The Secret Heir Return To Wealth And Love Chapter 571

Chapter 571

Rosalynn nervously looked at Noah, prepared for his scolding

She knew that she would owe him for the rest of her life for this

But Noah just smiled and said casually,

“I don’t hold a grudge about the past. Wayne is Cory and Ivy’s biological father, and he saved your life. Also, I think the fact you can accept him again means he must have changed a lot, right?”

that

Rosalynn’s eyes turned red, and her voice choked, “Yes.”

“Lynn, I just want you to be happy. If being with Wayne makes you happy. I support you.” Noah looked at her, his gaze as gentle as always.

Rosalynn never expected Noah to have such an attitude towards her reconciliation with Wayne.

“Noah, Wayne owes you in this life. No matter what you need in the future, we’ll help you without reservation” Rosalynn promised.

Noah nodded

Then, they changed the topic to Paige’s whirlwind marriage. The awkwardness that had filled the air when they met quietly disappeared as they chatted.

After breakfast, Noah played with Cory and Ivy for the whole morning. He had a simple lunch before leaving.

Hilaria slowly stood up, "I'll see you cut, and I have something to tell you."

"Okay," Noah replied.

"Don't forget to let me know when you're free. Your birthday is coming up too. If you can't be with your mom and dad, come back, and we'll celebrate for you," Rosalynn reminded him,

Noah smiled and nodded

Then he and Hilaria went outside.

"You've been through so much, kid," Hilaria looked at Noah sincerely.

She knew about Noah's visit yesterday.

She was very familiar with what happened back then and remembered how devastated Noah was when they found him. She also knew how deeply Noah cared about her precious granddaughter.

If Hilaria could decide who her granddaughter's husband would be, she would undoubtedly choose Noah without hesitation.

Unfortunately, she couldn't decide.

Because she knew that Wayne had done many terrible things to Noah, Hilaria worried that Noah would act irrationally when he found out that Rosalynn and Wayne were getting back together.

So, she took the initiative to call Noah, and informed him of the matter in advance and expressed her guilt, offering to give the Jared Group's medical business to Noah as a way of compensation.

With his looks and talent, plus this enormous fortune, he could pursue any woman he wanted, except for Rosalynn,

"President, it's nothing. Human feelings are uncontrollable. After five years, I still haven't been able to win Lynn's heart back from Wayne. In the end, I have only my self to blame,” Noah looked down at his shoelaces, “Even if you didn’t come to me or offer those conditions, I would still bless Lynn.”

“Child,” Hilaria looked at him with sympathy. “With your talents and appearance, you’ll definitely find someone who loves you wholeheartedly!”

Noah looked at Hilaria, smiled, and nodded, “Don’t worry, I will”

As they spoke, Noah reached his car.

He nodded slightly, showing great respect, “Please go back. I’ll check the hospital and write a report for you afterward.”

“Don’t rush, and don’t overwork yourself,” Hilaria said kindly

“Got it.”

“Go on, drive safely.”

Noah nodded, got in the car, started the engine, and slowly drove towards the exit.

The weather was excellent these days.

In the villa community, not only were the public areas filled with blooming flowers, but the homeowners’ gardens were also colorful and vibrant.

Chapter 572

Noah stared ahead and saw the delicate cherry blossom petals that seemed to come from nowhere, landing on his windshield

He was expressionless.

The car left the residential area and drove for about ten minutes towards the destination.

Noah slowly pulled over and parked on the side of the road. His face turned pale, and fine beads of sweat covered his forehead. He took off his watch irritably, revealing a faint scar underneath the strap.

He scratched at the scar in pain.

“Why won’t it just leave me alone!”

Scratching did nothing to help

Noah pounded the steering wheel with both hands, bellowing as he hit it.

This hysterical state was a complete contrast to his usual refined and cultured appearance.

He panted for a moment. The pain and itch of the scar didn’t relent, and he couldn’t help but scratch at it.

It wasn’t until the scar broke open and started bleeding that Noah snapped out of it.

He immediately rolled down his shirt sleeve. Frantically opening the glove compartment, he found a bottle, poured out two pills, and threw them into his mouth. Unable to find any water, Noah had to swallow them dry.

After taking the pills, Noah undid the top two buttons of his shirt and slumped back into his seat, his once beautiful eyes staring blankly at the seemingly endless road ahead.

