

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 221

Read The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky Chapter 221 – Ashwin took a deep breath, trying his best to compose himself.

“You mean our plan to sabotage the production...” Michael quickly understood what Ashwin meant.

The last time, both of them discussed working together to deal with Leon, but it was delayed due to the sudden incident with the development of products and increasing the efficiency of their raw materials.

With the matter already resolved, it was time for them to continue with their plan!

“That’s right! I’ve already figured out a foolproof plan. Nothing will go wrong with it...” Ashwin sneered as he asked Michael to lend an ear before he told Michael the plan in detail.

“Good, that’s a brilliant idea! As long as the plan goes well, we’ll be able to kick Leon out of the company!” Michael had a glint in his eyes as he started to laugh.

“Of course! Now, just follow my plan and take action. This time, I want his reputation completely ruined. He won’t be able to come back from this!” Ashwin had a sinister glint in his eyes.

During the evening, the human resources department of the company made an announcement:

Since Leon Wolf, the president’s secretary made great contributions to the company in developing high–end cosmetics and increased the efficiency of raw materials, Leon will temporarily be taking charge of production within the company.

The company hopes that everyone will follow Mister Wolf’s example and learn from him in the future!

The moment the announcement was given, it quickly made waves within the Elegante Group. Leon quickly turned into a famous person within the company!

At the same time, he was the first person to hold so much power within the company as a secretary!

After knowing that, Leon immediately rushed to Iris’s office in shock.

“Miss Young, I saw the announcement from the human resources department just now. Did you arrange for that?” Leon asked.

“That’s right, I specifically arranged for it. From now on, you’re one of the true higher–ups in the company. I don’t think anyone will look down on you for being a secretary anymore,” Iris said with a smile.

“I know you have good intentions, but I don’t think this is appropriate...” Leon sighed.

“Why isn’t it?” Iris was confused.

“You might not know this, but the fact that I managed to increase the efficiency of our processing of raw materials as well as develop new products wasn’t just my own doing. The manager of the factory workshop, Stanley Wallace, played a huge role as well. I couldn’t have been done without him...” Leon briefly explained.

“So that’s it!” Iris had a look of realization.

“So, you should have human resources make another announcement. Make sure you praise Mister Wallace.

As for me, don’t worry too much about it. I don’t want to stand out,” Leon said earnestly.

He grew up as an orphan who was in bad circumstances. He was already used to maintaining a low profile.

He could not get used to suddenly being so well–known.

Iris was incredulous, “The announcement has already been made, there’s no way to take it back! On top of that, everyone else has already seen it. There’s no reason to make a new one. Wouldn’t that be pointless? As for Mister Wallace’s work, don’t worry. I’ll compensate him in other ways.”

“Then, fine,” Leon felt very helpless. He was forced to accept it. After that, he thought for a while before he said, “Iris, Mister Wallace is incredibly capable. He’s someone very good at his job. On top of that, he cares for his subordinates and has a strong sense of responsibility.”
