Chapter 151

Rosalynn was talking at a leisurely pace. From time to time, she'd exchange a few words with the dumbfounded engineers to make sure her explanation was spot on Eric's expression went from surprise to confusion and finally admiration.

"Sorry, I didn't major in this field, so my understanding is somewhat superficial. But I hope what I'm saying makes sense to you, Mr. Eric, Rosalynn said modestly in the end. Before Eric could respond, Wayne strode to Rosalynn's side in two steps. Although Rosalynn hadn't asked for his help, he was quite proud of her performance. He also got the chance to show the higher-ups of the Silverman family and Bane Corporation that Rosalynn wasn't just a pretty face-she was pretty badass, too.

"Mr. Eric, I hope my secretary didn't disappoint you?"

"Of course not!" Enc's eyes sparkled "Ms. Tesdal is not only beautiful, but her intelligence is also stunning!"

Heatherway stood where she was, watching Wayne look at Rosalynn with pride and affection, her hands clenched into fists, her long nails hurting until they numbed. What's there to be proud of? Just memorizing the principles and data of a machine?

At this moment, Enc was completely immersed in his curiosity about Rosalynn. He asked, "Ms. Tesdal, do you understand how all the machines here work?" Rosalynn modestly replied, "Only some of them"

Enc's interest piqued he pointed to a complicated looking component not far away and asked, "What about this one?"

Rosalynn checked the serial number, and began another round of enthusiastic chatter.

At dusk, they finally left the factory and got into their vehicles.

The Silverman family arranged a reception dinner, and everyone went their separate ways.

"Rosalynn's throat was a bit hoarse from all the talking.

Sitting in Wayne's car, she took her time sipping water to soothe her throat.

She told Wayne, "Drop me off up ahead. I won't be attending the dinner

Wayne frowned and said, "You performed so well today, how can you not go?"

Rosalynn blurted out. Seeing you and Heatherway together makes me uncomfortable. If you want to have two women by your side, I'm not in the mood to keep you company!"

Wayne was taken aback.

It was the first time Rosalynn had said something so jealous.

Wayne said. "She won't be there tonight."

"Not coming?" Rosalynn was speechless. She thought she had found the perfect excuse, but.

"Yeah, she said she has an appointment with an elder and needs to see her Wayne replied. He didn't ask who the elder was.

"Even so, I still won't go!" Rosalynn grumbled, "I can't drink at these gatherings. My stomach has been upset lately."

"I won't let you drink Wayne wrapped his arm around her waist, gently massaging it. You just need to stay by my side."

If she kept refusing, Wayne would probably blow his top again. Rosalynn had say yes. She turned her head away, her expression cold.

Heatherway found out that Hilaria would be attending a private charity auction the same evening. She originally wanted Wayne to come with her. However, he turned her down before she even finished her invitation. His reason was that he doesn't participate in unnecessary social events like that. Heatherway was furious but couldn't force Wayne to go

The auction took place on the top floor of a seven-star hotel.

Heatherway's glamorous entrance immediately caught the attention of many well-dressed ladies.

"Isn't that the new daughter-in-law of the Silverman family. Miss Heatherway from the Rosso family? someone quickly recognized her

Wayne used to be quite a sought after bachelor in the affluent circles. Many wealthy families wanted their daughters to marry into the Silverman family and thus strengthen the ties between the two powerful families

Chapter 152

But in the end, the Rosso family still had the upper hand. Now, some of the noble ladies who had their sons-in-law snatched away were somewhat unhappy when they saw Heatherway.

However

As Wayne's fiancée, this title alone was enough to deter anyone from messing with Heatherway.

Heatherway politely and gently greeted everyone. Those who were invited to this private auction were all members of the top class. However, Heatherway searched for Hilaria for a while, and couldn't find her.

She wasn't in a hurry though. After putting in some effort, she had secured a seat right next to Hilaria during the auction.

Soon, the auction began Heatherway entered a bit late. By the time she had arrived, Hilaria was already there.

