

Genius 2661

Chapter 2661

Green Shadow sensed the movement outside and she frowned slightly.

“Really, you’re a handful of years old and you’re still playing such childish tricks!”

With that she held the cactus in her hand and leapt off the clean white quilt.

At this moment the sleeping Lin Mo also seemed to have a premonition of something, yet just as his eyelids shrugged and he was about to turn awake.

With a small wave of the green shadow’s hand that walked to the door, Lin Mo fell back into a deep sleep.

“You’re tired, rest well!”

When the door of the room closed again, holding the cactus small green shadow only came to the corridor.

At that moment, the leader of the a*sa*sins, with a group of his men, came to Lin Mo’s floor from the front and back stairs.

However, there was already a little girl of six or seven years old standing here, blinking her big eyes and looking at them quietly.

When his men saw the leader’s puzzled face, they hurriedly explained.

“Leader, this is the little girl Lin Mo has been leading all this time!”

The leader of the a*sa*sins at the head nodded indifferently and said in an icy voice.

“Since that’s the case, let’s kill them all together!”

Just as he finished speaking, the men beside him drew their three-inch short blades and walked towards Green Shadow.

“Little girl, don’t blame me, you can only be blamed for following the wrong person, go to hell!”

With a cold voice, the cold blade slashed towards Green Shadow’s neck.

At the moment of life and death crisis, Green Shadow’s pretty face turned cold: “Noisy!”

With that, her delicate arm was slowly raised towards the front.

As her small hand squeezed, the pupils of the killer in front of her instantly dilated and power appeared out of nowhere on all sides, as if to crush him into a piece of meat cake.

“Uhhhhhhh ....”

Fighting for help, all that could come from within his throat was a hiss of pain, and under the horrified gazes of his other companions, he exploded straight into a puddle of blood.

By the time the green shadow looked at them again, the killers were backing away, and when power surpassed perception, the result was intense fear.

“Is this still the power that human beings can achieve?”

“This is too strong, leader why don’t we retreat first.”

They could understand if the other side was holding a gun and directly killing their companions, but what they saw in front of them was too terrifying.

It was like a handful of bones!

When the leader heard his men’s request, he was also a bit moved, he was also afraid to face such a powerful opponent.

Being mentally strong does not mean that he is not afraid of death!

But the leader gritted his teeth and commanded his men in a gloomy voice, thinking of the family head’s iron order.

“There are so many of us, we can’t be afraid of this little girl, kill him!

We can pile him to death even if we pile him up!”

If this matter could not be completed, given Kong Lao’s emotional state today, they would be dead if they returned.

They would die either way, so they might as well fight it out.

As his men rushed forward, the leader quietly pulled out the pistol on his waist.

Pop!

With a gunshot, the bullet flew through the crowd and aimed at the green shadow’s head.

“I don’t believe that you can even catch a bullet!”

Just when he was full of confidence, the little girl suddenly turned her head towards him and smiled, and although that childish smile was sweet, the leader felt his heart pumping and his blood flowing backwards.

As for the bullet, when it was about to penetrate the little girl’s temple, it suddenly stopped and hovered silently in mid-air.

“How is this possible?”

Along with an incredulous shout from the assassin leader, the bullet also suddenly reversed its direction and flew backwards at a faster speed, not giving him any chance to dodge at all.

He could only watch as the bullet pierced through his eyebrow and, with a look of horror, collapsed to the ground.

It was dark and windy, just the time to kill!

By the time the innkeeper and the lady who bought the biscuits arrived on the first floor, the room was already flowing with blood, except for a little girl with a cactus in her hand sitting docilely on top of the railing of the corridor, while her other hand was stroking the little flower cat that she had not been able to catch before.

Chapter 2662

Upon seeing Green Shadow, the two immediately bent down with awe and bowed their hands.

“Wei Wuji has met the girl!”

“Cui Lanhua has met the girl!”

Although the two old men were top-tier powerhouses in the a*sa*sin world, they were as docile as kittens in front of the petite Green Shadow, not daring to pant much even if their breaths were heavy.

The green shadow still swayed her feet, a coldness flickering in her eyes.

“Bai Xiaosheng, Granny Saffron, since you have been banished, I will not pursue all your past crimes.”

Hearing this, the two of them could not help but breathe a sigh of relief, the first moment they saw the green shadow, they were afraid that it had come to hunt them down, now this big stone hanging in their hearts could finally fall to the ground.

“Bai Xiao Sheng, what is the origin of this group of people?”

As soon as he heard Green Shadow’s question, Wei Wuji, the Hundred Dawn, hurriedly fawned over him and explained.

