

A WARRIOR UNDEFEATABLE/

A Man Like None Other Chapter 4086—“Of course I’m not begging you; I just want to do business with you,” Carlo said.

“What business?” Jared immediately became interested.

Despite Carlo’s disheveled and scared appearance, Jared was wary. The expression Carlo wore now wasn’t that of a coward. Even as a prisoner, he wanted to do business, proving he wasn’t simple-minded. Perhaps what they had seen before was just an act.

“I hope you can help me become the leader of Duad Formation Sect,” Carlo said bluntly.

Jared was stunned. Carlo was an elder of Duad Formation Sect, and now he wanted to be the leader. But why come to him?

“How do you know I can help you? And how do you know I have that ability?” Jared asked curiously.

“Your array technique is the most impressive I’ve ever seen, and you will definitely help me because I have this.”

Carlo waved his hand and took out a dark red crystal from his storage space. When Jared saw the crystal, he was stunned because he didn’t recognize it. The aura emitted by the crystal was many times stronger than that of a spirit stone.

“Blood jade? How can this guy have blood jade that is only available in the heaven?” Vermilion Demon Lord was also surprised.

“Senior, what is blood jade? Is it only available in the heaven?” Jared was immediately excited upon hearing about things from the heaven.

“This is a kind of fairy jade from the heaven. For array masters, it is a major resource for comprehending arrays and improving the strength of arrays,” Vermilion Demon Lord explained.

There were not many array masters in the heavenly world, and resources like blood jade were scarce and only available in the heaven. Hearing this, Jared’s excitement grew.

“This kind of thing is a treasure for formation masters. After breaking through the Tribulation Realm, a cultivator who reaches the Ultimate Realm becomes a semi-immortal, and the spiritual energy in the body transforms into immortal energy. But during Ascension, the immortal energy is very scarce. With this blood jade, a formation master can replenish a lot of immortal energy. However, it requires a high-level formation master to use it. If the level is too low, only at the fusion realm, it is completely useless,” Carlo explained, but he never revealed the name or origin of the crystal.

“Blood jade, a kind of immortal jade in the heaven, the most basic resource for formation masters. It is indeed good,” Jared said, pretending to be calm.

Carlo was stunned, his eyes widened in disbelief.

“How do you know this? This is impossible!” Carlo couldn’t figure out how Jared knew about it. This kind of thing was only available in their Duad Formation Sect. Their powerful formation technique was due to this blood jade.

“I know much more than you can imagine. Although this blood jade is not considered a top-grade fairy jade in the heavenly realm, it is still a treasure,” Jared said coldly. “Just a blood jade, and you want me to help you become the leader of Duad Formation Sect? Are you thinking too much?”

In truth, Jared had already agreed in his heart. With the blood jade, he would make rapid progress in formation. However, he couldn’t show too much excitement. Now it was time for bargaining, and Jared needed to stay calm.

Carlo frowned. He had hoped to use the blood jade to gain Jared’s help by presenting it as a treasure.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 4087-Jared actually knew about the blood jade, and it seemed that just one blood jade wouldn’t satisfy him.

But Carlo, as an elder of Duad Formation Sect, only had one blood jade!

“Of course not, my blood jade is just a deposit. When you help me become the leader of Duad Formation Sect, I can give you ten blood jades. How about that?” Carlo asked tentatively.

Jared shook his head. “I feel it’s still a bit risky.”

“What do you want? We only have a dozen blood jades in Duad Formation Sect. Isn’t it enough to give you ten?” Carlo was getting anxious.

Seeing Carlo’s anxious look, Jared knew he wasn’t lying. It seemed that Duad Formation Sect really only had a dozen blood jades. It was impossible to give him all of them; ten was already the limit!

So Jared said, “It’s not just about more blood jade. I also want the essence of your Duad Formation Sect’s formations. Don’t tell me that such a large formation sect doesn’t have any essence, right?”

Carlo relaxed a little and said, "So you want our Duad Formation Sect's divine runes. You should have said that earlier."

"Yes, I want your Duad Formation Sect's divine runes," Jared nodded.

In fact, Jared didn't know what the divine runes were. He was just testing Carlo, and he didn't expect Carlo to admit it himself.

"Okay, I will find a way to introduce you to the ancestor of the divine runes, but whether you can get the divine runes and whether you can condense them is up to you."

"But I warn you, the divine runes are not easy to condense, and you may go astray," Carlo said.

"Then you don't have to worry about it, you just need to agree to it!" Jared was completely bluffing. He appeared confident, but in reality, he knew nothing about the divine runes.

"I have a sound transmission jade slip here. When I return to Duad Formation Sect, I will notify you when the time is right."

