Olivia looked at him. Is he really afraid that I'll get angry? Blinking, she then asked, "No matter what the punishment is?" Eugene nodded woodenly. "Yes. Whatever you want, even if it's to scold or hit me!"

Retracting her hands, Olivia coldly said, "Let's break up then!" Horrified by her words, Eugene pulled her into his embrace straight away. "Anything but that."

Staring at the panicking man in front of her, Olivia pursed her lips but she felt somewhat fuzzy inside. "I thought you said that anything goes?" Frowning, Eugene replied, "Except breaking up."

Wanting to tease him, Olivia pretended to say angrily, "I can't break up with you, and I can't ignore you. Everything is decided by you already, so why do you even need a girlfriend? You can just live your own life and do whatever you want!"

"You can hit me or scold me but whatever you do, please don't break up with me." Observing her expression while talking, Eugene immediately continued upon seeing Olivia about to blow a gasket. "If you really want to, then you can just ignore me for a couple of days."

Olivia, who upon seeing the pitiful looking man, held in her laughter and her smile. In the end, she commented, "Remember this-it was you who said to let me ignore you for a few days."

Eugene nodded in determination. "As long as we don't break up." Staring at him, Olivia immediately ordered, "Then you can go away now."

Obediently, Eugene stood up and looked at her with puppy eyes. "How many days are you planning to do this?" Still holding in her laughter, the woman announced bluntly, "Depends on my mood!"

Upon hearing that, Eugene only gulped and he kept quiet for a second before rebuking, "Didn't you promise not to bring up us separating so whimsically? It's only been a few days, and you've already mentioned this two times."

Glancing at a sleeping North, Olivia angrily retorted in a low tone, fearing that the commotion might wake the child, "How can I not do that when you've treated me so badly?"

Hearing this, Eugene explained, "Olivia, it wasn't that I did it intentionally. I wasn't myself then and I didn't even know what I had done." Staring back at him, Olivia barked, "You don't know what you've done? Doing a dine and dash now, are you? A*shole!"

Not knowing how to fully explain his circumstances, Eugene could only say, "I wasn't thinking of shirking my responsibilities. I just went to the bathroom, and you were already gone when I came out. Sobering up, I didn't think too much into it back then, as I figured that you were only a waitress at the club. It wasn't until the next day when I found out you weren't." Frowning, Olivia asked, "And how did you find that out?"

Looking at her, Eugene whispered, "I saw... blood on the bed sheets. Regretting what I've done, I ordered my subordinates to check the surveillance, but all evidence had been deleted by then. I even investigated the list of entries at the club but to no avail. Trust me, I never thought of escaping my responsibilities!"

Blushing unknowingly at what he said, Olivia still sternly stated, "If you didn't manage to find me seven years ago, how did you manage to do so after all these while? You're a liar!" Upon hearing that, Eugene let out a small sigh and continued, "Olivia, it wasn't me who found you after seven years either.

Although I remembered that night with you, the lights were off and I didn't see your face clearly back then, let alone recognize who you were. The only reason why we can be together now is all thanks to our son."

Upon hearing that, Olivia asked in a shocked tone, "You mean North?" Nodding, Eugene explained, "Yes. It was him who purposefully arranged for you to come work at the Nolan Group but due to a misunderstanding, I could not hire you successfully.

It was him who played cupid for us again and again. I didn't even know what he was thinking back then. It was probably because I had passed the test set by him that he finally told me the truth."

Super Wife's Three Babies chapter 592

Caught speechless, Olivia finally knew why North liked Eugene so much. It was because the child had known the truth and hidden it from her for a long time. But how did the little rascal know that Eugene was his father?

If it was by looking into the past events, she wouldn't be too shocked at this, as the Will-o'-Wisp Headquarters could track just about anything. What surprised her was how he knew Olivia was deceiving him when she had been telling him his father had died all this time.

Looking suspiciously at the little fellow, Olivia only thought that her son was too smart. Then, she asked Eugene, "So you proceeded to do the paternity test behind my back after that?"

"It's not me that wanted it," Eugene explained. "It was Grandpa that found out something was up. Remember when he was sick? That was when he investigated North's origin and was hurt by Lara and the others once they caught wind of his actions.

But, Grandpa already knew the whole truth, so in my part of the will, he had also included the result of the test in it!"

This made Olivia realize the whole story. No wonder the old man would always ask about North and praise that I brought him up well! Maybe he already knew by then.

