Chapter 301 Comparing x3, Wanting To Compare Everything!

Bai Shanshan looked very similar to her father, so how could Matriarch Bai not find her familiar?

But after all, one was a male and the other a female. Their facial features might be similar, but it was hard for anyone to piece together this connection at first glance.

In addition, Bai Shanshan was in a hurry to bring her daughter to the interview. Hence, she immediately walked toward the others...

At this moment, Matriarch Bai saw her identification card that had fallen on the ground. Just when she was about to bend and pick it up, Bai Shanshan also discovered it. Hence, she quickly picked up her identification card herself. Only then did she leave.

After Bai Shanshan walked far away, Matriarch Bai was still in a daze while staring at her back view.

Shen Wanying asked, "Grandma, what's wrong?"

Matriarch Bai frowned. "I feel that she looks very kind."

Shen Wanying nodded. "Hmm, that woman looks kind and gives off a comfortable vibe. Let us hurry up and enter, Little Tong is about to be late for school."

As the sound of her voice faded, a six-year-old male child ran over from Shen Wanying's side.

This was Shen Wanying and Bai Zhongzhang's son, his full name was Bai Yitong and he was currently enrolled in this kindergarten.

Matriarch Bai and the founder of this kindergarten, Miss Lin Yi, were very good friends. She felt bored today, so she took some time off her schedule to send her great-grandson to school. She was also planning to have a chat with her friend.

The moment they entered the kindergarten, a person came over. "Matriarch Bai, our dean told you to head to the resting room to wait awhile for her. There are a couple of interviews with parents who want to enroll their kids with us today."

Matriarch Bai nodded. "Sure."

Just when the group of them was preparing to go to the resting room, Shen Wanying suddenly saw Shen Ruoqing and the others who were invited in by the teachers. Her footsteps paused slightly as she abruptly spoke, "Isn't that Mr. Chu and Miss Shen?"

Matriarch Bai glanced in that direction and her expression sank slightly after seeing the two of them.

She wasn't fond of the Bai Family's fourth house because in her view, that woman had forced her second son away.

This was why she projected her hatred toward Bai Xiaojiu, and also Yun Wei and the Yun family.

Shen Wanying glanced at the person at the side. "The Chu Family is the top family of Sea City, can't they bypass the interview? Why do I see them heading toward an interview room?"

The staff immediately replied, "Other than the four great families of the capital, our kindergarten will not permit any others to bypass the interviews."

Shen Wanying immediately felt a sense of superiority after hearing these words.

She also didn't know why she wanted to observe a woman of such low status. She then curled her lips and nodded. "Hmm. Grandma, let us go."

Shen Ruoqing, who had completely no idea that she was just deposed, was currently with Chu Cichen. A staff member brought them into an interview room.

Through a glass pane, they could see the four children being interviewed separately and currently doing a test.

This was the initial screening. If they couldn't even pass the first stage, there would be no need for an interview.

Shen Ruoqing, Chu Cichen and Bai Shanshan, Chu Cimo were arranged in two separate rooms, and they were being questioned at the same time.

The two interviewers that sat in front of Shen Ruoqing and Chu Cichen had very solemn looks on their faces.

At this moment, they held the resumes of these two in their hands. One of the interviewers asked, "Mr. Chu and Miss Shen, are you guys sure that you are husband and wife? Why can't I see any trace of love from the two of you?"

Shen Ruoqing. "?"

She frowned and just as she was preparing to say something, a hand suddenly hugged her shoulder. After that, Chu Cichen sat beside her. The distance between them was very close, and their thighs were touching.

The warmth of the man's body drifted over to her from the contact and caused Shen Ruoqing to feel a little ill at ease.

She coughed and heard Chu Cichen speaking to the interviewer, "We are very much in love."

"..."

Shen Ruoqing cast a glance at his hand, but Chu Cichen stealthily pinched her shoulder in warning.

...Forget it, she decided to endure this.

When she lifted her head again, she saw that the interviewer was satisfied now. "Can I inquire if you guys sleep in separate bedrooms at home?"

Shen Ruoqing. "??"

Just when she wanted to speak, the interviewer continued, "Research showed that many couples would sleep in separate rooms after giving birth. This will actually affect their emotional connection and cause the children to feel a sense of insecurity. Hence, we will only accept parents who sleep together."

"..."

Shen Ruoqing's mouth trembled. She felt as though the interviewer's brain was fried.

What strange request was this?

Just when she was about to say something, Chu Cichen spoke in a low voice, "We have always been sleeping together."

...

After a series of bizarre questions, Shen Ruoqing felt dizzy, but they finally passed the initial screening.

In the end, the man's hand was already hugging her waist. The interviewer stood at the entrance and spoke very politely, "I hope Miss Shen and Mr. Chu's love will last for all eternity."

The second interviewer spoke, "Oh right, I hope you guys can maintain your love forever because we will be doing irregular visits to check the situation. If we discover that the two of you are no longer in love, the three children might be expelled~ So, please understand. This place is a special kindergarten, so the children in our school will be different from the common crowd. This is why they need to live in a peaceful family that's filled with love even more. We are doing all of these for the sake of the children's good~~"

Shen Ruoqing. "..."

Was this really a kindergarten or was it a mental hospital?

When they left the room, they saw Bai Shanshan and Chu Cimo hanging their heads down dispiritedly as they stood at the room opposite them. After seeing Shen Ruoqing, Bai Shanshan showed a bitter expression. "Miss Shen, the questions in the initial interview are simply too difficult!"

Shen Ruoqing. "...They are indeed a little difficult."

The main thing was that it felt very itchy when the man placed his hand on her waist and she almost broke down in laughter earlier.

In addition, it was very rare for her to have such an intimate interaction with the man. Hence, she felt a little ill at ease.

However, even someone like her who was lacking in acting skills managed to act out the image of a loving couple, so how could Bai Shanshan and Chu Cichen who were still in their honeymoon phase be unable to pass?

When she thought of this, she saw Bai Shanshan on the verge of tears. "They asked me about my thoughts on the origin of the universe. What thoughts can I have? I've also learned international math at school, but is this really just the first screening of a kindergarten?"

Shen Ruoqing. "???"

Why did she feel that the screening she participated in earlier with Chu Cichen was a fake one?

At this moment, a staff member came out. He had a smile on his face. "Congratulations to all of you for passing the screening. Now, our dean will personally conduct the interview with the few of you. Please follow me."

Bai Shanshan. "?"

She was dumbfounded and she mumbled in a low voice, "But I didn't answer anything earlier. How did we pass?"

Chu Cichen who was following behind the two of them coughed.

He had long since made arrangements and the screening was just a formality. They would pass for sure...

The few of them walked through the front yard and arrived at the back yard.

This location exuded a modern feel. There was a three-story little teaching building, and the children would all study inside it. Its style was that of an ancient Chinese-inspired house and it had a classic charm.

The staff was planning to lead them to the first guest room, but the Bai Family butler who had been following Shen Wanying immediately waved his hands hurriedly. He then walked over arrogantly. "There's already someone in this room, so you guys should head to the second guest room for the interview!"

The staff asked, "Who is inside? Why are they using the meeting room that we scheduled for the interview?"

The butler immediately lifted his chin. "The Bai Family. My madam, Miss Shen—the wife of the eldest young master—is currently with the Matriarch Bai inside."

After saying that, he rudely waved his hands. "Off you go then. Also, try to make your footsteps softer so as to not disturb my matriarch."

He was simply treating them like wild animals who had barged into his property.

When did Chu Cimo ever have to endure such humiliation?

He immediately lifted his chin and spoke brazenly, "I checked the school rules before. The meeting rooms are specially reserved for the parents of the students to use. No matter what your identity is, you cannot casually occupy it. We are here for the interview, so on what grounds do you have to make us leave?"

The butler sneered. "My sir and madam are also the parents of a student. And not only so, they are also the parents of the best student in this batch. They have the right of priority!"

Chu Cimo also sneered. "Best? Before my elder brother, you actually have the face to use the word 'best'?"

The butler immediately replied, "My sir and madam have the most perfect resumes! Do you know that my sir is Mr. Bai Zhongzhang? He has a Ph.D. in finance from Stanford University!"

Chu Cimo lifted his chin even higher and spoke in an even more arrogant manner, "In that case, my elder brother is from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and has two Phds in both finance and mathematics! He is much stronger compared to your sir!"

The butler was stunned and then looked at Chu Cichen.

The man's tall figure stood there with no intention of giving way. His attitude was that of natural arrogance.

Bai Zhongzhang had always been proud of his resume, and he was indeed the person with the highest education qualifications in the capital when compared to those of his generation. However, the butler didn't expect his sir would actually lose when comparing resumes.

Just when he was dumbstruck and didn't know what to say, Shen Wanying's cough rang out from the room.

Upon hearing this voice, the butler immediately understood what to do. He lifted his chin once more. "My madam is even more impressive. She has a double master's degree as a medical student at Columbia University and is proficient in both western and chinese medicine. What about your elder brother's wife?"

Chu Cimo. "?"

He turned and looked at Shen Ruoqing as he choked.

Shen Ruoqing studied at a university in Sea City. This was something everyone knew about. However, all universities in Sea City were worthless in comparison!

After the butler saw how he looked, he understood something. He then sneered. "You can't say anything because you are afraid of embarrassment, right? Come, come, come, show me your sister-in-law's resume!"

The butler directly snatched Shen Ruoqing's resume from the staff member's hands. As he read, he spoke, "The resumes of both parents will be viewed by the kindergarten. Let me take a look at which university your sister-in-law graduated from..."

Chu Cimo grew anxious and wanted to snatch it back.

But at the next moment, he saw that the butler was in a daze. After that, the butler exclaimed in shock, "What? This is impossible!"

Chapter 302 Recognizing Maternal Grandfather From A Photo On The Wall

Chu Cimo could sense the butler's shocked emotions. He cluelessly glanced at the resume and soon saw what Shen Ruoqing had written in the 'education segment'.