“Why is it still him?” he muttered to himself

Did she really not care about him at all?

No matter how hard he tried, did she have no feelings for him, not even a tiny bit?

She could love anyone, but why did it have to be Wayne!

Did she love him that much?

Under the influence of the medication, the pain and itching of the wound subsided.

Noah sat there like that for a while before finally sitting up. Retrieving his watch from the passenger seat, he rolled up his sleeve, ignored the bloodstains, and put the watch back on.

His gaze shifted outside the car window. On the roadside, two children were playing with ants under the shade of a tree.

Noah turned to look at the gifts he hadn’t bothered to unload from the car.

In the past, every time he returned from a business trip, he would buy gifts for Cory and Ivy. Ivy was a child who cared a lot about the ritual of unwrapping presents. When she first learned to speak, she told Noah, “Ivy wants to get it from the car herself.”

So, it became a habit for him not to bring the gifts inside when he got home. Ivy would hold her brother's hand, and they would go get them together.

But today, he could tell that both Cory and Ivy were distant from him. Cory was a very rational child, and Noah guessed he knew who Wayne was and had accepted him, so he was more distant from him than before.

Ivy was also extremely cautious.

In the end, Ivy never mentioned the gift, and Noah didn't bring it up.

He went to the back seat, picked up the carefully chosen gifts, and walked towards the children playing with ants under the tree.

The two kids were totally engrossed in their play, and it wasn't until Noah approached them that they finally looked up at him.

Noah handed the gifts to the two children.

Chapter 573

One of the gifts was a puzzle toy, the kind that needed to be put together. The other one was a beautiful dream castle building block set. Both gifts were specially customized by Noah.

"Sir, why are you giving us gifts? The older child was very vigilant.
'My mom works over there, my sister and I won't go with you'"

Noah was a pediatrician, so he was good at communicating with children.

"A god in heaven told me that there are two well behaved children here, so I came with gifts to reward you," Noah said gently. "Keep listening to your mom, okay?"

"A god?" The little sister with two crooked ponytails widened her eyes in amazement. "The god my mom prays to in the church?"

"Yep, you're such a smart little girl." Noah praised.

"Brother, it's really a god, mister knows I'm the little sister! The little sister was overjoyed .

The brother had a look of disbelief.

Was he joking?

There was no god in this world. If there was a god, he and his sister wouldn't be living such a miserable life!

He remained highly vigilant.

“I need to go give gifts to other well behaved children, so I’ll be leaving now.” Noah didn’t intend to linger, and added, “I’m the only one sent by God, so don’t believe anyone else who tries to impersonate me, okay?”

The little sister nodded her head, while the brother remained vigilant.

After making sure Noah had left, the older brother dared to pick up the gifts.

When he saw what was inside, his eyes lit up as if he had discovered treasure.

“These two gifts look expensive! We can sell them and have enough money to buy you new shoes!’ He looked at his sister.

But his sister was already holding the castle gift box, clearly loving it to bits.

He thought about it, decided to sell the puzzle toy, and let his sister keep the other one

What Noah didn’t know was that the two children who claimed to have a mother were actually orphans who had lost both their parents and had nowhere to go.

His unintentional goodwill had kept them from being hungry for a while. Moreover, it laid the seed for his own redemption when he was to fall into the abyss in the future

Soon after Noah left, Rosalynn received a phone call and found out that Maddie had left the country.

“Didn’t I tell you to keep an eye on her? Rosalynn asked in a deep voice “When did she leave?”

“This morning, she should have landed in another country by now. I’ve already got people waiting there to take her into custody as soon as they spot her, the person on the other end said respectfully

While Maddie was under surveillance, she was rather well behaved. When she wasn’t s hopping, she was at home with no friends visiting. As time went on, those watching her became somewhat lax.

That was, until the day she didn’t show up for her usual lunch outing, and they assumed she was just eating at home.

Someone suddenly said, “Eating at home? But the maid who went grocery shopping hasn’t returned yet, has she?*

That comment immediately caught the attention of the person in charge of tailing her, who immediately had someone check Maddie’s passport information.

Sure enough, her departure record popped up.

“Act quietly,” Rosalynn instructed.

“Understood.”

Rosalynn thought for a moment “Before today, did she show any signs of abnormal behavior?”