He really is sharp. "Then, did you get together with me because of the child?" Frowning, Eugene wondered why such a question would be asked, "No. When I found our son, he made me promise to not fight over his custody. He even said that if I won, he wouldn't follow me and would fight with me instead."

Up to this point, he laughed. "You don't know the amount of rules he set on me. He said that I had to like you unconditionally, can't force you to do anything, can't make you sad and can't flirt with other women. He even said that I had to be patient in courting you since you've been hurt before." Surprised, Olivia asked again, "He said all that?"

Nodding, Eugene continued, "Yep. He said that I was his biological father, and could you guess how I felt back then? After failing to find you for seven years, I suddenly not only had a wife, but a kid too. The most important fact was that I liked you two a lot. Besides waves of exhilaration washing over me, I also had goosebumps all over too. Even though sitting opposite of me was a child that was only six or seven years old, it was more akin to negotiating with a bigshot. Honestly, I was all nervous and shocked."

Hearing this, Olivia mumbled, "I had always treated him as a child. I never thought that his thoughts would run so deep." "Yup, we sure have a smart son." Dotingly, Eugene said, "Just like you!"

Before Olivia could reply, she found that the man already stood in front of her. At that, she pushed him away. "That's my son." Defeatedly, Eugene said coaxingly, "He's all yours and I won't fight for him. Then can I be yours too?"

"Nope!" Olivia pushed him away. Seeing that she wasn't really angry, Eugene came closer again and teased, "I think I'm quite eligible. My looks are passable, my figure is quite nice, I don't need you to maintain my current state.

The most important thing is that... I'm quite capable, if you know what I mean." At first, Olivia did agree with him. It was only until the last sentence that she saw his face did not imply anything decent by his words. Angry and embarrassed, she stared daggers at him. "You shameless man!"

Pretending to not know what she meant, Eugene replied, "What? I meant that I can protect you and love you. I will not be tempted by other women and I don't need any temptation from you. If you say to walk straight ahead, I will never walk another direction! If you say that sugar is salty, I'll never say that it's sweet!" This man...

Angry, Olivia was about to hit him when Eugene grabbed her wrist and embraced her again. "Don't be mad anymore, Olivia. I admit my wrongdoings, but if you want me to go back in time, I would choose to relive what happened seven years ago."

Super Wife's Three Babies chapter 593

Olivia was enraged but she wasn't able to break free from him, so all she could do was to glare at him. "Do you know what you did wrong?"

Eugene embraced her tightly. "My mistakes were that I shouldn't have lost you and caused so many of our son's plans to go down the drain. On top of that, I shouldn't have allowed things to come to this point before admitting the truth to you. I'm glad that you were the woman that night. Otherwise, we wouldn't have such a bright and adorable son."

Olivia gasped at his words and nearly choked on air. "You wanted to be with me because you found out that I was the woman back then?"

He gave it some thought before replying, "I doubt so. Truth be told, I didn't have any woman beside me ever since I spent that night with you. Although we missed each other seven years ago, I still fell in love with you now after many years. This proved that my love for you is not affected by any external elements. It is all because that person is you. Still, I have to admit that the external elements have indeed accelerated the pace of me falling in love with you, but that certainly wasn't the main reason I fell for you!"

Upon hearing that, Olivia pursed her lips and smiled. As a matter of fact, both questions were actually trick questions. She didn't want him to like her because of the child, nor because he wanted to make it up to her for the incident seven years ago.

If Eugene were to be in a relationship with her because of those reasons, it would make their relationship impure. Fortunately, she was satisfied with the answer given by him. She glared at the man coquettishly and purred, "You and your sweet mouth!"

Upon seeing that, Eugene felt that he would be able to make her happy again very soon. Feeling excited by that thought, he leaned in and pecked her forehead, causing her to raise her hand and hit him. "Stop acting so shamelessly! You are still under probation!"

He gently avoided her hand and embraced her, as if he was comforting an angry kitten. "Alright, I'm under probation. Both my heart and body belong to my girlfriend, so I'm not worried about being under probation. You are free to test me anytime."

She stared at him, feeling mad yet amused, then darted him a glare. Eugene, however, suddenly wore a straight face. "Olivia, thank you for your forgiveness. I know that you had a hard time all these years and even gave birth to North despite the hardship. From today onward, North and you will have me by your sides."

