

A WARRIOR UNDEFEATABLE/

A Man Like None Other Chapter 4191

A Man Like None Other Chapter 4191-Prying Into My Cauldron There were also a few Ninth Level Tribulators.

There was even an Ultimate Realm expert, and this expert was none other than Vincent, the head of the Dupont family from Yannopolis.

“Mr. Dupont?” Seeing Vincent, Kai was somewhat puzzled. “Weren’t you with President Surrey and the rest?”

“I was with them, but we’ve parted ways. I just wanted to take a look at your ancient cauldron. Surely, you wouldn’t be so unkind as to deny me a glimpse, right?”

He had been fixated on Kai’s Divine Cauldron. He had brought the Duponts to find him after secretly splitting up with Thaddeus and the others.

He was determined to secure the Divine Cauldron for himself. If he were to collaborate with people like Thaddeus, it would be uncertain who’d end up with the cauldron in the end.

“Oh, so you just wanted to take a look at the cauldron, huh?”

Kai appeared utterly nonchalant, ready to bring out the cauldron.

Vincent’s eyes sparkled, his gaze brimming with greed.

As soon as Kai revealed the Divine Cauldron, he wouldn’t hesitate to strike against him. Once Kai was out of the picture, the Divine Cauldron would be his, and so would the hundred-year offering from the Demon Seal Alliance.

He believed the elite of the Dupont family could easily take down a Sixth Level Tribulator.

Besides, he himself was an Ultimate Realm expert. There was no way he would be afraid of Kai.

Kai casually flipped his hand, and what he pulled out was not some cauldron, but the Dragonslayer Sword.

The light from the sword burst forth in an instant.

Vincent swiftly retreated, narrowly avoiding Kai’s sword strike.

However, the two individuals behind Vincent weren't as fortunate. They were struck directly by the light, and their bodies were instantly cleaved in half.

"You..."

Vincent glared at Kai upon seeing his own men killed.

"Hmph, dreaming of prying into my cauldron, are you? You really think you can deceive me?"

Kai suddenly leaped up, quickly dashing off to one side.

"D*mn it, you think you can escape? I'm going to kill you today."

Realizing that he was being toyed with, Vincent was instantly consumed by fury. With murderous intent in his eyes, he led his men in a relentless pursuit of Kai.

Kai led the way, with Vincent and his men trailing behind. They continuously wove through the mist.

Although his body hadn't suffered much from the poison, the constant movement through the mist made him feel a certain disruption in the flow of his spiritual energy.

In reality, Kai didn't consider these people as threats at all. The reason he didn't confront them directly was due to the surrounding mist.

If a real fight were to break out, the speed of the poisonous energy infiltrating the body would certainly increase.

Even if Kai managed to eliminate them, he would undoubtedly be severely poisoned himself. Encountering any other situations would certainly spell trouble for him. Vincent and his men were hot on his heels, and they kept popping pills into their mouths.

They were detoxification pills.

Although it couldn't completely eliminate the poison in this mist, it could at least slow down the rate at which the poison invaded the body.

Not long after they entered the mist, they noticed something peculiar about it and promptly began to consume detoxification pills.

Coming from a family of medical practitioners, having detoxification pills on hand was a necessity.

"Mr. Dupont, our supply of detoxification pills is running low. If we keep going at this rate, we're going to face a serious problem."

At that moment, a middle-aged alchemist standing beside Vincent offered a reminder.

Vincent furrowed his brows slightly, looking at Kat who was not far ahead. He muttered in confusion, "D*mn, why hasn't the poison affected that kid yet? I don't recall seeing him take any detoxification pills on our journey."

"Mr. Dupont, could he be immune to all poisons?" the middle-aged alchemist asked.

"Bullcr*p, the poison in this mist is not your average poison. Even if he were immune to all poisons, he couldn't possibly withstand the poison in this mist. Our detoxification pills, while effective against a wide range of poisons, can only slow down the effects of this particular one. They are completely unable to prevent the poison from entering the body," Vincent cursed.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 4192-Beyond Pleased With Himself "What do we do, then? Many of us have already started showing symptoms," the middle-aged alchemist asked.

"Take a few people and stay behind to make more detoxification pills, then catch up with us as quickly as you can," Vincent instructed.

Fortunately, they all carried various mystical herbs, which made the process of creating detoxification pills quite simple.

Vincent, along with the remaining others, continued to pursue Kai.

After running for another stretch, Kai came to a halt.

He knew he couldn't keep running anymore. If he continued, the poisons building up inside his body would only get worse.

By that time, there would be no need for Vincent and his crew to lift a finger. He would have fallen on his own.

Vincent could have his men prepare detoxification pills, but Kai was on his own. He simply couldn't manage to make a pill while on the run.

