

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3600

All of the warriors there had the same thought in their minds, that Jack was done for, and that the Swelling Tide Continent would never let that go.

Jack's actions had not only challenged Case but the whole continent. With how the warriors from that continent were, they would never let Jack off.

They would target Jack endlessly. Unless that masked man finally dies at their hands, they would never relent!

Some of the warriors were feeling sad for Jack while some were amused.

On the other hand, Jack did not care about how anyone else was thinking at all. At that moment, his full focus was on the stone.

After he stood there firmly, a faint energy enveloped Jack's body, and an old voice could be heard in his mind, "Focus your full attention! Summon up all your true energy and use all your soul energy to fuse with this energy!”

Jack took a deep breath, summoning up all his power as that old voice had said, putting it into that thin energy around him. Time slowly flowed, and the stone finally showed results after about five minutes.

He then looked down and raised an eyebrow. There was a glint of surprise on his face. After that, he heard some laughter.

“I was wondering how strong you were! You’re just trash! Only two crystals lit up. With compatibility like that, there’s no way you’re that strong! Brat, stop trying to put on an act in front of me! You’ve been exposed! You were just ordered to challenge me!

A complete dog!”

Octavius started to laugh as well, mocking, “This guy probably thought no one would be able to expose him if he bragged enough. It looks like he was just completely forcing it!”

“Two crystals being lit up means a twenty percent compatibility. Even though compatibility can’t determine a person’s strength, it’s obvious how weak you are with that level of compatibility! If your compatibility is low, how strong would your technique be?”

Mastering a technique needed talent. A warrior needed to be strong in every way to master a high-level technique. Low compatibility in a person meant that their comprehension was also bad.

They would not be able to comprehend the laws, and only beneath the laws were the attributes.

That was why Octavius said that low compatibility meant someone would not be able to master a strong technique. They were already limited in comprehension.

Jack sighed, he was actually surprised at the result. After all, he was using a storm god rank technique.

He should not have had such low compatibility, but that seemed to be the case. He was only twenty percent compatible.

Jack frowned thinking about it. He suddenly understood, he had not relied on his comprehension to reach where he was. A person needed to advance on their own merits, but Jack's way forward had already been paved by the memories he had, and he just needed to walk along the path. That was why he had advanced so smoothly. All the hardships everyone had were nothing to Jack.

That was why Jack had never noticed his low level of compatibility. If he had advanced himself, he would probably still be at West Cercie State.

Jack sighed, not dwelling on it. There was no point as the results did not change what Jack needed to do.

He slowly walked off the stone.

Rudy was the next in line. He widened his eyes in disbelief.

Jack was surprised at the result, but Rudy had been completely shocked.