I'll slowly make up to you in the days to come." With his arms wrapped around her, Eugene said that with his heart full of emotions, not having a trace of evil thought. Olivia was rendered speechless. How did I suddenly make up with him without me realizing it?

At that thought, she glared at him. "Did I say that I forgive you?"

Eugene then chuckled. "The way I admitted my mistakes is full of sincerity, so you should be satisfied after punishing me for a couple of days, considering the fact that even sinners who admit their mistakes will be given a reduction in sentence. Besides, I kept thinking about you and our son last night and I couldn't sleep at all. Don't you feel distressed for me?"

Olivia pouted. He sounded as if I managed to fall asleep last night. "Alright. Since you took the initiative to explain yourself, let's make it three days!"

Eugene was confused. "What do you mean by three days?" She snorted arrogantly. "Don't show your face before me for three days." Then, she pushed him away.

"Three more days?" Eugene extended his hands to hold hers but Olivia stared at him as she countered, "Didn't you just say that anything but a breakup or ignoring you are viable options?"

What's wrong? Are you going to eat your words?" Eugene was frustrated, his expression as dark as night. I didn't know that she had such a sharp tongue!

Suddenly, a light chuckle came from the bed. Olivia looked in that direction and saw that North had woken up. She smiled and walked up to him. "Are you awake?"

North laughed as he commented, "Mommy, have you made up with Uncle Eugene?" Olivia darted Eugene a glare and answered, "No, he is still under observation."

Eugene was at a loss for words. North looked at Eugene and laughed. "You have to thank my godmother for that." His words stunned Eugene. "Kate? For what?"

Super Wife's Three Babies chapter 594

North pouted. "Otherwise, you won't even have a chance to be placed under probation!" The truth suddenly dawned upon Eugene; he had wondered why Olivia seemed easier to deal with today. "Alright. Later, tell your godmother to come looking for me if there's anything she needs help with."

Olivia looked at North with a straight face and said, "I want to ask you a question and you have to answer me honestly!" North gulped guiltily, somehow feeling that his mother was mad. "W-What is it?"

Olivia went straight to the point without beating around the bush. "When did you find out that Eugene is your father?" As expected, it's about this. The boy immediately leaned in at her with a smile in an attempt to please her. "Mommy-

However, Olivia adjusted his posture with a straight face and barked, "Spill it. Now!" North secretly pouted. I'm doomed! Mommy's mad. Eugene immediately sat beside the little guy and comforted him, "Don't worry. Your mom's mad at me."

Their reactions made Olivia's mouth twitch. Am I really so fierce to the point that the guy has to comfort the kid? If North is really afraid of me, he wouldn't dare to hide such a huge news from me.

Upon seeing how close they were sitting together, she felt wronged for some reason. Eugene is indeed his biological father. The little brat's now closer to Eugene than to me.

North quietly explained, "I learnt about it not long after I joined the Will-o'-Wisp Headquarters. Mommy, don't be mad. You said that my father has passed away, so I dared not tell you about it. I was wrong. I won't hide anything from you ever again."

Olivia took a deep breath and asked the question that she wanted to understand the most. "Yes, I told you that your father has passed away, so how did you find out that he is still alive?"

Eugene was rendered speechless by their conversation. It seems like I had 'died' many times all these years according to her story!

With his little head lowered, North sneaked a peek at Olivia's expression and mumbled, "Because it doesn't seem like that. If my father is dead, why did you only visit Grandpa and Grandma's grave, but not Daddy's?"

Olivia was at a loss for words. Truth be told, what he said made sense. It was undeniable that she had overlooked this piece of detail. However, most kids couldn't possibly have thought about this, no?

"M-Maybe I don't want to tell you about your father because I'm on bad terms with him. So, how did you figure out that he is still alive?"

North replied, "You couldn't even answer me when I asked you about his name." Olivia frowned at that. "Why should I answer you if I'm not on good terms with him?"

"If you are not on good terms with him, why didn't you find yourself a new boyfriend? Why didn't you return to the country?" At that point, she didn't know what to answer her son.

Upon seeing that Olivia was rendered speechless, Eugene chuckled. "If it wasn't because of our bright son, I won't be able to find North and you."

“You two teamed up to bully me!” Olivia was pissed. Eugene immediately ditched his son and rose up to coax his woman. “That’s nonsense! How could I bear to leave you alone? I’ll always be a team with you!”

