“Brat, how dare you talk to me like that?! It looks like you’re already sick of living. Since you want to die, I’ll grant you your wish.”

The moment he said that, he was tempted to start attacking, but he looked at the bald man and the black-masked man.

After thinking about it, he held back. If he attacked in this situation, it was very likely he would be at a disadvantage.

The two around him could decide to take the chance to attack him at any moment. Then, he would lose everything. However, it was not like he could just take those words. The white-robed man felt like he was going to faint from the anger.

Jack coldly looked at the white-robed man, “You should be honored that I’m even bothered to talk to a clown like you.”

There were plenty of people like the white robed man in second-grade worlds.

He had met so many of them. Those people always looked down on the warriors from third grade worlds and acted like they were the only ones allowed to feel superior. Every time Jack met them, he felt he was rendered speechless.

The white-robed man grew furious, “What did you say?! Who are you calling a clown? The clown is clearly you!”

The white-robed man absolutely hated those two in front of him.

He clenched his teeth and said, “The two of you are only good at bragging! Who do you think you are, saying that you can deal with this Flaming Rhino alone? Please look at yourself in the mirror before you say things like that.

Do you think you’re that strong? It’s a complete joke!”

The bald man looked at Jack meaningfully.

He had been silent the whole time after hearing what Jack said. He merely constantly tried to measure Jack, feeling like Jack was hiding something. Even though he felt like Jack’s words were a bit absurd and exaggerated, he still did not say anything.

Jack’s lips curled up as he smiled.

He turned to look at the bald man and said, “If you insist on working with me, then do as I say. Restrict this guy for the moment and don’t let him cause any trouble. Stop him from running away as well.”

The bald man frowned and thought about it. After being silent for a few seconds, he slowly nodded, agreeing.

Jack nodded at the bald man and ignored the other two.

His hands started to move as they formed seal after seal. Countless seals started to glow in black light, fusing in the air. After a few moments, a round ring about the size of two palms appeared in front of Jack. That was the Soul Burst Ring.

The Soul Burst Ring was formed with countless seals, and the gray seals had special blood-red seals mixed within. Both seals resonated with each other, giving out a mysterious and sinister aura.

Jack shot up into the air, and the ring slowly spun in front of Jack.

It started to cause the energy around it to spin as well, and even the air started to get distorted.

Jack looked right at the Flaming Rhino, and the Flaming Rhino was looking at Jack carefully at that moment as well. Its intuition told it that Jack would not be easy to deal with, and it started to retreat.

Jack smirked and said, "This is my first time using this technique. I planned on leaving it for the warriors from second grade worlds, but not many of them can really withstand this. You'd be the perfect test subject."

The moment Jack said that, he pushed forward. The Soul Burst Ring rapidly spun, forming a cyclone as it quickly shot at the Flaming Rhino.