“This group of rookies from the a*sa*sin world came from the Kong family, after Lin Mo killed Kong Xianzhuo, the Kong family sent them over with the intention of taking revenge.”

“How dare the tiny Kong family be so reckless, follow me to exterminate them.”

At these words, Wei Wuji and Cui Lanhua’s faces changed greatly.

“Miss, no, no, we on the mountain cannot so strike out at people of worldly power.

If we strike out and destroy the Kong family, those people will definitely be on our backs.”

He was already a condemned man who had been expelled, and if he made another mistake, he would definitely be hunted down again.

When Green Shadow was reminded by Pao Xiaosheng like this, and thinking that she had also escaped, she simply gave up as well.

“In that case, what about the rest of those people? Have you dealt with them cleanly?”

A few rats just escaped from my hands!”

“There are a hundred or so left, and the butcher’s side will finish dealing with them.”

As he was speaking, several blinding headlights suddenly cut through the night sky.

Sensing the fury on Green Shadow's face, Wei Wuji hurriedly stated.

"Sit down first, girl, I'll be right there."

After saying that, his figure disappeared from sight, leaving only a breeze in place before he reappeared a dozen seconds later.

"It's Lin Mo's best friend, the Prince of Hai Cheng, who should have received the news to come and support Lin Mo!"

"Well, in that case, let the butcher call it a day! It's just as well to let this man take on such an identity for us."

Green Shadow snorted and gave the flower cat a small slap, waiting until after the latter lazily stretched out and left, she faintly instructed.

"I'll trouble you to clean up here, I'll sleep first."

"Have a good rest, girl, good night."

.....

On the other side, the speeding caravan drove into the city of Heshan at speed.

"Brother what's going on, how come he's not answering his phone, I'm in a hurry!"

"Can you f*cking drive, go faster, if anything happens to my big brother, none of you will have a good time."

Along with his grumpy and angry shout, the speed of the caravan went up a notch again.

Morrow Street!

Meng Kui's naked upper body was clad only in a black leather perimeter group as he walked slowly towards the hotel with an expectant face.

"It's been a long time since you've drunk human blood too!"

After saying this, the killing knife in his hand quivered in obedience, a source of excitement conveyed.

"No hurry, no hurry, it's coming!"

After appeasing the spirit soldiers, he was just about to strike when the roar of an engine suddenly came to his ears.

Before he could react, Bai Xiao Sheng also arrived beside him.

"The girl has orders, leave everything that follows to Lin Mo's friend!"

Butcher's originally excited expression suddenly spanned.

"Huh? I've got these trousers down, and now you're telling me to stop?"

“This is the girl’s order, if you feel dissatisfied, make up your own mind, anyway, my words are brought to you.”

Although Butcher Meng Kui was extremely reluctant, he didn’t dare disobey Lord Green Shadow’s orders.

“F*ck, bad luck!”

After spitting, he could only fondly retreat back into the shadows.

Chapter 2663

The ear-splitting sound of brakes cut through the silent night.

The Crown Prince, pistol in hand, leapt straight out of the SUV.

Originally his aim was Pan Yang, but not long after he had separated from Lin Mo, Zhao Yu received a message from Elder Zhao: the Kong family had sent an a*sa*sin to a*sa*sinate Lin Mo.

After learning this news, the prince could not sit still. Without saying a word, he directly asked Zhao Yu to arrange a car for him, and then he killed his way to the city of Heshan.

“Who are you people? The Kong Family is on business, so if you know what you’re doing, then go to hell!”

On the side of the Kong Family’s a*sa*sin group, instead of receiving a message from the leader, a group of strange forces were ushered in.

The prince sneered, rushing over in a hurry just to kill someone, really had the heart to bullsh*t.

“Laozi is looking for this group of pussies, give me a fierce fight!”

With a command, countless fire snakes began to pour out bullets frantically.

Although the Kong Family a*sa*sins were not ordinary, they were only mortal bodies, so they could not withstand such fierce firepower.

In just one exchange, more than forty bodies were left on the ground.

Seeing that the situation was not good, a kind of a*sa*sin could only speedily withdraw behind them.

“Boss, they’re trying to escape!”

“f*ck you, I’m not blind. Tie Dan you go and lead the men to close this place, the others follow me and chase after them, today I will make them all stay here.”

As the Crown Prince finished his murderous speech, the sound of roaring engines exploded into the starry sky.

In this way, the Kong family’s killer group ran for their lives all the way, with the Crown Prince leading his men in wild pursuit.

“Up ahead is the Ding Family’s dock, everyone hurry and hide inside!”

Inside the Ding Family’s Pier 67, scattered security personnel were still patrolling the surrounding containers with torches to prevent theft.