Chu Cimo. "..."

He twitched his lips and his first reaction was that Shen Ruoqing was bragging.

However, he naturally couldn't expose this since they were all family. He immediately seized the resume back and guiltily shouted, "Did you see it? My sister-in-law is also very impressive!"

At this moment, the door of the first room suddenly swung open and Shen Wanying walked out. Her deep gaze swept past the scene before finally landing on Shen Ruoqing. "Miss Shen and Mr. Chu, the dean feels somewhat uncomfortable, and I'm currently in the midst of diagnosing her. Can I trouble you guys to wait for a little while in the other room? Please don't make such a scene outside."

Shen Ruoqing lifted her eyebrows.

This sentence made it sound as though Shen Ruoqing's group was the one finding trouble.

If it wasn't for the butler's attitude being so arrogant, wanting to chase them away, how would Chu Cimo quarrel with him?

However, since the dean was in the midst of a diagnosis, the few of them were cultured enough and couldn't be bothered to argue with Shen Wanying. In addition, one of the staff members also came over and said, "Mr. Chus, Miss Shen, Miss Bai, let me bring you guys to another room instead. Please come with me."

After Shen Ruoqing and the others entered the other room, Shen Wanying then looked at the butler. "When outside, don't keep comparing things. I'm not learning knowledge so you can use me as an example to brag to others."

The butler obediently lowered his head. "Madam, I was wrong. I hated how arrogant they were. They truly have no idea about the immensity of heaven and earth!"

Shen Wanying cast a deep gaze at him, and the butler immediately lowered his head and entered the first room with her.

In the room.

Matriarch Bai and an elegant-looking lady were seated together. Both of them had white hair and their faces were filled with wrinkles. However, Matriarch Bai exuded a feeling of strictness while Dean Lin Yi emitted a gentle aura.

The dispute outside was naturally heard by the two of them.

At this moment, Lin Yi also had Chu Cichen and Shen Ruoqing's resumes in her hands!

Shen Wanying returned to Lin Yi. As she was feeling her pulse, she also took a glance at the resume in Lin Yi's hands and sighed in admiration, "Miss Shen is only in her twenties, yet she already has two doctorates. But why have I not heard about this matter when I was in school?"

Matriarch Bai sneered. "Since even you have not heard of this before, this must be fake. In this era, the cost of faking a resume isn't high."

After saying that, she looked at Lin Yi. "What's going on with your kindergarten? Why are you allowing all sorts of people to join?"

Lin Yi placed the resume down while bitterly smiling in her heart.

It was because a big boss from overseas had sent someone to contact her!

She had no idea what sort of backing the Chu Family had. Not only did that big boss want to protect them, but he even sent someone over to handle the initial screening. Hence, even if she knew that their resumes might be fake, she wouldn't dare to make any noise.

However, because that big boss wanted to keep his identity a secret, Lin Yi didn't dare to say anything much to her best friend. She could only smile calmly and explain, "The main thing is that those three children are indeed geniuses. This is why we made an exception."

Lin Yi no longer wanted to talk about this, so she looked at Shen Wanying and said, "My stomach problem is an old ailment. You don't have to do a check-up for me every month."

After retracting the hand she was taking Lin Yi's pulse with, Shen Wanying took the small pillow that Lin Yi's hand was resting on for the pulse-reading. She then kept the pillow inside a chinese medicine box that she always brought along with her. After that, she took out a bottle of pills and passed it to Lin Yi. "Your stomach's condition still isn't very good, so you have to pay attention to it. You cannot catch a cold. You should feel better after eating two of these pills."

Lin Yi frowned after hearing this.

A personal nanny standing beside Lin Yi immediately spoke, "But our dean has not come in contact with any cold things recently."

Shen Wanying continued, "We cannot be anxious for things like stomach pain. We have to nurture it back to health very slowly. Do you feel more relieved after eating the medicine?"

Lin Yi nodded. "Indeed."

After saying that, she stood up. "You guys wait here first. I'll come back after I conclude the interview."

The two of them nodded.

After she left, Matriarch Bai stood up.

Shen Wanying hurriedly went to support her.

Matriarch Bai sighed. "We should go and look at the photo wall. Back when your second uncle was around five to six years old, he attended kindergarten here too. He is very intelligent and even said that he wanted to become a mechanic when he grew up. There's a photo of him on the photo wall..."

A hint of loathing flashed in Shen Wanying's eyes.

Second uncle, second uncle. This old woman was always talking about him...

However, she suppressed the impatience in her heart and smiled as she supported Matriarch Chu out. "Grandma, earlier, there was a dispute between my butler and the Chu Family. I wonder if it would make ninth brother and Miss Yun unhappy. At that time, if they mention it to grandpa, I'm afraid Zhongzhang is going to be implicated because of this."

Matriarch Bai immediately replied, "Regardless of the Chus or Yuns, they are small families, so why are you worried about them? There's no need to care at all. Don't worry, with me here, that old man doesn't even need to think about bullying you two!"

Shen Wanying's eyes flashed and her smile was filled with more sincerity.

On the other side, Lin Yi looked at her nanny the moment she exited the door. "Earlier, you shouldn't have said those words before Miss Shen. If she dares to say her medical skill in the capital is ranked second, no one would dare to say they are first. It's already an honor that she is willing to diagnose me for free."

The nanny nodded and had a worried look on her face. "However, your stomach pain keeps recurring frequently nowadays. I'm a little worried."

Lin Yi didn't say anything and simply followed the nanny to the second room for the interview.

The parents and four kids were all here.

Lin Yi thought and felt that the words that might be said later weren't suitable for the children to hear. Hence, she smiled and instructed the staff members, "Bring these four children out to play. You can lead them to the photo wall for a look. That place contains all the honors won by our students."

"Alright."

The staff was very experienced when it came to coaxing children and soon garnered their interest. The children then followed the staff as they headed to the photo wall.

They kept chatting non-stop on the way there.

The overall area of this chinese-styled kindergarten actually wasn't large. This was also more convenient for the kindergarten teacher. They could look after the children better.

The four children arrived at the photo wall earlier compared to Matriarch Bai.

When Matriarch Bai came, she just so coincidentally heard their juvenile voices chatting.

Chu Yu shouted, "Xiaoqi, why are you in that photo? Something is wrong, the date written is over 40 years ago, but this person looks exactly like you!"

After that, Chu Tianye's envious voice rang out. "My heavens, he really does look like you! Could he be your maternal grandfather?" After that, he continued spiritedly in an excited voice, "Or is he your paternal grandfather? Could it be that you have an inheritance that can be claimed?"

Chu Xiaoqi's clear voice also rang out, "Are you silly? Isn't my paternal grandfather the same as your paternal grandfather?! My father is your father's younger brother!"

"Oh, right." Chu Tianye immediately realized this and spoke in a greatly disappointed tone, "That should be your maternal grandpa then. Aiya, I don't have a share in the inheritance~"

The others. "..."

Chapter 303 Take Your Pulse

Matriarch Bai hastened her steps, wanting to hurry over to look.

In the end, as she got close, the four children seemed to have seen something bad as all of them had their eyes wide open.

Chu Tianye had sharp eyes so he was the first to spot them. "Aiya, it's that butler from earlier!"

Chu Xiaoqi was fearful of trouble ever since she was young. "Let's run quickly, he must be here to catch us!"

Chu Tianye shouted, "Why should we run? We were here first!"

!!

Chu Yu then spoke, "We have fewer people, resulting in reduced strength. It isn't too good to clash head-on with them, so we should run away first!"

Just when Chu Tianye planned to reply, Chu Yu added another sentence again, "In addition, Xiaomeng will be scared when she sees living humans. Let us leave quickly!"

Chu Tianye glanced at his younger sister who was hugging her dinosaur soft toy tightly and had a look of sluggish nervousness on her face, so he eventually agreed.

The two of them then ran toward that meeting room earlier and Chu Tianye shouted, "We are actually not afraid of them, but a true hero isn't afraid of retreating when the situation calls for it!"

Chu Xiaoqi. "Right, right, right, right..."

As they ran, Chu Xiaoqi turned back to look and saw an old woman with a headful of silver hair. Although she had a solemn expression, she felt as though she just saw an amiable granny.

Matriarch Bai also gazed at the children.

When her gaze landed on Chu Xiaoqi, she started slightly as she felt a sense of familiarity. But when she wanted to observe more, Chu Xiaoqi had already run far away.

Shen Wanying glared unhappily at the butler. "Why didn't you come here in advance to clear the area?"

The butler wanted to reply, but Matriarch Bai waved her hands. "They are just adorable children, there's no need to ask them to go away. We won't adopt such a stance in kindergarten."

Matriarch Bai had a noble status.

Right now, among the four great families, although the Shen Family was stronger than the Bai Family, Shen Yuansong had never married anyone in his entire life. He had no wife, so the Shen Family had no matriarch. Moreover, the matriarchs of the other two families weren't as old as her.

This was why Matriarch Bai's status in the capital could be said to be top-class. One had to pay special attention to her no matter where she went.

Since she had said it this way, Shen Wanying no longer harped on it.

The two of them then went to the photo wall, and Matriarch Bai accurately pinpointed where her second son's photo was. It was a bright-looking lad of around five to six years old, and he looked extremely adorable. He was clad in kindergarten uniform and smiled very happily.

As Matriarch Bai looked at the photo, her eyes turned red.

Her life was perfect and her only regret was her second son.

Ever since her eldest son was born, her husband took the responsibility of raising him, not allowing her to guide her son as her husband was afraid the eldest son would lack masculinity if he was raised by a woman. Hence, in her heart, her second son was actually her first child.

Her second son was like a girl. He was caring and clingy to her. Their relationship was the best, but her second son could be extremely stubborn. Back then, he said that he refused to have an arranged marriage and directly left home.