She pretended to be surprised "Old Mrs. Jared?"

Hilaria was wearing a light blue dress, wrapped in a cashmere scarf, adorned with a full set of jewelry, looking elegant and graceful.

"Ms Rosso, we meet again." Hilaria said with a faint smile.

Heatherway smiled slightly

She knew that Hilaria didn't like people with strong intentions, so she didn't act overly enthusiastic

Instead, it was Hilaria who took the initiative to talk to her.

"Why isn't President Silverman with you?"

"When are you two planning to get married?"

Questions like these were all about Wayne.

Hilana felt it was a pity Wayne wasn't here; it would have been even better if he had come

The auction began.

The items for this charity auction were all donated by the noble ladies present. Hilaria donated a bracelet with a starting price of 20 million, and a diamond brooch with a starting price of 7 million.

In the end, Heatherway purchased the brooch for 15 million.

“Do you really like it? Hilaria asked curiously

Heatherway nodded. “When I was a child, I saw an interview you did with a jewelry magazine, and they showcased this brooch. I’ve loved it ever since”

Hilaria smiled softly, and didn’t say much.

“Do you have anything you want to buy?” Heatherway noticed that Hilaria hadn’t raised her bidding sign yet.

“Of course.” Hilaria nodded. “I actually didn’t want to come, but then I saw an item in the catalog this morning, and I really wanted it!”

“Can you give me a hint?” Heatherway playfully asked, like a granddaughter trying to coax her grandma.

“You’ll find out soon enough” Hilaria left her in suspense, and then added, “I’m planning to buy it and give it to a dear little friend”

Heatherway was stunned. “Your granddaughter?”

Hilaria shook her head. “Just a pretty little friend.”

Heatherway felt a little uneasy in her heart.

Two more items were auctioned

Next up was a diamond necklace with a starting price of 10 million. Hilaria, who had been quiet so far, raised her sign. Heatherway was puzzled

She thought the item Hilaria would buy for someone would be worth, at most, one million.

But it was

This necklace was clearly for an adult woman. Who was Hilaria planning to give it to?

In the end, the necklace was sold to Hilana for 17 million

When the hammer fell, Hilana took out her phone and happily sent a voice message.

Heatherway heard her clearly. She said, "Dear, Grandma got you a little something. When do you have time to come and pick it up?"

Chapter 153

At the end of the charity auction, Hilaria also bought a set of top-notch pearl jewelry. There were earrings, necklaces, brooches, and a bracelet. It looked more low key compared to the 17 million-dollar diamond necklace.

The auction was over, and there was a cocktail party.

Hilaria gave a nod to the organizers and left the venue with Calvin. Heatherway saw this and followed them all the way.

She felt that she had a great chat with Hilaria today, and it seemed like Hilaria really liked her too. So she thought she'd take advantage of the situation and find a reasonable excuse to exchange contact information.

As soon as Heatherway walked closer to them, she heard the bodyguard next to Hilaria asking in a foreign language, "Madam, isn't it a waste to give such a valuable gift to someone you just met?"

Heatherway knew that Hilaria had lived in a small country faraway for a long time, and almost all of her confidants, were those who had been with her at that time.

In order to gain Hilaria's favor, she had specially found a teacher to learn the local language. Unexpectedly, the first time she used it was for eavesdropping.

"What do you know?" Hilana was in a good mood and didn't get angry at the bodyguard's question. "Yesterday, I had dinner with that old man Wallace, and he also admired the girl I looked through all the projects she had gone through, and she is indeed a smart one... If she has good character and is nurtured properly, she will have a big future."

Calvin was shocked, "Madam, you don't mean....."

Before he could finish, Hilaria nodded knowingly: "Yes, that's exactly what I was thinking."

She was getting older, and dealing with the complex business of the company was getting more and more difficult.

Although she had hired a very professional management team, she still needed someone to be in charge. Otherwise, her useless descendants would be too worrisome. As they were talking, the elevator arrived.