“No,” the other party answered anxiously. “She even bought a bag yesterday and arranged for it to be delivered this afternoon. She also booked a beauty service for tonight. It didn’t seem like she was planning to run away at all!”

Rosalynn’s eyes grew serious.

Chapter 574

If it wasn’t for Maddie hiding the truth, then either something happened really suddenly, or someone said something to her that made her run away on short notice. “Check her call records from last night until she left today,” Rosalynn said

“Got it!”

The call ended

Do you suspect Maddie sent someone to kill you?” Hilana’s voice came from behind.

Rosalynn turned around What do you think?”

Hilaria

shook her head and waved her hand “Cory told me about the signal thing. First of all, I don’t think Maddie has the financial ability to hire someone from the Viper Organization to kill you, especially since you guys only met twice”

These years, Wayne had taken away Maddie’s real power.

She herself was also extravagant Every month, she relied on the few million Wayne gave her to survive

The Viper Organization’s commission was the highest among assassin organizations, and Maddie couldn’t afford it

“Also, even though Maddie has been suppressed by Wayne all these years, she’s not so stupid as to have herself found by you

“I agree with you, Rosalynn paused for a moment, “But now she didn’t have someone kill me, and ran away instead

“Go back to the hospital, and I will catch her, Hilaria’s voice was low, ‘This is also saving her, if I can’t get her, Maddie will definitely die Someone wanted to frame her. Only the living can explain, so Maddie might be very dangerous this time

While talking, the door of the study was pushed open, and cute little head squeezed in

Rosalynn and Hilaria’s faces changed simultaneously

“Baby, what’s wrong?”

Rosalynn walked towards Ivy

“Mom=”

Ivy came over and softly hugged Rosalynn, nuzzling against her leg: “Granny Hilaria doesn’t know yet, but you agreed to let me see Handsome Mister.”

As she spoke, she looked at Hilana “Dear Granny Hilana, mommy doesn’t hate Handsome Mister anymore, so can you give me my phone back?” Hilaria looked at Rosalynn.

Ivy suddenly understood that her mother had the final say on this matter. With her beautiful big eyes, she looked at Rosalynn: “Mom, please=” “Then you have to promise me not to disturb him all the time”

“Okay” Ivy promised, and rubbed against Rosalynn again. I’m the happiest child in the world, how can I have such a good mother and great-grandmother

“You little rascal,” Hilana laughed out loud.

Rosalynn found herself in a mix of emotions towards Ivy.

She didn’t know who Ivy took after since neither she nor Wayne had personalities like this.

Later, Hilana took Ivy to get her phone back, and Rosalynn went to Corys study.

As she opened the door, Cory and Jaime were talking seriously. Seeing her come in, the two quickly stopped talking. Cory was still calm, but Jaime looked clearly more flustered

“What are you talking about?”

Rosalynn walked over with a smile.

“Nothing” Jaime said awkwardly, shaking his head, “Cory, do you want some fruit? I’ll go get some.”

Cory actually didn’t really want to eat fruits

“Okay, thank you. Uncle”

But he wanted to send his uncle away

Jaime was running like hell.

Chapter 575

Rosalynn sat in Jaime’s chair Your uncle was talking trash about Wayne, wasn’t he?

“Not really trash talk, just telling me what he’s done” Cory looked down, “Uncle Noah’s hand, it’s all messed up because of him.”

Wayne had been brutal.

Noah’s hand, in fact, hadn’t fully recovered For example, when he held a scalpel, his hand couldn’t help shaking, and he couldn’t carry heavy things. From time to time, he would experience a loss of strength in his wrist.

Cory knew all about it.

Previously, he only knew that the bad guys had hurt Uncle Noah. Now, the bad guys turned out to be his and his sister’s father.

Rosalynn didn’t want to defend Wayne, she just said softly. “He really did go too far in this matter.”

Cory didn’t respond

Rosalynn raised her hand and gently stroked his cheek. Cory looked much better today.

“Did you have a nosebleed today? Rosalynn knew he didn’t want to talk about Wayne anymore, so she stopped.

She believed that as long as Wayne was sincere, the father son relationship would eventually improve.

“No” Cory shook his head, “Mom, don’t worry, I’ll be fine as long as I don’t eat fried chicken.”

“You can eat a little less occasionally. Rosalynn felt so bad for him.