"As long as you help me become the leader of Duad Formation Sect, our sect and your Violet Flame Sect will be friends forever and cooperate for mutual benefit!" Carlo said excitedly.

"Looking at you, you don't seem like a coward. Why were you so scared earlier?" Jared asked curiously.

Carlo smiled, "If I showed that I wasn't afraid and acted tough, would you still lock me up?"

"Of course not. I would have killed you on the spot. How could I spare someone who threatens me?" Jared said.

"Hahaha, exactly! If I didn't act that way, how could we have today's cooperation? I originally came to help Harlan and cooperated with him secretly. He would help me become the leader of Duad Formation Sect. But who knew he would be defeated by you, so I had to come to you," Carlo explained.

"Aren't you afraid I wouldn't agree and then kill you?" Jared was curious. Carlo could have escaped but didn't. Wasn't he afraid of being killed?

"There is no hatred that cannot be resolved by interests. As long as I give you enough benefits, I believe you won't kill me. This is how the world of heaven and man works. Benefits are paramount. Now, haven't you agreed and won't kill me?" Carlo said proudly.

“You are right. You can go now...” Jared admitted that Carlo was quite smart.

The main reason was that the benefits were too great, especially the precious blood jade!

After Carlo handed the blood jade to Jared, he walked out of the dungeon.

Seeing Carlo released by Jared, many people were surprised, but no one dared to say anything.

After all, Jared was the new leader of Violet Flame Sect!

What's more, Jared's strength was evident to all, and everyone was shocked by it!

A Man Like None Other Chapter 4088-When Jared left the dungeon, Gael didn't question him about releasing Carlo. After all, Jared was now the sect master of Violet Flame Sect, and he had the final say in everything.

Jared had originally planned to return to Imperial Fox City after mastering the art of fire fusion. However, due to the situation with Carlo, he had to delay his return for a few days. The delay was worth it to obtain the blood jade from the Duad Formation Sect.

Another reason for his stay was his growing affection for Juliet. Jared would feel regretful if he left without becoming intimate with her.

Next, Jared accepted the promotion ceremony, officially becoming the sect master. He also took steps to reform Violet Flame Sect, ensuring that incidents like Harlan's treachery wouldn't happen again. Cleaning up the mess Harlan left behind was essential.

Though many people professed their loyalty and stayed in Violet Flame Sect, there were still individuals with ill intentions among them. Especially the deacon disciples like Thiago, who were incompetent and brought shame to Violet Flame Sect. Such people needed to be punished and demoted.

During his reforms, Jared consulted with Gael, leading to significant changes within Violet Flame Sect in just a few days. Gael observed these changes with satisfaction.

Juliet was with Jared every day, providing strong support. If someone else were the sect master, Juliet would have resisted and opposed it. But with Jared as the master, Juliet was very happy. In her heart, she already considered Jared as her man. However, since Jared hadn't taken the initiative, Juliet felt too embarrassed to take the final step.

“Juliet, it's been several days. Haven't you and Jared consummated your relationship yet?” Gael asked Juliet anxiously.

“Dad, Jared didn’t take the initiative, and as a girl, I can’t take the first step!” Juliet replied, blushing.

“Juliet, there’s nothing wrong with you taking the initiative. Happiness depends on your own efforts. Tonight, you should go to Jared’s room. I’ll feel relieved once you two have done it,” Gael urged.

Juliet nodded, realizing she had to take the initiative.

That night, as Jared lay in bed, about to fall asleep, he heard the door gently open. Knowing who it was, he pretended to sleep. His heart pounded in anticipation.

Juliet walked to Jared’s bed and, seeing he was asleep, felt a bit disappointed. After hesitating, she took off her clothes and lay down beside him. Just as she settled in, Jared suddenly turned over.

“You weren’t asleep...” Juliet exclaimed, startled.

“Juliet, how can I sleep without you...” Jared said before kissing her passionately. That night, Jared and Juliet finally consummated their relationship, bringing joy to Jared and heartbreak to the many men who had long admired Juliet.

The next day, after spending the night with Juliet, Jared received a message from Cloud through a sound transmission jade slip. He learned that Imperial Fox City had been attacked and broken by the Ferguson family. Fortunately, Feenix and others were safe, having fled to the Western Regions.

Upon hearing this, Jared was ready to return to Imperial Fox City immediately. Despite the safety of his friends, Jared couldn’t let the Ferguson family go unpunished. They were pawns of the Demon Sealing League, and Jared saw an opportunity to destroy the Ferguson family and weaken the Demon Sealing League.

Now at the sixth level of the Tribulation Realm, Jared wasn’t afraid to face even a first-level cultivator in the Ultimate Realm. However, his immediate priority was to find resources and further strengthen his power. Only by becoming stronger could he avoid being hunted by the Demon Sealing League and ultimately step on them, treating them like ants.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 4089-By now, Jared had completely taken control of the Violet Flame Sect. If he elevated Carlo to the position of leader of the Duad Formation Sect, Jared believed that the Duad Formation Sect could also be used for his own benefit.

