The Divorced Billionaire Heiress chapter 2629-Chapter 2629 Don't Remember

Clayton talked to Chatty about studying abroad.

Chatty agreed without hesitation.

He asked her where she wanted to go, to which she replied that she was fine with anywhere except France.

Clayton pondered for a while before asking, "Are you reluctant about France because of Fischer?"

Chatty's eyes turned red.

"I don't remember him at all. Daddy, don't mention him!"

She felt aggrieved.

Chatty grew up with him, and he suddenly disappeared one day.

It felt like a dream.

That person was no longer behind her. Fischer was no longer around.

Chatty missed him very much, but Fischer did not even say goodbye.

Clayton touched her head and looked at his daughter in distress.

"Chatty, now that you've grown up, you should know that Fischer had no choice but to leave. He also couldn't contact you, so if you see him in the future, don't blame him."

Chatty stubbornly turned her head away, pretending not to care.

She was the apple of Clayton's eye, so when had she ever suffered any grievances?

Clayton would be terribly distressed when she cried sometimes.

Chatty had all the power that Stanton Corporation and Clayton had, so she did not have to suffer one bit.

However, when she was older, she thought of her friend whom she could not forget. When she wanted to contact him, she found that the phone number she used to reach him had been disconnected.

Chatty felt abandoned.

Now that Chatty decided to go abroad, Clayton contacted the school for her.

In the end, Chatty still went to Europe.

It felt like someone was waiting for her in the dark.

Before leaving, Chatty said goodbye to her classmates and broke up with her seven “boyfriends”.

When she went to the airport, everyone in the Stanton family went to see her off.

Chatty was not that sentimental. She thought of it as traveling abroad with her parents. However, this time, she would be staying there by herself. She was looking forward to the freedom.

The beautiful little princess of the Stanton family waved at the others. Clayton and Nicole were planning to send Chatty to France with Clyde.

The family of four had just entered the boarding gate when they heard a clear and anxious voice.

“Chatty!”

Chatty turned her head and saw Chance running over in a panic. He looked miserable, and his face was a little pale. His eyes were calm from his suppressed emotions.

“Are you really leaving?”

Chatty nodded, smiled, and said, “Chance, thank you for taking care of me all this time. Oh, have you read my breakup letter?”

“I didn’t.” Chance seemed a little angry.

“Oh, then you should go back and read it. I ended the contest early, so we’re breaking up.”

Chatty did not regard this relationship seriously.

She was just playing because it was fun.

It felt like a game that her parents often played with her and her younger brother.

Chance's face paled slightly. He wanted to say something, but there were too many people around. It was also difficult for him to say it in public.

Levi knew about his best friend's feelings for his little cousin.

However, Chatty was still young, so she would not think about love.

Levi stepped forward, smiled, and hugged Chatty.

"Call me when you get there and tell me if you need anything from here. I'll send it to you!"

Chatty nodded happily, smiled gorgeously, and looked so carefree.

"Okay, take care! Come and visit me when you guys are on vacation!"

Chatty waved her hand and walked toward Clayton and Nicole.

Chance walked two steps forward. "Chatty, will you forget me?"

He anxiously waited for the answer.

Chatty smiled, turned around, and blinked.

"Of course I won't! Chance, you treat me better than my big brother!"

When she was with Chance and Levi, Chance was more attentive to her than Levi ever was.

Chatty waved her hand. Chance stood still with a smile on his face.

"Wait for me! I'll go over to find you soon!"

Chance shouted. However, it was a pity that Chatty was busy catching a plane, so Chance did not know whether she heard him or not.

Levi went over to pat Chance on the shoulder and sighed.

The plane landed.

Chatty received many wishes and farewell messages from many people.

She looked at the clear blue sky and felt that it was no different from Mediana's.

Clayton bought a villa near her school. He could not bear to see his daughter living in a miserable dorm.

He also found more than 20 servants to serve Chatty in case she would be lonely and afraid at night. The surrounding houses were also bought and housed with bodyguards to protect her.

Clayton had already arranged so many personnel for Chatty, not to mention the covert ones.

Chatty's grades were good. She was smart and quickwitted. As long as she wanted to learn, these courses were not difficult for her.

However, Clayton still donated a building to the school. This was so that the school would pay more attention to his daughter and would not let her get bullied.

Nicole took Clyde's hand and walked around the school with Chatty.

Clyde was too naughty and always ran around. He was cute and tender, and he liked to act like a baby. He was exactly the same as when Chatty was a child, so no one could bear to reprimand him.

However, Clayton was not as patient with Clyde compared to when he was with Chatty.

Once, Clayton personally tutored Clyde and lost his patience after Clyde made him so angry that his stomach ached.

It turned out that not all children could make him into a loving father.

This brat was his enemy!

"Daddy, Mommy, I want to stay here and go to school with Chatty!"

Clyde jumped up and down happily.

Clayton sneered.

“Great! You can stay here. That way, I can finally live alone with my wife!”

Clyde ran behind Clayton again.

“But I can’t bear to part with Daddy and Mommy!”

Clyde was so cute when she acted like a baby. However, he was also vicious when he beat people up.

The students in his class were all afraid of him when he waved his little fists.

Clyde never reasoned with others and beat up anyone who provoked him.

No one knew who Clyde inherited this temper from.

Clayton and Nicole reflected on themselves, and they both felt that they were not that violent.

On the contrary, Clyde reminded them of Kai.

Chatty got tired after walking halfway around the campus, then she went back with them.

“Daddy, Mommy, don’t worry about me. I’ll definitely tell you in time if I need anything.”

Although Clayton had made all the preparations, he was still very reluctant to part with his daughter who grew up riding on his shoulders.

When Clayton left, he even wiped away his tears. “If you’re really unhappy here, you can come home. You don’t have to study...”

Chatty and Nicole looked at him speechlessly.

Clayton was so fragile!

When they left, Clyde waved at his sister.

“Good luck, sis! You’re the best and most beautiful sister ever!”

Chatty also waved at him. “Good luck, bro! You’re also the best and most handsome brother ever!”

Everyone got on the plane. Clayton watched as Chatty left, and he looked so reluctant.

“She just left like that? She didn’t even look back!”

Nicole shook her head helplessly.

“She already sent us to the plane. It’s not like she will never come back again. Don’t be so fragile, okay?”