Heatherway stood behind the screen and didn't follow.

Hilaria had a chosen heir in mind?

She went through all the financial tycoons she could think of in her mind, but there wasn't any clue. But, didn't the bodyguard just say it was someone they just met? So it was a tycoon from the H City?

She bit her lip, not that things were almost settled, and she couldn't let some random person steal it!

One Rosalynn fought her for a man, and now an unknown tycoon who didn't even know how they got to Hilaria's side, wanted to fight her for the heir position!

Rosalynn stayed away from the men's gathering, and hid in the bathroom.

Then she took out her phone from her bag and saw the voice message from Hilaria.

Rosalynn now sort of knew the background of this Old Mrs. Jared.

Well, she studied business in college. Hilaria was a character in her textbook, and people like Maddie Fuller couldn't even compare to her.

She was an unattainable peak, a god overlooking the world.

She wanted to give her a gift?

Rosalynn lowered her eyelids, and suddenly had an idea. If she had allied with her, she could control Wayne, right?

The idea just came up but was immediately suppressed by Rosalynn.

Old Mrs. Jared was just a friend, and she should be grateful for someone's kindness, rather than trying to take advantage of it.

Chapter 154

"Thanks, Old Mrs. Jared, don't worry about the gift. Just let me know when you're going to L City, and I'll be your tour guide if I'm free!"

Rosalynn sent the message

She put her phone away, left the stall. In the bathroom, she washed her hands slowly and tidied up her hair before walking out

Who would've thought that as soon as she stepped out, she saw two people hugging each other in the hallway and passionately kissing

Rosalynn was caught off guard.

The couple, disturbed by the sudden interruption, stopped kissing and looked at her. The man was not a stranger to her, it was Mr. Eric from today. The woman was not from tonight's dinner party

She had a curvy figure and looked well, Rosalynn couldn't really tell because of the woman's heavy makeup

Eric said, "Reserve a room and wait for me."

Eric slipped his business card into the woman's pocket.

The woman playfully scolded him for being annoying, gave Rosalynn an unhappy glance, and walked away, swaying her hips.

Eric straightened the tie that the woman had messed up.

He grinned at Rosalynn, looking like a sly fox

"Sorry to embarrass you, Ms Tesdal. I actually came to see you, but I bumped into this passionate lady Eric said, acting innocent.

"Looking for me?" Rosalynn kept a safe distance

"Eric had had quite a bit to drink. He seemed sober, but there was clearly drunkenness in his eyes

"Yes" Eric walked towards her and very rudely reached for her face.

Rosalynn frowned and dodged, "Mr. Eric, let's just talk, no need to touch"

"You have a hair stuck on your lip," Eric said innocently

Rosalynn moved it away herself, and indeed.

Eric leaned against the wall. He was quite handsome, and his drunken eyes added a hazy beauty to his look. Leaning against the wall, he looked absolutely unbridled “Ms Tesdal, after sleeping with a man for five years, don't you ever get tired of it?” Eric asked

Rosalynn”

She had seen Eric and Heatherway talking a lot today. They seemed to get along very well She figured that Eric was most likely here to persuade, or threaten her into leaving Wayne

“Mr. Eric, I'll leave that question to you!” As Rosalynn spoke, she tried to leave.

The next second, Eric grabbed her hand and forcefully pressed her against the wall.

Shocked and terrified, Rosalynn cried. “Eric, there are cameras in the hallway!”

“Oh “Enc moved closer to Rosalynn until his lips nearly touched hers, but she dodged in disgust.

He lunged but missed, then laughed, ‘Ms. Tesdal smells so good-”

Rosalynn

“Don't worry, I never force anyone,” Eric whispered, “Secretary Tesdal, try someone else. I won't get married, so you'll never have to worry about being a mistress. If you're willing, you can even come live with me in my country. Whatever President Silverman offers. I'll double it!”

In the end. Enc added. “I really appreciate women like you, wise and clever!”

