Chapter 3595

The ugly man clenched his fists as he heard that, wanting nothing more than to punch the other man, “Just shut up! I’ll say this again, shut your mouth! Otherwise, I’ll rip it out!” The mustache man laughed when he heard that, “What? You want to hit me? Let’s just forget about what would happen if you broke the rules, even without the rules in place, you would still be no match for me. Stop thinking so highly of yourself! You’re nothing in my eyes!”

The two of them started to argue more and more. The ones around them could no longer take their bickering.

At that moment, someone said loudly, “Hey, both of you! Shut up! Look who’s here!”

The two of them looked over at the same time. Jack was intrigued as well, and he looked toward where that person was pointing. A few men who were quite extravagantly dressed walked over with their heads held high. Those men clearly did not have good intentions. At that moment, someone said, “Those warriors from the Swelling Tide Continent are getting bolder!”

“That’s right! They’re relying on the fact that no one wants to offend those from their world.

However, they can’t keep trying to push the boundaries. Once or twice is fine, but no one can stand it if they keep on doing this!”

“Hey, can you keep it down? Don’t you know how those from the Swelling Tide Continent and the Star Continent are?”

“Those people are really united. The moment they hear anything like this, they’ll definitely come looking for you! It’s one thing if they were just going to cause some trouble, but those people will stick to you like glue, constantly causing you trouble. No one can stand it.”

Jack raised an eyebrow. It was his first time hearing the names of those worlds.

Looking at how those warriors were dressed, they had special symbols on their clothes, so Jack immediately saw that they were from second-grade worlds.

They looked like thugs on the streets. Everyone was obediently queueing up, but they did not seem to care as they walked directly forward.

Jack's intuition told him that there was only one thing they could be trying to do with the way they were acting.

Rudy frowned and said, "It's warriors from second-grade worlds again! Each time they appear, they never fail to disgust me!"

Jack smiled and shook his head, not saying anything.

The few of them walked to the front of the line, and just like Jack expected, they pushed away the warriors that were queueing up, blatantly cutting the line! The warriors around them looked furious but did not dare to say anything.

Quite a few warriors seemed incredibly angry, but no one said anything!

Jack frowned, closely observing everything but remaining silent.

A warrior in front of Jack had never seen that situation before.

He had just arrived at Cloud City not too long ago, and he asked curiously, “Are the warriors from Swelling Tide Continent really so strong that no one dares to do anything to them?”

Everyone around them seemed to either smile bitterly or in exasperation at that.

A man in purple robes said helplessly, “No one would dare to do anything to them. Initially, some spoke up against it. That person was immediately targeted by every single warrior from the Swelling Tide Continent. He was targeted everywhere he went. Those people stick to you like glue and they’re impossible to deal with!”