“It’s too D*mn cold for this weather, how about we have a few whole cups in the warehouse later, old Fang-head?”

Just as the inspector was planning to slack off towards his companion, the sound of gunfire suddenly came from the distance, and it was coming from far away in the direction of their dock.

“F*ck, old Fang Tau, let’s hurry over to the gate.”

In a flash, all the pier’s inspection as well as security personnel gathered at the pier’s main gate.

After waiting for a while, the sound of gunshots got closer and closer.

Seeing a dozen of black-clad men fleeing in disarray, running towards their direction, the crowd on the pier directly raised their guns.

The leader, Manager Kang, didn’t want to waste bullets and shouted directly.

“This is the Ding family dock, you want to fight, go to hell.

If the ripple affects the goods at our wharf, I’ll buy you peanuts.”

Just as he finished yelling, the pace of the group of black-clad men on the opposite side picked up again.

“Manager Kang, Manager Kang, we are from the Kong family!”

Hearing this, Manager Kong’s face changed, then he raised his hand to stop his men who were about to start robbing, and when the two sides got closer, he frowned and asked.

“What’s going on, what kind of person has eaten his heart and leopard’s guts, even your Kong family’s people dare to chase and kill.”

“We’re not sure where the other side came from, originally a few of us were just on a family mission, but we didn’t expect this group of people to kill out of nowhere.

We had no choice but to ask Manager Kang for help.”

“It’s no problem, our two families are already working closely together, so go in and rest for a while.

I, Old Kang, would like to see what the other party is.”

As Manager Kang finished speaking, the crowd at the pier gave way.

By the time the prince’s caravan arrived, the Kong family killers were already hiding at the pier.

When the Prince jumped out of the car, he saw that there were AK rifles on the pier wall and the gate was full of strong men with firearms, so he sent word to everyone to put away their firearms and then walked up to the front alone.

“Ironmen, a personal grudge, please make way!”

He was not sure where the other party was coming from, and the Prince did not want to actively invite other trouble, so he could settle the chicken peacefully.

Chapter 2664

The Prince himself did not want to invite other troubles, but the other party did not give face.

“Get lost! This is the Ding family dock, what if every cat and dog barges in and we lose something?”

The prince shrugged and scowled.

“So there’s no negotiation?”

“I’ll negotiate with you. If you don’t get lost, I’ll buy you some peanuts.”

Manager Kang directly pulled out a pistol and put it against the crown prince’s head.

“Fie, what the hell, dare to come to my Ding family’s territory to cause trouble, do not take a P*ss to see what you are capable of.”

The prince felt the cold chill coming from his brow and suddenly grinned, after slowly raising his hands, signaling his men behind him to calm down.

“This uncle, sorry for the disturbance!”

Manager Kang saw the prince concede before he put away his pistol.

“Hahahaha, I thought it was some great guy, but it turns out to be just a goon!

Brothers disperse disperse, what a f*cking waste of time.”

At these words, the crowd under his command followed suit and jeered together.

When the Prince returned to the caravan, the men came forward with faces full of confusion and asked.

“Boss, let’s just let it go.”

According to the Crown Prince’s past style, being mocked would have done something long ago, let alone being held at gunpoint like this.

“Forget it? Forget about it, I originally wanted to deal with it peacefully.

Since they want to die, I’ll let them do it, D*mn it if they dare to put a gun to my head, destroy them for me.”

The following sentence was completely roared out by the Prince.

When Manager Kang heard the commotion, he also realised that the situation was not good, but just as he was about to speak up, the sound of gunshots already rang out one after another behind him.

Protected by his men, Manager Kang was lucky enough to escape the first round of strafing and flee into the dock afterwards.

“f*ck, where’s the rash, the Ding family’s pier dares to open fire, give me counter-fire, blitz them to death, I’ll shake the men.”

Under the gunfire, the dock walls were densely packed with guns, and from time to time, people were hit single-handedly and fell headlong to the ground after a miserable scream.

Prince’s side was also having a hard time, although he had a car for cover, but the other side was high up and although there were fewer of them, their firepower was not bad either.

After about five or six minutes, each side had sustained damage.

After a long attack, not only did the Prince hate himself for not bringing his mighty Gatling, but even his men were getting impatient.

“Boss, you guys cover me, I’ll go and end their fence!”

With that he pulled out an explosive pack the size of a washbasin.

The prince’s face straightened and he felt to himself that this method would work.

“Brothers cover by fire, give me a hard hit!”

As the words fell to the ground, the men on the Prince’s side quickly rose to their feet, guns in hand, and poured out tongues of fire towards the fence.

This move resulted in a few casualties, but it also pressed the enemy on the opposite dock to raise their heads.