He had not returned after so many years and even when she feigned sickness some time ago, he also didn't return. He must have hated her immensely.

Matriarch Bai held Shen Wanying's hand. "I don't know if I can see your second uncle again before I die."

Shen Wanying's gaze flashed and she consoled her. "Now, it can be considered an improvement since second uncle is willing to speak to you on the phone. Have you forgotten that when we first found him, he wasn't even willing to talk with you? Maybe, second uncle will return as more time passes."

Matriarch Bai's eyes were wet. She nodded. "Correct, correct. He might return some time later. He should have kids, right? He probably has grandchildren too, and the age of his grandchildren should be old enough to go to school..."

After Matriarch Bai said this, she added, "The next time you chat with him, remember to tell him that he can send his grandchildren to this school. Lin Yi wouldn't dare to reject my great-grandchildren!"

In the meeting room.

The parents sat on the sofa, but Dean Lin Yi's gaze swept past Chu Cimo and Bai Shanshan and finally landed on Chu Cichen and Shen Ruoqing.

She subconsciously furrowed her brows and knew that these two were the ones the major character was backing.

Dean Lin Yi wore her far-sighted glasses and sat on a chair behind a desk. This old woman with white hair frowned as she looked over the results of the test done by the four children earlier. She then asked unhappily, "Who is Chu Xiaomeng's parent?"

"Us." Chu Cichen sat up straight.

Shen Ruoqing pursed her lips.

Could it be that the kindergarten wouldn't accept someone with Xiaomeng's condition?

Back then in Sea City, she did send her two kids to kindergarten, but Chu Xiaomeng always grew nervous when she saw strangers and the teacher treated her as someone weird. Moreover, the teacher even suggested Shen Ruoqing to bring Chu Xiaomeng to a psychiatrist.

At that time, Shen Ruoqing was very angry. And because Chu Xiaomeng kept failing the interviews, this caused her to loathe going to school.

When Chu Cichen said that this was a special kindergarten, Shen Ruoqing didn't want to pour cold water on him, so she decided to bring Xiaomeng here for a try. But now, if the other three children were accepted and Xiaomeng was rejected...

She shouldn't have brought Xiaomeng here...

Just when Shen Ruoqing was feeling regret, she actually heard Dean Lin Yi saying otherwise. "As parents, you two are too incompetent. She has such a high IQ and is a genius, yet you guys are wasting her talent? Are you all going to let her grow up without guidance? Do you know that if she had proper guidance, her achievements would be much greater than now!?"

Shen Ruoqing started slightly, but her eyes soon brightened.

A current of warmth flowed in Shen Ruoqing's heart...

Dean Lin Yi actually didn't treat Xiaomeng any differently due to her social phobia...

As she was in deep thoughts, Chu Cichen spoke, "That was my mistake and I didn't live with her due to some reasons, causing the child to lack a sense of security. I wonder if Dean Lin has any arrangements for her?"

Dean Lin Yi rubbed her eyes while pressing her stomach with her other hand.

At this moment, her stomach pain acted up again. She waited for it to subside before speaking, "After I received the children's application, I went to research Xiaomeng's situation. Now, I've prepared a special training plan for Xiaomeng, and you guys can take a look. This plan of mine requires the parents to cooperate."

She then paused for a few moments before continuing, "I don't care about what happened in the past, but I hope that from now onward, no matter what, you guys can support the school's education plan and love the children as much as you can so as to not impede their future!"

Chu Cichen guaranteed. "Definitely."

Dean Lin Yi frowned imperceptibly when she saw that Shen Ruoqing was in a daze. "The mother plays a more important role than the father when it comes to the growth of the children. I hope that you can give them positive guidance. Xiaomeng's mother, can you do it?"

Shen Ruoqing regained her senses and sensed that Dean Lin Yi felt a little unhappy about her. However, she had no idea why. But since Dean Lin Yi was doing so for the good of Xiaomeng, she wouldn't mind the dean's attitude. She then nodded in cooperation. "I can."

"Good." Lin Yi stood up. "The interview is over. The children can just stay behind, and they will end school at 5 p.m. Please come punctually to fetch them back."

After saying that, she revealed a standard smile to the four of them, looking kind and gentle.

However, her hand was pressing on her stomach again.

Chu Cimo and Bai Shanshan left the room first. After that, Chu Cichen stood up and adjusted his suit. He pondered a little before bowing to Lin Yi, showing his respect for this dean who was in her seventies.

When he was about to leave, he suddenly discovered that Shen Ruojing was still standing there at her original location.

Shen Ruojing looked at the dean and decisively walked over. She then spoke, "Dean Lin, I see that you keep pressing your stomach. Is your stomach feeling some discomfort?"

Lin Yi was polite and aloof at the same time. "Hmm, a little. I'm fine."

However, Shen Ruojing spoke, "Stomach pain isn't a minor problem. Let me take your pulse for you."

Chapter 304 Cancer

However, she didn't expect Lin Yi to reject it. "No need."

Shen Ruojing didn't wish to force her. She then pondered a little and took a medicinal pill out to place it on the table. "This is an emergency pill. If Dean Lin feels uncomfortable, you can consume it directly and wait for the ambulance to arrive."

Dean Lin Yi nodded. "Many thanks."

Although her attitude was polite, it was clear that she was unhappy.

Shen Ruojing didn't continue speaking and left.

When Lin Yi's nanny saw this, she couldn't help but ask, "This student's mother has two doctorates and her skill in chinese medicine might be higher than Miss Shen Wanying's. Why don't you get her to help you do a check-up?"

Lin Yi glanced at the nanny. "Her resume is fake."

The nanny was stunned. "What?"

Dean Lin Yi sighed.

She was in her seventies now and had many good friends in the country and abroad. Before Shen Ruojing brought her resume over, she had already sent someone to investigate. Shen Ruojing wasn't someone who graduated with a doctorate from Columbia University at all!

Dean Lin Yi had always been fair and because she had been teaching students for so many years, she hated lies and hypocrisy the most.

She also wasn't very fond of Shen Wanying. The latter was too impetuous and not real enough.

However, she tolerated her due to her good friend, Matriarch Bai.

Now, she didn't have to tolerate Shen Ruojing, so she really wasn't able to show a happy expression on her face.

The nanny was angered. "There are really all sorts of people nowadays."

Lin Yi continued, "This matter is her secret. We shouldn't discuss this privately. However, her character isn't good, and I'm worried that the children would be led astray by her. Help me tell the teachers to pay more attention to the characters of the four children."

"Yes."

After the nanny finished speaking, she couldn't help but feel worried. "But your stomach pain..."

Lin Yi also sighed. "I've been to the hospital so many times, but there's no way to cure it. I've already sent someone to look for Divine Doctor Jing."

The nanny was extremely worried. "However, Divine Doctor Jing is so mysterious and no one knows where he is. It is said that he was previously in Sea City, but he soon vanished again. How can we find him?"

Lin Yi spoke, "He is a professor in both Chinese traditional medicine and Western medicine from Columbia University. I will be able to find him if I contact him through the school. Alright, my stomach pain is very painful. You can represent me to tour the place with them and send them away."

The nanny nodded immediately.

After Shen Ruoqing's group left the meeting room, they didn't leave immediately. They still had to watch the children attending classes under the accompaniment of a teacher.

The school fees here were extremely expensive, and no ordinary family could afford this place.

However, there was a reason why the fees were extremely expensive.

After the tour, Shen Ruoqing discovered that this kindergarten was roughly the same size as a university. Not only did it have its own racecourse, but there was also an indoor ski resort, golf range, and places for other high-end activities.

Very soon, they arrived at the children's classrooms.

The children who were five years old didn't learn any theoretical lessons. The teacher would play with them for the majority of the time in the morning, guiding their interests. And during the afternoon, the children could register for classes of their own interest.

The four children were of similar ages and they were sent to the same classroom.

When Shen Ruoqing entered, she just so coincidentally saw a group of children surrounding the four kids. The other children were curious about them.

Those who could attend kindergarten here were all from noble families, and their upbringing was very good.

Evidently, they had chatted for a while. Chu Tianye made good use of his sociable personality and introduced their group of four to the classmates.

At this moment, everyone was asking him.

"Chu Tianye, do you guys have olympiad-level knowledge in math?"

“Naturally. My younger sister’s standard has reached the high school level!”

“In that case, are you guys well-versed in computing skills?”

“Of course, my younger brother can already manufacture robots!”

“Do you all know English?”

“Definitely. Not only English, but we also know French, Italian...” Chu Tianye had never known what it meant to keep a low profile. He wanted nothing more than to boast them to the high heavens.

He always liked such a feeling – being a moon and surrounded by stars.

As expected, the children were all stunned by him. All of them exclaimed in shock.

“Wow! Chu Tianye, you guys are so impressive. You all are so young but already know so much!”

“You guys are good-looking too!”

“Ah, Chu Tianye, do you all have any weaknesses*?”

“That’s for sure,” Chu Tianye spoke with no hesitation. “I lack money.”

Shen Ruoqing and Chu Cichen. “...”

The two of them fell silent.

Could Chu Tianye’s money-grubbing nature be changed or not?!

The two of them felt embarrassed to continue watching any longer.

The nanny who was accompanying them couldn’t help but glare at Shen Ruoqing. (Look at what you taught the child?!)

In the classroom, the other children were still very pure, and they had no concept of money.

Hence, the children all spoke out in a friendly manner.

“I have $2,000 here. Do you want it?”

“I have $5,000. I can give it to you~”

“I also have money. I have $10,000 in my card. Little Ye, do you need it?”

Everyone wanted to send money to Chu Tianye, so the nanny exhaled deeply. If Chu Tianye dared to accept the money, she would immediately report this to the dean and the dean would surely expel him.

As expected, a woman of improper character would give her children a flawed upbringing.

Just as she thought of this, she heard Chu Tianye rejecting them. “I can’t accept the money. I have to depend on myself to earn the money. My mommy said that humans cannot accept things we do not work for!”

