Chapter 3624

Jimmy's anger was already at its limit. He did not like being threatened, but he was powerless in front of someone so strong.

Various emotions overtook him, and it was all caused by that man. He would make that man pay. He would not let that man continue to show off in front of him.

Some sinister plots surfaced in his mind. He already knew how he was going to tell Case about everything.

If Jack knew what Jimmy was thinking, Jack would definitely encourage Jimmy. It was precisely what Jack wanted.

Jack wanted the experts of the Swelling Tide Continent to all appear at the fog battlefield. He wanted to leave a deep impression on them so every warrior there would tremble at the sight of him.

He needed to be thorough. Only when they truly felt the pain would they stop trying to cause him trouble. That was something he had learned in the Whirling World.

With that in mind, Jack smirked. Ever since Case challenged him, his grudge against the Swelling Tide Continent had started.

The entrance to Cloud Valley was enveloped by a radiant and vibrant light. Looking around, there was nothing except that light.

Only one with the Valley Entrance Pass would be able to enter.

Jack looked at Rudy. While no one noticed, he pulled Rudy into Mustard seed again. They were completely shrouded in light, everywhere they went were lights of various colors.

The ground was not even either. Every step he took felt like he was going to fall at any moment. Jack reached out to feel around him. He could even feel waves of energy circulating around his fingers. The air was filled with different forms of energy.

The energy was incredibly pure, formed by the natural laws around them. It was the power of the laws of the world. To condense a world avatar, he needed to absorb all that power into his body, controlling that energy and gathering it around his core.

He needed to control the energy and carve seals around his core with it. The first stage of a world avatar needed ninety-six seals. Jack took a deep breath as he started to form seals. A Soul Burst Ring appeared in front of Jack.

The energy that was formed by the laws of the world would not flow into his body. He needed to control it himself, slowly drawing it in. The Soul Burst Ring slowly expanded in the air, quickly becoming ten meters wide.

The massive ring surrounded a lot of energy that was formed by the laws. Jack focused on himself, using the Soul Burst Ring to slowly absorb the energy into his body.

Crack!

Jack felt his bones crack. The energies were without form, but they felt solid and heavy the moment they went into his body. It slowly reached his chest, and Jack felt like there was a massive rock pressing down on his bones.

His bones could not handle the weight and started to let out cracking sounds. Pain surged through his body. Jack clenched his teeth, immediately circulating his true energy to push a bit of the energy out.

His body had its limits. He could not absorb too much in one go.

Energy the size of a fist had been condensed to the size of a fingernail. He could not be greedy.

The energy was carefully moved to his core by Jack. Jack immediately activated all his true energy to carve the runes into his core!

All of the warriors who entered Cloud Valley would enter an isolated space. They would not be able to see or interfere with each other. At that moment, Case clenched his teeth as he slowly moved the energy into his body.

He was only using an ultimate god rank technique. He could control a lot less energy than Jack. He could control energy the size of a fist, but Case was only able to manage the size of a fingernail.