Enc was very confident in his charm. There had never been a woman he couldn't get, it was just a matter of whether it took ten minutes or an hour

Rosalynn laughed. She leaned into Eric's ear “But what can I do? I loathe men like you!”

Enc was taken aback.

Chapter 155

Taking advantage of his confusion, Rosalynn pushed him away and walked off.

Eric quickly followed her I'm not a bad guy. I'm innocent!"

Rosalynn glanced at him contemptuously. "Sleeping with all kinds of women and you call yourself innocent?"

Eric realized what she meant and his face darkened. "Well, you're not much better! I heard that Wayne always treated you like a commodity and even mentioned at a dinner party that he could give you away to someone else to play with!"

Rosalynn's heart skipped a beat

She knew about that incident In fact, she was there in person.

It happened about three years ago. After Wayne had negotiated a cooperation deal with a coal tycoon, they found themselves in a similar situation to tonight's party.

The coal tycoon was obviously a lecher. He couldn't keep his eyes off Rosalynn for days. However, that night, he got drunk and let his true nature show

*President Silverman, I must say your secretary She's amazing! I've been with plenty of women, but I've never met one like her!"

Wayne sat opposite him.

He glanced at Rosalynn and smiled. "Do you like her?"

"Of course!"

Swapping partners was nothing new in their circle.

Rosalynn had only recently witnessed this kind of partner-swapping. Fearing the potbellied coal tycoon, Rosalynn reached under the table to grab Wayne's hand. However, the next moment, she heard Wayne say, "If you like her, I'll give her to you."

Rosalynn felt like she had fallen into an icy abyss and slowly let go of Wayne's hand. The nauseating, potbellied man laughed hysterically and waddled towards her. Just as Rosalynn thought it was the end for her, Wayne intercepted him, smashing a bottle of red wine onto the man's head right before he could touch her

The wine splashed all over Rosalynn's face, as the man fell to the ground, wailing in pain.

The atmosphere suddenly plunged to freezing

“President Silverman. What do you mean by this? The coal tycoon cried out, clutching his head.

Wayne took a hot towel from the table and gently wiped the wine off Rosalynn’s motionless face.

Sean interjected: “What do I mean? You should be grateful for doing business with the Silverman family, and you dare to covet President Silverman’s secretary? In your dreams”

Rosalynn regained her composure and looked up at Wayne. Their eyes met, and there was no consolation in his gaze, only the familiar cold indifference. Subsequently, the contract was terminated.

The coal tycoon’s life also came to an end, with him found dead in a hotel bathtub just half a month later, drowned after getting drunk and slipping into it.

Due to his sudden death, he left no will, and his descendants fought over his assets. Wayne seized the opportunity, took over two of his mines from his widow and indirectly carried on with the business. Except this time, Wayne had full ownership, not just a partnership.

Rosalynn snapped back to reality. She said to Eric, “In that case, why dont you ask President Silverman for me directly? Good luck”

Tonight, Enc was the protagonist.

Feeling disgusted with the whole situation, Rosalynn decided she had no need to return to the party and smile sheepishly. She sent Wayne a message and left in a cab As soon as she got in the car, Wayne called.

Rosalynn hesitated for a moment Did Eric and Wayne already talk?

She picked up the call “President Silverman,”

“Where are you?” Wayne asked

Chapter 156

“The car’s on its way: Rosalynn replied.

"Are you feeling unwell?" Wayne asked.

Rosalynn wanted to say, "I'm fine."

But She didn't want to pass Wayne off

"Headache," Rosalynn vaguely replied. "Carry on with your socializing. President Silverman. I'll be fine after a nap."

"Do you have medicine at home? Wayne asked.

"Yeah Rosalynn answered.

She couldn't help but think of the time when Wayne gently wiped away red wine from her, and that image lingered in her mind.

"I'll be home as soon as possible," Wayne softened his tone.

Rosalynn wanted to say. "Just go back to your house! Leave me alone."

