Chapter 3598

Case narrowed his eyes at Jack, and his anger soared. However, he slowly calmed down as time passed. Something was wrong with that guy!

It was not like Case had never seen any idiots or anyone trying to put on an act before.

The person in front of him was acting too arrogantly. The man clearly knew who he was, and clearly knew that he was from Swelling Tide Continent as well as the consequences of offending him. That was something everyone there knew.

So how did the man dare to go against him and say all of that?

Was the man not afraid of them seeking revenge?

Was the man not afraid of being tortured?

Unless the man was one of those warriors who stood at the top, there was no other way the man would act like this. Or maybe the man was doing it on purpose!

Otherwise, where did he get all that courage from?

The strongest warriors in the Whirling World were not at Cloud City at all. They had all rushed over to the level two cities, and would not leave that easily.

Those at Cloud City were mostly just the stronger warriors. Looking at Jack, he did not seem to even be at that level.

Case took a deep breath as he started to say, "Aren't you happy you got others to laugh at me? You accomplished your task, didn't you!"

The moment he said that, the laughter diminished quite a bit.

Jack raised an eyebrow, not understanding what he was saying.

Case's expressions had changed quite a few times, and it was unclear what he was thinking. Jack did not expect him to say something like that. It was strange.

Case did not care if Jack answered him or not as he merely scoffed and continued, "You act like you aren't afraid of anything, but don't think we're idiots here. I know most of the really strong warriors, and not a single one of them looks like you. Don't tell me I don't know you because you have a mask on. None of the truly strong warriors would hide their faces behind a mask!"

Jack frowned, completely speechless.

However, he was still curious as to what the other party was getting at.

Case started to raise his voice and say, "Could you think that the others here would regard you more highly because of your actions? You're just being a complete idiot now. Unless you're one of those warriors who stand at the top, how could you have the courage to challenge me and the whole of Swelling Tide Continent?!"

He said all of that incredibly pridefully.

The onlookers could not help but suddenly look thoughtful. Even though they did not like Case, they had to admit that Case was right.

A normal warrior would not have spoken up so harshly even if they were feeling rebellious.

It was as if Jack did not care about revenge from the whole Swelling Tide Continent at all. It was as if Jack was not afraid of anything, but was that possible?

Just like what Case said, Jack was either crazy, or Jack had other motives!

What could the motives be?

Jack could not help but laugh after hearing all of that.

Case really did have a strong imagination to think that he was trying to accomplish some task.

Case coldly said, “You must have been sent by Kendall! I knew he would try and do something behind my back, but I can’t believe he was employing such a lowly method. Honestly, you’ve accomplished nothing other than disgust me! You’re just a dog that belongs to Kendall, what’s the point of barking so loudly? It’s not like you can actually do anything to me!”
