

I'm A Quadrillionaire

Chapter 2240

Chapter 2240

As soon as they heard that David wanted to hire servants, many powerful forces sent their daughters over so they could be David's servants and serve David.

If they were lucky and were selected, they would be able to soar to success.

Even the family they came from could be successful together.

This troubled Beanie a lot.

Although David was powerful, he could not become everyone's public enemy!

Beanie did not want to offend Sole's major forces and cause trouble for David.

However, what else could these pampered female direct descendants do besides eating?

'Gosh, this is such a pain in the *ss.'

Beanie looked miserable.

She did not know what to do.

As for the recruitment, David did not ask any questions and left Beanie to be in charge.

Since there was nothing to do all day, he began to carefully observe the things around him when he was winding down.

Then, he discovered a strange phenomenon.

Pebbles had grown taller and heavier.

He remembered when he first met Pebbles, the little girl was thin and small. She looked about six or seven, or perhaps seven or eight years old.

Now after several months of growth, she was about the same as a ten-year-old child.

In a few months, she had grown two or three years older.

Of course, Pebbles could not be compared with ordinary people.

After all, what she ate was all priceless.

However, even other people with this food could not digest them as Pebbles could.

This quick growth worried David.

It would be fine if she was in her pre-teens as she would still be a little girl.

If she grew to fifteen or sixteen years old, she would be a teenager, so she could not hang on to him like this every day.

Otherwise, people would misunderstand and it would not be good.

He was a man so he was not bothered, but how could he affect the reputation of the little girl?

To be honest, David liked Pebbles the way she was now.

She was cutest when she was in her pre-teens.

It was not that she would become ugly when she grew up. According to the little girl's appearance, she would surely be gorgeous when she grew up.

It was just that she could not be so intimate with him after she grew up. Pebbles would also have her own ideas, and then, there would be a generation gap.

It was just like raising a daughter.

When she was young, she was so sweet, but when she grew up, it would be different.

David also had a way to control Pebbles' growth.

He just needed to stop feeding her so many treasures. David, however, was not that selfish.