He had to eliminate Vincent and his men before the poison within him took its toll.

Seeing Kai come to a halt, his complexion not looking too good, Vincent couldn't help but let out a cold, mocking laugh. "Why aren't you running anymore? And here I thought you were immune to all poisons. But it seems you've been poisoned quite severely, haven't you?"

About a dozen members of the Dupont family swiftly surrounded Kai.

Vincent casually tossed out a formation plate. With a humming sound, energy radiated in all directions, instantly enveloping several miles around.

This was a cloaking formation, designed specifically to conceal the energy and voices of the cultivators within the formation.

Kai would be left with no way to call for help.

Vincent did this to prevent anyone from noticing and coming over to compete with him.

Kai was quite the catch at the moment. Not to mention the hundred-year offering from the Demon Seal Alliance, he also possessed an ancient cauldron in his hands. Vincent desired to claim all these things for himself.

Seeing Vincent shield off their surroundings, Kai gave a slight smile. "Are you afraid others will find out that you killed me?"

"Of course. You're quite the catch now. Everyone wants a piece of you. However, many are afraid to offend Allardland, so they've been holding back. If I killed you right here and now, nobody would know who did it. So even if Allardland wanted to avenge you, they wouldn't know who to look for," Vincent said with great satisfaction.

"Are you not afraid of President Surrey and the others finding out about your actions?" Kai asked.

Vincent had been with Thaddeus and the others all this time, so his sudden departure would surely raise suspicions.

"Hahaha, so what if they find out?"

Besides, Thaddeus doesn't have the time to deal with these matters. His ambition is to dominate the alchemists in the Ethereal Realm. He seeks control over the entire world of alchemy. I don't have such grand ambitions. All I need is the cauldron in your possession and the hundred-year offering from the Demon Seal Alliance."

Vincent laughed heartily.

Kai was slightly taken aback. "Dominate the alchemists in the Ethereal Realm? What does that mean?"

"Since you're on the brink of death, I might as well tell you. We knew well in advance about the Sky Slasher Sect's plan to attack Medicine God Island. Thaddeus has already formed an alliance with them. If the Sky Slasher Sect takes control of Medicine God Island, Thaddeus will use their power to eliminate his rivals. When that time comes, who would dare to defy them? You imbecile, thinking we were only targeting the Zorn and Zeever families. How utterly naive."

At that moment, Vincent was beyond pleased with himself, revealing all of Thaddeus' plans.

In his view, Kai was undoubtedly doomed, so revealing anything to Kai didn't matter at all.

A murderous intent flashed in Kai's eyes. He hadn't expected Thaddeus to be so cruel.

He had been fooled as well. It finally dawned on him why Thaddeus had been so enthusiastic about the Alchemist Fair on Medicine God Island.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 4193-Thank You For Telling Me "I'm curious. How did you manage to find my location?"

Kai was genuinely baffled. How on earth did Vincent figure out my exact location?

After all, Cauldron Peak was incredibly vast. In comparison, the few people were as insignificant as ants in that area.

Kai wondered how Vincent could pinpoint his location without detecting his aura and spiritual sense.

"Of course, I have spies. Felipe and Freya, who are always with you, are our spies. They would reveal your location at any moment," Vincent sneered.

After hearing that, Kai wasn't surprised. In fact, he also had his doubts about Felipe and Freya.

When those few alchemists pinpointed him with such accuracy, Kai had already harbored suspicions toward Felipe and Freya.

It was just that there wasn't any concrete evidence, so he remained silent.

Now that Vincent could effortlessly pinpoint him, Kai's suspicions intensified.

The only reason he asked Vincent was to confirm his own suspicions.

Considering how carried away Vincent was, Kai reckoned he would reveal everything.

Now, Kai could confirm his suspicion. "Thank you for sharing all this with me."

After Kai finished speaking, an overwhelming aura suddenly erupted from him. Golem Body enveloped him, and he radiated a dazzling golden light. "Hmph! It's futile. No matter how many tricks you have up your sleeve, you're doomed today!" Vincent snorted, then bellowed, "Kill him!"

A group of about ten alchemists unleashed their full strength, launching an attack on Kai.

They each unleashed their most formidable moves.

For a moment, the heavens and earth shook, and the dimension itself seemed to buzz.

In an instant, Kai was enveloped by countless auras and completely disappeared.

Upon witnessing that scene, Vincent couldn't help but sneer. With so many people attacking at once, Kai must've already been wiped out.

Boom!

A loud bang suddenly erupted. Immediately afterward, the closest alchemists to Kai let out a dreadful scream and were thrown backward.

"What?" Vincent was taken aback.

Following that, a burst of flames soared into the sky. Then, a dragon's roar echoed, and a golden dragon materialized around Kai's body.