With the fire suppressed, the men, having hidden the explosive packs in their arms, saw the right moment to scurry straight out.

Due to the dim lighting and the frantic fire suppression of the Prince’s men, the Ding’s men did not spot him, but in a dozen seconds or so, he rushed under the heel of the fence.

This was a place where he could already even see his opponents’ sweat hairs clearly.

“Blow it up is you calves!”

Without hesitation, he quickly placed the explosive packet, then with a pull of the fuse, he catapulted himself back towards the convoy and fled.

Only at this point did one of the eye-witnesses inside the dock realise he was coming, raise his gun and pull the spanner, and bullets flew out.

And the bombardier, who had seen that he was about to take cover, fell to the ground before he could even show himself.

“Little Fei!”

The prince watched as his right-hand man fell to the ground, his eyes instantly filling with blood as he flung the barrel of his gun and clanged two shots.

The enemy who had hit Fei also fell headlong from the fence!

Just then, the fuse of the explosive pack under the fence burst into flames!

Chapter 2665

“Rumble, rumble, rumble!”

The echoing explosions were deafening.

Under the dazzling flames, the men on the pier side were shattered to pieces before they had time to scream!

At the end of the explosion, Xiao Fei, who was on the ground, miraculously stood up holding the tyre of the car.

It turned out that the shot had only pierced his abdomen and was not life-threatening.

The prince laughed and cursed when he saw that Fei had ‘come back from the dead’.

“You’ve got a tough life!”

Across the room Fei grinned with a pale face, then collected a thumbs up, looking smug and full of complacency, most likely boasting about himself.

“Brothers, give me a charge! Destroy them!”

After taking care of the dock gunners at the wall, the remaining men were nothing more than a bunch of clay dogs.

As the Prince charged through the gate, he instantly wiped out all his opponents.

As for Manager Kang, who had shouted earlier, although he had escaped the explosion, his brain was also buzzing with explosions at this moment.

“Boss, we found that yakuza!”

Accompanied by a shout from beside him, Manager Kang felt a pain in his waist and his whole body was kicked straight to the ground, while in front of him the prince came over slowly carrying a rifle.

“Old man, just now you were shouting arrogantly, now give me a wild bark again!”

After saying that, the Prince smashed the butt of his rifle viciously on the bridge of his opponent’s nose.

The manager only felt a painful sensation that was worse than death, nosebleed mixed with tears gushed out, but before he could get over it, a bone-chilling cold invaded his head.

The manager’s eyes were slanted in a cold sweat, and he negotiated with a trembling voice as he endured the pain.

“Little brother, be merciful, be merciful, be generous and let me off the hook, okay?”

I promise not to cause you any more trouble in the future, and I’ll pretend I don’t know anything that happens here.”

However, when he had finished, the Prince remained unmoved.

“Yuck, you dare to point a gun at me, haven’t you ever died?”

Seeing that discussion was ineffective, Manager Kang’s heart was crossed and his face was resentful.

“Shoot, shoot if you have the guts, dare to touch the Ding family’s territory, you are not far from death, I am waiting for you down there ....”

Before the words were finished, the sound of gunfire started.

After the prince retrieved his gun, he spat towards Manager Kang whose head had been smashed.

“What the hell, you’re still so tough-mouthed when you’re on the verge of death!”

At that moment, the men who had rushed into the dock to search for people also came running back in a hurry.

“Boss, they’re not easy, and with all the containers around, we’ve lost quite a few men.”

sh*t?

These dozens of men with firearms couldn’t take more than a dozen cripples from the other side?

After some hesitation, the prince’s brow darkened.

“If they like street fighting, let them stay here! What a few docks are really f*cking in the way, blow it up for me!”

“Got it!”

As long as the bomb blows up this pier into a pile of ashes, let’s see how that Kong family’s a*sa*sins can still hide, as expected of the boss, this brain is good.

So, the Prince’s men began to place bombs at various points with great enthusiasm!

The Kong a*sa*sins could see all the commotion and saw that there was no way out, so they decided to rush out of the pier.

As soon as the a*sa*sins showed their heads, a dozen guns were pointed at them!

Without waiting for the Prince’s command, pop, pop, pop!

The a*sa*sins were so concerned with concealment that they had no use for such an open area, and in the blink of an eye, several of the a*sa*sins who had rushed out to kill them perished.

The prince put away his guns after cleaning up his opponents, ruffling a handful of fringes and muttering a laugh.

“I’m so D*mned excited, the Fifth Master was right, Da Qu is my playground.

Hahahaha, cool! Men, retreat!”

Not long after the caravan had left, all sorts of fires rose from the docks.