Cory had been in poor health since he was a child, and there were many dietary restrictions. He was more sensible than many adults when it came to not eating what he shouldn't "Are you going back to the hospital?" Cory asked.

'Yes' Rosalynn nodded, "There's still blood clot in his brain, and I'm worried about him."

"I'll take good care of my sister and great-grandmother"

"Also, take good care of yourself for me" Rosalynn said gently. "In these days, Mommy will arrange the medical examination, and I'll come back to pick you up later"

Ivy was noticeably happier after hearing that she could see Mom again in a few days

"Baby, about your dad, I hope you don't think too much about it right now, wait until you see him in person and get to know him better, alright?" Rosalynn said gently

"Understood."

Cory nodded reluctantly

"My boy is so great!" Rosalynn gave him a kiss.

Cory looked helpless, but he didn't say anything like hurry up and go.

Rosalynn stayed with him in the study for a while until the hospital called

She was still in the hospital, her body hadn't fully recovered, and she couldn't stay away for too long.

When leaving home, Ivy tearfully sent Rosalynn to the car

"Mom, remember to eat on time, don't stay up late, and think about me and my brother and come home soon."

"I know" Rosalynn kissed Ivy's cheek.

Calvin carried her away.

When they got back to the hospital, the car had just stopped, and someone opened the door from the outside.

Rosalynn looked at the person who opened the door: "President Silverman, you look good? Ready to be discharged?"

Wayne smiled like a goof.

After Rosalynn got out of the car and the car drove away, Wayne naturally held her hand, "Did the kid finish his check-up?"

Rosalynn shook her head. "Noah came, so we didn't go."

A slight surprise appeared on Wayne's face: "Noah?"

Chapter 576

"Yes," Rosalynn glanced at him, "Wayne, remember, we owe him for this lifetime"

"Got it." Wayne agreed.

Back at the hospital floor

The nurse on duty saw Rosalynn and immediately smiled, "Ms. Tesdal is finally back. President Silverman has no appetite for eating when you're not here Rosalynn's cheeks turned slightly red.

She still walked slowly due to her injured knee. When they got back to the ward and closed the door, she was about to ask Wayne what he had done when he hugged her and kissed her.

Having spent so many days with Rosalynn and suddenly being apart, Wayne found it unbearable, even though it was only for less than a day

He couldn't settle down and always had to go outside for walks now and then, thinking his wife might surprise him by suddenly coming back

Finally, when she came back, Wayne, of course, seized the opportunity to passionately kiss her

Rosalynn was kissed dizzy, and she didn't dare to push Wayne away with too much force for fear of hurting his wound

Wayne went crazy kissing her for a while before finally stopping contentedly

Rosalynn stared at him with a dazed look in her eyes, while Wayne lazily fixed her clothes, occasionally lowering his head to give her a gentle kiss

"Honey, you look so gorgeous like this, Wayne said, kissing her deeply again

Rosalynn lightly pushed his cheek. "I've been like this before, why didn't you think I was gorgeous then?"

“I was fascinated back then too,” Wayne hugged Rosalynn, ‘I just didnt know I realized I ater on that I had been infatuated with you for a long time, and no one else would do.”

“Even someone who looks exactly like me?”

“Yes,” Wayne said, and he kissed her neck and behind her ears. ‘It’s not about looks.”

Rosalynn didn’t know whether he was telling the truth or not

But that was okay, as sweet words were always better than indifference.

indiffer

Today, the doctor came to check my wound and said it’s healing very well, Wayne said, clinging to Rosalynn like glue, I really want to get out of here and go home with you. I’ll c ook for you!

“It’s going to be at least another ten days or so, Rosalynn said, stroking Wayne’s hair, I’ll
I be fine soon, and I’ll be discharged in a few days.”

Wayne immediately looked up.

With a pitiful look at Rosalynn, he said, ‘You’re going to leave me here all alone?’

Rosalynn laughed and said. “Wayne, don’t act so pathetic. I have to follow up on the Fre shBite project once it starts, and I can’t always be with you.”

Before, Wayne wouldn’t care about any project.

Once, Rosalynn was talking with a client, and Wayne suddenly asked her to go back to H City immediately to his home. Because the project was very important. Rosalynn brus hed him off. Little did she know, Wayne showed up with a plane and took her back to H City.

The project almost failed because of this.

But now

“Rosalynn” Wayne sat up, “Work! Kid! What about me?”