The nanny started slightly.

She stared at Shen Ruoqing dumbfoundedly and felt that she might have been too biased earlier.

This Miss Shen had taught her son such logic. This was enough to make the nanny see that her character wasn't that bad.

Although these four children had their own minor flaws, they didn't seem to have a problem with their moral characters...

The nanny felt guilty due to her misunderstanding of Shen Ruoqing earlier.

Hence, for the later part of the tour, the nanny's attitude became much better.

They spent over an hour plus to finish touring the kindergarten. After that, they had to leave and couldn't disturb the children there.

The nanny sent them personally to the entrance and expressed her apology. "Originally, Dean Lin was supposed to send you all out, but she isn't feeling too good currently, so I'm doing it on her behalf."

Shen Ruoqing took the chance to ask, "When was Dean Lin's last check-up?"

The nanny thought about it and answered, "About a year ago. It's roughly about time for her to do another medical check-up, but she has been too busy recently and didn't have time to go."

Shen Ruoqing pondered.

Traditional Chinese medicine emphasized looking, hearing, asking, and feeling.

Although Lin Yi didn't let Shen Ruoqing take her pulse, she had a conjecture in her heart when she saw Lin Yi's complexion. She suddenly asked, "The cause of stomach pain might not be from her stomach. It might be possible that there are cancerous tumors in her other organs..."

After the sound of her voice faded, the nanny's countenance immediately darkened. "Miss Shen, please speak cautiously! Dean Lin would do a medical check-up every year, and there were no signs of any cancer at all! In addition, Dean Lin has always had chronic stomach pain!"

Shen Ruoqing wasn't angry that she was interrupted.

She knew that it was extremely rude to say someone had cancer when she was not the one being invited to do the treatment. However, she still insisted on her diagnosis.

Lin Yi was fond of Chu Xiaomeng. This reason alone was enough for her to 'interfere'.

Shen Ruoqing knew that the nanny wouldn't believe her easily. Hence, she wrote her number on a piece of paper and passed it to her. "This is my number. If Madam Lin Yi becomes unconscious or if her stomach pain intensifies, you can contact me. Early phases of cancer also include a low-temperature fever that refuses to subside..."

The more she spoke, the angrier the nanny became. "Miss Shen, enough! Dean Lin Yi didn't mention some things because she wanted to protect your dignity. However, you shouldn't really treat yourself as someone who graduated from a great university! Do you think you can flaunt your skills everywhere just because you learned a little medicine?"

The nanny turned and left after saying this sentence in anger.

This parent was simply too much!

She didn't even take Dean Lin Yi's pulse, yet she acted like she was a divine doctor? Wanting to act impressive by making shocking statements?!

Earlier, she shouldn't have felt guilt. How could the character of someone like her who faked her resume be good?

The nanny grew angrier the more she thought about this and directly returned to the meeting room. She wanted to inform the dean about this matter, but just when she pushed the door open, she saw Dean Lin lying in a slump on her desk.

Her cheek was pressing on the desk surface and her eyes were shut. She had clearly fainted.

The nanny's mind exploded and she suddenly recalled what Shen Ruoqing had told her earlier...

Chapter 305 Stomach CT Scan

"Dean Lin!"

The nanny's scream caused Shen Wanying, who was supporting Matriarch Bai to walk here, to start. After that, she swiftly rushed into the meeting room.

After seeing Dean Lin Yi's situation, she instantly ran over to feel her pulse.

"What's going on with Dean Lin Yi? What's wrong?"

As the nanny spoke, her gaze landed on the medicinal pill that Shen Ruoqing had left behind for the dean...

"Could what Miss Shen Ruoqing said be real?"

The nanny mumbled in astonishment.

Shen Wanying glanced at her. At this moment, she had finished feeling Lin Dean Yi's pulse, and her tone was calm as she spoke, "There's no need to be anxious. Dean Lin Yi only fainted due to her blood sugar being too low."

After saying that, she took out a silver needle and performed acupuncture. Only then did Dean Lin Yi slowly wake up.

Shen Wanying gave her a piece of chocolate and sighed. "You should rest well."

Dean Lin Yi was already in her seventies, but she insisted on doing everything herself.

She was worried that the kindergarten would become a money-making tool for some people, hence, she wanted to personally interview the parents. She also wanted to personally introduce suitable teachers for the children.

So, Dean Lin Yi was simply too tired.

She rubbed her glabella and pressed her stomach again. "I'm fine, I just didn't eat breakfast. There's no need to make a big deal out of this."

The nanny sighed with relief.

After bringing a bowl of porridge for the dean, the nanny saw her hesitating, so she decided to speak. "Dean Lin, earlier, Xiaomeng's mother said that you might have cancer before she left..."

As the sound of her voice rang out, Dean Lin Yi started slightly.

Shen Wanying who was beside her also frowned.

The nanny's tone was filled with worry. "This year, it's also about time for your medical check-up. Why don't I arrange one for you tomorrow?"

Lin Yi furrowed her brows and looked at Shen Wanying.

Her stomach pain had always been cared for and treated by Shen Wanying. If she went to seek another diagnosis, she should do so secretly. By saying it out loud in public, wouldn't it be equal to doubting Shen Wanying's medical skill?

The nanny wasn't tactful enough.

Just when Lin Yi was planning to reject, Shen Wanying actually said, "Although I didn't discover anything strange about Dean Lin's stomach, it would still be good to do a full medical check-up and take a CT scan to prevent any accidental delays of treatment should there really be anything."

She looked as though she was completely fine about it.

Lin Yi was slightly startled.

Shen Wanying smiled. "Dean Lin, although I have confidence in my medical skills, once someone casts a doubt and you don't eliminate it completely by doing a full check-up, the efficacy of chinese medicine will be reduced by half. In addition, there's no downside to doing a check-up."

Dean Lin Yi smiled. "Right."

After Shen Wanying left, the nanny couldn't help but speak, "Dean, did we misunderstand Miss Shen Wanying previously? Although she likes fishing for compliments, she can still be considered tactful, right?"

Dean Lin Yi shook her head. "It isn't that clear yet. Some people can be so hypocritical that they can act all the way. If they pretend to be tactful continuously over a long period and show no flaws, they would be tactful."

After that, she spoke again, "Xiaomeng's mother said that I might have cancer?"

At this moment, the nanny was evidently more convinced by Shen Wanying. In addition, the dean's complexion looked better after her acupuncture, and this caused the nanny to feel that she might have made a mountain out of a molehill. She nodded. "Correct, she said that you should do a medical checkup and even gave me her number. Wasn't she simply planning to use this chance to get close to you? Most probably, she just wants to flaunt her medical skills! Since she didn't take your pulse, how could she tell? Earlier, I was too foolish..."

Dean Lin Yi lowered her eyelids. "In that case, arrange for a medical check-up for me tomorrow."

"Hmm, you have to do the check-up and show it to Xiaomeng's mother. Let her know how stupid she is!"

Lin Yi didn't reply and stood up instead. "Let us go check out the four new children and see if they are obedient or not..."

Earlier, she only had time to speak with their parents, but she wanted to observe them for herself.

It was the last lesson of the afternoon. The four children sat in the last row of the classroom, and Chu Xiaoqi's hands were on the desk while she sat up straight.

Her large phoenix eyes were staring at the rostrum and her expression was very serious.

If it wasn't for the fact that her head was slightly cocked, everyone would probably praise her for listening seriously.

Dean Lin Yi rubbed her eyes.

It was unknown why, but when she looked at Chu Xiaoqi, it felt like she was looking at Matriarch Bai's second son from fifty years ago when he was a student here, dressed in their uniform.

The resemblance was truly uncanny. It was unknown if she had any blood relations with Matriarch Bai's second son.

However, Lin Yi wasn't bothered by this. Although not many people resembled someone else despite having no blood relations, such cases weren't uncommon.

After that, she turned her attention to the other three.

Lin Yi's lips twitched.

Hence, she...

School had ended.... Back in the Chu Manor.

Chu Cichen went to fetch the kids home and after he returned, the four children sat on the sofa and were shrugging their heads as though they had done something wrong.

Chu Cichen's expression was solemn as he asked, "Say it. Why did you guys want to sleep during the lesson?!"

Chu Tianye lifted his head weakly. He raised his hands. "Because the noise level after the lesson ends would be too high and it wouldn't be conducive for sleeping!"

Chu Cichen. "??"

He suddenly felt his hand itching.

He suppressed his temper and looked at Chu Xiaomeng. His voice clearly turned gentler. "Xiaomeng, what about you?"

This little fellow was fond of learning the most. How was it possible for her to fall asleep?

There had to be a reason!

Chu Cichen then touched her forehead. "Are you not feeling well?"

Chu Xiaomeng hugged her dinosaur soft toy. She had never stopped hugging it even when she went to school. She tightened her grasp and spoke in a cowardly voice, "Because there aren't as many people in my dreams in comparison~"

Chu Cichen. "..."

Finally, he turned to Chu Yu. This little fellow who had always been strict with himself also fell asleep during a lesson? How was this possible?

He frowned and asked, "Why did you fall asleep too?"

Chu Yu. "My younger brother and sister have both fallen asleep. It would not be conforming to the group if I didn't sleep, right?"

Chu Cichen. "???"

Chu Tianye's unhappy voice rang out from the side. "I've said that I'm the eldest brother. You are the younger one!"

Chu Yu. "You are the younger brother."

The two were about to quarrel, while Chu Cimo looked like he was happily watching a comedy at the side. Chu Cimo then asked Chu Xiaoqi, "Our Xiaoqi is the most obedient one, and she didn't sleep during the lesson at all! You are completely different from them!"

Chu Tianye and Chu Yu. "???"

The two of them immediately looked at Chu Xiaoqi. "Xiaoqi, what did the teacher talk about in the lesson today?"

Chu Xiaoqi blankly shook her head. "No idea."