Upon hearing that, North was at a loss for words. Did he just kick the ladder? North thought to himself. Meanwhile, Kate and Nathan were quiet after they got into the car, causing the atmosphere around them to become terribly awkward. Nathan had a lot of things he wanted to say, but he was afraid that his words might rub her the wrong way.

However, Kate, on the other hand, simply didn’t have the urge to communicate with him. Therefore, although they did say a word or two to each other, they merely shared some shallow, unmeaningful conversations during their journey to Muse Peninsula.

As soon as the two of them arrived at the basement parking of the Muse Peninsula, they saw Gwen, who was alighting from a Ferrari. She was seen running at Nathan excitedly to greet him. “Hey, Nate! I was just about to go to your place to find you!” The way she put it was rather suggestive.

If Nathan hadn’t had that conversation with Olivia, he couldn’t possibly notice that something was wrong with that sentence.

Super Wife’s Three Babies chapter 595

Gwen was one of the members of their game development team. During the time when the game was still being developed, Nathan did not have an office, so the team members would often go to his house to work. Hence, he reckoned that Gwen wanted to see him now because she had encountered some issues in the game.

At that moment, Nathan wasn’t bothered to ask. Gwen about it. Instead, the first thing he did was to turn to Kate. He noticed that Kate had a deadpan expression and she didn’t seem unhappy at all.

However, he knew that she was actually mad when she courteously said to him, “I’ll wait for you over there.” Ignoring Gwen, a frightened Nathan immediately went after Kate and explained, “Kate, she’s one of the members of the game development team. There’s nothing going on between us!”

Kate responded with a question in a seemingly casual manner, “Why are you explaining this to me?”

Upon hearing that, Nathan continued to explain in a fluster, “I’m worried that you may misunderstand me. Last time, we happened to bump into each other at the restaurant too!”

She darted at him with a cold look. “What did I misunderstand? You and I are not related to each other in any way, so you don’t have to inform me about your girlfriend or any details about your love life. I only have one condition, which is to not tell me everything. I'm not that concerned about you!"

With that, Kate walked straight into the elevator, leaving Nathan rooted to his spot for a while. In the end, he dashed into the lift seconds before the lift doors slid closed.

He secretly sneaked a peek at Kate and helplessly sighed. "Kate, am I really that unforgivable?" Kate kept quiet. As a matter of fact, she herself was distressed about the situation as well.

The two of them remained silent. Just as the lift arrived at the fifth floor, Gwen called. Nathan subconsciously frowned and there was a look of disgust on his face. "Hello?"

Gwen's voice rang out. "Nate, where did you go? Aren't you going home?" Nathan replied, "Gwen, please stop participating in the game development. You don't need to come tomorrow."

"What's wrong?" She sounded shocked as she asked, "Did I do anything wrong?" "Nothing. It's my problem. I'll give you an extra month's salary as compensation."

As Nathan was about to hang up the call, Gwen's flustered voice stopped him. "Hold on! Nate, do you really think that my aim in working for you is to earn a monthly salary of 18,000?"

As soon as she said that, Nathan could more or less guess what she was going to say next. He instantly killed the call and cast Kate a glance in guilt.

Kate seemed calm, but she was actually able to listen to their conversation clearly. After all, they were in such a confined space and the voice from the other end of the call wasn't exactly soft.

However, she kept quiet. Just like what Olivia had mentioned, it was natural for an outstanding man like Nathan to have countless women pursuing him, but Kate still felt a little disappointed somehow.

Nathan reminded her of the kind of men who cheated on their partners, but declared that it was the other women who had seduced them in the first place. Yet, in Kate's opinion, if the men did not give a chance to the other women, they wouldn't be able to seduce the men either.

Nonetheless, Kate was aware that she was in no position, nor did she have the power, to say such words to Nathan. Hence, all she could do was to feel disappointed. The two of them went to the 58th floor.

Kate pressed on the door bell and someone answered the door after the bell rang for a while. Standing before Kate was a short-haired woman who seemed both pretty and valiant. She was staring at the visitors with eyes that contained a hint of aggressiveness, but she refused to utter even a word.

Kate immediately said, "Ah-Jewel Fenton, I presume?" Jewel looked at them in puzzlement and nodded. Kate continued, "I'm Olivia's best friend. She asked me to come over here because she has a message that she wished for me to convey to you. May we come in?"

It was only then did it dawn upon Jewel that Kate was Olivia's friend. The realization made her drop the aggressiveness in her gaze.

