Married at First Sight Chapter 2393-Mrs. Caron looked very disappointed, but soon she became happy again.

She said to her daughter: “Kiera, Julian is still single; no matter whether he can enter our family’s martial arts gym or not, he is considered to be acquainted. You can associate with him in the future.”

Kiera said with a dark face, “Mom, As president, Julian drives luxury cars worth several million dollars. The threshold is very high. In real life, I am very different from him. I don’t want to marry into a family that is very rich. Also, he is much older than me; he is thirty-five years old, and he is ten years older than me, I can call him uncle.”

After the sound fell, Mrs. Caron poked her on the head and said to her, “It’s too old to call him uncle, and it’s almost like calling him brother. Your eldest brother is eight years older than you. There is not much difference between ten and eight years old.

He is well maintained; he looks like a boy in his early twenties, much younger than your elder brother.”

Kiera said with a smile, “Mom, I want to learn art; don’t say anything else; just say this in front of me, don’t say it again; if it spreads, people will think I hate marriage.”

Mrs. Caron: “You are twenty-four years old, and it is appropriate to marry. If you don’t want to marry early, you can find a reliable man to fall in love with. You haven’t even tasted love; alas, I’m so worried.

Why did your father let you learn martial arts at such a young age? It has made you a king of fighters since you were in kindergarten, and you haven’t lost yet.”

Mrs. Caron was so angry that her teeth itched when she recalled the past.

After giving birth to two sons, she gave birth to a daughter. She happily wanted to dress her only daughter up like a little princess.

The appearance of her daughter was also as she wished; she was born very beautiful, she was white and clean when she was a child, and she was cute.

It could be said that she was a cute little doll that everyone loved.

Who knew that after learning martial arts, she would become a different person?

Although Kiera was usually bullied by others, she fought back and fought with others. Since she had learned martial arts since she was a child, how could ordinary children be her opponents?

Those children were not convinced, and they always came to provoke her. If they fought too much, they would become famous fighters.

In high school and university, because of her outstanding appearance, she was easily molested by the apprentices. In the end, she didn't even need to ask. She beat the perverts who had molested her to death. How mighty Kiera was when she was a student.

Such skill scared away those boys, causing Kiera to have a crush on others, but even if there was no result, no one would pursue her, afraid of her fist.

Just like now, when those matchmakers helped Kiera introduce her boyfriend, when the man heard that she was the daughter of the owner of the Caron family martial arts gym, he didn't even dare to meet her face-to-face.

After so many attempts, the matchmakers in Yonsburg dared not do Kiera's business.

Mrs. Caron also thought about choosing one of Kiera's senior brothers for her daughter, but Kiera became buddies with them. Kiera was not tempted, and neither were those senior brothers. Seeing that Kiera's senior brothers were all married and having children, and the juniors were also all in love and getting married, Mrs. Caron was going to die of this heart.

"Mom, you don't need to worry. Didn't you tell my fortune? You said that I would marry naturally when my destiny was reached. You also said, I can marry well and be very rich." Kiera cleaned the teapot and then made tea.

She nonchalantly comforted her mother with the fact that her mother helped her with fortune-telling.

Maybe all parents in the world are similar. When their children reach marriageable age, if they are not in love or married, they will be anxious and urge marriage when they see the opportunity.