Chu Cimo's head was filled with question marks. "Why wouldn't you know since you didn't fall asleep?"

Chu Xiaoqi. "Because throughout the entire lesson, I was thinking, should I wake my cousins up?"

She then yawned, "Daddy, I'm tired."

Chu Cimo. "!!"

He then glanced at the three other energetic children, and his lips twitched while he howled silently in his heart. (Why didn't you join them and sleep together?!)

On the next day.

Dean Lin Yi didn't go to school after she woke up, and she headed to the medical center instead.

When she was doing the CT scan, the nanny specially instructed the staff, "Dean Lin is feeling a little uncomfortable in her stomach. Help her do a check and see if there are any signs of cancer."

The staff nodded. "Okay."

As a professional nanny, she also had basic medical knowledge. After all, she had to take care of Dean Lin's health, so after Dean Lin was pushed into the medical apparatus, her eyes remained fixed on the screen.

Although she didn't believe Shen Ruoqing, she was still very worried about the dean's health.

The CT scanner slowly swept past every area of Dean Lin's stomach. All of a sudden, the staff member's hand paused and he focused the camera on a place where the scanner had swept past earlier. There was an anomaly there.

Chapter 306 Exception

Chu Cichen was a good father. He insisted on personally sending three, no...four children to school every day.

On the other hand, Chu Cimo directly tossed Chu Xiaoqi to him and ignored his duty. He continued having fun with his buddies all day long. Back then, he had attended a university in the capital and also made a bunch of good friends here.

As for Bai Shanshan, after she was signed by Shen Qianhui, although she didn't have any work recently, she still had to practice dancing every day. While maintaining her singer identity, she also wished to develop in the direction of a celebrity that could sing and dance. After all, the artists nowadays were well-developed in every aspect.

Shen Ruoqing seemed like she was slacking in the Chu Manor every day. But in truth, she had contacted Lu Hui and Ye Lu and got them to investigate the truth of what had happened in the past. She tried calling the electronic voice, but no one picked up. Right now, it was a one-sided communication where only the other party could contact them.

After Lu Hui finished reporting what had happened recently, he suddenly asked, "Boss, are you not in Ford City? I recently came to Ford City for work and want to report some problems to you personally."

"Oh, I'm not there," Shen Ruoqing calmly replied. "I'm in the capital now."

Lu Hui. "???"

He was completely stunned. "When did you go to the capital?"

"I've been here for a few days already."

Lu Hui was emotionally moved. "Have you finally remembered our businesses in the capital and you are here to inspect them?"

"Nope," Shen Ruoqing cruelly replied. "I've retired, don't bother me with company matters."

Lu Hui. "???"

He almost jumped to his feet in anger. "Right, right, right. You've retired, so you don't care about your own companies and just exposed your identity as Anonymous to help your mother. That was fine. But not only that, you even agreed to be in charge of the Chu Corporation's pharmaceutical factory and gave them free medical prescriptions. You are clearly only 'retired' for my sake!"

Shen Ruoqing calmly replied, "Hmm, it's your honor."

Lu Hui. "..."

Shen Ruoqing then hung up the phone and prepared to fetch the four children back from school.

She went to the garage and wanted to choose a car to drive. But after that, her eyes brightened when she saw a motorbike that was painted in red and black parked there.

This wasn't the Acabion GTBO she modified but a Dodge Tomahawk instead!

This motorbike cost more than 20 million yuan and although it wasn't the most expensive motorbike and its price was even lower than the Acabion GTBO, it was known as the fastest motorbike in the world, the ultimate dream of all motorbike enthusiasts! She always wanted to purchase one but had no channel to do so...

Moreover, the body of the motorbike was simply too cool. If she drove it on the road, everyone would definitely turn their head to look at it. She didn't like to be so high-profile.

However, Chu Cichen had modified this motorbike to the point where it looked like an ordinary one. Although this affected its speed somewhat, it now fit her personality and aesthetic sense more.

Shen Ruoqing was ecstatic. She walked forward and circled around the motorbike a few times while touching it lovingly.

After that, she called Chu Cichen. "The Dodge Tomahawk in the garage is..."

"That's a gift for you." Chu Cichen's voice was very low. "Do you like it?"

"Yes!"

Shen Ruoqing had always been calm and self-contained. It was rare for her to reveal an expression of joy.

After ascertaining the fact that this motorbike was for her, Shen Ruoqing was planning to hang up and ride it to the kindergarten. But before she could do so, the man's low voice rang out. "It's good that you like it."

His voice seemed to contain magic that lightly tugged on her earlobes. This sense of numbness soon traveled to her heart.

Shen Ruoqing lowered her eyelids and replied with a 'hmm'. She was someone who never liked to say goodbye and would rather hang up the phone directly. But this time around, she curled her lips into a smile and said, "See you later."

After hanging up, she rubbed her cheeks before riding the motorbike and speeding out.

The eyes of Chu Cichen, who was in the large sedan and currently heading to the kindergarten, gleamed brightly after he heard Shen Ruoqing say 'See you later'.

When he wanted to buy a motorbike for her, everyone suggested him to buy the most expensive one. However, Chu Cichen rejected their suggestions after having done some research for a few nights.

He then purchased a cheaper motorbike according to her likes, and his heart was filled with trepidation when he parked it at the garage.

But as expected, she indeed liked it.

Chu Cichen smiled. At this moment, Lu Cheng who was driving asked, "Bro Chen, is Lord Jing also going to fetch the children back?"

"Hmm, she's riding the motorbike she loves most."

Lu Cheng. "Ah?"

"Yup, the one I gifted her."

Lu Cheng. "???"

He didn't ask about that...

Lu Cheng glanced at his boss through the rearview mirror. His boss was very composed, but he was actually smiling at this moment. This caused Lu Cheng to feel as though spring had come!

Shen Ruoqing rode the motorbike and although she set off later than Chu Cichen, she arrived at the kindergarten earlier than him.

At its fastest speed, the motorbike could reach a speed of 600 km/h. The acceleration was very fast, and it felt extremely satisfying when riding it.

No one could drive into the kindergarten. So, although the school was very high-end and expensive, everyone could only obediently park their cars outside and walk into the school to fetch their children before leaving.

Shen Ruoqing parked her motorbike at the side and walked to the kindergarten's entrance.

Just so coincidentally, Shen Wanying had just arrived in a Bai Family's car. After the car was parked, she saw Shen Ruoqing and a mocking look flashed in her eyes.

The butler beside her spoke, "Riding a motorbike here to fetch her children? Isn't she afraid of danger? She is truly from a small place and only knows how to embarrass herself!"

Shen Wanying glanced at her butler. "Just speak less."

She basically didn't place Shen Ruoqing in her eyes at all.

Recently, Shen Wanying had been coming to pick up her child so it was more convenient for her to take Dean Lin Yi's pulse.

The other parents had to queue up at the entrance and wait for the kindergarten to send the children out.

However, after Shen Wanying got out of the car and headed in that direction, the surrounding people immediately opened a path for her. There were even many who greeted her, "Madam Shen, you came to pick your child up again?"

Others who married into the Bai Family would be known as Madam Bais, but only Shen Wanying could retain her surname after marriage!

Shen Wanying's demeanor was elegant as she walked through the path opened up by the other parents.

Shen Ruoqing was lazily standing in the queue, but she was soon shoved by Shen Wanying's butler rudely. "Don't you have eyes? Make way!"

She turned and saw Shen Wanying walking over. Shen Wanying then frowned and spoke to the butler, "Speak properly."

The butler immediately replied in an aggrieved tone, "She didn't make way for us."

Shen Ruoqing was preparing to say something, but everyone in the surroundings started to reproach her.

"What's this person doing? Why isn't she giving way? Is she a newbie that doesn't know the rules?"

"Mam, I feel you should apologize to Madam Shen."

Shen Ruoqing. "???"

She frowned. "Why should I apologize?"

Everyone then explained.

"Don't you know that in the entire kindergarten, she is the only one qualified to enter without queueing to pick her child up? This is because she is not only a daughter from the Shen Family, but she has also married into the Bai Family!"

"Not only so, but Madam Shen has never abused her status before. The Shen or Bai Family's kids would be able to enter this kindergarten without any test. But back then, Madam Shen and Mr. Bai officially passed all the interviews. She's only enjoying this current prevalence because she has to treat Dean Lin Yi."

Everyone spoke out one after another in Shen Wanying's defense. Shen Wanying then smiled. "Don't worry about it, Madam Chu is someone new in the capital and doesn't know the situation. I should be the one apologizing for my butler's rude behavior."

Everyone immediately praised her, "Madam Shen, you are really too humble!"

Shen Ruoqing. "..."

Shen Wanying walked to the entrance under everyone's praise.

At this moment, Dean Lin Yi's nanny suddenly rushed to the entrance. "Miss Shen, are you here?"

Shen Wanying curled her lips and was about to speak, but she saw that the nanny was scanning the crowd and her gaze landed on Shen Ruoqing!!!

Chapter 307 Pancreatic Cancer

Shen Wanying was slightly stunned before she answered, "I'm here."

Only then did the nanny see Shen Wanying. She immediately turned around and said, "Huh? Miss Shen, you've arrived too? Please enter then."

Shen Wanying nodded and entered the kindergarten's gate.

She then asked, "How is Dean Lin today?"

She asked this question but didn't hear any reply. When she turned around again, she realized that the nanny was still at the gate and didn't follow her.

She frowned slightly, only to hear the nanny say, "Xiaomeng's mother, Miss Shen, don't be waiting here. Dean Lin is looking for you."

Shen Wanying. "?"

Shen Wanying frowned and a hint of displeasure flashed past her face. However, She didn't say much and just headed straight for Dean Lin's office.

At this moment, Shen Ruoqing became the center of attention.

Everyone looked at her. They didn't know why Dean Lin had given her special treatment, but they still made way for her.