Super Wife's Three Babies chapter 596

Jewel stepped aside and let them in. However, Kate was puzzled. She remembered that there were people living on the 58th floor.

Eugene is willing to do anything for Olivia, Kate thought to herself. The man had actually driven the original residents away just to give Olivia's friend a place to stay. In spite of that, Olivia, the heartless woman, still suspected if he really fancied her or not. Comparison really makes my life seem depressing! Kate exclaimed inwardly.

Kate entered through the door and surveyed the surroundings before she asked, "You know that Olivia is at the hospital, do you?" Jewel met her gaze and nodded, which aroused Kate's suspicion. Why is this girl not speaking?

However, Kate dropped her curiosity and stated, "I'm here to tell you that both North and Olivia are fine, but they probably have to stay in the hospital for a few more days. There's no need to worry about them."

Jewel nodded in understanding and took out her phone to type. 'Do you know which hospital they are admitted to?' "You can't speak?" Kate glanced at Jewel in astonishment, to which the latter nodded.

Kate mumbled to herself, "No wonder Olivia insisted on us making a trip here." Then, she said, "How about this-we will be heading over to the hospital shortly. I'm here to get some clothes for Olivia. If you want to go and visit her, you can come along with us. Just wait for a while; Nathan can take you back here when he returns."

Jewel nodded in delight. Kate continued, "Would you like to wait for us here or follow us to Olivia's place to get some stuff?" Jewel typed her reply on her phone. "I'll follow you guys. Kate nodded and responded, "Sure. You can get ready and we'll leave then!"

In response, Jewel put on a jacket and gestured to Kate that she was ready to leave, which surprised Kate as she didn't expect Jewel's preparation to leave the house would be so simple-unlike Kate, who had to wear makeup and change her clothes to ensure that she appeared fashionable in public. "Alright. Let's go!" Kate said with a chuckle..

The few of them then headed over to Olivia's place and placed two sets of clothing into a bag before departing. However, when they arrived at the basement carpark, five or six men dressed in black suddenly popped up from the corner and charged at them without uttering a word.

To be precise, they were charging at Nathan. Nathan, whose right hand was still in a cast, instinctively used his left hand to resist, but another man in black lunged himself at him.

Kate's head went blank. Is Olivia's suspicion correct? she thought. At the same time, she quickly stepped forward, pulled Nathan over and stood between him and the men. As they slowly pulled back, she asked, "Who are you guys? What do you want?"

The man, who failed to capture Nathan, instantly wore a ferocious expression and snarled, "This has nothing to do with you! We just want him to come with us. If you insist on going against us, don't blame us for doing this the rough way."

Kate narrowed her eyes at that. She would be lying if she said that she wasn't terrified at that moment, but she couldn't allow the men to grab Nathan. "What's the purpose of all this? Don't you know who he is?"

The man impatiently snapped, "If we don't know his identity, why would we capture him?" Then, he extended his arm to shove Kate aside. "Do you have a death wish?!"

It was a rare occasion to see Kate protecting Nathan, and it gave the latter a feeling that he hadn't experienced for a long time. However, he knew that he shouldn't put her at risk because of him. And so, he grabbed her by her hand and shouted at the gang of men, "Don't touch her! I'll go with you guys!"

Upon hearing that, Kate was so mad that she wished that she could strangle Nathan. "Are you insane? You don't know what they are going to do and yet, you are willing to go with them?"

Nathan smiled. "But I can't hide behind you and see you risk your safety for me!" The gang of men exchanged glances with one another, shocked by the sudden affectionate air around them. One of the men stepped forward to push Kate aside but before his hand even landed on her, his wrist was caught by someone.

Super Wife's Three Babies chapter 597

The hands that held him were so strong that it caused the man to seethe in pain before he looked in horror at Jewel grabbing him. When he turned his head, he saw an indifferent thin, tall girl donning short hair standing beside him with a cold light in her eyes.

“L-Let me go!” the man said. However, after he said this, Jewel directly threw him out. However, how could the other five to six strong men leave just like this? So, the remaining four men all swarmed up to her at once.

When she saw this, she immediately greeted them. She raised her foot and kicked the man who had just charged toward her. The impact from that kick had sent the man flying three meters away. The other men immediately grabbed Nathan while they were all caught in a fight. After all, the main target was Nathan.

Kate was like a mother hen protecting its chick when she stood in front of Nathan. She raised the bag in her hand and smashed it on the other person’s head, but she wasn’t skillful enough. After she whacked the assailant twice, he immediately snatched the bag from her hand, lifted his foot and kicked her.

