

I'm A Quadrillionaire

Chapter 2229

Chapter 2229

David could not bear to say something that would hurt the two disciples of the Iridescent Sect who guarded him.

It was not because they were beautiful.

Anyone familiar with David knew that he had completely different attitudes toward enemies and friends.

For enemies, David could kill them all without giving them a chance, but for friends, he was always soft-hearted.

To many ruthless people, this was his Achilles' heel.

However, David did not think much of it.

If a person did not even have feelings, would he be a person still?

Emotions, desires, and feelings were what differentiated human beings from animals.

What was the difference between a human and an animal if they could abandon their family, lovers, and friends?

"You two have worked hard these days. Thank you! Since I'm already out here, you can go back and have a good rest!" David thanked the disciples.

As soon as David said that, the two female disciples of the Iridescent Sect became even more excited.

'Master David is thanking us!

'Plus, he's doing it so kindly too!

'This is the strongest person in Star Kingdom, the one who stepped on the six Sacred Saints that dominated Star Kingdom for a very long time.

'He's young, strong, handsome, gentle, and good-natured.

'This is the type of man every woman dreams of!

"Master David, you are so kind. It is our honor to serve you, and we won't stay here all the time. We work on shifts so it's not that tedious."

David nodded upon hearing that.

"Alright, take me to see Lady Dream then."

He wanted to see Celia and the women first before going back to The Spirit Cage, but he changed his mind last minute.

He would go see Nova and see if anything major happened in Star Kingdom while he was away.

The more powerful he was, the more responsibility he had to bear.

David had taken the responsibility to maintain the stability of Star Kingdom as his duty.

"Alright, please come with us, Master David."

David followed the two female disciples to the study where Nova usually worked.

Knock knock knock!

One of them knocked on the door.

"Who's there?" Nova's voice could be heard.

"Lady Dream, it's me. Master David is here."

"Master David? Which..."

Before Nova could finish, she opened the door from the inside.

When she saw David, her eyes lit up and she asked, "David... oh, wait... Master David, you're out of seclusion?"

She instinctively called David by his name, but then she remembered David's change in status.

David was not the same man who was beaten by Nek to the point where he could not fight back anymore.

Now, David was Star Kingdom's idol. He was Master David, the number one in Star Kingdom and savior.

"I just came out. Nova, you should just call me by my name. I'm not used to being called Master David," David smiled and said.

"No way! I'll get yelled at if outsiders hear me call you by your name. Come in."

David had questions in his heart but he did not ask immediately. Then, he walked into the study.

Nova said to the two disciples, "You should go on with your business."

"Yes, Lady Dream," the two said respectfully.

They turned to leave.

At the same time, they were marveling at what they just witnessed.

It seemed that Lady Dream had a special relationship with Master David.

No wonder Master David would choose to stay in seclusion in the Iridescent Sect.
