buried deep beneath the rubble. After the fierce battle against Lucjan, he was gravely injured and even lost an arm. He was now lying in a pool of blood. His face was pale, and his appearance was ghastly.

James pulled him out of the rubble.

Koehler opened his eyes. Upon seeing the shrouded figure before him, he blinked. Then, he recognized James.

"J-James..."

The moment he opened his mouth, he vomited a mouthful of blood.

James grabbed his arm and took his pulse. After inspecting his condition, James shook his head.

Koehler did not have long to live. Even if he used Crucifier, his injuries would not completely recover.

“E-Excalibur can’t be destroyed... I-It’s the faith of the Knights,” Koehler spoke in a feeble voice. He tried to get up.

James helped him out in time.

Then, he sat on the ground. Looking at Mount Olympus which had been reduced to rubble and Excalibur which had been snapped in half by Lucjan, he extended his arm and tried to reach it.

James said, “Stop moving already. What’s your family’s phone number? I will call them and inform them of your death.”

Though James could save Koehler’s life, he knew that Koehler used up all of his strength before his death. Even if he could be saved, his life would merely be extended. He would not live for long anyway. Besides, he was not acquainted with him whatsoever. James did not wish to waste his True Energy to save someone he was unfamiliar with.

Koehler shook his head. He was defeated. The obsession in his heart was no more.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1419

Chapter 1419

He did not wish to return. He only wanted to perish here.

“E-Excalibur is the faith of all Knights. Young man of Sol, I-I hope you will reforge Excalibur.”

Upon hearing this, James frowned. He had other matters to deal with and did not have time to reforge a broken sword.

“P-Promise me...” Koehler pleaded.

However, before he could finish his sentence, he was dead.

James looked at Koehler, whose body went limp, and sighed. Paying no heed to him, he stood up to leave.

The moment he stood up, Callan approached him.

“You’re here.”

"Mhm." Callan nodded and glanced at Koehler who lay motionless on the ground and said coldly, "His hands are filled with Solean blood. A century ago, many of our comrades died at his hands. You were right not to promise him anything."

"I don't have time for Excalibur," James said.

"However..." In the next breath, Callan said, "Once you possess Excalibur, you will gain the ability to control the Knights. They are a powerful force. If you can get them under your control, they will be of great assistance in your future endeavors."

Upon hearing this, James was lost in thought.

Callan, on the other hand, waved his hand.

The snapped sword instantly flew into his hands. Looking at Excalibur-or what remained of it-he said, "I'll bring it back and try to fix it. I'll hand it over to you if everything works out."

"By the way, the martial artists were all poisoned by Lucjan's Gu venom. I have exterminated the disciples of the Gu Sect and saved those abducted. However, I didn't give them the antidote. I'll leave this assignment to you. This is the perfect opportunity to win them over to your side."

James smiled and said, "Thank you for being so considerate."

"Alright now, there's no need for formalities between us. Since there's nothing else for me to do, I'll return to Sol for now."

Callan did not linger for long and simply left with the broken Excalibur.

After taking a few steps, he returned and tossed James a black bottle, saying, "The antidote's inside." Then, he gave James a formula.

"As for the rest, simply follow the instructions of the formula."

James received it and said, "Thanks."

Callan turned to leave.

James scanned the battlefield. Then, he hurriedly left Mount Olympus.

Before long, he spotted the martial artists who were abducted by the Gu Sect not too far away.

"Please wait!"

James gave chase.

Upon seeing James, Polaris smiled and hurried over to him, asking, "It's you, James! The battle on Mount Olympus seems to be over. So, who won in the end?"

"No one."

James continued, "Lucjan and the First Blood Emperor fled. They'll surely be a menace in the future. If given the opportunity, I'll definitely exterminate them. By the way, I see that you're poisoned."

Polaris smiled bitterly and nodded, "Yes, I don't know what kind of poison this is. I can't use True Energy at all. The moment I used it, I could feel excruciating pain coming from inside my body."

James took out the antidote given to him by Callan and gave it to Polaris, saying, "Here, this is for you." "Mhm."