Rosalynn was startled and laughed at Wayne’s complaining look: “I mentioned that it de pends on the situation, didn’t I?”

“I don’t care!” Wayne frowned,

“On Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays, you stay with the kid, and on Mondays, Wed nesdays, Fridays, and Sundays, you stay with me

After saying that, Wayne added less confidently

Chapter 577

“Maybe we should try to look at it from another angle... Saying this, he started to get angry again, ‘So when are you gonna get a divorce? When are you gonna marry me and let me and the kid live together? Then we won’t have to divide our time anymore!’”

“Calm down a bit”

Rosalynn cupped his cheeks.

He still had a bruise in your head, how could he be so impatient?

“I’m not that young anymore” Wayne leaned his forehead on Rosalynn’s shoulder, “Hurry up and marry me...”

Rosalynn couldn’t help but smile

“You really are obsessed with getting married.”

“It started five years ago, but it’s a pity that Mrs. Silverman found out too late. Wayne said softly.

Rosalynn lowered her head and took the initiative to give him a kiss. Wayne immediately locked like a satisfied puppy, and the dissatisfaction on his face disappeared in a puff of smoke

“Don’t worry, I will definitely marry you!”

Wayne hooked Rosalynn’s neck, wanting to kiss her again.

But at this moment, his phone rang.

“Who is it?” Wayne was annoyed. As soon as he picked up the phone, Rosalynn’s phone rang too..

“What a coincidence?”

Rosalynn raised her eyebrows slightly

She glanced at the caller ID, and her heart skipped a beat.

She looked at Wayne, and they both picked up the phone almost simultaneously.

“What’s wrong?” Rosalynn asked.

With a cold voice, Wayne said merely. “Speak”

“President Silverman, Mrs. Fuller had an accident in another country. Her car rushed down from an elevated bridge, and the local police are fishing her out.” Wayne’s face froze for a moment.

Rosalynn was looking at him, also listening to the person on the other end.

“Gabiella, our people found Maddie at the airport, and she had just rented a car. During the pursuit, her car suddenly went out of control, rushed down from an elevated bridge, and sank into the river... They’re trying to fish it out.”

‘Got it.’

Rosalynn replied, and hung up.

“How did she end up there?’ Wayne asked the person on the other end of the phone.

“We’re not sure, Mrs. Fuller went to the airport early this morning without telling anyone.”

“Let me know when you find out.”

Wayne then hung up.

“Wayne Rosalynn called him.

“Maddie is dead.” Wayne said palely.

“I know” Rosalynn replied.

Looking towards her, Wayne said, “The call you just got...”

“Do you remember Jaime is a hacker? Rosalynn looked at Wayne. Maddie still couldn’t escape this disaster. She had originally planned to wait for Wayne to recover before talking about it, but now she had to mention it in advance. ‘After our accident, Jaime spent a few days tracing the signal location of the phone used by the person who hired the hit-man.’”

“Maddie?” Wayne’s eyebrows furrowed.

“Yes.’ Rosalynn nodded.

“Why didn’t you tell me?” Wayne asked.

On one hand, I was intending to tell you after you recovered; on the other hand, I felt there were many doubtful points, maybe Maddie was being framed. Sol decided to investigate further to avoid accusing her unjustly.”

“Then today’s accident... Wayne’s eyebrows furrowed deeper.

“It wasn’t me. Rosalynn replied, her tone was a bit indifferent. ‘She left the country suddenly today without any warning. My people were indeed monitoring her there, and they were indeed following her when the accident happened. But I firmly believe that Maddie’s accident is not a coincidence, someone wants to make silent forever”

her

go

Wayne was about to say something

Chapter 578

Wayne’s head hurt like hell.

“Wayne!”

Rosalynn exclaimed and hurriedly rang the bell to call a nurse

After some chaos, only Rosalynn and Wayne were left in the hospital room

“The reason I didn’t tell you was because I was afraid this would happen, Rosalynn paused.

The main reason of their painful separation before was Wayne’s lack of trust in her. This time, it was really too much of a coincidence

Just when Maddie had an accident, the person she sent to find Maddie was chasing her “Wayne, whether you believe me or not, I have no reason to kill Maddie, and this incident is definitely not caused by me sending someone to chase her” Wayne was slightly stunned.