Unbeknownst to the prince, his blowing up of the perimeter, though a great pleasure, had immediately caused a violent upheaval!

Chapter 2666

As the sun rose, Lin Mo woke up and stretched comfortably, moving his body a bit, his muscles and bones clicking all over his body.

“It’s been a long time since I’ve slept this comfortably!”

Turning his eyes, the little green shadow on the side was still huffing and puffing, the sun outside the window hitting right on top of her short fluffy hair.

“This little girl, did she steal something yesterday?”

Usually, Little Green Shadow got up a little earlier than himself.

Lin Mo muttered to himself and then walked out of the room with lighter steps.

When he arrived at the hall on the ground floor, he was surprised to find that the prince who had returned was sitting in front of the sofa leisurely enjoying his breakfast, seeing Lin Mo the prince put down his dishes cleanly and raised his hand to wipe his mouth.

“Boss ah, you are finally awake, I have called you all night yesterday, but no one answered.

If this boss hadn’t kept stopping me, I would have banged on the door!”

The prince glanced at the boss at the counter, his face learnt full of displeasure.

“Too much sleep yesterday,,, eh? What’s with the blood on you?”

Halfway through Lin Mo’s sentence, he didn’t even have the time to ask the crown prince why he had come to Kazan before he noticed that the latter’s sleeves as well as his shoulders were sporadically covered in blood spots.

Had there been an accident on the way to deliver the firepower?

“It’s like this, not long after we parted ways, news came from Master Zhao’s side that the Kong family was going to deal with you.

That’s why I rushed over here .....

After listening to the crown prince’s account, Lin Mo’s heart had been hanging a stone which fell to the ground, only that the crown prince blew up the Ding family pier one was more troublesome.

The Zhao family, which has 100,000 tiger guards, is already one of the top superpowers in Da Qu, yet it is still a great deal weaker in front of the Ding family.

The Ding family could be said to be the emperor of the eight provinces of Da Qu, with countless branches and a wide range of industries under its name.

Now the prince had stirred up a hornet’s nest by blowing up the other party’s docks.

However, Lin Mo looked at him with a big grin on his face, obviously not yet realising the seriousness of the problem.

Thinking of this, Lin Mo was caught off guard and suggested.

“Why don’t you go back, Prince?”

If it came to the open, Lin Mo was not afraid of the Ding family, but if the other party was making a secret move, it would be troublesome.

However, after Lin Mo had analysed the stakes with the Crown Prince.

The crown prince shook his head repeatedly and refused.

“Why should I go back, Da Qu is so much fun, I’ve only just come over here?”

Besides, I, the Crown Prince of Haicheng, would be afraid of him, a Ding family, you’re not afraid you’ve forgotten who my grandfather is, are you?”

If it wasn’t in front of Lin Mo, the crown prince’s nostrils would be sticking up to the sky.

Lin Mo smashed his mouth speechlessly.

“Master Xue Wu is only your god grandfather!”

“Cut, that’s also my grandfather, the little Ding family’s, if they really dare to touch me, Fifth Master will let them be buried with him.

I, the Crown Prince, will be afraid of them?”

That arrogant look, as if he had never died!

Saying that, the crown prince even floor over Lin Mo’s shoulder.

“Big brother, you can rest assured, with our two swords together, the whole of Da Qu will be nothing but our bag.

Come, I’ve brought you breakfast, together together!”

Lin Mo was also completely defeated by this nervous character of the Crown Prince.

Since the Crown Prince insisted on staying, Lin Mo simply let him do as he wished.

“Alright, since you want to stay, then you can stay, but you can follow me in the future.”

Pan Yang had already been taken under his own command, but without a Patriarch-level expert sitting at his side, Lin Mo was still uneasy about the Crown Prince.

“It is only natural for little brother to follow big brother’s side.

By the way, big brother has fights to fight with you, don’t you know, how sound we were yesterday.”

“That dog’s pistol was on my head. ....”

Lin Mo saw that the prince's chatterbox mode was on, so he didn't move and packed some breakfast, got up and paid no more attention.

Chapter 2667

As the Kong family at the centre of the news storm, its every move naturally received attention from many sides.

"The news is out, last night, the Kong family sent more than five hundred a*sa*sins to Heshan City, only to have none of them return alive early this morning."

"What is this Lin Mo's origin? He is so fierce, 500 killers were exterminated just like that."

"Yes, five hundred people that many of our forces in Daqu don't have."

"This is not the most explosive, let me tell you, more reliable information, that Lin Mo's companions chased after the Kong family's killers when they actually blew up the Kong family's wharf directly."

The dock of the Ding family was blown up like a twelve-step typhoon that swept across the entire Da Qu, that momentum completely crushed the eldest son of the Kong family as well as the a*sa*sin's group.