Polaris consumed the antidote. Soon, he was cured.

"Save us, James."

"The most honorable Solean martial artist, please give me an antidote."

Many pleaded.

James gave them the remainder of the antidote and said, "That's all I have for now. Once I return, I'll make some more."

Some sat in a lotus position and began removing the toxins inside their body, while others looked at James in anticipation.

Polaris said, "James, since you need to make more antidotes, why don't you follow us along to the headquarters of the Polaris Sect? We can use this opportunity and get to know each other better."

"Sure."

James said smilingly, "Coincidentally, I need your help searching for Delilah's whereabouts."

"Follow me."

Wearing a delighted look on his face, Polaris beckoned for James to follow him.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1420

Chapter 1420

"James Caden..."

Just as Polaris beckoned for James to follow him, a few armored knights walked over to them and stopped James from leaving.

James turned his head.

He knew they were Koehler's knights in a single glance.

"Is something the matter?" He asked.

A knight asked, "James, how was the situation on Mount Olympus? How's Koehler Keyes? Is he dead or alive?"

"He's dead." James continued, "He was nearing his end, anyway. Even without the battle, he wouldn't live for long. During that fierce battle, he used up all of his strength, which caused his power to dissipate. Besides, he also suffered grave injuries. He's dead. His corpse is now lying on Mount Olympus."

Upon hearing this, a few knights staggered backward. Their faces were pale.

James simply turned to leave.

Meanwhile, Polaris beckoned everyone to follow him. "Everyone, feel free to come along with me to the Polaris Sect. We'll wait for James to concoct the antidote."

"Let's go!"

"Let's go to the Polaris Sect together."

Then, they left Mount Olympus.

After Lucjan and the First Blood Emperor fled, they arranged for a meeting somewhere. However, upon arriving at the agreed spot, they realized that the disciples of the Gu Sect were not there with the martial artists they abducted.

"Where are they?"

The Blood Emperor looked at Lucjan, whose face had darkened.

Wearing a solemn expression, Lucjan clenched his fists and cursed, "Damn it!"

He knew that someone had saved the martial artists. He painstakingly allied with the Blood Emperor for his plan of controlling the martial artists. However, it was for naught.

"This must be the work of James and the Sect Leader of the Celestial Sect!"

A terrifying killing intention radiated from Lucjan.

James had brought him trouble time and again.

He had to be eradicated.

Looking at Lucjan, whose expression was grim, the Blood Emperor asked, "What should we do then? Without the martial artists, we won't be able to refine them into puppets. How are we supposed to control them and rule over the world?"

"We can only pick them off one by one."

After brief contemplation, Lucjan said, "Blood Emperor, I'll leave the rest to you. I want you to capture as many martial artists who can cultivate True Energy as you can in this world. Then, bring them to the agreed-upon spot and leave everything else to me. Before long, we'll have a terrifying army of puppets. By then, conquering the world will be a piece of cake."

The Blood Emperor thought about it and said, "Sure. But what about the stuff you promised me?"

"Don't worry. I'll definitely hold up to my end of the bargain."

After formulating a plan, the two parted ways.

At the same time, James headed to the headquarters of the Polaris Sect.

The headquarters of the Polaris Sect was located in Eyrothia and within the borders of a country called Persepolis.

Ahead of him was an unending mountain range.

Polaris pointed at the mountain range before them and said smilingly, "James, this is the headquarters of the Polaris Sect. The sect is a congregation with millions of worshippers in the outside world. However, the true Polaris Sect is an ancient martial sect."

"Please, follow me."

He beckoned for James to enter while explaining to him some information about the Polaris Sect.

"The Polaris Sect has many years of history. A thousand years ago, the founder of our sect headed to Stacheul in Sol and reached out to the martial community in an effort to learn martial arts. When he returned, he practiced the sword for thirty years before creating the Polaris Sword Art and founded the Polaris Sect."

Upon hearing this, James froze.

He thought that the Polaris Sect was merely a congregation for worshippers. He never expected that it would be an ancient martial sect with such a long history.
