Valery's POV

"I want all the dresses in the showroom by tonight, and can someone check on our suppliers, I've been told we are out of silk" I say to my employees, as we have a meeting for our upcoming fashion show

I am the CEO and Founder of V-Beauty we are a fashion company, I have drifted away from my interior design roots, and focused on fashion full time. I took classes with the support of my friends and Lucas I was able to pursue my dreams, and soon I was able to open my own business, where we take on private clients to make and create their own wardrobe, we also expanded to being a fashion chain with stores nationwide

"And guys please settle any last minute to-do's you may have for your client before the fashion show, this is all hand on deck got it" I say sternly, as they agreed, I smiled satisfied "that will be all thank you"

I took a seat in my office, going over my latest designs for my clients wardrobe

I was deep into work when suddenly, my door slammed open, and a cheerful voice shouted "mommy!" My eldest daughter called running towards me my heart never grows tired of being called mommy, I eagerly pushed myself up from my desk, and knelling down with my arms open, as she ran into me "Hello my darling what a pleasant surprise"

"I missed you"

"I missed you too, now how did you get here all by yourself" I asked tickling her sides her giggles filled the room "silly mommy I'm not alone I'm with daddy"

"now where is daddy" I say with a small laugh of my own

"he is right here" his voice joins in, as he steps into my office carrying our sleeping daughter

Me and Lucas had two girls, Ilyse, who just turned 6 and our one year old Liara Carmichael

It's crazy to think that almost 8 years ago me and Lucas finally tied the knot, and a few years later we had our Ilyse, who just turned 6, and is a clone of her father. Our one year old Liara, who is a mini me, I couldn't be more blessed.

"Hello my Love" I greeted with a kiss

"You ready to go to the Pepermeno hotel, Lily and Dmitri and Jade are already there"

"what about Rosie and-"

"Yes they are there too"

"Ilyse lets go your aunts and uncles are waiting" I say placing my hand out for her to hold

as we walked out the building I couldn't help but smile, I was so in love with my life, yes we still had our ups and downs, but Lucas has never given up on me and I on him, he has really showed me what love is supposed to feel like

"I love you Lucas"

"I love you too Red"