She was repeatedly kicked backward, When this happened, Nathan instinctively tried to shield her. Although he couldn’t move one arm, he still used his entire body and all his strength to protect her as she was about to fall.

If he wasn’t injured, it would be fine. Now that his arm was injured, Nathan, who was already in pain when he took the fall with Kate, took a deep breath and tried his best to endure the additional agony in silence.

As she fell on top of him, she still heard his low gasp. So, she hurriedly got up from him and went to check his injuries. “Are you alright?” Nathan instinctively covered his injured arm while tolerating the pain and replied, “Yes, I’m fine.”

At this time, Jewel had already dealt with the two men who attacked her earlier and immediately came to Kate and Nathan’s support. With Jewel’s help, the two men who targeted Nathan were quickly beaten back.

The five men looked at the skinny woman-how was she so powerful? After being kicked by her once, they already found it difficult to recover and stand on their feet.

Although they were confused, they did not dare to go up against her again. They then helped their two accomplices on the ground to their feet before fleeing in a hurry.

It was only at that moment when Jewel looked at Nathan and asked how they were doing with her gaze. Kate answered, “We’re fine, but Nathan’s injured arm may be in trouble. Let’s quickly go to the hospital.”

Jewel nodded in response, after which they immediately boarded the car. Once they were in the car, Nathan looked at Jewel. “Thank you for just now. Without you, those people would have taken me away.”

She shook her head, indicating that there was no need to thank her. Kate also looked at her with curiosity. "So, you know martial arts? You were amazing back there."

Jewel smiled. Then, Kate asked again, "Did you study with Olivia?" To that, Jewel nodded again. "No wonder! You are much more powerful than her, though," Kate ruthlessly complained. "Olivia doesn't seem to be suitable for close contact attacks; she is more suitable for long range attacks."

Jewel nodded for the third time with a smile. Nathan sat in the passenger seat and looked at Kate avidly. No matter how ruthless her words were to him, she still couldn't bear to leave him at his most critical moment.

It was obvious that she could have just ignored him earlier, but she still stood in front of him to protect him in the end. What a fool. No matter what others called her, she would always be a fool in his heart. He had disappointed her so much, so how could he deserve everything she had done for him?

At Edward's house. Lara looked at Edward, who had fallen into a daze again. Ever since he came back, he had been so restless and she was naturally a little unhappy in her heart. However, she also knew that this was not the time to care about such trivial matters..

Lara walked over and sat beside Edward. "Did you see Eugene?" When he noticed some movements beside him, Edward was stunned for a moment. He soon reacted, nodded and replied, "I did."

Then, she asked, 'How is he?' He answered, "Not very good. It seems that he has experienced something painful. His face is haggard and is still in a coma."

Immediately, Lara was overjoyed when she heard his words, but she still pretended to sigh. "We were always worried that he would turn against us, but we definitely didn't expect him to fall like this."

Edward also sighed in his heart. Yes, I always thought that there would be a real contest between us, so how could he topple over so easily? This felt really bad.

It was grief-stricken, but it was not really. either. After all, they were not like those families who had a strong father-son relationship. If he were to say that he was not sad at all, though, it was not the case either. In fact, he felt empty in his heart for some reason, as if he couldn't accept what had happened to Eugene.

When he did not speak further, she asked, "Then, what do we do next? We still need to look for Dad so that we can introduce a leader to the company as soon as possible."

Edward had still lacked interest even after hearing Lara's proposal. "We should just wait. What if Eugene turns out to be okay?"

Lara began to persuade Edward, "I know that he is your son. No matter what you say, I know that you are still distressed about what happened to him, but think about it- Eugene's illness is definitely not something insignificant, otherwise it is impossible for the doctors to stop us from visiting. So, even if he can recover, we can't be certain how long it would take for him to even get better.

How can such a big company be left unmanaged? Besides, though we can afford to wait, others may not be able to. The company is in your hands. When Eugene comes back, you can return it to him, but if the company falls into the hands of others, do you think they will hand it back to Eugene when he recovers?"

The man said nothing. Then, she continued, "This position originally belongs to you. Dad gave the position of the head of the family to Eugene in a fit of anger because of your marriage to me. I have always felt that I owe you for this matter, so I have been planning and calculating to help you get your position back.

