Chapter 1087

Chapter 1087 The three of the Ancient Four were charging toward the Capital.

Meanwhile, James had arrived at the Red Flame Army base in a military vehicle.

A woman in a military uniform walked toward his office in the military region, holding a set of military uniform in her hands.

The threading sound of her leather shoes touching the ground sounded.

She stood two meters away from James and shouted, "Captain of the Wold Vanguard Team, greeting the Emperor! Please change into your uniform."

James was deep in thought while sitting in his office chair when the voice interrupted his thoughts. He raised his head and saw the captain of the Wolf Vanguard Team.

James knew about the Wolf Vanguard Team.

They were a small special unit within the Red Flame Army with about three hundred soldiers.

Despite the lack of numbers, they were all great soldiers with strong combat capabilities and had been on countless dangerous missions.

The captain's name was Raelynn Loera. Her codename was Sky Wolf. She was a five-moon badge general and would be a onestar general if promoted.

"Mihm."

James nodded and said, "Put it there."

"Emperor, I'll help you change."

James looked at her and pointed at the office door.

"Leave it and wait outside."

"Understood."

Raelynn put down the uniform and reminded, "Please hurry, Emperor.

Everything is ready, and countless influential figures from all circles have already shown up."

"alright, I got it."

"By the way, Emperor, have you thought about what to say? Your subordinates have prepared a speech for you during the ceremony. Please go through it..."

While speaking, Raelynn took a piece of paper and handed it over.

James took it and scanned through it.

"I want to thank my parents for raising me. I'm also grateful for the country for training me..."

James read and frowned.

"What kind of nonsense is this?"

James threw it into the trash can.

"Emperor, it took me a few days to come up with that..."

"That's enough. Get out."

Raelynn stopped talking and walked out of the office. Outside the office, a middle-aged man dressed in a military uniform with a one-star badge on his shoulder pulled Raelynn aside after noticing her and asked, "How did it go? Did he pay you any attention?"

Raelynn rolled her eyes at the one-star general and walked away.

"Raelynn, I worked so hard to create this opportunity for you. Why didn't you make good use of it..."

The general chased after her.

Inside the office, James got dressed in his uniform. The general's uniform was different from the Red Flame robe the Emperor used to wear.

Instead, it was specifically made for James because his current military rank was ten stars.

It was the highest military rank that had ever existed in the history of Sol.

The uniform was red, and a flame was depicted on it.

James put on the military uniform and hat. His temperament completely transformed, and his ordinary aura was gone.

Now, he radiated a domineering and fierce temperament.

After getting dressed, he walked out of the office. Many generals were waiting outside the building. Seeing James walk out, they saluted him simultaneously.

Nathaniel walked over with a bright smile.

"Emperor, everything is ready. All the bigwigs from the Capital are present. Media reporters have also arrived and are waiting for your arrival."

James looked ahead and saw a stage set up in the open space.

Below the stage were some seats.

There were not many people, about five hundred or so. Despite the low numbers, these were people with great authority and who controlled the country.

James strode over to the stage.

The generals followed suit in unison.

The cameras immediately focused on them.

"Friends from all over the country, the newly appointed Emperor has arrived! James' life has been a legendary one. He's been in the army for ten years and has established a great reputation on the Southern Plains battlefield, earning himself the title of Commander of the Black Dragon Army. Now, he has also been appointed as the Emperor."
