Even so, he still felt like the energy was exceptionally heavy and hard to control. When he carved the seals, he was so tired that he was drenched in sweat. No matter what world avatar it was, they still needed to carve ninety-six seals. At that moment, Case had already carved thirteen.

Those thirteen seals had a lot of flaws on them, but Case no longer cared about that. He wanted to focus on carving all of them first.

The world avatar had a unique point to it. Even though ninety-six seals needed to be carved, only fifty-seven of them needed to use a world avatar.

Of course, the more perfect the seals were, the stronger the world avatar would be. However, Case no longer cared about how perfect his seals are. As long as he could make sure that fifty-seven of the seals could be, it would already be quite impressive.

He did not know what was happening outside at all.

“Aren’t you going in?” A black-robed man from the Swelling Tide Continent looked at Jimmy and said.

The man might be from the same world, but he was no match for Jimmy and the others. He was just an inner disciple from a holy grade clan.

Jimmy was among the higher-ranked chosen disciples. The two of them were like an official and a commoner.

Jimmy took a deep breath. The other party had already entered Cloud Valley for two hours. He should have entered Cloud Valley as well since he had an entrance pass.

However, Jimmy stood in place, not moving as he looked right at Cloud Valley’s entrance, deep in thought.

The black-robed man felt like something was wrong with Jimmy. He wanted to curry some favor but was worried he would say the wrong thing.

Jimmy raised an eyebrow and said, "I'm waiting for Case to come out so we can make arrangements for the future."

They could not let that man off. That man would bring disaster to them. Jack had not only humiliated Jimmy but threatened Jimmy as well. With Jack's skills, they could not let him off easy.

They had to kill Jack so nothing disastrous would happen. The black-robed man took a deep breath, feeling Jimmy's expression incredibly scary at that moment. Jimmy looked like a demon that just crawled out of hell, and was waiting for his prey!

"In a bit, help me spread the news. Try to get the stronger disciples. If they don't have anything important, ask them to hurry on over. We can't let that man off, he's too dangerous!"

The black-robed man nodded vigorously. He realized how serious the situation was as well. Jack was like a ticking time bomb in the eyes of the Swelling Tide Continent.

After getting the order, he did not hesitate at all as he gathered up their men to spread the news. Jimmy remained standing in place.

Jimmy looked at the entrance and mumbled to himself, “Who are you? There’s no way you’re someone unknown. I’ll definitely find out who you are. You went against the Swelling Tide Continent, you’ll have to pay the price!”

Jack took a deep breath. After working hard for two hours, he managed to carve three seals. It was just so hard!