When I get it back for you, whomever you would like to give it to, that's none of my business anymore. Until then, I don't have to always think about it anymore." Edward took Lara's hand. "Aw, you dummy. You are my darling and the woman whom I love the most. I have done everything for you willingly, so I don't blame you. Besides, you saved my life. How do you want me to pay you back?"

Lara replied, "Those are two totally different things. I only hope you will be better after you have me, instead of giving up something for me. If you do, I will feel guilty for it. Now that Eugene's life is hanging in the balance, it's only when you stay in this position that you can hold the position for him. Isn't Dad the most fond of Eugene? You can just tell him what I told you, and as long as we have the support of the old man, we can win the position of the head of family.

He clarified, "Eugene has just entered the hospital, yet we are already going to force the old man to give up the position. Wouldn't it make people think that we are trying to usurp the position of the head of the Nolan Family?"

His response caused her to frown slightly. "How can this be considered as forcing? We are just telling the truth. You have also seen Eugene's situation. He will not be able to leave the hospital for a while. What is Nolan Group going to do without a leader? Dad is the founder of the company, and I bet he wouldn't want to see the Nolan Group declining because of Eugene's illness, right?"

When he heard Lara's explanation, Edward thought about it and figured that it was reasonable. "Then, I'll go and see Old Man Nolan tomorrow." On the other end, Kate, Nathan and Jewel had already arrived at the hospital.

Nathan kept holding onto his injured arm while Kate was thinking about his injury, but she too was worried that Jewel would not be able to find a ward for him. After pondering for a while, she figured that she should send Jewel in first.

When Kate saw Eugene and Olivia again, she immediately felt the subtle changes between them. Although they didn't speak and Olivia didn't even look at Eugene, they both radiated a sweet atmosphere.

"Jewel, why are you here?" Olivia was surprised to see Jewel. Kate explained on Jewel's behalf with a smile, "She's worried, so I brought her over and I'll send her back later." Olivia grinned. "I'm fine. North is okay too."

Jewel nodded and sat directly in front of North's hospital bed to touch his little face in distress. As Olivia also knew that Jewel couldn't speak, North hurriedly soothed, "Don't worry, Ms. Jewel. We are all fine!"

Kate said, "You guys are alright, but we were almost in trouble. When we were on the way here, we were besieged by five big men. Luckily, Jewel was around. Otherwise, Nathan and I won't be here right now." Olivia was startled. "Someone really tried to rob you?"

"Yes!" Kate replied, "You jinxed it!"

After that, Olivia hurriedly asked, "Where did it happen?" How could she have thought that someone would rob them? The reason why she had previously said that was only because she wanted to matchmake Kate and Nathan. Who would have known that her words actually turned into a prophecy?

Kate answered, "In the underground garage, but it seems like they were targeting Nathan." When Eugene heard this, he frowned slightly, "What kind of people are they? Are they anyone from the Nolan Family?"

Nathan said, "There were only five men, and I have never seen them before. They were all unfamiliar faces." Then, Jewel typed on her cell phone. 'All of them had tattoos on their wrists. I think it was a tiger head.'

Once she was done typing, she handed her phone to Eugene. The man's eyes narrowed immediately. "They are members of The Quintets." Nathan was incredulous. "Why are the people from The Quintets trying to kidnap me?"

"To threaten me," Eugene answered. "Tres is in my hands."

At that, Nathan opened his mouth and wanted to say that they had really located the right person, but how effective would he be as a hostage to threaten Eugene? If they really wanted to threaten Eugene, then they should at least kidnap Olivia! What did they think that kidnapping me would do?

Little did he know that his uncle's next words were even more heartbreaking. "They know they can't catch Olivia, so they have shifted their target to you."

Immediately, Nathan was speechless. Did this mean that I'm easier to catch than Olivia? He glanced at his injured arm that he was holding. Well, I guess it is easier to catch me now...

Kate glanced at him. "Let's go and get your arm checked first!" An obedient Nathan replied, "Okay." After the two left, Olivia also looked at Jewel and said, "Since you have come to the hospital too, I'll bring you to check on your throat."

Jewel shook her head and typed on her mobile device. 'No, no need. I'm already used to it. After all, what's the difference between a few more days? You should take care of the child.'

As Olivia read the message, she broke into a smile and noted, "It's fine. Eugene is here." Eugene immediately responded, "Yeah, I'm right here. You both should head off."

