

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2238

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2238-He only saw Empress Elora incarnating into a light at the last moment and creating this barren land that no living being dared to step into now.

After he closed his eyes, Emperor Sylvio could not calm himself down for a long time.

Empress Elora sacrificed her body to severely injure the Robotias and leave only a trace of soul power to escape.

'Wait!'

When Emperor Sylvio recalled the picture in his mind, he suddenly found a looming black figure.

'Who is that shadow?'

After mulling it carefully for a moment, Emperor Sylvio was shocked.

'Are those the Soul Devourers who feed on the power of human souls?'

The Robotias and the Soul Devourers were joining forces.

One would rely on its body for a strong attack while another one would rely on its innate skills to do sneak attacks. This combination could be described as perfect.

No wonder Empress Elora lost.

In the end, she had to fight for a chance even at the expense of destroying her own body.

If it were not for Empress Flora's decisive decision, she would not be able to escape from the two Overlord-ranked Soul Devourers and the Robotias.

"Cough cough cough!" Emperor Sylvio suddenly coughed a few times.

Performing divination twice was indeed a heavy burden on him.

“Emperor Sylvio, how are you? What did you see?” Emperor Lufian asked impatiently.

“Lufian, I need you to stay calm when I tell you this. The Robotias are not the only ones fighting Empress Elora.”

“Who else was there?”

“The Soul Devourers!”

“The Soul Devourers? It’s them!” Emperor Lufian’s voice suddenly rose.

“Yes! There are Soul Devourer Overlords in the battle,” Emperor Sylvio confirmed.

“How’s Empress Elora?”

“She sacrificed her body and severely injured the Robotias. Only a trace of her soul escaped and I don’t know where it is.”

“What? Elora’s body is gone? Only a trace of her soul is left? Those b*st*rds! I will destroy them.” Emperor Lufian was furious.

How long would Empress Elora need to recover now that her body was gone and only a trace of her soul was left?

Wouldn’t Empress Elora die if she ran into an accident?

Emperor Valentin and Emperor Drogo were also shocked.

The Robotias teamed up with the Soul Devourers to fight Empress Elora. Were they going to openly fight The Spirit Cage?

“This will be the end of this matter. Everyone, don’t act rashly, especially you, Lufian. We must keep in touch all the time. I am afraid they will take us down one by one like they did with Elora. We will avenge Elora but not now,” Emperor Sylvio said solemnly.

“Of course,” Emperor Valentin and Emperor Drogo replied at the same time.

Emperor Lufian did not speak.

They fell silent.

Emperor Sylvio was waiting for Emperor Lufian's reply.

After a while, Emperor Lufian said reluctantly, "I got it."

"Lufian, I understand how you feel, but this is related to the Soul Devourers. If we don't handle this well, you might even lose your life, let alone save Elora and avenge her."

"I got it!" Emperor Lufian looked as if all life had been drained from him.

Overlords were not invincible.

Someone like him would only be crushed if his opponent was Emperor Sylvio.

Meanwhile, the Soul Devourers were the humans' mortal enemies.

They ate human souls so physical attacks would not work on them.

Only an attack on the soul would hurt them.

Even though the Soul Devourers were small in number, they were harder to deal with than the Robotias.