

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 214

Read The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky Chapter 214 – George clapped, motioning for the specialists from the R-and-D department to bring the trolleys over.

After that, he handed the products to them to be tested.

All of them explained the relevant data and requirements needed to be considered high-end products before they put the cosmetics into the machines.

As the machines worked, George used his laptop to connect to the screen and showed the results on the large screen in the meeting room.

Right next to it, he displayed the data for high-end products so everyone could compare.

“Miss Young, please look. All three of these products are qualified to be high-end products based on the country's regulations! There are also three of those data points that greatly exceed the requirements!” George said proudly.

Twelve main factors were being tested, and three of them far exceeded the requirements. It meant that the effects were very good.

The company could use those three factors to storm into the market!

“That's great! Mister Proctor, you did very well this time. My faith in your department was not misplaced!” Iris was ecstatic.

Even though she always maintained a cold exterior in the business world, he could not help but reveal some emotion at that moment.

After all, this concerned the future development of their company. As long as the company could enter the high-end market, things could only go up!

“Mister Proctor, you did things beautifully!”

“The moment our company manages to enter the high-end market, your department will be the biggest contributor!”

“That's right, this has always been the company's goal. After so many years, we've broken through!”

The executives were all incredibly happy as well as they praised and congratulated George.

“That's too much praise, everyone. My department is just trying to contribute to the company. We're just doing what we should do, it's not worth mentioning...” George said humbly. The smile on his face was incredibly wide.

The R-and-D development was quiet for a long time. Now that they finally made a splash, he felt like he finally let everything out!

At that moment, George was the star of the show. He looked incredibly impressive!

“Mister Wolf, did you see that? I've already accomplished the promise I made during the last meeting!”

“I remember you promising that you'll develop ten different products. Why don't you show us your results?!”

George looked at Leon mockingly, as if he looked at a clown.

He wanted to see how Leon could develop ten different products in just one short week!

The moment George said that, everyone turned to look at Leon. They had disdain in their faces, and some of them sneered, wanting to see Leon make a fool of himself!

“I did promise that, but I don't think I managed to just make ten...” Leon smiled calmly as he stood up.

“Didn't manage to make ten?”

“What? Are you trying to make excuses?!” George laughed.

“Mister Proctor, have your ears gone bad with age? I said I didn't manage to just make ten, why do you think

I didn't manage to make ten?!” Leon was amused by George's assumptions.

“I can tell you that I managed to develop sixteen cosmetics this time!”