The Ding family of Da Qu, that was the ceiling of Da Qu's strength, even the imperial powers of Wan Xiang and Zhen La were all competing for the existence.

This Lin Mo's companion had actually bombed someone's dock, so he was obviously in big trouble!

Perhaps it was because the dark tide of Da Qu had been surging for too long, and this wave of big melons could be considered to have satisfied the local people's talking points.

To the Ding family, the destruction of the wharf was just a small matter, but what was really damaged was their face. If this matter was not dealt with seriously, how could they still have a foothold in Daqu in the future!

When Ding Li heard the news, he felt that this was a good opportunity for him to make a name for himself, so he volunteered to ask the family to let him take care of the matter.

The matter was not a big deal, and the fact that Ding Li's mother had just taken over.

So the family agreed, and Ding Li led 800 disciples from the branch to deal with the destruction of Pier 74.

The long caravan roared out.

"Young Master Ding, up ahead is Hai Fang City!"

Hearing his men's report, Ding Li did not turn around, but merely stared at the scenery outside the car window and gave a nasal hmph.

Despite his expression, his heart was already surging.

He had finally turned over himself, not only was he on the family tree, but his father's position in the Ding family was extraordinary. Those who had called him a wild b*****d were now only worthy of kneeling before him and wagging their tails in prayer.

This is the time for him to prove himself. What about Lin Mo, what about the Zhao family, they are nothing more than ants in front of the Ding family.

As he thought, the caravan arrived at its destination, Haiphong City!

In order to show the respect of this newcomer of the Ding family, the reception place was specially chosen at the top floor of a super five-star hotel, and he was personally received by Guangyao.

"Uncle Guan, I'm sorry, I'm not too familiar with this side, so I can only come to trouble Uncle Guan!"

Although they were meeting for the first time, Ding Li's address was unusually cordial, with a mouthful of uncle, people who didn't know would think they were biological uncles and nephews.

Guan Yao naturally had a clear understanding of this kind of interpersonal relationship, especially when the other party was the rising star of the Ding family, a child with great promise.

"Ding Xian nephew, eh this talk, you can come to our Hai Fang City Ding uncle happy are too late, say what trouble."

As the business of the night vine is in a critical stage, if you can borrow the power of the Ding family, business channels naturally flow unimpeded.

Of course, Ding Li didn't really come here just to find Guan Yao to show him the way, the main reason was that his ex-girlfriend, who he was tired of playing with at the beginning, dared to be Guan Yao's daughter, Guan Linglong.

It was because of this that Ding Li came to the Guan family, even though he had travelled a long way, for the sake of this relationship.

If he could tie the knot with Guan Linglong, he would be able to stand more firmly in the Ding family by virtue of his son-in-law relationship, and he could even move up the ladder.

In this way, between the two of them, the first encounter between them began.

Chapter 2668

Since the Crown Prince came to Heshan, it has been hard for Gan Lao and Pei Lao.

Whenever the crown prince was bored, he would stay at the door with his men carrying rifles and drinking tea.

The principals of the two families were also afraid of the Prince's ghastly rifles on the one hand, and the Zhao family behind Lin Mo on the other, so they could only serve the Prince with bitterness, but of course, although they were warm on the surface, they had already cursed in their hearts.

The Ding family, the Kong family, you guys give it a go, hurry up and screw these two boys, don't let them ooh and aah at us again.

Perhaps it was their sincerity that moved the heavens, a few days later, Lin Mo finally received an invitation from Guangyao, which explicitly said to coordinate a sit-down talk, but anyone who wasn't stupid could guess that it was bound to be a Hongmen Banquet.

"What do you think, going?"

After the prince resulted in the invitation, he only gave it a cursory glance before casually tossing it onto the table.

"Go, why not? This place in Heshan is really not much fun.

I thought the Gan and Pei families were a tough bunch, but I didn't expect them to be better behaved than grandsons once I brought someone to their door, it's no fun at all."

After a brief discussion, the two of them led a group of men to Hai Fang City.

When they had just left on their front feet, Gan Pei's two elders burst into joy and smiles, the dark clouds over their heads had finally lifted.

"Hahahaha, this scourge is finally gone, the Kong family is finally going to make a move, someone hurry up and buy me some fireworks in the East Market!"

"Master, is this some big happy event to celebrate?"

"f*ck off, I like it, it's up to you. By the way, buy a double batch, I'll have to set off another wave when I receive news of these two boys' deaths."

.....

It was noon, and Lin Mo's group had finally arrived at the destination, and it had to be said that, being a city of the same level, the prosperity of Hai Fang City didn't know how many streets it had left behind that of He Shan City, and as for Pan Yang, there was no need to say anything, it was simply incomparable.

