

Read Novel Married At First Sight Chapter 2370

Married at First Sight Chapter 2370-So what if Dr. Carden is a genius doctor?

Doctors are people too.

There are also diseases and problems that cannot be overcome.

“Trenton, Trenton.”

Seeing that the person following Camryn was Trenton, the two aunts, Brenda and Amy seemed to have seen a savior.

Nephews were still more talkative than nieces.

In the past, together with their eldest brother and sister-in-law, they tortured and abused Camryn. Knowing that Camryn was murdered, they would stand by and look forward to Camryn's death.

It was normal for Camryn to hold grudges and take revenge on them.

But for the only nephew, the two aunts loved him very much.

After all, there was only this single nephew in their natal family.

Before giving birth to the idea of competing for their natal family's property, the two sisters still hoped that their natal family would become stronger and stronger, so that their status in the husband's family would be powerful, and no one would dare to underestimate them.

“Don't call Trenton, Trenton can't say anything.”

Camryn came over and stood in front of the two aunts, who stared at each other through the door.

Callum didn't come out with her, but Camryn said that she could solve it without using backers.

Callum then went to work in the kitchen, preparing a loving lunch for his fiancée.

The two aunts thought that Camryn still couldn't see, so they stared at Camryn with vicious and resentful eyes.

If eyes could kill, Camryn had been killed countless times by them.

"You don't have to stare at me so viciously." Camryn said coldly: "Looks can't kill people, it's quite tiring to stare at people like this."

Amy and Brenda: "..."

Azalea (Evelyn): "..."

Azalea stretched out her hand through the empty door, and it was dangling in front of Camryn's eyes.

"Auntie, I can see you. Don't shake it. Auntie, you have gained a lot of weight. In my memory, you were slim, but now you're short and fat."

Azalea was not tall, only 1.5 meters, and was the shortest of her siblings.

She grew sideways and became a short winter melon.

Azalea ignored Camryn's sarcasm, she asked in horror: "Camryn, can you see me?"

That Dr. Carden is really so good?

Dr. Carden had been treating Camryn's eyes for a long time. In the past, so many ophthalmologists failed to cure her. Dr. Carden made Camryn see again in just a short time!

"Surprised, huh?"

Camryn smiled, "Are you disappointed?"

Azalea wanted to say something, but Amy spoke first.

Amy flattered her and said, "Camryn, you are able to see the light again. God has eyes. That mother of yours is too poisonous. No matter what, you are her own daughter, so she poisoned you and blinded you.

Camryn, although your aunt and I know about it, we are helpless. You also know that there are dark forces behind your mother. If we dare to help you, she can kill our whole family in a matter of minutes.

We are sorry for you. Both your aunt and I know we are wrong.

Camryn, how do you say, we are also your aunt, your father's sister, we are relatives, very close relatives, don't kill us, okay?

Leave a way for us to survive. We promise that we will never try to get the Newman family's property again, and we will never think about coming back to fight for your Newman family property. As long as you let us go, we will stay away from you."

Azalea kept nodding her head in agreement.