Additionally, the Seizon family in the Central Region could provide further support. With these allies, Jared was confident he could handle the Ferguson family.

Jared couldn't just run away; he needed to show his strength when necessary.

At night, Jared received a message from Carlo, giving him an address and telling him to wait there.

Jared went without hesitation, trusting that Carlo wouldn't deceive him or set up an ambush. Carlo was smart, and smart people wouldn't do such things.

Jared followed Carlo's directions to a small hill a thousand miles away from the Violet Flame Sect. The environment there was much better than the hot desert of the Violet Flame Sect.

When Jared arrived, Carlo was already waiting.

"I have already tried to approach Divinus, but he refuses to see outsiders. The only way for you to see him is to pretend to join our Duad Formation Sect. I can be your guide. With your skill in arrays, it will be easy for you to join. You can help me become the leader of the Duad Formation Sect just like you did at the Violet Flame Sect," Carlo said.

"Won't we get discovered?" Jared asked, curious.

"Don't worry. No one will challenge someone I vouch for. I still have authority in the Duad Formation Sect," Carlo said confidently.

"Then why do you need to be the leader?" Jared asked.

"For resources. Only as the leader can I have the authority to condense the God Pattern and distribute the blood jade. Although I can command anyone in the Duad Formation Sect now, I can't decide on resource allocation," Carlo explained.

Jared understood that it was all about resources. In their world, resources were crucial. Commanding thousands of troops was less valuable than owning a land rich in resources.

"Okay, I agree," Jared nodded.

Seeing Jared agree so quickly, Carlo was curious. "You agreed so fast. Aren't you afraid I might deceive you, take you to the Duad Formation Sect, and hand you over to the Whalreth League?"

Now that Carlo knew Jared's identity, he found it strange that Jared still dared to agree.

"Hahaha, you're a smart man, Carlo. I trust you wouldn't do that. Besides, I'm confident that if you tried to capture me, I would kill you all," Jared laughed loudly, his eyes full of confidence.

Carlo could only smile bitterly. He had seen Jared defeat Berthold, use the demon soul in his body to defeat Tiberius, the leader of the Ghost Mask Sect, and step on Harlan, forcing him to retreat. With Jared's strength and powerful array techniques, the Duad Formation Sect might not be able to capture him.

"What I want is the position of Sect Master. As for the hundred-year offering of the Sealed Demon League, I'm not interested. We both know our limits. If I overreach, I'll end up like Harlan and his son, with nothing," Carlo said with a smile.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 4090-Listening to Carlo's words, Jared was somewhat impressed. Carlo was not only smart but also knew his limits. He aimed for the position of leader of the Duad Formation Sect but didn't aspire to the hundred-year worship of the Whalreth League, recognizing he didn't have the strength for it.

"Let's go..." Jared said, ready to follow Carlo to the Duad Formation Sect.

But just as he finished speaking, a strange aura enveloped him. Jared was shocked. He had trusted Carlo, but now it seemed he was being deceived.

"You dare lie to me..." Jared's eyes widened in anger, leaving Carlo confused.

"No, I didn't. This is..." Carlo's eyes were wide with shock, but before he could finish speaking, several beams of light struck him, causing him to faint.

Jared was dumbfounded. He initially thought it was a trap set by Carlo, but seeing Carlo attacked left him puzzled.

"Who is it? Show yourself if you dare..." Jared called out, feeling panicked. The other party had set up a formation without them noticing, and Jared couldn't even see them.

As he spoke, an eye appeared on Jared's forehead, scanning the surroundings. He wanted to see what technique was being used to remain hidden. It wasn't a simple invisibility spell, as that couldn't hide one's breath.

With his third eye open, Jared spotted a strange rune floating above his head. He tried to grab it, igniting it with fire, but the rune turned to ash and then reformed.

Jared's unease grew. He tried to burn the rune again with a more powerful flame, but it was ineffective.

"Who are you?" Jared asked, vigilant as he saw an old man with a hunchback, dressed in orange-yellow clothes covered in various runes.

The old man smiled. "Don't be so tense. If I wanted to kill you, those beams of light would have hit you. I just came to talk."

Jared didn't relax. Seeing Carlo unconscious, he asked, "Do you have a grudge against the Duad Formation Sect?"

"Not at all. I don't make enemies," the old man replied.

Jared took a step back. The old man's strength was immense, and Jared felt outmatched, especially with his mastery of formations.

The old man noticed Jared's intention to flee. With a wave of his hand, the entire mountain was covered by a formation, blocking Jared's escape.