Jewel glanced at Eugene apologetically before she followed Olivia out. When they arrived at the otolaryngology department, Jewel took a CT scan before the otolaryngologist checked it again before asking her to try to make a little sound.

She tried her best to do so, but she couldn't make a sound at all. The otolaryngologist shook his head in regret. "Her vocal cords are severely damaged, which makes it a difficult recovery unless a miracle happens."

When she listened to the doctor's words, Jewel did not appear very pessimistic and seemed to have accepted this reality in resignation.

However, Olivia didn't want to just accept Jewel's fate. She took the CT scan and looked at it before she casually asked, "What about visiting the TCM doctor?"

The doctor still shook his head. "It's extremely difficult for her to recover." In the next second, Olivia asked, "Can you lend me your pen for a while?" He was confused, but he still handed the pen in his hand to her.

Super Wife's Three Babies chapter 600

Olivia took it and wrote on a blank piece of paper. '20 grams of ginseng, 15 grams of Ophiopogon japonicus, 20 grams of kudzu, 15 grams of Dendrobium, 15 grams of Poria. The otolaryngologist was stunned. Does this woman actually understand medicine? These are all medicines for nourishing one's throat. "Are you a doctor?"

She glanced at the doctor as she wrote the prescription. "I am a TCM doctor." "No wonder. Do you think her throat can be healed?" As she opined at the CT scan, she opined, "Look, her vocal cords are not completely damaged. I think they will be cured slowly!"

The doctor nodded in agreement. "Well, we can try it. Alternative medicine is broad and profound, and there may be miracles." Soon, Olivia wrote the prescription and took it directly to the Department of Alternative Medicine to get the medicine. Jewel's eyes were full of hope as she typed on her cell phone. 'Is it really possible?"

In response, Olivia smiled. "Trust me." After that, Jewel nodded fiercely. When she saw Jewel's reaction, Olivia continued to look at her and added, "But you have to be prepared. Your throat has been injured for too long, so it'll be a slow recovery. This process may take several months, or even half a year." Jewel nodded again.

After the two grabbed the medicine, Olivia asked Jewel while walking back, "Are you used to living alone? If you are not used to it, just move in and live with me."

How could Jewel be that dumb to move in with Olivia and Eugene? She nodded her head. Since Eugene had arranged for her to live on the 58th floor, it was obvious that he did not want her to disturb them. So, how could she be so ignorant?

“How long did Alex stay at your place last night?” As the two were walking, Jewel couldn’t type and made a sleeping gesture instead. Olivia was amazed. “He only left when you were about to go to sleep?”

Jewel nodded and made a chasing gesture with a disgusted expression. Since she could understand Jewel’s sign language, Olivia laughed. “You can’t drive him away, can you?”

Jewel slightly lowered and raised head, as if she wanted to incline in agreement. Then, Olivia added with a smile, “He’s a good man who is funny and humorous when he speaks too. As a friend, there’s nothing wrong with him.”

If Alex were to be a boyfriend, there were some things she might have to consider. He was a man who changed girlfriends as though he was changing clothes. Even Olivia was not sure whether he was suitable for Jewel.

After Jewel nodded, she realized that she had discovered a lot of things about Alex, following their interaction for that week. Although she wouldn’t consider him a friend, she was already familiar with him, so she wouldn’t treat him like a villain but would always be vigilant around him.

On the other side of the hospital, Kate accompanied Nathan to take another X-ray scan of his arm, but the result was like what she had guessed-it turned out to be a more serious injury.

It was originally just a bone fracture, but after she had landed on him in that incident, it caused the bone to be dislocated as well. After listening to the doctor’s words, Kate still took a deep breath and hurriedly asked, “What should we do, Doctor? Does he need surgery?”

The doctor pointed to the scan and recommended, “Fortunately, there are no signs of bone fragmentation. Now there are two methods. One is conservative treatment, which is actually external manipulation, and the other is direct surgical treatment.”

Kate looked at Nathan. He was such a smug person; he definitely wouldn’t want to leave a scar on his arm. “Doctor, do you think you can give him the conservative treatment first?”

The doctor glanced at Nathan, indicating that he wanted to know Nathan’s opinion. Nathan gazed at Kate with a smile. “We’ll go with what she said.” At this point, he even felt that he had sustained his injuries in a timely manner and it seemed like she had started to care for him again.

Kate observed him. If he had said this before, she would have been overjoyed, but now that she heard it, it was a tad bit ironic. The doctor responded, "Then, come with me for the anesthetic first."