The golden dragon's body was engulfed in flames, its terrifying aura causing everyone to be astounded.

The golden dragon roared, unleashing an overwhelming internal flame toward those alchemists.

Wherever the golden dragon passed, the alchemists were instantly swept away. Several of the less powerful ones were even torn to shreds by the golden dragon. The sky ablaze had everyone trembling with fear.

In just a fleeting moment, all the dozen or so alchemists brought by Vincent had lost their ability to fight.

Even if they were not dead, they were merely hanging on by a thread on their last legs.

"W-What's going on?" Vincent wore an expression of utter disbelief.

He couldn't believe it. How could Kai, a mere Sixth Level Tribulator, possess such capabilities?

After all, the men Vincent had brought along this time were all Eighth and Ninth Level Tribulator elites from the Dupont family.

Logically speaking, those people should have been able to kill Kai with ease. Yet, the situation had taken an unexpected turn.

Vincent wondered if Kai had kept his true strength a secret. Could he be an Ultimate Realm cultivator instead of a Sixth Level Tribulator? But it's very rare to find such a young Ultimate Realm cultivator in Ethereal Realm!

As the sky-wide flames slowly dissipated, Kai stood unscathed in the same spot.

His shiny Golem Body continued to radiate golden light.

The golden dragon was circling above Kai's head, intermittently letting out a series of roars.

As Vincent gazed upon the golden dragon atop Kai's head, his legs turned to jelly, nearly causing him to collapse on the spot.

"W-What is your actual strength?" Vincent asked loudly.

Although Vincent was an Ultimate Realm cultivator, Kai managed to annihilate the elites of the Dupont family with one move. At that moment, Vincent was filled with intense fear.

"I thought you could tell? I'm just a Sixth Level Tribulator." Kai gave a faint smile.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 4194-I Do Not Need It

"It can't be, it just can't be. If you were only a Sixth Level Tribulator, how could you possibly possess such power?" Vincent didn't believe a word of what Kai said.

The notion that a minor Sixth Level Tribulator could incapacitate over a dozen alchemists, who were Eighth and Ninth Level Tribulators, was simply unbelievable. "Believe it or not, it's up to you, but there's no way you're leaving this place alive today."

After Kai finished speaking, the golden dragon above his head let out a roar, heading straight toward Vincent.

At that point, Vincent was already terrified out of his wits, not daring to resist any further. Seeing that Kai was about to take action, he turned and ran.

He was solely focused on preserving his life, utterly unconcerned about maintaining any form of dignity.

If anyone were to witness this scene featuring a Sixth Level Tribulator hunting down an Ultimate Realm cultivator, it would indeed be quite embarrassing.

Vincent couldn't care less. He was desperately running for his life. At that moment, he also released the cloaking formation he had set up.

"Mr. Dupont!" Just as Vincent turned to flee, the middle-aged alchemist who was originally left behind to concoct the detoxification pill arrived with reinforcements. Seeing his subordinates arrive, Vincent anxiously shouted, "Stop him! Stop him!"

The middle-aged alchemist and the others immediately leaped up, heading straight for Kai.

Vincent, on the other hand, breathed a quiet sigh of relief. As long as someone stopped Kai, he could make his escape.

Just as the middle-aged alchemist led his men toward Kai, Kai suddenly brandished Dragonslayer Sword.

The next second, light blotted out the sun.

Under the barrage of countless lights, the middle-aged alchemist and his companions were directly impaled, their bodies riddled with numerous bloody holes. Vincent's legs suddenly gave out after he saw that, causing him to collapse directly onto the ground.

Kai, with Dragonslayer Sword in his hand, pointed it at Vincent. His eyes were filled with murderous intent!

"D-Don't kill me. As long as you spare my life, I'll do whatever you say. I could expose Thaddeus!" Vincent began to plead for mercy, his face filled with terror.

As the head of the Dupont family and a cultivator in the Ultimate Realm, he found himself in the humbling position of begging for mercy.

Nevertheless, Vincent didn't care. His only wish was to stay alive. As long as he was alive, nothing else mattered.

"I don't need you to expose anyone," Kai said, his voice icy cold.

"I can offer you all of the resources from the Dupont family. I'm even willing to submit to the Zeever family. All I ask is that you spare my life," Vincent desperately pleaded with Kai.

At that moment, Vincent's face had turned deathly pale, and he was beginning to feel unwell.

After all, without the detoxification pill, coupled with the void in his heart, the toxin within his body had spread rapidly.

“I don’t need anything. The moment you set your sights on my Divine Cauldron, your fate was sealed.” With that, Kai swung Dragonslayer Sword.

Vincent’s head was sent flying straight off. Even his divine soul completely vanished into thin air.