The wide, two-way, eight-lane road is full of large trucks and lorries, coming and going as fast as they can, which shows the extent of trade in Hai Fang City.

The road is also lined with factories of all sizes, and the city is lined with high-rise buildings.

"I didn't expect this Guangyao base camp to be so well developed."

"That's natural, this Guangyao is also a powerful man in Daqu, how can he stand in his position without some ability."

Lin Mo did not use the Prince's face full of emotion, mentioning this person Guan Yao, Lin Mo's face could not help but appear a faint disgust.

This Guan Yao was not only a powerful man, but also a big lord, behind this developed trade there was no telling how many dirty deals were hidden.

The road has to be taken one step at a time, without investigating the chain of interests behind the clear, Lin Mo also rushed to move the night vines to do.

If you want to eliminate the night vine, you have to exterminate it from the root.

Just as Lin Mo was secretly calculating, people from the Guan family approached them.

“Mr. Lin Mo, Mr. Guan and Mr. Ding are discussing if, so you should also follow me to the lounge and wait for a while.”

The next big thing?

What was so important that they couldn't talk about it in the afternoon or evening, but at the time of their arrival?

They had only just met and now this was happening, and the grumpy prince's face instantly showed his displeasure.

“What the hell are you waiting for? Do you want me to ask Ding Li to come out and talk to you, or we'll just leave.

I have a lot of things to do too, I don't have time to play childish tricks with you guys here.”

This is also Lin Mo's idea, since he wants to sit down and talk, then he should show his sincerity, what's the point of making all this tiger head stuff?

This sudden outburst directly put the receptionist out of order.

Originally, at the behest of Boss Ding, they were to leave Lin Mo's group to dry out and kill their spirit.

After all, with the Ding family's deterrence and the fact that this was Guangyao's base camp, these two fledgling kids wouldn't dare to act recklessly.

Who would have thought that the prince would be so steel!

Chapter 2669

Just when the Guan family receptionist was in a dilemma, footsteps suddenly came from within the villa.

The person who came was none other than Guan Yao, and when he arrived in front of Lin Mo, he raised his hand without saying a word and slapped his men to the ground.

“Do you know the planning, didn't I tell you, as soon as brother Lin arrives, tell me directly.”

After reprimanding his men's hands and doing all the superficial work, he then turned to Lin Mo.

“Sorry, Brother Lin, my men don't know the rules, but I do have to talk to Younger Ding about important business matters in this room.

I beg you to wait for a while in the VIP room.”

Since the dismounting failed, Guan Yao had instantly switched his attitude and directly transformed into a little expert at dumping pots and pans.

With his warm smile, he seemed to have completely forgotten about the conflict with Lin Mo over the cruise ship.

Since Guangyao had already given his attitude, Lin Mo was not bothered and went straight to the VIP room under the guidance of Guangyao's men.

"Tsk tsk, it's exactly grand, a VIP room was made like a presidential suite by them."

The prince came to Lin Mo's side with curiosity after wandering around for a while.

"Big brother, do you think this Guan Ren will help the Ding family's people to screw us together?"

"What, are you afraid of this?"

Lin Mo picked at it jokingly.

This comment was like stepping on the prince's tail, and he jumped straight up.

"What has this Crown Prince ever been afraid of, there is no such word as afraid in my life's dictionary."

"All right, you don't have to worry about Guangyao's side, he is afraid of the Zhao family, he doesn't dare to have any evil intentions towards us.

The only reason for inviting us is to help the Ding family to strengthen their power and want to rub up against the big ship of the Ding family."

After hearing this, the prince also understood the reasoning behind it.

While the two of them were talking, they did not wait for Guan Yao, but for Guan Linglong.

As soon as she entered the door she spoke with an anxious face.

"Lin Mo, I've already begged for you on Ding Li's side, when the time comes, all you have to do is give in and admit your mistake, Brother Ding Li won't make things difficult for you."

In any case, Lin Mo was after all her life-saving benefactor, so she had to help him out for reasons of reason.

Hearing these words, the Crown Prince's eyes directly glared.

"Concede softly, concede an egg of softness, the Kong family sent people's to a*sa*sinate my elder brother.

This Ding family also wants to violently kill the murderer, I want them to serve soft want to fart eat it!"

If he hadn't seen that Guan Linglong was a girl, the prince would have slapped him across the face.

How many brain-damaged tablets did she have to eat to come up with such a stupid plan?

Guan Linglong's face was pulled down by the Prince's voice.

"How can you be so good and bad, what is the strength of the Ding family and what is your strength.