Shen Ruoqing then passed through the crowd and arrived at the kindergarten's gate. The nanny was planning to bring her in when she suddenly saw a figure walking over from afar.

Chu Cichen had a tall stature, standing out amongst the crowd with his height of 1.88 meters. In addition to his composed disposition, as well as his handsome and distinct features, he became the center of attention the moment he got out of the car.

He walked over with quick steps, and all the distinguished married women nearby couldn't help but make way for him.

Chu Cichen quickly arrived next to the two of them and asked in a soft voice, "What's the reason Dean Lin is looking for my wife?"

The man said the words "my wife" with great familiarity and composure, as if he had addressed her in this manner for very long and had gotten used to it.

However, when Shen Ruoqing heard this, she was slightly startled, and it caused her cheeks to slowly flush.

When the nanny saw Chu Cichen, she was also slightly taken aback. Most families would only send one person to fetch their kids. Therefore, the nanny didn't expect the children's father to be around as well. She thought about it for a moment before continuing, "Xiaomeng's father, you can come in too!"

Shen Ruoqing and Chu Cichen then walked alongside each other and followed the nanny.

They quickly arrived at Dean Lin's office. The nanny then knocked on the door and pushed it open. After that, Shen Ruoqing walked in and happened to see Dean Lin withdrawing her hand after having her pulse taken.

Right now, Shen Wanying put the small wrist rest into her medical box and said, "You still have to take the medicine daily. Breakfast is a must. Take some soft food like porridge. Even if you don't have an appetite, you still have to eat. Gastric illness isn't something that one can recover from easily and it takes a long time to heal it."

Dean Lin nodded.

Gastric illness...

Shen Ruoqing had only come to pick the children up because she was worried about Dean Lin's body. Right now, they happened to be in a consultation, so she started, "Dean Lin, I suspect that you have cancer..."

Before she finished her words, the nanny suddenly spoke in a strange tone, "Miss Shen, our dean has gotten a medical checkup! There's indeed an anomaly in her gastric, but we've seen a doctor and he assured us that it's gastritis and gastric ulcer. The doctor's assessment is the same as Madam Shen Wanying's! Don't try to scare us here!"

Gastric ulcer?

Shen Ruoqing frowned. "Is the result based on a CT scan? Or a gastroscopy?"

The nanny. "... The dean took both."

Shen Ruoqing asked again, "Then what about the organs around the gastric? Were they scanned when the CT scan was conducted?"

At this moment, the nanny had become impatient. "Haven't you said enough? Do you really think of yourself as a divine doctor?"

However, Shen Ruoqing didn't mind this. Instead, she looked at Dean Lin Yi. "Dean Lin, I suggest you undergo a full-body CT scan, especially for the organs around your gastric. When the CT scan is performed, some organs might be missed out because the organs are piled together, like the pancreas..."

Before Shen Ruoqing could finish her sentence, the nanny interrupted her, "Miss Shen, you should know that there's radiation involved in these scans, right? Pregnant women are forbidden from doing these scans. Although Dean Lin isn't pregnant, her body is already very weak. There's a limited number of times she can do such scans every year. We've done a full-body checkup and there's no problem at all. Moreover, Madam Shen Wanying has taken Dean Lin's pulse for so many years and never made a mistake before. She has also been the one to treat Dean Lin's gastric illness. Even she said that she didn't assess the presence of cancer! Can you stop talking nonsense here?"

"Madam Chu is just worried due to concern," Shen Wanying said indifferently. She then looked at Shen Ruoqing with a faint smile. "After all, Madam Chu is also a medical student. It's understandable for her to want to help."

When the nanny heard this, the corners of her lips curled up mockingly. She wanted to say something, but considering that there were outsiders around, she didn't say anything in the end.

What medical student? That was just a lie!

Shen Ruoqing pursed her lips.

Judging from Dean Lin Yi's countenance, it was definitely not as simple as a gastric ulcer.

The pancreas was situated right behind the gastric and didn't have a sense of pain. When undergoing CT scans, it was easily covered up by the gastric. Therefore, the early stages of pancreatic cancer were often mistaken as gastric illness.

And it just so happened that Dean Lin Yi also had a gastric illness. That was why her condition was treated as such.

Shen Wanying was young, so of course she wasn't able to diagnose this.

Shen Ruoqing wanted to say more when Lin Yi lowered her gaze and said, "That's enough. Xiaomeng's parents, please take a seat. The reason I've called for you is because I want to discuss the children's issues with you."

After saying that, she took a look at Shen Wanying.

Shen Wanying immediately packed up her medical kit and stood up, heading out with it in her hands. "Then I won't disturb you anymore. However, Dean Lin, you must listen to the doctor's orders."

"Alright."

After Shen Wanying went out, Shen Ruoqing heard Dean Lin say, "I observed the three children yesterday. They are really geniuses with high intelligence and shouldn't be buried in a small kindergarten. This is especially so for Xiaomeng. There's clearly a flaw in her character, but her intelligence is shockingly high. She's a good material for becoming a researcher."

Chu Cichen frowned and said, "What Dean Lin is trying to say is...?"

Lin Yi spoke up, "I've contacted Professor Sparton who is overseas, and I've told him about the three children's situation. He has a great reputation in the education circle and is a professional in nurturing talented children. He has retired and I've invited him to China to take in a few students to nurture. Soon, he'll stay in the school as the kindergarten's consultant. However, it'll be up to their fate to see if they can be picked by him."

When Chu Cichen heard the name Sparton, his phoenix eyes flickered. He quickly stood up. "Dean Lin, thank you very much."

Shen Ruojing's gaze also deepened a little.

Of course, she knew how hard it was to invite Sparton. Back in Sea City, she had considered asking Sparton to teach Xiaomeng. However, Sparton wouldn't come to China and Shen Ruojing didn't wish to be parted with Xiaomeng either. Therefore, she gave up without trying this option.

Dean Lin didn't know of her identity at all and seemed to have some dissatisfaction with her for some reason. Despite this, Dean Lin was still willing to go this far for the children...

Now, Shen Ruojing finally understood why Chu Cichen insisted on picking this kindergarten.

It was because there was a good dean here who taught according to aptitude.

Since that was the case, she was determined to treat Dean Lin's illness!

Chapter 308 Divine Doctor Jing!

Shen Ruojing was prepared to expose her identity. "Dean Lin, I know that you don't trust my medical skills, but you should have heard of Divine Doctor Jing before, right?"

Divine Doctor Jing was what people addressed her respectfully as. But Shen Ruojing couldn't possibly proclaim herself as a divine doctor...

However, those who knew the truth, knew.

Before Dean Lin could speak, the nanny hurriedly answered, "Who wouldn't know Divine Doctor Jing's name? Miss Shen, don't tell me that you want to say you are acquainted with him?"

Shen Ruojing replied, "Correct, I..."

!!

"Before she could say the word 'am', Dean Lin Yi interrupted her, "Miss Shen, if you are free, please pay more attention to your children. You don't have to be concerned about my gastritis. As for Divine Doctor Jing, I've gotten someone to contact him."

Shen Ruojing. "..."

She still wanted to say something, but Dean Lin continued, "I've finished what I want to say. If you have no more questions regarding the children, you guys can head out now."

"..."

Shen Ruojing inhaled deeply and stood up. "Alright then."

Shen Wanying was standing outside the door and hadn't walked far away. Her eyes were gleaming at this moment. Sparton...he was a top-tier teacher in the education world!

He could judge someone's potential and use various methods to professionally nurture them. The students he taught were all elites from various industries.

He was about to come to China and accept students?

Shen Wanying clenched her fingers as unhappiness suddenly filled her heart.

She had been treating the dean all this time, but when it came to something so good, the dean actually didn't think of her and wanted to introduce Sparton to the country bumpkin's children? This was simply too much!

Also, regardless of status or authority, her son Bai Yiyong should be at the top of the list in this school!

Shen Wanying turned her head and there was a trace of anger in her eyes when she stared in the direction of Dean Lin's office.

However, she quickly suppressed her anger and turned to leave.

After everyone departed, the nanny looked at Dean Lin Yi. "Dean, your actions are correct. She is someone who faked her resume, so how could she be acquainted with Divine Doctor Jing? However, did you really manage to get someone to contact Divine Doctor Jing?"

Although Shen Wanying was monitoring her health, Dean Lin Yi knew her own body very well.

She felt that she was about to become an arrow at the end of its flight.

However, she just had to run into three talented children at this moment. She wanted to live a few more years and nurture these three children into true talents...

After the nanny finished speaking, Dean Lin Yi nodded. "Hmm, I've already found someone to email Divine Doctor Jing. I hope he will reply after seeing my message."

The nanny started. "But what if he doesn't reply? Or what if he is someone who never checks his email?"

Dean Lin Yi was very calm and spoke in a composed manner, "That would be my fate then. It's fine, I still have Sparton to guide these three children for me."

Because Shen Ruoqing and Chu Cichen were summoned into the office, the four children weren't sent out and were waiting in the classroom for the two of them to bring them away.

As the two of them were on their way to the classroom, Chu Cichen asked, "Do you need my help to get the dean to believe you?"

"No need." Shen Ruoqing had never liked to trouble people. In addition, there was a better solution to handle this matter. There was nothing she had that could prove her identity, hence, the best way was to use the identity of the 'Divine Doctor Jing' they found to treat the dean.

Shen Ruoqing curled her lips. "They will definitely contact me through email. I'll just log in and contact them via that."

It was fine to delay treatment for a day or two for something like pancreatic cancer.

Chu Cichen nodded.

Actually, he could help, but he understood 518's character. She didn't like other people interfering in her matters, so he didn't say anything earlier.

Sometimes, respect would allow others to feel more comfortable compared to other things.

After Shen Ruoqing and Chu Cichen arrived in the classroom, they saw Shen Wanying holding the hand of a five-year-old boy as she walked out.