Vincent’s eyes were wide open as his head rolled far away. He could never have imagined that the matter he assumed was in the bag would end up with such a result.

If he had known, he would never have dared to lead his men to ambush Kai.

Unfortunately, it was already too late.

After all, there was no way to turn back time.

Pfft!

After he had killed Vincent, Kai, too, spewed out a mouthful of fresh blood.

He firmly planted Dragonslayer Sword into the ground with both hands, leaning on it for support.

Kai had just exhausted all his strength, causing the poison within him to spread rapidly.

The reason Kai went all out as soon as he started was because he feared that if his poison acted up, he wouldn’t have a chance anymore.

“You’ve been severely poisoned.

Hurry and search these people for a detoxification pill to consume.

Although it can’t cure your toxin, it can certainly control its spread,”

Vermilion Demon Lord said to Kai.

In haste, Kai rummaged through the belongings of the deceased alchemists and found the detoxification pill. Without a second thought, he swallowed it all at once.

After taking the detoxification pill, Kai finally felt a surge of strength returning to his body.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 4195-Have To Ask Them Although Kai was unable to resist when he encountered an ambush, he had no problem walking.

“You’ve certainly made progress, brat. Even when poisoned, you were still able to take down so many people,” Vermilion Demon Lord praised Kai.

Kai wiped the fresh blood from the corner of his mouth, managing a wry smile. “These people have been poisoned too. Even though they’ve taken detoxification pills, their bodies are still affected by poison. These toxins were diminishing their strength. They just hadn’t realized it yet. Otherwise, there’s no way I could have taken these people down so effortlessly.”

Back then, Kai had that pill, which shielded his body from any poisoning. Meanwhile, at that very moment, Vincent and the others had fallen victim to the invading toxins.

In addition, due to Kai’s unique physical condition, even if he were poisoned, the spread of the toxin would be slow.

This led to a situation where, despite Vincent and others taking the detoxification pills, the poison continued to spread, causing their strength to decline steadily.

In this way, Kai had the upper hand, managing to swiftly eliminate those people while they got carried away.

“All right. You better leave this misty area quickly. I don’t want to watch you get poisoned to death here,” Vermilion Demon Lord remarked.

Kai gave a slight chuckle, then, using his Dragonslayer Sword as a makeshift cane, he began to stride forward, one step at a time.

Just after Kai had taken two steps forward, Viola’s shout echoed. “Kai!”

At that moment, Viola and the others were rushing toward Kai.

Upon seeing Kai’s haggard appearance, Viola knew for certain that Kai must have been seriously poisoned.

So, without delay, she handed the pill in her hand to Kai.

Once Kai held the pill in his hand, the pill rapidly absorbed the poison within his body, restoring Kai’s complexion and strength at a noticeable pace. Felipe and Freya, who were behind Viola, were dumbstruck upon seeing the bodies scattered around them, including Vincent’s decapitated head. The two were rooted in their spots in astonishment, silent for a long while.

They never anticipated that Kai would single-handedly annihilate the entire Dupont family, even going as far as beheading Vincent himself. After all, Vincent was an Ultimate Realm expert.

They couldn't help but wonder how that feat was possibly achieved.

Sigurd looked at the charred bodies scattered around him and turned to Kai. "Mr. Chance, who were these people? Were they after you?"

"These people were all from the Dupont family of Yannopolis. They wanted my Divine Cauldron, even considering trading me for Demon Seal Alliance's hundred-year offering. It's just a shame that their abilities were lacking, and I ended up killing them all," Kai casually explained.

"It's really bizarre. Why could they always manage to find us accurately?" A slight frown creased Viola's brow. She, too, sensed that something was amiss. Cauldron Peak was vast. It would be incredibly challenging, even if one intended to find someone deliberately. Yet, they had been found not once but several times.

Upon hearing Viola's words, Felipe and Freya exchanged a glance, their eyes filled with fear. Kai was unfazed even when facing an Ultimate Realm cultivator. With our capabilities, we're probably as insignificant as ants to him.

Kai glanced at the siblings. Immediately, they lowered their heads, not daring to look at Kai, let alone meet his gaze.

"Why do people always find us? That's a question for these two." Kai approached Felipe and Freya.

"Those two?" Viola was baffled.

Sigurd furrowed his brows, saying, "Mr. Chance, could it be that Felipe and Freya have secretly revealed our whereabouts?"

Upon hearing that, Felipe and Freya were instantly thrown into a panic.

"Mr. Chance, don't joke around. How could we possibly reveal our whereabouts? Besides, we've always been together." Felipe hurriedly squeezed out a faint smile as he spoke.

"Exactly. We would never do such a thing. If you think we're a burden just tell us straight up. Why would you falsely accuse us?" When Freya spoke, she once again did so on a moral high horse.