But in the end, all she did was hum in agreement

After hanging up the phone, the radio was broadcasting the news. A tycoon had died in a private plane crash two hours ago, causing a violent explosion and leaving no remains

Rosalynn listened. No remains? She straightened up a bit.

Maybe she could create an explosion too?

"But she had to make it convincingly real and make Wayne believe it. She fell into deep thought.

Back in the apartment. Rosalynn was enjoying a nice hot shower

Tomorrow, the company would hold a meeting related to Energy Corporation, so after drying her hair, she went to the study room to prepare the materials needed for the meeting tomorrow In the meantime, she also sorted out the original presidential candidates for Energy Corporation

The half month rest and the pregnancy made her lazy. After finishing the materials, she didn't want to move anymore, just stretched lazily and crawled into the small bed in the study room.

She was only going to rest a bit, but accidentally dozed off

When Wayne came back, the living room was pitch black

His heart raced. He didn't even take off his shoes, just strode towards the bedroom

The bedroom was also completely dark. When he turned on the light, the big bed was empty.

A wave of panic rushed over him. Did she run away?

Wayne immediately called Rosalynn. Coincidentally, the call couldn't be connected

Wayne panicked even more. He was about to call someone to look for her when he caught a glimpse of the slightly ajar study room door, light shining through. Wayne hurried over, and gently pushed open the door

He saw someone on the small bed. On the carpet next to the tatami, a mobile phone lay

Wayne looked at it and suddenly had a feeling of escaping a disaster.

He went back to the door, took off his shoes and coat, re entered the study, and gently picked up Rosalynn.

When she woke up, she saw Wayne, and unconsciously nuzzled his neck: "You're back?"

It was the same sweet, spoiled voice as before.

Wayne's hand holding her unconsciously tightened. "Yeah, I'm back," Wayne replied gently.

Rosalynn was very sleepy. She just nodded and buried herself in Wayne's arms, and fell asleep again.

In just a few minutes, Wayne's emotions were on a roller coaster.

Back in the bedroom.

Chapter 157

He carefully placed her on the bed and covered her with a blanket. Under the warm light, Rosalynn was sleeping like a log.

Wayne gently brushed her hair and gave her lips a peck.

When Rosalynn acted all cute just now. Wayne suddenly realized what he had lost.

Realizing how she'll never be that tender with him again when she's awake, Wayne felt like his heart was being ripped apart.

After a while. A voice from the depths of his soul asked. 'Is it worth it?'

Afraid of disturbing Rosalynn's sleep, Wayne went to the guest bathroom to take a shower, When he came back, his eyes fell on the bedside table. He walked over and pulled open the drawer

Inside, neatly arranged were condoms

Without any hesitation, Wayne took them all out, turned around, and threw them in the trash

Worried that Rosalynn would pick them back up, he even took the initiative to take out the trash himself.

Although Rosalynn had already refused the idea of having children, Wayne was determined that no matter what she thought, he would do whatever it took to keep her, regardless of how despicable!

He just couldn't couldn't live without Rosalynn anymore.

Turning off the bedroom light, Wayne lay down and skillfully scooped Rosalynn into his arms.

It wasn't long before Rosalynn woke up. She whispered "Wayne, what time is it? You..."

Before she could finish, Wayne kissed her lips.

Using a condom was something that Wayne had always been more proactive about than Rosalynn, so she allowed herself to be loved, and indulged in the ecstasy with him Until the next morning when she woke up, her rationality and memory gradually returned,

All of a sudden, she realized that there was no condom the night before.

"Wayne!" She called out for him

“Hmmp” Wayne woke up. His voice sounded satisfied and delighted

“You didn’t wear a condom last night Yo Rosalynn didn’t get to finish her sentence,

Wayne replied, “Yep, not only last night, I won’t wear it until you’re pregnant,”

“You bastard!” Rosalynn struggled angrily, trying to break free from Wayne’s embrace

But just as she was about to sit up. Wayne forcefully pushed her back, then rolled over and pinned her down.