When the two parties encountered each other, Shen Wanying's countenance changed. She suddenly spoke imperiously, "Miss Shen, other than thinking of solutions to help Dean Lin, why don't you educate your children better? Daring to take responsibility for one's actions is a wonderful characteristic!"

After saying that, she snorted coldly and brought Bai Yitong with her.

Shen Ruoqing. "?"

She went in and fetched the four children out. After that, she asked, "Who is going to tell me what happened?"

The four kids looked at each other before their gazes finally landed on Chu Tianye.

Chu Tianye, who had a headful of curly hair, lifted his head. His grape-like large black eyes on his tender face blinked as he coughed. "Mommy, it's just a minor matter~"

"What's going on?"

Chu Tianye coughed again. "In the P.E. lesson today, when everyone was queuing up, I accidentally farted and it sounded a little loud. After that, the students in front of me turned to look at me..."

Shen Ruoqing. "And?"

Chu Tianye felt even more guilty and continued, "At that time, I didn't want people to know it was me, so I also turned my head to look at student Bai Yitong who was behind me."

Shen Ruoqing and Chu Cichen. "..."

Right now, the two of them didn't know whether they should laugh or endure the urge!

Chu Cichen even felt an impulse to touch his son's head.

This little smarty pants!

From Chu Tianye's view, this was really a minor matter, but he didn't dare to say it.

Chu Cichen secretly glanced at Shen Ruoqing only to see the woman holding her laughter back as well while pretending to be solemn...

Just when he was preparing to say something, Chu Tianye hugged Shen Ruoqing's thigh. "Mommy, I know my mistake. At that time, Bai Yitong burst into tears. Although I feel that this is just a minor matter, I immediately apologized and admitted to all the students that I was the one who farted. If they want to laugh, just let them laugh at me. Also, Student Bai Yitong has already forgiven me~"

Shen Ruoqing crossed her arms. "And?"

How would Chu Tianye ever suffer a disadvantage?

As expected, she saw the little fellow scratching his head. “Cough, but no one believed me. They thought I was standing up to tank the blame for Bai Yitong. Hence, they liked me even more now...”

This was just some squabbles between kids, and it was just a cheeky prank. In addition, Chu Tianye had apologized, so Shen Ruoqing felt that she didn’t need to interfere.

It was enough to let the children handle it between themselves.

Shen Wanying naturally understood this logic, hence, she only warned them but didn’t make trouble.

Shen Ruoqing then ignored the matter and brought the four children away with Chu Cichen.

She rode a motorbike here, hence, she had to leave alone. The four children would follow Chu Cichen and return via car.

Chu Yu’s eyes shone brightly. “Mommy, I will accompany you.”

“Sure.”

Shen Ruoqing, who understood her son’s nature, passed him the helmet that she had prepared.

Chu Yu immediately carried his bag over and wore the helmet before climbing onto the backseat and hugging his mommy’s waist.

After Shen Ruoqing departed with Chu Yu, Chu Tianye looked at her backview and shouted, “Doggy Chu Yu! Mommy’s boy! In the future, you definitely won’t be able to find a wife!”

Although she had lowered her speed because Chu Yu was with her, the roads in the capital were very congested. So, even after she stopped elsewhere to purchase some medicinal ingredients, she still reached the Chu Manor earlier compared to Chu Cichen and the rest.

She then got Chu Yu to wait downstairs for his siblings before heading up with the medicinal ingredients upstairs.

Dean Lin was already very old, with serious stomach problems and underlying medical conditions. Because of this, she wasn’t suited for surgeries and could only depend on consuming medicine to suppress the illnesses. Hence, Shen Ruoqing was making proprietary medicinal pills to suppress her pancreatic cancer.

After the pills were concocted, she then took her phone out and logged into Divine Doctor Jing’s email.

There were over 99+ unread emails in her inbox, and she only managed to find the particular email that sought help for Dean Lin after scrolling for two minutes.

The email contained Dean Lin Yi’s personal mobile number.

She pondered a little before directly calling it.

The call soon connected and the nanny's voice rang out from the other end. "Hello, may I ask who this is?"

Shen Ruojing's voice was lazy. "My surname is Jing."

The nanny was stunned at first, but she was soon filled with joy. "Divine Doctor Jing? Is that you? Did you see our dean's email? She has fallen asleep, let me go and wake her up."

"No need." Shen Ruojing's words were concise. "I'll go to the kindergarten to look for you two tomorrow. At that time, remember to contact me via this number."

"Okay, okay, okay, okay!"

After the nanny said that, the other party hung up and she quickly wrote the number down.

However, the nanny suddenly realized that something was wrong.

The voice of Divine Doctor Jing on the phone...why did it sound like Shen Ruojing?

I...It couldn't be, right?

Chapter 309 Feeling of Intimacy

The nanny quickly dismissed this thought.

Everyone knew that Divine Doctor Jing was old. Back then, Divine Doctor Jing had rejected many consultations with the excuse of inconvenience in traveling. Therefore, how could Shen Ruojing be Divine Doctor Jing?

The nanny then shook her head, feeling that she had thought too much into things.

Shen Ruojing only realized that it was already 8 p.m. after she hung up the call.

Back then at 6 p.m., when the Chu Family members called her for dinner, she didn't go down as she was busy. So, she wondered if there was still any food left.

Shen Ruojing then stood up and stretched her body.

After that, she rubbed her stomach and looked ahead in a daze.

Would it be bad if she were to go to the kitchen downstairs to look for her own food?

This was the Chu Manor, not the Shen Manor...

This was the first time that Shen Ruojing felt inconvenienced from staying at someone else's house. But at this moment, someone knocked lightly on the door. Chu Yu's voice rang out. "Mommy, are you done with doing your stuff?"

"I am."

Shen Ruojing replied calmly. She thought that Chu Yu would push open the door and enter, but she didn't expect him to shout in delight. "Mommy's done with her stuff!"

A few sets of tiny footsteps rang out from outside.

Shen Ruojing opened the door but didn't see anyone outside. However, there were noisy sounds coming from the kitchen downstairs. She then headed down and went to the kitchen to see a tall figure in a black shirt, black formal trousers, and a baby blue apron. He was... making noodles?

The pot was piping hot and he added in green noodles. Next to him was a row of crabs, and the four children were holding tools and peeling the crabs.

The crab roe, crab meat, and crab legs were being separated from the shells and placed neatly into three small bowls.

Upon hearing sounds coming from the door, everyone turned to look over.

Chu Cichen's tough figure appeared to be a big mismatch in the kitchen. He wore a solemn expression and stared at her with his phoenix eyes, speaking in a deep tone. But his voice sounded especially gentle and down-to-earth. "The noodles will be cooked very soon. Wait for another two minutes."

Chu Yu immediately waved his small hand with gloves on. "Mommy, I took out the crab roe for you!"

Chu Tianye didn't want to lose out. "Mommy, I peeled the crab meat for you!"

Chu Xiaoqi immediately chimed in, "Aunt, Xiaomeng and I peeled crab legs for you!"

Chu Xiaomeng didn't say anything but snipped the air with her small scissors, expressing her agreement with Chu Xiaoqi's words. It was rare to see her dinosaur soft toy at the side. Right now, everyone in the room was someone she was close with, so she wasn't afraid.

Seeing this, Chu Cichen couldn't help but join in to say, "I extracted spinach juice and made handmade noodles for you."

"..." Shen Ruojing's lips curled.

At this moment, she suddenly felt that all the fighting and wandering she had been through for the past 20 years were insignificant. For an instant, she felt that life was peaceful and quiet, and she hoped that time could stop at this moment.

However, she knew that the mystery from back then hadn't been resolved yet. Unknown danger was slowly creeping in.

Shen Ruojing then lowered her peach blossom eyes, the smile on her face slowly dissipating. She nodded and sat down at the dining table, watching the one adult and four children, suddenly having the urge to make a comeback in the underworld.

She wanted to protect such beautiful moments.

20 minutes later, Chu Cichen brought out the crab roe noodles. The four children also came in closer after removing their gloves. Just as Chu Yu wanted to get close to Shen Ruojing's side, Matriarch Chu suddenly appeared upstairs. "Little Yu, Little Ye, Xiaomeng, Xiaoqi, the four of you, come up for a moment~ Your school uniform has been tailored a little. Hurry up and come to try them on~"

The four children instantly ran upstairs.

Chu Cichen looked up and happened to see Matriarch Chu looking at him, making a gesture to tell him to 'go for it'.

Chu Cichen. "..."

The dining hall that was filled with the sounds of chattering a moment ago suddenly became quiet.

Shen Ruoqing felt uneasy for some reason. So, she coughed, picked up the chopsticks, and took a mouthful of noodles. However, she hadn't expected the noodles to turn out to be firm, chewy, and very delicious.

She said in surprise, "You are actually very good at making handmade noodles."

"I'm not."

Chu Cichen said calmly, "I specially learned it for you."

Shen Ruoqing was stunned and then saw the man's ears turning slightly red. "I remember when we were on a mission in Peru back then, we ordered a serving of spaghetti. However, you said that you like China's crab roe noodles better."

Shen Ruoqing didn't remember these things.

However, it was true that she preferred Chinese food and wasn't used to eating foreign food.

When she stayed overseas for a long duration, she would miss Chinese delicacies such as steamboats, malatang, noodles, stir-fried noodles, and so on a lot. She had probably grumbled about these things.

However, to think that he would go to such lengths just because of a casual thing she said...

Shen Ruoqing felt as if something warm had been injected into her chest, causing her expression to become a lot softer. "But you didn't have to learn how to make it. Isn't it easy to get noodles in this country?"

Chu Cichen looked at her. "Back then, I didn't know that you would return to China. I thought that you'd continue to stay overseas, so I thought that I'd be able to make it for you anytime if I learned it."

After saying this, he asked, "Does it taste good?"

"... It does," Shen Ruoqing replied in a muffled voice.

She ate the noodles very quickly.

In just five minutes, she cleaned the bowl completely and looked like she could still eat more.