Even the Zhao family behind your door doesn't dare to call the Ding family's bluff, where do you get the confidence to fight against the Ding family."

"Lin Mo, a true man can bend and stretch, don't let a little face issue kill your future.

Their side is almost over, I have to go first, remember to cooperate with me later, I will help you plead for mercy."

After saying that, Guan Linglong left the place in a hurry.

"Big brother, who is this brainless twat, does she even say things without thinking?"

Lin Mo scolded in a bad mood.

"People are right, you are indeed good and bad, she is here to help us, and you still scold her."

Although he said a good word for Guan Linglong, he already had a number in his heart.

After saving the light-hearted Guan Linglong at the beginning, Lin Mo had also heard her mention about the scum.

If he remembered correctly, it seemed that it was Ding Li that Guan Linglong was talking about, only that she was saying "Brother Ding Li", which already reflected the subtle change in their relationship...

By the time Guan Linglong's front foot was barely gone, Guan Yao's men walked in.

"Mr. Lin Mo, Mr. Guan's side has finished talking, please move over Mr. Lin!"

As the two got up, Lin Mo secretly instructed.

"Watch my eyes later!"

With that, the group walked towards the venue that Guan Yao had arranged.

Chapter 2670

When Lin Mo walked into the venue, Guan Yao was already waiting again, and after they looked at each other, Lin Mo sat down straight away.

From the bottom of his heart, Guan Yao didn't want to have too many friendships with Lin Mo, after the previous cruise, he had already understood that this kid simply couldn't P*ss with him and was trying to kick over his P*ss pot.

In addition, Lin Mo's identity was so deeply hidden that he couldn't see whether the Zhao family was behind him or whether there was another stronger force.

As for Lin Mo, ever since he learned about the night vine, he had been disgruntled with Guan Yao.

The scene was thus plunged into an awkward silence.

After waiting for a while, the prince only felt thorns growing in his buttocks.

"Motherf*cker, is this Ding family going to come or not, it's so dilly-dallying like a p*ssy.

If you want to talk, talk, if you can't talk, don't talk, dragging your feet to raise the moon ah."

In comparison, he prefers a real fight, he really can't play this kind of bullsh*t.

The venue was already unusually quiet, and at this moment, the Prince's shout suddenly appeared extra loud and clear.

"How dare you bark without looking at the place you are in?"

With a rebuke, there was the sound of footsteps outside the venue.

The door opened and a fresh-faced young man walked in with a large group of people.

He was quite good-looking, with a handsome and three-dimensional features, no wonder Guan Linglong was so in love with him.

However, when they had just entered the venue, before they had even reached the walking position, a voice came from the Prince's side in a hushed voice.

"Barking madly? A dog that follows his master's side, and he has the face to say that?"

When the words landed, Ding Li instantly stopped in his tracks.

The person who was berating the Prince was none other than Ding Li's good friend Xiang Wenqiang, who was ranked as a good expert among his peers in Da Qu due to his extraordinary skills.

Ding Li had brought him along for this mission, so that he could hold the scene.

"Brother Wen Qiang, you don't need to worry about me, just do whatever you want?"

Ding Li sneered before sitting down his body.

After nodding to Wen Qiang turned around and walked towards the Crown Prince.

"Dirt dog, come over here and die, I'll tear your stinking mouth apart!"

Hearing this, the Crown Prince first glanced at Lin Mo, although the two were on good terms, they still had to separate occasions.

Lin Mo, on the other hand, raised his eyebrows and smiled faintly.

"Just looking at you like this makes your hands itch, go ahead, I'll give you a ride, but be safe, this person is not low in strength."

"I don't care if he's low or not, just f*ck him up."

After a loud laugh, the prince craned his neck and moved his muscles while walking forward.

Even Lin Mo said that his opponent's strength was not low, so naturally, the Crown Prince would not take it lightly.

After the two sides approached, there were no words exchanged, and almost at the same time, the two fist shadows charged straight at each other.

With a muffled sound, each side retreated.

And while it was evident from the pace of their feet, the Crown Prince was clearly inferior to his opponent in terms of strength.

And behind him Lin Mo's joked.

"How's that, is it fixed, do you want big brother to step in and give you back face?"

This initial encounter had already revealed a lot, the other side had forced back 70% of the Prince's power with only 50% of his strength, the winning hand was already out.

"How can you be a boss and drink back so much, this is just the beginning, this prince is just warming up."

How could the Prince's character be convinced, after complaining, he squeezed his fist and charged again.

Once again, the two sides exchanged punches and kicks, and for a while the scene was filled with back-and-forth and fist shadows.

Guan Yao, who was watching and eating, was also nodding his head, as these two were strong enough to be ranked among the best in their age group.