He had just woken up, and his clanty probably hadn’t fully returned either. As a result, he seemed fiercer than usual.

“You think I’m negotiating with you about having a baby?”

Rosalynn looked at him. A huge wave of grievances and humiliation swept over her and she couldn’t stop the tears from rolling down her cheeks.

Seeing this, Wayne frowned deeply. “What are you feeling wronged about? Am I not allowed to want our child? if you don’t want him to be registered under the Silverman’s family, then”

*Slap

Rosalynn forcefully slapped Wayne

Wayne turned his head away. The room was suddenly filled with only his heavy breathing and Rosalynn’s sobbing “You’re not worthy of being the father of my child Rosalynn said through gritted teeth.

Wayne looked at Rosalynn His eyes were filled with uncontrollable rage.

“Whether I’m worthy or not, you’re going to give birth to my child!”

She hated him so much!

Chapter 158

But it seemed like she used to love him so much. Why did she suddenly stop loving him? Was it all just an act?

Maybe she was fed up, or maybe she was pushed to her limits.

Rosalynn started crying. "Wayne, there are so many people who want to have your babies! You've already got a wife, Heatherway! Why don't you go to her!" Wayne had never seen her cry like this before

The fire of anger in his head had dimmed, and he furrowed his brows, not knowing what to do.

"Rosalynn, do you really not understand?" he asked "I don't just want a child, I want our child! Only with you! Do you understand that?"

"I don't" Rosalynn shouted back "Why should I have such bad luck? Why should I have to be the substitute and give birth to your children? Wayne, you're heartless!" Rosalynn tried to hit Wayne again.

This time Wayne got defensive, grabbed her hand and pushed it right over her head.

Her eyes were red and teary

Wayne said, "Calm down a little bit. He leaned in and kissed Rosalynn's eyes.

But Rosalynn dodged him right away

"Rosa, I've tried my best to be good to you. What do you want from me? Wayne asked helplessly. Rosalynn looked at him silently Finally, she answered, "Do you really want to be with me?"

"Of course, why would I go through all this trouble if I didn't want to?" Wayne replied quickly Rosalynn blinked her red eyes and said firmly. "Then break off your engagement and marry me? Wayne was startled

Seeing this, Rosalynn laughed, "Not possible, right?"

Wayne whispered. "In a few years..."

In a few years, when his partnership with the Rosso family was solidified....

I can't wait that long" Rosalynn interrupted him

She didn't have much hope that Wayne would give up such a huge business alliance for her

But it's good to make him believe that she wasn't the same submissive person she used to be, but now a woman with her own ambitions.

Maybe this ambition, it would completely shatter his unreal fantasy about her?

"Rosa, it's not up to you" Wayne said as he held up her chin and leaned down to kiss her.

Rosalynn tried to turn her head away

But Wayne used more force, and she couldn't break free. She could only let Wayne taste her without any restraint, as if he were savoring a dish.

Rosalynn opened her mouth and trembled, "Wayne, enough..."

Wayne laughed, "Lie back down"

Rosalynn tried to escape, but Wayne held her back effortlessly

He kissed her shoulder and then said, "Don't you think about taking any birth control pills, if I find out. Well, you will be fine, but there will definitely be other people suffer*" Rosalynn clenched her teeth. Then she replied, "I know."

"Good girl," Wayne's big hand patted her smooth stomach.

Rosalynns whole body was tense

Now she understood Wayne really had gone mad

When she started being with him, he clearly said he would never accept having illegitimate children.

But now What happened?

Did what happened to him after his last visit to the R Country to see Olivia make him psychologically twisted?

But why would something that happened over half a year ago only explode now?

Wayne knew too well that Rosalynn only agreed under pressure. But he couldn't care less now. Even if it was forced, she would eventually resign herself to her fate.

At the same time in the penthouse suite of Highland Hotel in the city center.

Eric pushed away the woman in his arms and strode into the bathroom.

