

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2115

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2115-The team wanted to leave this place, but they could not stifle the curiosity in their hearts, so they approached slowly.

When they reached a spot with a clear view, they were stunned by the scene in front of them.

They saw that several towering trees had collapsed and that the area was a mess.

What was even more shocking was that there was a huge creature lying there motionlessly.

The huge head was beaten badly, and its body was covered in blood that came out of the giant's mouth.

Apparently, the giant had been hit in the head and was dead.

'This... This... This...' A member of the team stammered for a long time but still could not say the rest of his sentence.

"C-Captain, isn't this... isn't this the legendary overlord-level beast, the Silver Flood Dragon?" Another team member who was a little bolder asked in a trembling voice.

The Silver Flood Dragon was a famous overlord-level beast.

Not to mention its strength, its whole body was full of treasures.

On the bounty list, this flood dragon was listed as worth tens of billions of L Dollars.

This was tens of billions of L Dollars!

A temporary medicine collection team like theirs would have to work hard for a month to collect hundreds of thousands of elixirs if they were lucky.

Of course, there were also certain individuals with extremely good luck who could collect an elixir worth hundreds of millions in one go.

However, that would be too rare.

What was lying in front of them now was something worth tens of billions of L Dollars.

After seeing this, everyone could probably guess that a big battle had just happened here not long ago, and the Silver Flood Dragon had died in the battle.

However, they had no idea what kind of beast killed the Silver Flood Dragon.

It never occurred to them that a human had killed it.

After all, this was something worth tens of billions of L Dollars. Who would not take it away after they killed it?

This would be ridiculous even if the person was rich.

Unfortunately, the truth of the matter was that David had just entered The Spirit Cage, so he had no idea about the value of this thing yet.

Even if he had known, he would not have taken it.

Ten billion L Dollars? It was nothing to him!

It was not worth it for him to carry such a big corpse back home.

“Well, it does seem to be a Silver Flood Dragon,” the leader replied tremblingly.

His name was Maximus Ledger.

He was the captain of this small team and was also the strongest member of the group.

“D-Does it mean we’re rich? The Silver Flood Dragon’s reward is tens of billions of L Dollars! If we bring it out of here and collect the reward, we can live as freely as we want!” Another team member cried excitedly.

As soon as he said that, everyone’s eyes lit up.

Yes, they should just take the Silver Flood Dragon out.

Why would they still need to risk their lives to pick medicine?

They would not have to worry about anything for the rest of their lives.

Maximus suddenly thought of something.

His expression changed dramatically, he said, “Let’s take the corpse away quickly. There was a big battle here just now. Judging from the Silver Flood Dragon’s condition, it should have died not long ago. It’s possible the other thing that killed the Silver Flood Dragon is still around. If we run into it, none of us can escape and we’ll all be dead.”

Once he said that, everyone showed looks of fear.

Chills ran down their spines when they thought of the possibility of the thing that killed the Silver Flood Dragon being nearby.

Their bodies started trembling.

If an overlord-level beast wanted to kill them, it would be as easy as crushing an ant.

‘That’s right! Captain, you’re right. Let’s go. Let’s leave immediately!’

The rest of the team chimed in.

The six people approached the corpse slowly while enduring the terrifying energy coming from the Silver Flood Dragon.

Even though it was dead, the pressure coming from the corpse was still enough to scare the team.

Recommended Novels