The Divorced Billionaire Heiress chapter 2614-Noah suddenly interrupted Aida.

Selena paused.

It was a bit difficult to get away with it.

It seemed that she must try this drink.

Aida wanted to say something, but Selena smiled and said, "Okay, I'll try it."

The moment the strong and sweet liquid entered her throat, Selena felt as if a hand was strangling her neck. She shook violently, and the deep pain in her heart spread throughout her whole body.

At this moment, her blood seemed to flow backward.

Her face turned pale instantly.

She put down the cocktail glass and looked at Noah with dark and empty eyes.

Her heart was beating violently with unspeakable panic and fear.

Why?

That was because she tasted pollen in the cocktail. 1

Selena was sensitive to the ingredients in drinks. She ran a bar, so she knew what a drink tasted like with pollen in it.

Back then, when Eric held the banquet after their wedding, they deliberately spread rumors that Selena was allergic to pollen in order to catch the suspect.

However, the suspect did not take the bait at that time.

They thought that the suspect was not among the group they invited.

Unexpectedly, it turned out to be this man in front of her.

Pollen allergies could lead to suffocation.

Noah really wanted his daughter to die!

Selena's heart clenched. Even her breathing became a little difficult.

She was not allergic to pollen, but her reaction was stronger and more obvious than any allergic reaction.

Selena's face flushed red, and her breathing was labored.

Aida immediately noticed that something was wrong and went to support Selena.

"Mrs. Ferguson, what's the matter? Is something wrong? Is there something wrong with this drink?"

Noah rolled his eyes at Aida.

"Don't talk nonsense! Your husband and I personally checked the drinks here. How could there be any problems? Maybe it's because of the alcohol. She's just not used to it. Get someone to take her to the lounge to rest for a while."

"But this isn't normal. Why don't you call Mr. Ferguson to come over and have a look? Ask someone to call a doctor."

Aida took out her phone and planned to make a call.

Noah snatched the phone from Aida and threw it on the ground. He stared at Aida fiercely.

"Don't you understand what I'm saying? Take her to the lounge first and leave her there alone. Why are you making a fuss by calling a doctor? It's my brother's birthday. Are you trying to ruin the party?"

Aida looked at Noah in shock.

Usually, Noah could still maintain a superficial politeness.

However, Noah dared to do this. His bad attitude seemed to trigger the release of the demons in his heart.

Some people around them heard the commotion.

Noah was very good at pretending. He turned his head to joke with others and smiled helplessly.

“She had too much to drink. It’s okay. Carry on...”

Aida held Selena’s hand and comforted her patiently.

“It’s okay. I’ll call someone for you.”

Selena just held Aida’s hand. She had already regained her senses and calmed down.

What she was facing was not her father, but a demon.

He was a demon that destroyed her and her mother.

He was a devil who pretended to be human for twenty years and wanted to kill his daughter at her wedding.

If it was not for that cocktail, Selena might never have known who her biological father was.

Was the way Noah looked at Aida and the way he ordered Aida to accompany him to socialize the same way he treated Selena’s biological mother twenty years ago?

Countless sorrows flooded Selena’s heart in an instant.

The heaviness and sadness she felt were about to overwhelm her in an instant.

The words in her mother’s diary drilled into her mind one by one.

Selena seemed to feel the despair between those lines, and it was brought by the man in front of her.

Mr. Stanton was Noah.

Noah saw that Aida was dallying, so he walked over and pushed her away.

“I’ll help her. Leaving her here will just affect everyone’s mood.”

“Uncle Noah, don’t forget where we are right now. She is Eric Ferguson’s wife, not just a random woman.”

Aida’s eyes were cold as she warned Noah.

Noah paused, then chuckled.

“What are you thinking of? Of course, I know that she is Eric’s wife. I’m close to Eric, which you aren’t aware of. I won’t do anything to her. I’ll just take her to the lounge. If you don’t believe me, you can come along!”

Of course, Aida was worried.

She looked around but could not see Grant and Nicole anywhere.

If Noah took Selena away and something happened to Selena, the consequences would be disastrous.

Aida had to follow them.

She was about to leave while holding the hem of her dress when she accidentally bumped into someone.

“Aida, why do you look so angry?”

Kai supported her.

Aida looked at Kai as if she found a savior and instantly felt relieved.

“Kai, hurry up and find your elder brother. Quick! Noah took Mrs. Ferguson away. I’m worried that something will happen to her. Mrs. Ferguson is feeling unwell...”

She spoke incoherently and chased after Noah and Selena.

Aida would have taken other people with her if she was not worried about making a fuss.

Kai frowned tightly. “Mrs. Ferguson is unwell...”

He paused and did not dwell on it. Then, he immediately went to find someone.

Aida watched as Noah took Selena to the innermost lounge.

The door was not locked.

Aida breathed a sigh of relief and pushed the door open.

She watched as Noah put Selena on the sofa.

Selena was not in the right state. Her eyes were dull and dazed, and her face was flushed, but her lips were white.

She was breathing heavily as if she was really having an allergic reaction.

On the other hand, Noah stood motionless not far away and watched with cold eyes.

He did not care about Selena's survival.

Aida walked over. "Mrs. Ferguson, are you okay? Are you allergic to something? Or is this an asthma attack? Do you have any medicine with you?"

Selena's tears flowed out in a daze.

She tried to control her emotions, but she could not control her heart.

Selena had to continue this act until Noah showed his true colors.

She shook her head at Aida.

Aida sat there worried and planned to pour her a glass of water.

"Don't worry. I'll call the doctor right away."

Before she could hand over the water to Selena, the glass was snatched away and fell to the ground.

The carpet instantly became wet.

Noah locked the door and came back, looking down at them.

Aida raised her head in shock.

“Uncle Noah, what are you doing? Couldn’t you see that Mrs. Ferguson isn’t feeling well? If something happens to her here, do you want Eric to turn against our family?”

Noah sized up Aida lewdly.

“You have a way with words, huh? No wonder you can bewitch Grant. You’re just like Selena. You two have the ability to enchant people. Eric liked Nicole before, but now he likes Selena. He probably just thinks this woman is easy to handle. Otherwise, why didn’t he choose among the many well-matched women but chose this b*stard child instead?”

When he said this, his cold and stern eyes fell on Selena.

It made Selena shudder.

Hearing this, Aida was furious.

She stood up abruptly.

“Noah Stanton, do you know what you are saying?!”