Then he held Rosalynn’s hand tightly: “What are you thinking? I’ve always trusted you?”

“Really?” Rosalynn hesitated to ask.

“Of course!” Wayne replied, “With the power of the Jared Group, killing Maddie could have been done without a trace. Besides, you were just sticking up for her earlier

“I was sticking up for her, but the person who hired the killer was so cruel. I don’t want to catch the wrong person and let the real culprit continue to hide, waiting for the next opportunity to hurt the ones I love.”

Cory and Ivy were still so young. Hilaria was getting old too.

And Paige, Jaime, Noah....

“I know.” Wayne gently hugged her. I’m sorry for scaring you just now”

Rosalynn didn’t say anything.

Wayne was silent for a moment I think I should still go aboard”

“Just now, I asked the doctor You can go, but the doctor doesn’t recommend it... How a bout I go?”

Wayne shook his head “It’s okay, I’ll just be careful”

Rosalynn couldn’t convince Wayne.

Finally, they compromised, and decided to wait until Maddie’s car was salvaged before leaving.

But the salvage work did not go smoothly. The river was very wide and had a strong c urrent, flowing into the sea.

Maddie had fallen directly into the center of the river, where the water was very deep

The news of Wayne’s mother falling into the river made it onto the internet before nightf all.

At

first, overseas reports were about a tourist from H Country driving into the river Later, s omeone released the tourist’s identity online.

Soon, people recognized that this tourist was Wayne’s biological mother

“Another accident related to the Silverman family! Half a month ago, Wayne almost died in an explosion, and now his mother is dead. Oh, and his grandmother passed away befor e. It’s terrifying!”

“Are the Silvermans fighting for power? Is the competition among the wealthy really so intense?”

*Power struggle? That’s a joke! If you pay attention to the Silverman family, you know t hat Wayne has the most power who can compete with him? And his mother isn’t even o n his side. To me, it’s more likely that they were hurting each other. Obviously, Wayne w on!”

“I’m not making this up, but have you noticed that all these changes in the Silverman family started when the heir began dating? So, is this the beginning of their decline?”

There was a lot of discussion about this incident online.

After dinner, Rosalynn asked the doctor for some sleeping pills and gave them to Wayne.

Under the effects of the drug, Wayne soon fell asleep, but his sleep was not very peaceful.

Rosalynn stayed by his side, comforting him softly

Paige, who had been on a business trip in a nearby city, rushed back home today.

Chapter 579

“Didn’t I tell you not to come back? Aren’t you tired?” Rosalynn scolded with concern.

Paige glanced at the ward: “Is Wayne okay?”

“How could he be okay?” Rosalynn sighed, “Although Maddie did many bad things, when Wayne’s young, he really treated her as his mother”

“What’s so good about such a mother?”

Paige took out her phone: “Don’t you know about these things?”

Rosalynn took her phone, and her face turned serious

About half an hour ago, someone posted on an anonymous forum, with the title. Let’s talk about those unknown stories about Maddie

Many incidents were listed in the article

Besides some trivial matters, the most eye-catching were the things Maddie did in order to fight with her son for the control of the Silverman Group company “As we all know, more than a decade ago, when Wayne had just taken over the Silverman Group from his grandmother, he had a car accident. During the rescue process, his heart stopped several times. Millions were spent on medical equipment to save his life and he survived, becoming a vegetable for half a year Maddie hired someone for this incident in order to prevent her son from taking over the Silverman Group. (PS: Wayne later found out and moved out of his ancestral home, gradually distancing himself from his parents, but never pursued legal action against his mother.)”

“Another thing after Secretary Tesdal’s plane crash, Wayne was badly affected and hospitalized after vomiting blood. Maddie took advantage of this situation and colluded with people inside the Silverman Group, who were members the Silverman family paid with the money that Wayne earned, attempting to replace Wayne's position (Is this really what a mother should do?)”

The latest gossip: Wayne's grandmother, Natalie Stein, was a very famous jewelry and antique collector. She had a very good relationship with the late Secretary Tesdal, and seemed to regard Secretary Tesdal as her future daughter-in-law. Natalie later developed dementia and may not know about Secretary Tesdal's death, so she left all her jewelry and antiques to Secretary Tesdal in her will. When Maddie found out about this, she led the Silverman family to make a scene at Natalie's funeral, which was so shameless”

Rosalynn glanced through it.