Soon, the sound of splashing water came from the bathroom

Eric's face was full of imitation, his muscular arm leaning against the wall, letting the cold water wash over him.

What pissed him off was

Rosalynn's disdain and mockery of him.

Did she think he's a bad guy? How could a woman who made her living by selling her sexuality to Wayne despise him?

Damnit He gritted his teeth tightly

This was probably the first time he's met a woman he couldn't handle

Eric felt that he was a bit insane. Even when he was with the woman outside, all he could think of was Rosalynn. This situation had been going on non-stop from last night until now

It was like he's been poisoned

He showered in the cold water for a while, but it didn't help much

This feeling of losing control of himself made Eric extremely upset.

With red eyes and growing anger, he swung his fist and smashed it hard into the bathroom wall.

Rosalynn! Rosalynn!!

"What on earth have you done to me?"

After calming down for a moment, a coquettish voice came from outside the bathroom,

He turned around and strode out....

Chapter 160

Mr Dave was stunned on the spot.

“Didn’t I just state the obvious? Your relationship with President Silverman is well-known throughout the Silverman Group and Bane Corporation!” Mr. Dave yelled with a hoarse voice

His face was flushed and his neck was thick with anger

Rosalynn looked at him

“Calm down, buddy. I don’t want anything happen to you” Rosalynn smirked. “I didn’t quite catch what you meant just now. Care to explain?”

Mr Dave’s face turned red with shame. A wave of humiliation washed over him.

“You know what I’m talking about! Mr. Dave said, trying to drop the subject. “Anyway, President Silverman...”

“I really don’t. That’s why I asked, Rosalynn cut him off without backing down.

“You

Mr Dave pointed at Rosalynn, trembling with anger.

He felt that Rosalynn was provoking him

Surrounded by so many judging eyes, Mr. Dave slammed the table: “You got your position by sleeping your way to the top!”

There was an uproar around them. Wayne’s face turned even colder.

“Oh, well,” Rosalynn said with a smile, waving her phone at Mr. Dave. “I recorded everything you’ve just said. You will be hearing from my lawyer pretty soon.” “Lawyer?” someone from the Silverman Group chimed in. “Secretary Tesdal, isn’t that a bit too much?”

“You’re not the one being insulted here. You don’t get to decide if that’s too much or not,” Rosalynn put down her phone and said.

“President Silverman!” Mr. Dave looked at Wayne.

“Enough!” Wayne shouted. “Since you all heard about what happened yesterday afternoon, you all knew of Eric’s praise for Secretary Tesdal, would you?” The room went silent. How could they not know?

Enc even posted a photo of him and Rosalynn on a social media platform.

But everyone knew Eric was a notorious playboy. He treated women like collecting stamps

There was once when he was spotted entering hotels with eight different supermodels in one month.

Rosalynn was a bit of a looker. Who knew if Eric was tempted again?

“You guys are hilarious,” Rosalynn laughed amidst the silence.

Everyone looked at her

Rosalynn continued. “The new company has a bunch of problems at the beginning like location scouting, department construction, and so on. No one seems to care about all that, but you’re all fighting tooth and nail for titles Rosalynn glanced at everyone
“Forgive me for being blunt, but even if I didn’t become the president, not many of you are worthy of this position.”

“Youll

“How can you say that?”

“Right, so arrogant!”

There was a chorus of accusations, but Rosalynn acted as if she didn’t hear them.

Three or four people who had been quiet did cast approving glances at Rosalynn, though

The morning meeting ended with arguments

Wayne and Rosalynn went back to his office.

“Are you mad? Wayne asked

Rosalynn kept her head down, her fingers flying across her phone screen. She coldly replied, “No.”

Wayne leaned in closer He saw Rosalynn chatting with a lawyer. Well, it seemed like she wasn't joking about suing

Two days later, Rosalynn was preparing meeting materials in her office when a call from an unfamiliar number came in She glanced at it and hung up Twice the caller tried, and twice Rosalynn hung up.
