

When His Eyes Opened Read Novel Chapter 3091

Novel Chapter 3091 -“You wait for me outside.” Hazel said to Aaron.

The front desk guy: “Are you two together?”

Hazel: “Yes. He is my friend, he came with me.”

The front desk guy: “So, you are the one who wants to apply?” The front desk guy’s attitude suddenly became more enthusiastic, “You come in first! Let me see if the personnel director is here.”

Hazel: “Okay.”

After Hazel responded, she gave Aaron a look and let Aaron go out.

The front desk guy said generously: “Your friends can also come in and sit together. There are no benches outside!”

In this way, Aaron followed Hazel into the Night Technology.

The front desk guy poured a glass of water for each of them, and then went to call the HR supervisor.

As a result, the HR supervisor did not answer the phone.

The front desk guy apologized to Hazel: “Our HR supervisor didn’t answer the phone.”

Hazel: “Is he not in the company?”

The front desk guy shook his head: “Not in the company! He went outside to poach people.”

Hazel suddenly realized: “There should be very few people like me who take the initiative to find the company?”

The front desk guy: “Yes! After all, you didn’t submit your resume, and you came to the company directly. Did you bring your resume? If you did, I can pass it to our boss for you when our boss comes later. “

Hazel: “No...do you have a printer here? I can print a copy now.”

The front desk guy immediately found her a printer and let her use it.

Hazel: “thank you!”

"You're welcome. But, what position do you want to apply for?" The front desk guy was free, so he stood beside Hazel and chatted.

Hazel: "Which position in your company is short of people?"

The front desk guy: "Technical post."

Hazel blushed in embarrassment: "I don't study computers."

The front desk guy: "Then you can only do odd jobs. Our company may lack a cleaner, but if you are asked to be a cleaner, you definitely don't want to do it."

Aaron couldn't sit still when he heard this!

"Hazel, let's go!" Aaron felt insulted.

The dignified daughter of the Foster family was reduced to work as a cleaner in this small company? funny?

If Aaron didn't stop her, he's afraid Hazel would agree.

The front desk guy glanced at Aaron and added: "Actually, our boss should lack an assistant. For example, remind him to sleep at night, wake him up in the morning, and remind him to eat. Otherwise, his life will be too irregular."

Aaron frowned after hearing this: "What kind of assistant! Are you talking about the wife's work? Our Hazel can't do it!"

Hazel wanted Aaron to calm down first.

She felt that what the front desk guy said was definitely not what Aaron thought.

At this time, a person walked in at the door of the company.

The front desk guy took the lead to look over.

Seeing who it was, the front desk guy immediately walked over to say hello: "Boss, a woman came and said she wanted to apply for a job. But she doesn't seem to know how to do anything."

Sitting in the chair, Hazel looked at Lucas's familiar face, her cheeks became hot and her heart beat faster.

Lucas had not changed much from three years ago.

Tall and thin, with messy hair, he was wearing a loose T-shirt, a pair of washed white jeans underneath, and a pair of slippers on his feet.

His only change was that his facial features look more mature.

While Hazel was looking at him, Lucas also looked towards Hazel.

Well...

His eyes were cold and cool, the same as three years ago. A little dragging.

Hazel couldn't help laughing.

Lucas walked up to Hazel and asked, "What are you laughing at?"

Hazel immediately stopped laughing and walked out of the chair. By the way, he picked up the printed resume and handed it to Lucas: "Boss, please take a look at my resume!"

Recommended Novels