Chu Cichen looked at her and suddenly pointed at the corner of his lips, telling her, "You got some crab roe here."

Shen Ruoqing took a napkin and wiped the part at the corner of her lips. "Here?"

"No, here."

Chu Cichen pointed to his lips again.

Shen Ruojing was baffled. Wasn't the part she wiped the place he was pointing at?

Seeing that she didn't understand, Chu Cichen reached his hand over. He didn't take a napkin but pressed down on the corner of her lip with his finger. The man's phoenix eyes then flashed with a dark glow and he rubbed her lips, which were actually clean. "Here."

His warm finger had thin calluses. When it touched her skin, there was a rough rubbing feeling that caused her face to heat up.

The night sky outside was as dark as ink.

Only the light in the dining hall was on. And under the dim lighting, an ambiguous feeling slowly grew.

"Ba-thump, ba-thump..."

Shen Ruojing heard the sound of her heartbeats and subconsciously wanted to back off when the man retracted his finger at a suitable timing. His phoenix eyes then looked at her scorchingly. "Alright, it's clean now."

"..."

Shen Ruojing lowered her gaze. After that, she picked up her bowl and entered the kitchen, wanting to wash it. However, Chu Cichen took it from her. "Let me do it."

"No need. You cooked, so I'll do the dishes."

After Shen Ruojing said this subconsciously, his low laughter rang out in her ear.

Only then did she realize how natural her words sounded. It was as if the two of them had been a married couple for a long time.

Shen Ruojing quickly added, "This is a clear distinction of work."

"Hmmm, you're right."

Shen Ruojing. "..."

She washed the dishes quickly and turned to head out of the kitchen. The two of them then went upstairs together.

It was already nine.

The four children had been brought back to their respective rooms by Matriarch Chu to sleep. So, the two of them now stood outside Shen Ruojing's room. Shen Ruojing said, "I... will be going in."

"Jingjing." The man's lips curled up into a faint smile. "Good night."

The words 'good night' were spoken with a deep voice that seemed to be scratching her heart. This caused Shen Ruojing's body to tremble slightly.

This man was definitely seducing her.

Shen Ruojing stared at him for a while before raising his peach blossom eyes. "Mr. Chu, I have something to tell you."

“What is it?”

Shen Ruoqing beckoned at him.

As expected, the man lowered his head.

She slowly got close to his ear, looking very sluggish, and her peach blossom eyes were filled with loving emotions. This made Chu Cichen’s throat roll and suddenly feel parched.

His gaze landed on her cherry-red lips again...

Could it be...

Chapter 310 Delivering Medicine!

Just when Chu Cichen’s thoughts were wandering, the woman got close to him and breathed lightly on his cheeks. This caused his body to instantly tense.

But at the next moment, he heard the woman saying, “Actually, there was no crab roe that stained my mouth, right?”

Chu Cichen. “??”

He subconsciously wanted to explain something, but when he lifted his head, he saw the woman taking a step back and slamming the door shut with a bang.

“...”

Chu Cichen then realized that all his thoughts had been seen through long ago by this woman!

In addition, she played him at his own game! At this moment, he only felt his anger rising...

Chu Cichen inhaled deeply a few times before he suppressed his emotions. He then walked toward his room helplessly.

He completely had no idea that Shen Ruoqing, who was just a room away, was currently leaning against the door. Her fingers were pressed on the location of her pounding heart as though she wanted to calm her uncontrollable quickened heartbeats.

It was unknown how long later before Shen Ruoqing regained her calmness.

She then took a shower and lay on her bed. When she took her phone out to scroll the news, she suddenly saw a text from a stranger.

The sender of the text was a series of numbers.

However, Shen Ruoqing was very familiar with this string of numbers. It was the electronic voice that called her previously!

In addition, the content of the text was this: Be careful, don’t fall for Chu Cichen.

At that instant, Shen Ruoqing felt a blast of coldness flooding into her body, causing even her back to break out in cold sweat.

She narrowed her eyes and deleted the text.

On the next morning, Shen Ruoqing woke up as usual and went to do a morning exercise routine downstairs.

Chu Cichen had been staying at home recently and would wake up at 6 a.m. punctually for a jog and to exercise. Although the stuff that the two of them did were different, the pace of their life was completely matched.

After breakfast, the four children went downstairs obediently after wearing their uniforms properly. Chu Cichen then looked at Shen Ruoqing and asked, "Let's send them to school together?"

Shen Ruoqing's expression was calm and one couldn't tell what she was thinking. She still spoke in that lazy manner, "Nope, I will go there at 10 a.m. instead."

Right now was the peak period where everyone would send the children to school.

She wanted to treat the dean and didn't wish to be too high-profile. So, at 10 a.m., most of the parents would have already left. She would then head over to contact Dean Lin.

However, Chu Cichen narrowed his phoenix eyes and looked at her.

It was unknown whether it was an illusion, but he clearly felt the sense of ambiguity between them last night. However, at this moment, Shen Ruoqing seemed a little estranged from him.

Hence, Chu Cichen's expression was solemn as he sent the kids to school. He then went to the office.

When Lu Cheng came in to make a report, he saw Chu Cichen pondering over something with a very serious expression.

Lu Cheng's heart clenched. It had been so many years since he last saw Bro Chen being so solemn. Could it be that their businesses overseas had run into some trouble?

He immediately asked anxiously, "Bro Chen, did something major happen?"

"Hmm," Chu Cichen replied with a grunt and this caused Lu Cheng to feel even more nervous. He continued to ask anxiously, "What happened? Are our businesses overseas bankrupt? Or did an enemy destroy our HQ? Or did an accident happen to someone?"

Just when he was about to break down from worrying, Chu Cichen suddenly sat up straight and asked, "Why was she suddenly cold toward me? Could it be that my tempo in chasing her was too fast? Or was it too slow?"

Lu Cheng. "??"

(What's going on with your expression that looked like you were pondering about the most difficult problem in the entire world?!)

At 10 a.m., Shen Ruoqing rode her motorbike to the school.

She parked in the parking lot and made a call to Dean Lin's personal phone. The other party picked up very quickly and Dean Lin Yi's kind voice rang out. "Divine Doctor Jing?"

"Hmm." Shen Ruoqing's voice was slightly unclear and it was tough to differentiate whether it was male or female.

Dean Lin immediately replied, "I'm really sorry about last night. The nanny should have woken me up. I was simply too impolite."

"No problem," Shen Ruoqing calmly said, "I'm already at the entrance of the kindergarten."

"Ah?" Dean Lin Yi evidently didn't expect that she would actually come. She then spoke in shock, "Let me go and escort you in."

"Sure."

After hanging up, Shen Ruoqing headed to the entrance.

She had thought that the number of parents would surely be fewer, but the moment she turned the corner, she saw over ten parents gathered at the entrance!

In addition, these people were clearly from rich families. They were clad in luxurious clothes and carried expensive limited handbags. They were currently gathered together and discussing something.

Shen Ruoqing went over cluelessly. One of them looked at her and suddenly lowered her voice. "You also heard the news and specially came to plead with Dean Lin Yi?"

Shen Ruoqing. "Huh?"

"Stop pretending. Everyone here knows that Sparton is going to be a consultant here. In addition, he will select a few children to be his students. This is why everyone came here, wanting to plead Dean Lin to help recommend their children!"

After that rich lady said that, she warily looked at Shen Ruoqing. "Which child's parent are you? This opportunity is very rare to come by. We are all big families from the capital, and our children have been performing well in school. No matter what, Sparton has to select his students from our children!"

The others respectively nodded their heads.

They were considered among the better families in the capital, and there were also people from the four great families. The fewer competitors their children had, the less pressure they would feel. Hence, they banded together and were very against outsiders.

With regard to Shen Ruoqing whom nobody knew, this group of people were immediately united. "Don't tell me that you also want your child to get selected by Sparton? How can that be possible? Be it in status, identity, or our children's results, your child is way inferior!"

Shen Ruoqing. "..."

She twitched her lips and couldn't be bothered with them. She then directly walked past them and went to the school entrance.

But at this very moment, Shen Wanying coincidentally walked out of the kindergarten. After seeing her, the others immediately crowded around her. "Miss Shen, did you just finish treating the dean? Did Dean Lin say anything about how Sparton is going to choose his students?"

Shen Wanying smiled. "That's the dean's personal matter and I would never snoop. In addition, Dean Lin's style is clear to all. She would never cheat for personal gain. It's useless even if you all feel anxious."

The moment she said this, some people sighed. "Madam Shen, you naturally won't feel anxious because your son Bai Yitong will be the first in line regardless of which aspects Sparton will consider. You also have credit for treating Dean Lin. So, be it in personal or private terms, she will definitely leave a slot for your son. How can your situation be the same as ours?!"

Everyone sighed and Shen Wanying suddenly saw a black plastic bag in Shen Ruoqing's hand.

She lifted her eyebrows and asked, "Miss Shen, does your bag contain...medicine? Is it for Dean Lin?"

Shen Ruoqing did place the pill she had concocted for Dean Lin last night inside a black plastic bag. This was to prevent others from seeing it, but now that she was being pointed out, she didn't deny this. "Correct."

She didn't expect that the moment she said this, all the other parents here started blasting her.

"Medicine? Hah. Are you planning to follow Madam Shen's example and give the dean medicine in order to gain a slot for your child?"

"How ridiculous! Madam Shen is a genius student from Columbia University. Are you even a doctor? Why are you randomly giving medicine to others?"

"Dean Lin's illness is a stubborn one, and she has consulted many doctors and eaten many medicines throughout these years. If giving medicine could work, we would have long since done it. Or perhaps you are from a rural area and are planning to use some old-handed-down prescription to swindle her?"

When everyone was mocking Shen Ruoqing, the group suddenly fell silent and stared at the interior of the school.

Through the metal railings, they saw Dean Lin Yi walking over here personally.