These things were all true. Apparently, it was someone who knew Wayne and Maddie very well that posted it.

So far, it seemed to be someone on Wayne's side. After all, the person who posted the article had always been belittling Maddie

“I know most of it, Rosalynn told Paige.

“Was it really Maddie's doing in the car accident that almost killed Wayne?” Paige was shocked.

She thought power struggles were normal. Weren't wealthy families all like this?

But

Power struggles to the point of killing one's own son were really despicable.

“Yes” Rosalynn nodded, “When I first got together with Wayne, I accidentally learned about it. He was furious that day. It seemed that his men had secretly kept evidence of Maddie doing this.”

“What do you mean? Paige was astonished, “You mean that after Wayne found out, he not only didn't pursue it, but destroyed the evidence?”

“That's right,” Rosalynn replied.

At that time, Wayne might have been very conflicted as well, after all, that was his mother, what could he do?

And at that time, Wayne knew very well that his background was a heavy blow to Maddie.

“It's absurd. He's lenient to Maddie who hurt him, but he treated you like that.” Paige hugged her arms angrily

“You came back. Does your husband know?” Rosalynn asked.

“I didn’t tell him...” Paige looked a little guilty. She drove back by herself, speeding all the way.

“I was really worried about you, Paige held onto Rosalynn’s arm, “Maddie brought it on herself, she deserved it!”

Rosalynn didn’t answer

Paige didn’t go home that night and slept in the lounge. She was already very tired that day, and fell asleep after talking to Rosalynn for a short while.

Baillie couldn’t get in touch with Paige.

So he called Rosalynn.

When Rosalynn picked up, she found out that Baillie didn’t know Paige had come back and went to find her on her business trip.

Chapter 580

“She was worried about me and drove back by herself, Rosalynn said helplessly “I guess she was just too tired, she’s asleep now”

I’m relieved she’s with you Baillie

a sigh of relief

“Paige might not be used to being someone else’s wife yet, give her some time, Rosalynn said get it Baillie replied. “By the way how’s Waytie?”

“No womes, he had a headache for a bit, but he’s asleep now”

“That’s good Sister in law if there’s anything you need my help with, just let know Haillie said

“Don’t worry I won’t be shy about asking for your help

After the phone hung up, Rosalynn let out a long sigh

Maddie was dead

That thought weighed heavily on her mini

She couldn’t sleep, so she went to the small balcony in hospital room and checked her phone

Articles about Maddie had already been reposted from the anonymous section to Facebook and Twitter

The comments were all shocked

“If what the author says is true, I can only say Wayne is really pitiful. No wonder he grew up like this and looks so terrifying”

“Oh my God Wayne was only twenty when he had the to help her cover it up must have been so painful

Rich family fights, I have a new understanding of human nature?

and became a vegetable, right? Knowing that his own mother wanted to kill him and still having

Aside from those who seriously discussed the event, then were some people talking about love

“Am I the only one who noticed the love story in the article? Secretary Tesdal’s death and President Silverman vomiting blood and going to the hospital is actually true! He must have loved her so much that he was heartbroken to the point of vomiting blood

“What a pity for Secretary Tesdal! If she were alive, not only would she have the love of a handsome and affectionate domineering CEO, but she would also inherit so many jewels and antiques. She and President Silverman are both so good-looking their children would definitely be super cute and beautiful. What a shame!”

“All of it is fate, I guess

Rosalynn’s eyes became moist as she read

At this moment, Jaime sent her a message.

“The address of the original poster was from a small country in R Country, I guess it’s fake”

“Sis, was Wayne’s past really that miserable? No wonder he became a devil. You better teach him well in the future, and... I’ll try to be nicer to him too.”

“It’s so sad that he had a mother, yet he ended up worse off than me who doesn’t have one, right?”

Jaime seemed to be forever a contradictory person, sharp tongued but kind hearted.

He hated Wayne during the day, but now that he pitied him, and was willing to be nicer to Wayne.

“If you feel sorry for him, you shouldn’t bad-mouth him in front of Cory that much,” Rosalynn replied.

Jaime Good night

Rosalynn could almost imagine Jaime angrily typing on the keyboard.

Just about to head back in, the balcony door opened.

Rosalynn turned around to see Wayne, her eyebrows relaxing as she smiled and pretended to be surprised, “Well, you found me.”
