

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 268

Chapter 268

Brody and Marilyn made their way toward them, his arms wrapped intricately around her waist.

It was a while since Leon saw Marilyn, and at first glance, he could tell that she gained weight.

Even though she was wearing loose clothing in an attempt to hide her figure, one could not deny the fact that she was heavily pregnant.

“Mr. Sullivan, I didn’t know you’d be coming.” The salesgirl’s attitude changed entirely as soon as she saw him.

“I’m here on a surprise inspection.” Brody’s expression was just as haughty and arrogant as ever.

This department store belonged to Sullivan Enterprises, and all the branches in Springfield City were under his supervision as he was the manager overseeing their operations.

“What’s going on? What happened here?” he asked.

“Mr. Sullivan, these people wanted to buy skincare products from Elegante Group yet were complaining about its prices. They were causing a scene…” the salesgirl said, pointing at Leon and the rest with a disgusted look.

“Who dares stir up trouble on my watch!” Brody scoffed as he glanced in the direction the salesgirl was pointing and came face-to-face with Janice.

Janice’s rosy lips and dainty features made her stand out easily from the crowd, and the short, tasseled dress she was wearing hugged her curves perfectly.

Her long, slender legs, covered in sheer stockings, ended in a pair of coffee-colored open-toe sandals that emanated both elegance and a hint of sexiness.

Her beautiful looks easily tugged at other people’s heartstrings, and it was no wonder Brody noticed her at first glance and could not tear his eyes away!

What a beautiful woman!

A glimmer of lust flashed through Brody’s eyes.

As the heir to the Sullivan Enterprises, he grew up in wealth and power, and therefore had his fair share of experience with young, pretty women. Despite that, this was his first time being so up close with someone as stunning as Janice.

Even though Marilyn was not too shabby herself, she faltered significantly next to Janice.

“Enough!” Janice was uncomfortable at the look in Brody’s eyes.

Not only did Brody take no notice of her warning, but the irritation on her face stirred up another level of temptation within him.

Even though he did not know whether this gorgeous woman belonged to anyone, he was willing to pay a little extra to get his hands on her!

As he thought this, Brody instinctively glanced at the man standing next to Janice and was stunned to realize it was none other than Leon.

“I can’t believe it’s you, Leon Wolf!”

The last time he saw Leon was at the flea market when Leon beat him up so badly that he broke his leg.

He just recovered from his injuries not too long ago, and even now, he still walked with a slight limp.

Because of this, his hatred toward Leon ran even deeper than before!

“What a coincidence, Brody Sullivan,” Leon said coldly.

Even though he moved on from Marilyn’s betrayal and accepted the fact that they no longer shared a future, that did not mean the same for Brody!

This man stole his wife, so how could he forgive and forget so easily?

“Who’s that, Leon? Do you know him?” Janice was surprised to discover that not only did Leon and Brody know each other, but they seemed to go way back.
