Married at First Sight Chapter 2400-Kiera continued: “Spicy, my mother will also fry two plates of spicy dishes for all of us to enjoy. She always said that if we eat too much chili, we will get angry and ask us to drink herbal tea or something.

I don’t even think that eating chili will cause me to get angry. As for the people over there, they always talk about drinking herbal tea, as if herbal tea is omnipotent. I feel that there is nothing that a cup of herbal tea can’t solve.”

People in Yuncheng liked to eat spicy food with a strong taste, and they also liked to eat noodles and steamed buns.

However, since Mrs. Caron was from Goayaguil Province and had a bland diet, under her influence, the Caron family’s diet also became bland.

Mrs. Caron was not selfish enough to only think about herself. Her husband and three children loved spicy food, and she would prepare two kinds of spicy dishes for her family every two days. The spicy taste of the tea made her cough, and Mr. Caron felt distressed.

Mrs. Caron was not allowed to make spicy dishes. If everyone wanted to eat, they could pack it from outside.

“It turns out that Auntie is from our side. No wonder I feel very kind when I see Auntie. It turns out that she’s a fellow villager.” Julian looked stunned.

When they met for the first time, it was difficult for him to ask Mrs. Caron where her mother’s family was from.

Even if he already knew.

Mrs. Caron’s natal family was in a small county in Goayaguil Province, far away from Wiltspoon. There was no high-speed rail or airport. It took several days to get home.

Kiera said with a smile: “I look at my fellow countrymen, my mother also likes you very much, and has a good impression of you.”

In fact, her mother would be very happy when her brother brought a girl home, and she brought a boy home of.

Kiera didn't say this to Julian. Although the two of them had the feeling of seeing each other for a few days, like old friends who had been together for more than ten years, in fact, they had only known each other for a few days.

It was Julian who knew how to be grateful.

"Ms. Caron, we will go back to Wiltspoon for the wedding, so we can drink two more glasses." Julian said suddenly.

Kiera's eyes lit up when he heard that, and she said with a smile: "Yes, I envied my dad and my brothers just now, but after two days they will envy me. By the way, Mr. Bucham, you told my dad about this thing?"

Julian: "Speaking of which, Master Caron said that you are an adult, you can decide for yourself. Ms. Caron, your parents are very enlightened parents."

Kiera: "That is, my father is very open-minded, although my mother is lenient and she is also a sensible person. When are we going to Wiltspoon?"

If she had saved Julian earlier, she might have been a bridesmaid for Serenity.

Kiera was happy to think about being in close with Serenity.

"Tomorrow afternoon, I'll book the ticket later. Ms. Caron, you need to give me your ID information, and I'll book the ticket together."

"You tell me when to book the flight, and I can book the ticket myself." Kiera didn't want to tell Julian her ID card information. After all, they had only known each other for a few days. Although she knew that Julian was the president of a large company, she also felt that Julian was a good person.

"It's okay, but I will cover your round-trip air tickets and your accommodation in Wiltspoon. I invited you to accompany me to Young master York's wedding. I will cover all the expenses for you, otherwise I will feel sorry. Ms. Caron, I originally repaid you, but in the end I had to make you spend money. If it spread, others would say that I was heartless and unjust, and treated my savior like this."

Kiera: ".. Okay, then I will have the cheek to accept your reward. Mr. Bucham, you really don't need to talk about this small matter."

Julian said seriously: “Ms. Caron, for you, it is a small matter, but for me, it is a life-saving matter.”

Kiera choked, and couldn't say anything more.

She took Julian to the most high-end hotel nearby, and she didn't leave until Julian completed the check-in procedures.
